One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

In Spring and Fall.

GENTS.—I have taken Burdock Blood Bitters every spring and fall as a blood purifier for several years and find it does great good, building up my system and making me feel like a new man. My wife has also taken it for nervous debility and weakness receiving great benefit when doctors, medicine seemed to do no good.

Sick Headache CURED PERMANENTLY BY TAKING Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. It was usually accompanied with severe pains in the temples, a sense of fullness and tenderness in one eye, a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, hands and feet cold, and sickness at the stomach. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I that I received anything like permanent benefit. A single box of these pills did the work for me, and I am now free from headaches, and in a well man."—C. H. HUTCHINGS, Esq., Auburn, Me

CANADIAN WOMEN.

AS SEEN BY A LADY JOURNALIST OF CHICAGO.

Wherein the Canadian Girl Differs From Her American Cousin—English Influence Prevails in the Dominion—Canadian Girls as Bicyclists.

This is a dissertation on that country which lies next to ours, and which is closest to us in every way—so take warning! Because the Canadian girl is next-door neighbor to the American there be such as do say that there is no difference betwixt the two. Such prophets speak falsely, and the truth is not in them. Geographically pnet the countries may be, but socially they widely differ. The Canadian girl is the cousin to La Belle Americaine, and there is a strong family resemblance, but they are not yet sisters. There is a differentiation in speech, gait, dress, manner and even mode of entertaining. True, Canadians cling most determinedly to the English of England. To them a "vase" is always a "vawz," though it cost no more than 2 cents—and a "stairway" is invariably a "staircase." The Canadian voice is softer and lower than the American voice is apt to be, but on the other hand, there is more slovenly articulation over the way. In the United States a normal body, speaking English, is rarely unintelligible. In Canada speech is too often slurred and indistinct. The Canadian women walk in a slower, more even and less dashing fashion than do American, and in the matter of dress never could the two be confounded. In Canada English models are followed; in the United States—the French. It makes a great and perceptible difference. Here, in Toronto, the dear little fr[illegible] w[illegible] waist and never made its appearance, but excellent tailor-made suits and ravishing furs far outnumber what anyone would see in the greater area and population of Chicago. Here, most of the best costumes look alike, and rarely, if ever, one finds a woman with any individuality in dress, unless it be, indeed, one of these queer old souls who persist in clinging to some fashion of half a century ago, and who look, not distinctive so much as outre. But there are few even of those, and so little of perceptible poverty anywhere, as well as of any appreciable foreign element that the impression a visitor receives is of a population in easy circumstances, dressing and looking as nearly in unison as one ever gets outside of a Bellamy novel. This is pleasing, no doubt, even though an unconventional person might yearn for a bit more originality, but the Canadian head and footwear must need give the American pause! For the first time the visiting American realizes what all these queer hats in the English fashion papers are really designed for. You know the kind; it sits squirmily on the head of one of these jimp-waisted, foolish-faced, much befrizzled ladies who adorn the fashion plates from week to week. It is a very big hat, and sprouts as queer things as a vegetable garden or a devil fish. (By the way, do devil fish ever "sprout?" Anyhow, you know what I mean.) It shoots out at remarkable angles, is generally quiet in color, but savage in construction. It looks as though it is trying to hit somebody, and would hurt. Now I understand why "Esme Amarinth" wailed over his wife's headgear and asked "Why do women wear large hats?" He too, felt the incongruity of a gentle face beneath a ferocious hat, looking ready crouched for a wicked spring. But all men are not like Esme. Yesterday I said to a really bright and clever fellow, "Do look at that exciting chicken fight over in the corner!"

After 15 minutes' steady survey of the wild thing, he turned to me soberly and said: "Do you really mean that big hat with the wings and feathers on it? They seem to me to be on all right!"

Yet, I give you my word for it, that rarely have I seen a more faithful representation of a fierce barnyard struggle than that hat was! Ah me!

It is quite different in the matter of bonnets. The Canadian bonnet is occasionally given to "sprouting," but the real, dainty, Englishy affair is charming. A dear little three-cornered arrangement of lace and velvet and osprey, tied over soft blonde-brown curls nearly took my mind off the sermon last Sunday in church, and it was a good sermon, too. No one but an English woman, either by birth or by inheritance, could have chosen, fashioned and so worn that blessed little bonnet. It had a cachet all its own. To see was to admire. It made one somehow think of the dainty, prim Princess of Wales, and it was as unlike our Dutch bonnets as patent leather is unlike sealskin.

"You'll get things cheaper here than you will on the other side," chirped an enterprising little clerk in one of the big stores.

"But how do you know that I come from the States?" I asked.

"How do I know? Why, look at your boots, madame!" she twittered.

Hum! that is another thing. Here it is madame, and the dear old familiar "ma'am" is unheard.

In everything here does one see this jealous clinging to mother country habits and traditions. The little tricks of speech, the following of the fashions, the national reserve and the strict system of chaperonage. The Canadians even dance differently from the Americans, the steps are more sedate and slow and the glide waltz does not find favor. To be sure, the Canadian waltzer reverses, but he or she dances unfailingly on the toes and the ball of the foot, as the English do, never touching the heels to the floor. There is also the English mode of entertaining. Last week I saw a pretty debutante brought out at an afternoon reception, but was gravely assured that this was a most exceptional thing Here the one social function at which a girl makes her debut is a ball. Then, even by those who receive or preside at the tables in the afternoon, be the event ever so imposing, full dress is tabooed. The Canadians, like the English, dress in full after 6 p. m., but never on any account before, nor are really fashionable weddings celebrated other than in the daytime. The most English thing of all is the way the men leave their boots outside their bedroom doors at hotels. I've seen a row of muddy and dusty footwear garnishing a hotel corridor at midnight, and in the morning it was a row of polished ebony things, ready for the most fastidious wearer.

VERY BRITISH HOUSEMAID.

Canadian men, as well as Canadian women, dress and look differently from the average American. Shoes, hats and "sich" vary greatly, and the clean shaven man is here almost unknown. When, the other day, I said that I thought the smoothly shaven face the much more cleanly style and that I believed all women disliked beards and mustaches, I found polite but decided opposition. According to the Canadian point of view, a smotoh-faced man looked either homely or effeminate, and they quoted me Kipling's remark about "an egg without salt." "Ah," said one of the girls, "that wasn't new with Kipling, though. It is an old, old saw which I've always heard and which mother says she knew as a child in England."

The Canadian girl is riding a bicycle, and riding it hard, but she does not wear bloomers. If she did I am very much afraid she would be hissed and hooted, rude as it sounds. The Canadian small boy has no tremendous Fourth of July vent for his exuberance, but the appearance of bloomers is his rich opportunity, as some few adventurous Americans have found. Occasionally I have heard a stern and awful whisper regarding the bicycle attire of some Canadian dame or damsel, and once, in a city of 45,000 inhabitants, a well-built young woman was pointed out to me as "the only woman in town who is daring enough to ride without a skirt," but though I have studied hundreds of bicyclists in Canada, I my elf have never seen either bloomer or knickerkocker on female form. But there is more than this difference between the American and Canadian wheelswomen. The girls of Toronto, albeit they ride famously and dart in and out between the deadly trolley cars of the downtown district, are rarely habited as neatly as our Chicago women are. The half, or even the three-quarter skirt, is almost unknown. The long and ungainly dress skirt is everywhere seen. Few, indeed, are those who have achieved a distinct bicycle costume. Whether riding in a high wind, visiting or shopping, or taking a jubilant spin in the moonlight, the athletic young Canadienne goes habited much as she would go on any other errand of life. A shaggy fur cape, a streaming tippet, and a dress bonnet are such common sights on a wheel in Toronto that they are never noticed, though to American eyes the vision is loud[illegible] incongruous. Last evening, being bleak and chilly, I noticed a sturdy young woman riding home in a heavy and most "Englishy" ulster, and doing it very comfortably, too. Large hats, with floating plumes, and bodices befrilled and bepassementeried, coats of solid material or much-trimmed, are quite ordinary wear for Toronto wheelswomen, and no weather is too cold for them to ride. Except, indeed, the snow be on the ground. How they do it I know not, yet the fact remains that they do do it, and are healthy and happy under conditions which would completely finish the average American woman. Not only is the cold often great, even for walking, but the wearing apparel is burdensome, and the wheels correspondingly heavy. The Canadian woman rides a bicycle all the way from 25 pounds weight to 38, and I wot of one girl who works herself along on a 40-pounder. That is, however, because she is a tremendous enthusiast, and would ride a cart wheel rather than have none at all. In Toronto the 20-pound wheels are termed "racers," and here women do not race, nor do they even hump themselves over the handlebars.

Laid Low by Indigestion.

I was so run down I had to give up work. Scott's Sarsaparilla the kind that cures.

Indigestion or dyspepsia is the bane of thousands, and is one of the most depressing of afflictions. It arises from an impure or impoverished condition of the blood, which weakens the digestive and assimilative organs, rendering them incapable of performing their natural functions, and it neglected, the sufferer loses flesh, complains of exhaustion after slight exertion, and becomes rapidly debilitated.

Mr. Wm. W. Thompson, a prominent resident of Zephyr, Ont., in a letter dated Aug 12th, 1895, says: "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the fact that Scott's Sarsaparilla has caused a most remarkable change in my condition. I was so much run down I had to give up work and felt as if life were not worth living. Mr. Dafoe induced me to try Scott's Sarsaparilla, and after taking four bottles I am now feeling as I formerly did years ago, and I want to say for the benefit of those suffering from indigestion and feeling, to use slang phrase, 'completely knocked out,' don't despair until you give Scott's Sarsaparilla a fair trial."

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a blood food, it stimulates all vital organs to healthy normal action, enabling them to throw off all poisonous and debilitating humors. Sold by druggists at $1, but there is only one Scott's. The kind that cures.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from [illegible] prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

"IRELAND AND THE IRISH," AT ST. PAUL'S.

It was forced upon them. Henry VIII tried to thrust it down their throats at the point of the sword, and naturally Ireland revolted and would have none of it.

Then came the period when Ireland revolted against England. All, he supposed, had heard of the term "Coercion," which was used by many but it was not coercion, which ruined Ireland, but too much leniency. Once violent measures were introduced there should have been no retrogressive movement. What was it but leniency, criminal leniency on the part of the government, which caused the last rebellion in Canada?

Under James I the Irish nobles forfeited their estates to the crown and the lands were taken up by the Scots and English and divided into estates of 2,000, 1,500 and 1,000 acres each. Those to whom these estates were awarded had to build castles upon them and be ready to furnish a given number of men at any time to sustain the King's armies. This was how the curse of landlordism was introduced in Ireland. In 1641 the Chiefs, who had been dispossessed caused an uprising and the "great massacre" took place, when it was estimated that over 40,000 men, women and children were murdered in their beds. The massacre of St. Bartholomew was not to be compared to the slaughter.

In February 1642 the Scots to the number of 10,000, landed in Ireland to help their brethern. They brought their clergy with them, and this was how Presbyterianism was introduced into the country. Forty years afterwards the sons of these same men who joined emigrated to America to escape English tyranny, and it was their sons in turn who said "This far and no further" when England attempted to dictate to them in the new land.

The points of interest incidental to the appearance of Cromwell on the scene and and afterwards Charles II were then dwelt upon, as well as the Relief of Derry and the introduction of the Penal Laws.

In 1801 Ireland was united to England and then came the day of the patriot Daniel O'Connell, one of the grandest of Ireland's many great sons. Gladstone was another whose memory would be revered and loved in Ireland long ages after his death. He it was who gave the Irish the ballot, fostered the bill for the disestablishment of the church and brought to a grand completion the scheme for Tenants Rights, by which the tenant now has an interest in the property upon which he lives. Good land in Ireland is worth about $250. The good will of the tenant is worth about $100, and the landlord's right the other $150. The tenant thus has encouragement to improve the premises upon which he lives.

If a tenant desired to purchase a farm he got a value placed upon it by the Government Commission and from them he borrowed the money to buy it

AT FOUR PER CENT.

He paid the interest for 49 years, when the land was deeded over to him.

Ireland's curse—the drink question, was then very ably handled by the speaker, who deplored the prevalence of the love of whiskey amongst the Sons of Erin and related a number of touching incidents concerning the magnificent intellects which he had seen destroyed by the habit and the drunkards graves which were filled by the most promising of Ireland's youth. The rent roll of Ireland last year amounted to $9,000,000, whilst $15,000,000 was spent in drink. In the towns there was generally a tavern for each 60 inhabitants. Affairs were so arranged that a man could obtain half a dozen drinks without it costing him a cent.

It was the rule that the man who got the money in a bargain "stood treat" and whenever a bargain was in the wind half a dozen would gather round to assist in making it, thereby coming in for a drink when the deal was closed.

The glories of an Irish wake where there was pipes, tobacco and whiskey, was done full justice by the speaker who told many a witty narrative concerning incidents occurring at these wakes. The tide, however, was at the change in Ireland. The grand work of Father Matthew was taking effect and it was now but rarely that the "black bottle" was seen in places where it was heretofore the prominent feature. The clergy were now abstainers and another Golden Age, he was confident, would again reign in Ireland. The Irish were beginning to read and to think, and once they began to think in earnest the Irish would, he was confident, throw aside the cloud of ignorance which had rested upon their fair country for so many years and assume their place amongst the greatest nations of the earth. In closing, Mr. Patterson spoke of the loving reverence with which "the clergy" were regarded in Erin, and of the amount of good which it lay in their power to do in consequence.

A most cordial vote of thanks was passed to the eloquent divine, on motion of Messrs. Muiholland and McKnight, the former of whom stated that the audience owed a debt of gratitude, indeed to the ladies for giving them such a treat, and expressed the hope that an effort would be made to bring Rev. Mr. Patterson to town again.

Catarrh can be successfully treated only by purifying the blood, and the one true blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood is in town to-day.

Miss Jennie McBain has been visiting Mrs. J. Cotton, Port Hope, for the past few days.

Mrs. (Dr.) Barrows and daughter, Miss Lottie, Lindsay, are visiting Peterborough friends.

Mr. W. Bagley, who has spent the past few days visiting Lindsay friends, returned to Peterborough yesterday.

District Deputy Grand Master White, of the I.O.O F. will be in town on Monday evening next and deliver an address in the local lodge rooms.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"Mrs. Forsythe and her nephew, Fraser Smith, have returned from Peterborough after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Denne.

Mr. Archie Fulton, is over in Victoria County, ascertaining the feasibility of establishing an agency in Lindsay, for Calcutt's various brands of ales and porters Mr. Fulton, will take the agency himself in all probability, and should do well as he is very popular wherever he goes.

The Lindsay Post says,—"Mr. Fred. Shannon, of the Peterborough carbon works, was in town the other day on a visit to his father, Mr. Jas. Shannon, liquor merchant. Fred's many friends here were pleased to learn that he has again been promoted, and is now in charge of one of the departments."

HOCKEY.

The Peterborough Collegiate Institute Hockey Club reorganized for the season yesterday afternoon, after the school closed, and although few of last year's team will be on the ice this year, there is material to get together a capital and very fast seven. The following officers were elected:—

Honorary President—Mr. W. G. Ferguson.

President and Captain—Mr. James Hamilton.

Vice-President—Mr. Garnet Bell.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. H. R. Philp.

Committee—Messrs. R. Watt, N. Lewis, M. Hamilton and O. Bradburn.

The members of the club are now circulating a petition amongst the parents of the children, praying the Board to rescind the resolution passed early in the year asking the teachers to discountenance the games with outside clubs. The boys say they will not present the petition until it has 2,000 signatures.

The Lindsay Collegiate Hockey Club has organized, with the following officers:

President—Mr. Walks, B.A.

Vice-President—Mr. Colling, B.A.

Secretary—A. Matthews.

Treasurer—E. Neelands.

Captain—J. Rankin.

Committee—A. S. Parkin, J. Hurley and H. Knowlson.

The boys hope to make a good showing before the season is far advanced.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

Effect of Fright on Lobsters.

Lobsters are not warlike creatures. They do not mind boiling, but have an extraordinary terror of the smell of powder and the sound of big guns. Such, at least, was the statement made last night at the weekly meeting of the Piscatorial Society in the Holborn Restaurant. It was affirmed by one of the speakers that during big-gun practice by coast artillery lobsters in the neighborhood become so terrified that their claws drop off from sheer fright. Other kinds of fish, more alert in their movements, also become alarmed at the sound of big guns and leave the locality of the range in millions to take refuge in the deep sea.—London Telegram.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day," performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though, (as may be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award the credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore, of the highest value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of the claim that Maltine Wine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel" and affirms that "it is a wonderful sustainer." This preparation may be had at any drug store.

THE NEWS BY CABLE.

Confirmation of the Reports from Armenia.

THE SLAUGHTER WAS FEARFUL.

Explosion in a Cartridge Factory, Causing the Death of Eighty-one Persons, Mostly Women—Loss of Life by the Gales on the British Coast.

London, Nov. 26.—The Daily News prints a letter from its Constantinople correspondent, in which he dilates upon the horrors of the latest massacres, the most awful stories of which are contained in the official reports of the consuls. The massacres that have occurred during the last three or four weeks put those which occurred some time ago at Sassoun and Moosh entirely in the background. More persons were killed than were murdered during the Bulgarian atrocities in 1876, and the massacres are only paralleled by that which took place at Chio.

EIGHTY-ONE PEOPLE KILLED.

A Most Awful Calamity in the Island of Majorca

Barcelona, Nov. 25.—A terrible accident resulting in a sad loss of life occurred to-day at Palma, capital of the Island of Majorca, 130 miles south of this city. Eighty persons, most of whom were women, employed emptying cartridges outside the walls of the town, when one of the cartridges exploded in some unknown manner. There was a large quantity of powder that had been taken out of cartridges lying about over a large area and this was ignited by the discharge of the cartridge.

It is known that 37 women and 14 men were instantly killed. Thirty-five women and five men were seriously injured and of this number 30 have since died.

ENGLAND MAKES A NEW MOVE.

Another Grouping of the Powers in Regard to Turkish Affairs.

New York, Nov. 25.—A special from Vienna says: An important political personage said yesterday that England is abandoning her former position in regard to the Armenian question. The British Government have seen that they made a false calculation in regard to the grouping of the powers, and Sir Philip Currie has received new instructions in this sense.

The report that the Sultan intends to visit the principal capitals of Europe is a canard.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

STORE NEWS —AT— TURNBULL'S

SEALETTES.

Our present values in Sealettes are astonishingly low. We are offering to-day—

Sealette at $5.00, last season's choice $8.00.
Sealette at $6.00. last season's choice $10.00.
Sealette at $8.00, last season's choice $12.00.

These goods are all the best makes and warranted not to crush. Sealettes have not been as low in the history of the present generation, and now is your time to buy. To those who have Sealette Mantles that need remodelling we would say that we can make them look like new by using an extra yard of Sealette; bring them in and have them altered.

Astrachan Curls for $2.75.
Astrachan Curls for $3.50.
Astrachan Curls for $4.50.
Astrachan Curls for $6.00.

We have a line we are offering at $3.50, which would be good value at $7,00, makes up handsome in Capes, which are now so much worn. The reason this piece is sold so much under value—the curl is too open to look well to be made up in close fitting Mantles.

MANTLES.

Last week brought us some Novelties in Mantles. We keep this department up to date. We are now offering several lines in small and medium sized Sleeves at less than half price, they are excellent cloths and well made. Just the thing for those who do not wish to follow the fashions too closely.

FLANNELETTES.

We are dressing a window to-day with a job line of English Flannelettes which have not been sold in Peterborough to anyone but ourselves. The patterns are small and neat and the grounds pink, sky, cream, peacock, cardinal, garnet and lavender, with black and white flowers, our price is 8½c regular value is 12½c. These goods wash well, even in the most delicate shades.

IN THE CELEBRATED HYAMS TRIAL

New Evidence Brought in Yesterday Which Amounted to Very Little—Coroner Aikins as a Witness—Mrs. Dallas Hyams Makes Her Appearance in Court.

Toronto, Nov 27.—The end of the great Hyams murder trial is at last in sight. The hearing of testimony will be concluded this evening, and allowing three days for the four addresses to the jury, a verdict will be reached Saturday evening.

The new evidence promised by the defence as sensational has not materialized, unless they choose to give that appellation to the statements made by two employes of the China Hall, that Undertaker Humphrey's rig was seen standing in Colborne-street about 11 o'clock.

Coroner Aikins was in the witness box for one hour and 20 minutes. One interesting point brought out in his cross-examination was that the hook shown him by Harry Hyams on the day of the killing was not the one sworn to have been in use on the elevator at the time. The defence will say that it is merely a defect in the doctor's memory, while the Crown allege that the statement of the witness is true, and that the short-nosed hook was shown to him in order to lead him to believe that it could easily come off.

An effort was made to bolster up McCarthy's statement of hearing the noises in the cellar by calling witnesses who swore to having passed from the Hyams to the Nasmith basement through the hole in the stone wall, but it was brought out in cross-examination that at the time spoken of by these witnesses great alterations had been made in both basements.

For the first time since the opening of the present trial, Mrs. Dallas Hyams appeared in court. She was neatly attired in mourning for the deceased uncle of the twins, Solomon Hyams, better known as the Hermit, who died since the close of the May trial. Mrs. Hyams occupied a seat in the grand jury box, taking a deep interest in the proceedings that are to decide whether her husband comes back to her and her child or goes to a felon's grave. She remained until the adjournment of the court for lunch, not appearing again during the day.

Robert Bruce Preston, who resides with his father in Front-street, west of Spadina, said that on Jan. 15, 1893, he and his father went out for a walk. They were passing the warehouse in Colborne-street and the witness went to the door to look in. Wells asked him to come in and see the warehouse. They went into the basement to see the hoist. Wells commenced operating it by means of the pull rope, which, according to the story of the witness, was on the south side. The weight stopped in the shaft, and Wells asked the witness for his walking stick to free it from its position. The weight was then lowered into the basement, when Wells demonstrated to the witness how the weights were changed. In placing the hook back into position, Wells left it only partially in the eye, with the point caught. The witness drew the attention of Wells to the dangerous position in which the hook was left. The weight was again lowered by Wells, but the hook was left as Wells had put it. When the witness went up to the office floor again, his father was there waiting for him.

The day after the accident the witness, Tailor White and a man named Crone went to the warehouse again. The next day the same trio went down to the warehouse basement, where the witness showed his companions how he had seen the nose of the hook caught in the ring. The weight was raised until it came into contact with the ceiling.

In cross-examination the witness said that during the experiments made the weight did not come off the hook. Except to point out many discrepancies between his present story and his statement at the last trial, Mr. Osler's cross-examination did not materially affect the testimony of the witness.

Robert O. Preston, the father of the last witness, corroborated the story of the Sunday morning walk and the visit to the warehouse.

A. W. Lehmann, general store-keeper, Greenwood, Ont., was called to prove that the prisoners conducted a mercantile agency prior to the employment by them of Aylesworth and Wells. The witness said his duties were to copy mercantile reports and do some collecting.

Witness said that he went into the employ of the prisoners on consideration that he would loan them $500. He was to get $10 per week for the use of his money and his services. When he left in April he got part of his money back, the rest of it coming in instalments afterwards.

James Langdon, formerly of the firm of Palin & Langdon, told of some auctioneering business conducted by himself for the prisoners. The prisoners furnished the money, and Aylesworth assisted at the sales. They bought and sold a great quantity of furniture. It would require about $500 to carry on the auctioneering business as conducted by the witness and Aylesworth.

Dr. W. H. B. Aikins, the coroner, who thought an inquest on Wells was unnecessary, was then called. He said that on the morning of the occurrence Dr. King telephoned him that an accident had taken place in Colborne-street. The time, he thought, was between 9 and 11 o'clock. On going to the warehouse he met one of the prisoners, who conducted him to the basement, where the body of Wells lay, with the head about 1 1-2 feet from the elevator shaft. The general direction of the body was almost straight south. He was given to understand that Wells had been working alone in the cellar, and had been injured by the weight. The body appeared to have been moved away from the foot of the weight shaft. After an examination of the premises the witness said he was satisfied that it was an accident, and decided not to hold an inquest.

To Mr. Osler, the witness said he did not notice the buffer block so frequently referred to by the defence. As the body lay the crown of the head was presented to the weight shaft. The witness had no recollection of having seen either glasses on the face or gloves on the hands. The hook shown in court, the coroner thought, was not the hook shown to him by the prisoners. He had seen Mr. Horn before the investigation at the Police Court, and would not deny that he had told Horn that the hook then in use was not the one in the possession of the Crown.

"Did it not occur to you as a coroner that someone should be responsible for a defective hook?" asked Mr. Osler.

"I can't say what occurred to me," answered the witness.

"Did you know that there was a large insurance on the boy's life and that a heavy premium was due in a few days?"

"No. I did not."

"Would it have made any difference to you, if you had known?" was the next question.

The defence objected to the question, and a lively argument followed, resulting in the exclusion of the question.

Continuing, the witness said that he had met Dr. King in Mr. Johnston's office during the time of the Police Court investigation. No clear or satisfactory explanation was given him, when he was at the warehouse, of how the killing took place. He made no inquiries about insurance or other such matters.

As far as the Doctor knew, there was only one telephone message reached him on that morning, although Fox and Dr. King both swore to having telephoned him. The witness had called at Johnston's office about two weeks ago to ask him to excuse him from giving evidence at this trial. He had seen Mr. Johnston three times before the case came to trial in May last.

"Did you apply to the Attorney-General's office for permission to give expert evidence for the defence?"

"Yes, I did," answered the Doctor.

He also admitted applying to the Crown Attorney after the body was exhumed to hold an inquest. Previous to this he had seen Mr. Horn.

The Doctor denied that he made an affidavit in connection with the application for the payment of the insurance on Wells' life.

"Will you swear you didn't make such an affidavit?" asked Mr. Osler.

"I will," replied the witness.

"Is that your signature?" asked Mr. Osler.

"It is."

Mr. Osler then read an affidavit made by the witness on Jan. 24, 1893, and sent to the New York Life Insurance Company, in which he deposed to the occurrence as being an accident.

"I must have forgotten about that," remarked the witness, after the paper had been read to the jury.

"And after that you wanted to hold an inquest?" said Mr. Osler.

"I didn't say so," answered the witness.

Continuing, he said he did not make a detailed examination of the body. He did not know whether or not he had got any blood on his hands, as he had no recollection of having washed his hands. The time he would not fix definitely, but he thought he was called out during his office hours.

"Do you remember the interview with Dr. Bingham?"

"Yes, I do."

"Did you tell Dr. Bingham that there was money in it for the defence?"

"I may have said it in a jocular manner, but in earnest, no."

"What did you say to him?" asked His Lordship..

"I said jestingly that he should not be in a hurry to make up his mind as there was money in it for the defence."

"And you knew then that Dr. Bingham was in consultation with the Crown officers at the time?"

"Yes, I knew he had seen the skull, and had not made up his mind."

The witness also said he had spoken to Dr. Duncan in a general way about the matter.

Every morning the Hyamese twins are driven over from the county jail in one of Newell's hacks. They are handcuffed together and are in charge of County Constable Burns, who is accompanied by another county constable. Following the hack containing the prisoners is another having as its passengers two more county constables. During the noon recess of the court the prisoners are confined in the guard room adjacent to the court-room and there they receive their mid-day meal which is brought to them from the Schiller House, and consists of hot meats, poultry and pie or pudding. Both the prisoners have fairly good appetites.

Within 15 minutes after the adjournment of the court in the evening the prisoners are driven back in hacks to the county jail guarded by the same constables who look after them in the morning. On their arrival at the jail their supper is usually ready. The prisoners are kept in separate cells, and watched by Guard Lowry. Their meals are much superior to prison fare and are supplied from a private house in Munro-street.

When the court adjourned last night the prisoners were handcuffed together as usual by Constable Burns and taken down to the back entrance of the court house and there awaited the arrival of the hacks which were a few minutes later than usual. Both prisoners appeared to be in very good spirits and conversed lightly with the guards. Harry was smoking a cigar and laughingly said he was going out for his evening drive.

"Guess your supper was cold when you got to the jail last night, wasn't it?" said one of the guards. "No," replied the twins in chorus. Harry continuing to say that they had a nice, warm supper and that it was generally there by 6 o'clock.

Harry had several cigars in his pocket and generously offered some of them to those standing near.

Constable Burns told him to keep some for himself. "Oh, I have three or four yet," replied the self-confessed murderer, who appeared to regard very lightly the grave charge hanging over his head.

Dallas was hardly so communicative as his brother, but joined in the general conversation.

Of the two Harry seems to be bearing up the best under the severe ordeal of the long trial, although both of them have a haggard, hunted look that is pitiable to behold.

When the hacks arrived at the door in Court-street lane the prisoners were escorted to them through a thin line of the morbidly curious who are on hand every night to get a glimpse of the prisoners before they are returned to their iron-clad apartments at the Hotel de Green.

TALK OF COMPROMISE.

Mr. Greenway Believed to Have Modified His Views in Regard to Remedial Legislation on the School Question.

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—During the past few days there have been rumors in the air of a possible compromise on the Manitoba School question. Efforts have been made to interview Mr. Greenway on the subject, but he declines to say a word. Intimate friends of his acknowledge, however, that a deal is on. They say that the determined attitude of the Dominion Government in carrying out the constitutional obligations imposed on them has had due weight with Mr. Greenway, so much so that he will be prepared to accept a modified remedial measure passed by Parliament. It is likely, therefore, that the bill which Parliament will be asked to adopt will provide for the institution of Catholic schools in this province, with the right of Catholics, of course, to instruct the pupils in the tenets of their faith, and to select their own text book in history.

The bill will also provide for certificated teachers and Government inspection.

The most important point in connection with the measure and one which is comparatively new in Canada provides that the provincial grant to the Catholic schools shall be paid according to the results of the annual examinations. This is the system which has been in existence in England for many years and is accepted by all denominations. It is known as "Payment by Results," and the adoption of the principle in Manitoba cannot be regarded as objectionable.

Mr. Greenway's desire in passing the school legislation of 1890 was principally to secure the efficiency of the teaching in the Catholic schools. Now that it is proposed to make the payment of the provincial grant contingent upon the results of the examinations held by the provincial authorities and to be held by the provincial inspectors, Mr. Greenway's objections will be largely met and your correspondent is credibly informed that he will be prepared to accept such a measure.

J. S. Ewart, counsel for the Roman Catholics on the Manitoba school case, returned from Ottawa to-day. He stated that from conversations with Ministers, he is convinced a Remedial bill will be submitted to Parliament Jan. 2. There is strong hopes, however, that Mr. Greenway's Government will remove the necessity of Federal action.

THE TERRIFIC STORMS.

Havoc Caused Yesterday in Many Parts of the Province.

Hamilton, Nov. 26.—The gale which began to blow last night created havoc in and about this city, trees, signs and sheds being blown down, while several plate glass windows fell. A farmer's horse and rig were blown over on the plains road, and the roof was torn from C. Jones' house, 320 Bay-street south, and carried a long distance in mid air. There were two cavein on the tunnel, and several houses are in imminent danger of falling in.

Shortly after noon a section of lead roofing from the postoffice tower blew off and came crashing down to earth, bringing with it the electric light wires. It weighed about 60 pounds. On Wentworth-street south even the sidewalk did not escape, a large section of it being lifted bodily and landed in the road.

Fifty feet of the Loretto convent fence went down, as did also a large section of fencing at West Lawn.

A 20-foot chimney on the Wentworth Church Sunday school blew over and damaged the roof badly. At the smelting works a workman had a remarkable escape. A number of principals on the roof of one of the buildings, having a span of 72 feet, were put up yesterday and, as it was feared they would blow down, it was decided to brace them with ropes. A man went up on one of them to attach the rope and while there the principals blew over and fell to the ground, 30 feet below. Luckily the workman escaped with a sprained arm.

A large tin ventilator was blown from the Arcade building into the yard of the St. Nicholas Hotel.

General Havoc.

London, Ont., Nov. 26.—The windstorm here was terrific, chimneys were demolished, houses partly blown down, shutters sent kiting through neighboring windows, awnings blown off, fences laid flat, telegraph and telephone services demolished and general havoc created.

Oil Derricks Down.

Peraolea, Ont., Nov. 26.—Last night the wind was something terrible, and a large number of oil derricks are reported down. The G.N.W. Telegraph Co.'s wires runing into this place were all down and telegraphic communication was cut off upto 1 o'clock to-day.

Gorge Railway Ruined.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 26.—A regular hurricane struck this place this morning, raising havoc with the telegraph and telephone wires. Poles toppled over by the dozens. Perhaps the greatest damage was done by the storm to the Electric Gorge Railway on the American side, which has just been about completed; most of the west side track is completely undermined between the bridge and Lewiston, and will have to be rebuilt, and it will be necessary to build mason work to protect the road from any reoccurrence. To-day's damage will not go below $50,000.

In Brantford Neighborhood.

Brantford, Nov. 26.—Reports from different sections show that this morning's gale did a very large amount of damage to property, roofs being blown off, trees, chimneys, fences, wind mills, etc., blown down; telephone and telegraph poles and wires down. In places the fences were so badly blown away the farmers had to keep their cattle inside the barns all day. So far no loss of life has been reported.

THE LIBERAL POLICY.

The Liberal party has recorded its conviction "that the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not, as it is now, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service; that the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government; that it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon, the necessaries of life, and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly with Great Britain and the United States." This is the substance of the first resolution adopted by the duly accredited representatives of the Liberal party assembled in convention at Ottawa in June, 1893. It is the one authoritative pronouncement of the Liberal policy in respect of the tariff. It is in its terms a simple definition of a tariff for revenue only, and it is the text upon which every recognized Liberal leader and every public man who is able to lay sound claim to membership in the Liberal party have been preaching the gospel of freedom throughout the land. The Liberal policy is, of course, thoroughly understood by the Liberals themselves. And in spite of frequent denials, it is most thoroughly understood and most thoroughly dreaded by the Conservatives also.

The Liberal customs tariff, then, is to be based upon the requirements of the public service, and those requirements are to be measured by the needs of government, honest, economical and efficient. Under a Liberal regime there would be no need to find funds for such enterprises as the Quebec Harbour Works, the Lake St. John Railway, the Tay Canal and the Curran Bridge. On such deep and troublous waters, an honest, economical and efficient government would never embark. The Liberal tariff policy pre-supposes honesty, economy and efficiency on the part of the Government, and the Liberal party upon sound warrant professes its ability to select from the ranks of its leaders a Government which would possess these qualifications.

At the outset, therefore, the Liberal policy involves the presumption that under a Liberal Government the requirements of the public service would not be so great as they have been under a Government which has condoned in certain of its members participation in the most scandalous transactions in the history of the government of the country; which has never been known to weigh the cost, to the people, of an enterprise promising advantage to the Government; and which embraces in its extensive membership not one man of distinguished abilities. In this regard the Liberal claim to preferment is well founded. It is supported by the private judgment of every Conservative of moderate intelligence, who is not himself a member of the Government or an immediate beneficiary of its policy.

Having thus suggested the limitations of probable Liberal expenditure, it remains simply to remark that to a tariff framed with a view to the protection of the industries of the country and resulting, at the first period of stress, in a most lamentable failure to provide revenue to meet the requirements of the public service, the Liberals oppose a tariff to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessities of life, to promote freer trade with the whole world, and to make ends meet in respect of revenue and expenditure. The sole purpose of a Liberal tariff would be revenue, and in the preparation of such a tariff it would be inevitable that a Liberal Government should take care so to readjust and reduce the present schedules of duties as to give evidence of its determination ultimately to eliminate the protective principle in its entirety. This is not a new Liberal policy, but the presence of one prodigious deficit and the probability of another under the National Policy lend a peculiar zest to the discussion of a revenue tariff at the present time.—Montreal Herald.

THE British farmer hasn't got "protection" and wants it. The Canadian farmer has protection and doesn't want it.

The only inheritance many receive from their ancestors is impure blood. Fortunately, it is in everyone's to transmit a cleaner heritage to their posterity by the simple use of Ayer's Sarsparilla, the only blood-purifier admitted at the World's Fair.

TIRED OF OUR TARIFF.

It is announced by the Mail and Empire that the Massey-Harris company has decided for manufacturing purposes, to locate at Niagara Falls, N.Y. The Massey-Harris syndicate represent the great implment industry which some years ago was affected(1) by a fusion of the companies making farmers machines, and (2) by the practical suspension of competition and the maintainance of uniform selling prices. Time was when a farmer had the opportunity of examining the machines of half a dozen manufacturers, each one being possessed of some special advantage, and each one possessed of some special attraction in patent and price. The combination of the manufacturers ended this competition, variation and choice. The farmer had to take what he could get and at the price it was offered to him. And in the face of all this it is interesting to notice that the Massey-Harris people are tired of our tariff, supposed to specially favor them, that they pay so little attention to it that they can go into the United States and undersell on an even footing, to knock the Yankees out. Suppose the farmers are now given the benefit of a lower tariff, so that they will get in Canada the Massey-Harris machines as low as their American cousins, will that firm have lower prices in the United States? If they do not how are they going to keep their products?

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

WORLD'S C. E. PRAYER CHAIN.

Subject of prayer for November, "That we may all be taught of Christ to pray in spirit and in truth. The subject of prayer for December is as follows:—"For young people's societies of every name and every denomination, that their members may exemplify the life of Christ, and that they may be especially prepared for the coming week of prayer."

LOCAL UNION.

The Christian Citizenship Committe of the local union have classified the families of the town according to denominations as per assessors' books, with the object of finding out the number of children and seeing if all are attending Sunday school. There are 819 Methodist families, 600 Roman Catholic, 541 Episcopalian, 492 Presbyterian, 41 Salvation Army, 6 other denominations claiming 29 families.

The local union monthly executive meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Tuesday, Dec. 3rd, at 8 p. m. A full attendance is requested.

ST. PAUL'S.

The meeting on Sunday night was the largest we have had for some time. The first part of the meeting was devoted to the topic, "Praise and Purpose." Miss Courtney read an excellent paper. At the close of this part of the service, Mr. James Connal took charge of the consecration service. The Lookout work by the committees is evidently a success, there being very few absentees, and most of these sent excuses. There were quite a number of visitors; some of them gave very interesting testimony. Altogether the meeting was a very profitable one.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY

Held a Thanksgiving service on Monday evening last. After the opening exercises there were two speakers selected from the audience, who spoke on the topic and of Thanksgiving Day and how it should be recognized, our country and the gratitude we should show toward God, that we were living in a Christian land, that we were British subjects, etc, after which the regular monthly business was transacted. We feel that God has wonderfully blessed the efforts put forth during the past month in our society. There was a good attendance.

DEADLY ENEMIES.

Enemies creep in by way of the gate.
Sometimes they scale the wall or break through.
The most dangerous are the ones who overcome the guard at the gate.
The kidneys stand like sentinals at the gates of the circulation of the blood.
The enemy will surprise, and destroy once it gains entrance.
The duty of the kidneys is to keep out poisons.
They have all the means and are perfect.
They were made for the purpose by the All-Wise.
But accidents, or our improper habits injure or weaken them.
If injured or weakened we have to make them equal to their duty by a proper remedy.
The human race is learning what is best under various circumstances.
Something gentle but prompt and effective, something you can depend upon.
One hundred thousand witnesses say that Dodd's Kidney Pills is the best kidney treatment.
Over a million boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have been sold in Canada alone.
A few doses help, a few boxes cure.
Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any kidney disease.
There are more diseases resulting from weak or injured kidneys than people have suspected.
Let us learn the truth as fast as we can,
One is, Dodd's Didney Pills always cure.

PRAYER FOR BOB INGERSOLL.

On Thursday 3000 Endeavorers Will Pray for the Great Agnostic's Conversion.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 26.—At noon Thanksgiving every one of the Christian Endeavorers, three thousand in number, in Cleveland will unite in prayer that God will speedily convert Robert G. Ingersoll. At the quarterly meeting of the city union Monday night the suggestion was made by the union of Mayou Mission and the president accepted it and named noon as the hour. President Springborn of the Epworth League chanced to be present and said that his society would also pray for the noted infidel at its union Thanksgiving meeting.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.
Sickness of some kind is sure to result.
The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.
The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.
People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.
People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.
It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.
When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Russian Activity in the Black Sea Naval Station,

WARSHIPS BEING MADE READY.

Coaled, Provisioned and Munitioned—Naval Officers Arrive From St. Petersburg—Lord Salisbury Has Not Replied to Secretary Olney as to Venezuela—Cable News.

Odessa, Nov. 26.—Great activity is being displayed at the Black Sea military ports. Warships are taking on board coal, provisions and munitions. A number of naval officers from St. Petersburg have arrived.

This May be the Explanation.

London, Nov. 26.—The Daily News will to-morrow publish a despatch from Odessa saying that Gen. Scheremetieff, commander of the army of the Caucasus, has been hastily summoned to St. Petersburg, it is believed, in connection with the condition of affairs in Anatolia, and the threatening attitude of the Kurds on the Russian frontier.

Lord Salisbury Has Not Replied.

London, Nov. 26.—Prime Minister Salisbury has not replied to the memorandum of Mr. Olney, the American Secretary of State, on the Venezuelan affair. The Foreign Office declines to state whether the reply will be transmitted through Ambassador Bayard or Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador at Washington.

THE STRANDED NESSMORE.

Being Unloaded as Fast as Possible—Rosarian's Propeller Fouled by a Rope.

London, Nov. 26.—The work of discharging the cargo of the British steamer Nessmore, ashore on the Island of Coll, Hebrides, is being carried on as expeditiously as possible. The wrecking steamer Hyaena has left Liverpool for the scene with additional steam pumps and other appliances.

The British steamer Rosarian, Captain Dunlop, from Montreal and Quebec, via London, for Glasgow, put into Dover to-day for the purpose of clearing her propeller, which had become fouled by a rope.

SITUATION GROWING BETTER.

Secret Plots Against the Sultan Now the Principal Danger.

New York, Nov. 26.—A special from Vienna says:

The situation is gradually growing better. A diplomatist just back from the East says that secret plots against the Sultan, supported by many Italian newspapers, now constitute the chief danger. The Sultan's overthrow, he says, would render the situation very grave and bring about bloody riots as well as troubles in Constantinople.

The European Cabinets are discussing this eventuality.

The news published by the Novoe Vremya from Vladivostock is regarded as fantastic.

Death of a Scientist.

London, Nov. 26.—George Edward Dawson, F.R.S., died to-day. He was born at Edgeworthtown, County Longford, Ireland, Sept. 4, 1844, and was educated at the Royal School of Enniskillen and at Trinity College, Dublin, where he graduated in 1866.

Newfoundland's New Governor.

London, Nov. 26.—Sir Herbert Murray, the new Governor of the Colony of Newfoundland, sailed for Newfoundland on board the steamer Laurentian on Nov. 22. Sir Herbert was British Relief Commissioner to Newfoundland during the recent widespread financial distress there.

Funeral of Sir Henry Ponsonby.

London, Nov. 26.—The burial of General Sir Henry F. Ponsonby, late Keeper of the Privy Purse and Private Secretary to Her Majesty the Queen, who died at Osborne cottage, Cowes, Isle of Wight, on Nov. 21st, took place at Whippingham this afternoon in the presence of the principal members of the royal household.

Earthquake in Greece.

Athens, Nov. 26.—At 7.30 o'clock this morning shocks of earthquake were felt here and at Chalcea, Livadia, Thebes and Corinth.

Chinese Destroy a French Mission.

London, Nov. 26.—A despatch from Shanghai to the Globe says that the Chinese have destroyed the extensive French mission at Luih Siang in the absence of the French gunboat, which is usually stationed in that vicinity.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the House

TO MEET JANUARY 2

Parliament Has Been Summoned for that Date.

THE WRIT ISSUED FOR CARDWELL.

Nomination to Take Place Dec. 17. Polling the Day Before Christmas—These Two Important Matters Were Decided at Yesterday's Cabinet Meeting.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—A meeting of the Cabinet was held this afternoon and at the close two important announcements were forthcoming. The Government has decided to call Parliament for the despatch of business on the 2nd of January, and the writ for Cardwell was ordered to be issued, the date of nomination being fixed for December 17th, and polling for the 24th. Mr. R. Johnson of Mono Mills is returning officer.

On the Premier being asked to-night: "What about the Liberal-Conservative candidate in Cardwell?" he replied: "I have positive assurance that he will support the policy of the Government."

The contest in the constituency will be a red hot one. It will be opened by two meetings on behalf of the Government. Hon. Messrs. Foster and Wood will speak at one and Hon. Messrs. Montague and Clarke Wallace at the other. Sir C. H. Tupper will speak at one or two meetings during the campaign.

From reports received here from the riding the Government candidate will win hands down.

Relative to the despatch in yesterday's newspapers containing a semi-repudiation of the announcement made by your correspondent a few days ago that the Home Government had agreed to subsidize the Atlantic fast line to the extent of £75,000 per annum, this particular despatch must be taken with a substantial amount of salt. Malice can be seen in every line. The statement was clearly inspired by enemies of Canada, and particularly by those who do not want to see a fast line of steamers running to and from the St. Lawrence. The Government has the most satisfactory assurances from the Imperial authorities that the aid named will be forthcoming.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has authorized the issue of a circular permitting smelt fishing to commence before December first where it appears that the ice forms on the river earlier than that date. Fishermen, however, availing themselves of the privilege of commencing to fish earlier than December 1st, will be strictly confined to the minimum period at which smelt fishing is allowed, namely, two and a half months.

Mr. W. J. Stewart, hydrographic surveyor for the Marine Department, has returned to the city, having completed his season's work on Lake Erie, and the steamer Bayfield has been laid up for the winter at Port Colborne. Mr. Stewart located one important shoal not hitherto generally known, with seven feet of water upon it at present, about 11 1-4 miles northeast of Long Point light, and three and two-thirds miles from the village of Nanticoke in the county of Haldimand. The spot is a small rocky ledge, about half a mile long by one-quarter wide, the shoalest spot being in the middle.

The Minister of Marine has awarded a silver watch to four residents of Mabou, N.S., named A. McDonald, John McDonald, Alex. McDonald and John McQuarrie, for their gallant services in saving the lives of three persons at Mabou on the 27th of Aug., 1894.

Further communications were received by the Marine Department to-day in reference to the Norwegian vessel, Elsie, which is stranded on Anticosti and her crew of 18 men are waiting at Salt Lake lighthouse until such time as a vessel can take them off. The Norwegian Consul has been communicated with in order that he may secure a vessel to bring the crew away and send them home, no Government vessel being available for the purpose.

Hon. Mr. Costigan has looked into the case of the tug Telephone, which was seized two weeks ago in the Canadian waters of Lake Erie for illegal fishing. All the evidence to hand indicates that the vessel was guilty of an infraction of the law and the Minister has, therefore, ordered her to be confiscated and sold by public auction at Amherstburg. The Telephone belonged to Kishman & Sons, of Brownhelme, Ohio.

The report that the Salvation Army Barracks in Queen-street had been purchased by Messrs. Jacobs & Sparrow, for an opera house is denied by the Salvation Army people. The army would, however, like to sell the building, which is a white elephant on their hands.

The results of the comparative efficiency returns of the field artillery have been made up. The Ottawa field battery heads the list with 500 points, and therefore wins the Governor-General's Cup. Hamilton comes next, with 492 2-10 points. The winners of 3rd and 4th places are not yet known. The race between Ottawa and Hamilton was a very tight one, but Ottawa won the points in fuse boring; that gave the majority of over seven points. Ottawa took the full percentage in gun drill, being the only battery to do so.

Hon. T. M. Daly returned last night from St. Paul, where he attended an immigration convention. Speaking of the gathering, he said: "According to the statements of some of the delegates present, their states are worse off with respect to population than we are. It appeared to be the general wish of the gathering that each state or province should establish a buheau of information, and that the information so disseminated should have the stamp of authority; also that exaggeration of any koing as to the merits of the respective states or provinces should be avoided, seeing that mistakes were certain to eventually do harm to the territory they were intended to benefit. So far as Manitoba was concerned, we were satisfied that its resources and posibilities would bear the fulles investigation. The expression of opinion was universal that it was our duty to avoid necouraging the immigration of people who would not make desirable settlers and would not be of zenefit to the comunity among whom they were introduced." stamp of authority; also that extrava-

HANGED HER LITTLE GIRL.

A Mother in Paterson, N.J., Accused of Shocking Cruelty

Paterson, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Mary Bailey of East Eighteenth-street was arrested this morning accused of inhuman tratment of her 12-year-old daughter, Bertha. Saturday night, it is said, she drove a spike in a door and suspended her daughter to it with a rope tied around her neck.

The girl, it is said, was let down only when she was almost unconscious. The child's neck was visibly marked, it is declared, by the rope, and her body is said to be covered with bruises as the result of cruel treatment.

The child says the reason of her mother's ill-treatment of her is that she refuses to steal for her. The case came to light through Mrs. Bailey's going to the police station and asking that her daughter be locked up. An investigation followed and the mother was arrested.

Five Sailors Drowned.

London, Nov. 26.—The Norwegian barque Anne Elizabeth, bound from Cardiff for Christiania, has been wrecked near Falmouth. Five of her crew were drowned.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

T. V. C. Valuators.

Messrs. McEachren, Geo. H. Pope and Harry Strickland, the land valuators appointed in connection with this section of the Trent Valley Canal, resumed work this morning. A difficulty in settling upon a value of the land has arisen through the fact where the bridges are to be located the price of land will be naturally higher on account of the facilities for crossing the canal.

Smokers Attention.

We wish to draw the attention of all smokers of cigars to our recent direct importation of cigars from Havana, consisting of 1,000, assorted sizes Diaz Garcia, and 12,000 Manual Garcia, assorted sizes, bought at very close prices for cash and are prepared to give the benefit to the citizens of the town. Our cigars at 4 for 25c, 3 for 25c, 10c straight or 15c straight are away ahead in quality and size of those offered by other dealers at these prices. Come and see for yourself and be convinced that the best place in town for imported cigars is at Chas. LeGros', 329 George street, Peterborough's only direct importer.

Miss Julia Stuart Coming.

While two of the most famous artists known to the stage of the present day, Joseph Jefferson and Mrs. John Drew, have been entertaining crowds of playgoers at the St. Charles theatre and the Grand opera house, a very bright, clever and capable little actress has been winning many friends and admirers at the Academy of Music; her name is Julia Stuart. Her "Lady Isabel" is a wonderful effective and clever piece of work, and so unanimously has the verdict of all who have seen her been in her favour that her audiences steadily increased during the week. Besides being very pretty, petite and graceful, Miss Stuart is an actress of great force and intensity, while her pathos is always deep, contagious and unaffected." —New Orleans Times-Democrat. Miss Stuart, supported by Charles Hagar and an especially select company of players, will present Henrik Ibsen's (the Norwegian Shakespeare's masterpiece) "A Doll's House" at Bradburn's opera house, Friday evening next, Nov. 29th. On Saturday night F. W. Curtis and Miss Stuart will be seen in the comedy success "Sam'l of Posen."

When you want a life like photograph, with perfect finish and at reasonable figures, go to the Ground Floor Gallery, Charlotte Street.

TWO QUIET CATHEDRAL WEDDINGS TAKE PLACE.

Celebration of the McMahon-O'Connell and Weatherhead-Casey Nuptials.

MCMAHON-O'CONNELL.

At eight o'clock this morning the marriage ceremony was quietly solemnized between Mr. Richard P. McMahon, of Merrickville, and Miss B. A. O'Connell, daughter of Mrs. T. O'Connell, Concession street, Ashburnham.

The wedding took place in St. Peter's Cathedral in the presence of only a few friends. Venerable Archdeacon Casey officiated and the bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Annie O'Connell, the groomsman being Mr. Jas. Ryan, of town.

The bride was very prettily attired in a costume of mottled Hussar blue Persian cloth trimmed with guipure lace, the bridesmaid being also gowned in an arrangement of blue and black Persian cloth.

The noon train conveyed the newly married couple east. After spending their honeymoon in Montreal they will return to Merrickville and take up their future residence.

WEATHERHEAD—CASEY.

Yesterday morning, in St. Peter's Cathedral, the marriage of Mr. Albert H. le Weatherhead and Miss Nellie Casey, daughter of Mr. Thos. Casey, of the North Ward, was solemnized by Venerable Archdeacon Casey. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Casey, and the groom was assisted by Mr. William McAuliffe. At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Weatherhead took the C.P.R. express for the West.

IN MEMORY

Of Thomas McMahon, Who Died Nov. 22, 1895—Requiescat in Pace.

Oh what is beauty, what is youth, mere shadows of a day,
One touch of death's cold icy hand transfigures them to clay;
The dearest form that ever bound father's or mother's love,
One sharp blast of death's chill breath that loved one will remove.

Grief-stricken friends, I know my lines no soothing balm imparts,
To heal the wounds which cruel death inflicted on your hearts;
Your only son was by you loved, idolized, I know,
Alas, death came so premature, and laid your darling low.

True centre of your family joys, kind hearted, cheerful, bright;
His pleasing smiles, his winning ways, his sister's chief delight;
Likewise his father's truest jo , from youth to manhood years,
Well might his death unlock and burst the flood gates of his tears.

One more endeared by tender ties, more keenly feels the smart;
The blow has filled her cup of grief, and crushed a mother's heart;
The babe she nursed, the son she loved, still haunts her night and day,
It is but fancy caused by grief for her boy has passed away.

How short his pilgrimage on earth, how brief his sojourn here,
Few years allowed him to prepare for a far brighter sphere;
Well he improved each passing hour, on heavenward paths he trod,
His chiefest aim, his soul's delight—Religion, Church and God.

Yes, he is gone, his presence here seemed but a passing wave,
Like yesterday he walked about, to-day he fills a grave;
'Tis but his dust, and not himself, in death's cold chamber lies,
We hope his youthful soul embasks in bliss beyond the skies.

Grieved, weeping friends, dry up your tears, your burden cast on God,
He but afflicts you for your good, now kiss His chastening rod;
His greatest trials are sent through love, with meek submission say,
Not our's, O Lord, Thy will be done, our Thomas take away.

ONE IN SYMPATHY.

Requiescat in Pace,

TERRIBLE STORM.

The Havoc Which the Wind Played Yesterday.

The terrible wind storm of yesterday did immense damage. A Millbrook correspondent sends us the following: "J. Henders, had his leg broken by a board blown off the barn. Albert J. Fallis, Cavan, had the roof blown off his barn, and miles of fence are levelled all over the township. Such a storm is almost without precedent.

The two huge smoke stacks, 85 feet in height, on Mr. Kelly's mill in Bridgenorth, were blown down and such damage resulted as necessitates the closing of the mill.

In town many ornamental trees and shrubs were destroyed by the fierceness of the gale.

The storm boom encircling Gilmour's drive of logs broke in yesterday's gale. The logs were quartered for the winter in Hattrick's Bay, just east of the Eastern Channel, Rice Lake. Some fifty thousand logs in all have been scattered to all quarters of the lake. The Gilmour men who were in charge and quartered at Hiawatha, returned to town last night, abandoning the idea of rebooming the logs before spring. There will be considerable trouble in collecting them, on account of the treachery of the lake.

Canon Harding, Rural Dean of Haliburton; Rev. J. C. Roper, Rector of St, Thomas' church, Toronto; Rev. Canon Spragge, M.A., Cobourg; Rev. Canon Farncombe, M. A., Newcastle; Rev. E. Daniel, M. A., Port Hope; Rev. C. French, Grafton; Rev. W. J. Creighton, Bobcaygeon; Rev. G. H. Webb, Colborne; Rev. A. G. Westmacott, Brighton; Rev. H. F. Hartley, South Burleigh; Rev. G. Warren, Lakefield; Rev. J. Davidson, Peterborough; Rev. E. V. Stevenson, Peterborough; Rev. Carl Smith, Peterborough; Rev. L. B. Read, Otonabee; Rev. H. Symonds, Ashburnham; Rev. E. Soward, Kinmount; Rev. J. H. McGinnis, Hastings; and Rev. Mr. Creighton, of Clarke.

After the celebration of Holy Communion at 9 o'clock the visiting clergy breakfasted in the school house, after which organization was effected. Rev. H. Symonds was appointed Secretary and Treasurer of the Archdeaconry, and an Archdeaconal Council was formed of the Archdeacon, the three Rural Deans and Revs. Canon, Spragge, C. H. Marsh, of Linday, and E. Soward, of Kinmount.

After organization morning prayer was held in the church and Rev. J. C. Roper delivered a devotional address on the third, fourth, fifth and sixth chapters of II Corinthians.

Luncheon was served in the Sons of England Hall by the ladies of St. John's church.

Women bicyclists when they once make up their minds to wear bloomers are not to be baffled. In Belding, Or., where bloomers are forbidden, the women wear them all the same, with a short skirt, while riding through the streets of the town, but as soon as they strike the city line, they doff the skirt, strap it to the handle bar, and ride unencumbered through the country districts. When they reach the city line on their return, they don the skirt again.

THE ARMY.

Self Denial Week Begins on Saturday next—$25,000 to be raised

The Salvation Army is all alive and actively engaged in preparing for its annual Self-Denial week, which takes place throughout Canada from Nov. 30th to Dec. 7th inclusive. Large sums of money have been raised in past years and it is a wonderful testimony to the Army's development and activity. Each member of the Army as well as the many friends of its inititutions, are asked to abstain from all luxuries, and in many cases officers and soldiers have determined to do without certain articles of food which are ordinarily considered necessary, in order that by their acts of self-denial they may add to the financial support of the Army and its many different branches of work. The social operations through Canada have been greately developed during the last twelve months, new food and shelters have been opened at Winnipeg and Victoria respectively. As a natural consequence therefore, the demands upon the Army funds have increased, and this will require still greater effort to raise a correspondingly increased amount during this special Self-Denial week. The total amount aimed at for the Dominion is $25,000.

What About the Winter.

The question that arises frequently in the minds of those who pretend to be weather prophets is: "Will the coming winter be an open one?" If certain indications can be safely relied on, it will be very changeable. Sportsmen see more squirrels in the woods this fall than they have seen in many years in the same season. If the winter is going to be severe, the squirrels get into their houses early in the fall.

From the Garden to the Tea Pot

Is the secret of our success. Do you ever think how many profits are made out of an article before you use it? None more so than tea, especially imported packet tea. We handle no teas but our own. The High Prices Had to go.

And they are gone now. The Bordeaux Claret Co. killed the long prices for Clarets, Burgundies and Ports. It puts a good wine upon your table at $3 and $4 a dozen quarts. This is astounding. It is without precedent. For the great thing was to keep up the price. It was an article of faith that you could not have a good cheap wine. Fiddle sticks! Rot! The Bordeaux Claret Co. do not care a straw for dignified labels. They are selling a fine, supple, wholesome wine for a little over the price of beer, and people all over the country are ordering it. It is for general consumption. One can drink a bottle of wine now with his dinner and feel that he has not swallowed an estate. Good wine for the million at nominal prices. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

RECENT POSTAL INTELLIGENCE.

Which it Will be Well for Citizens to Bear in Mind.

The face of a private post card is not to be used for advertising purposes. A simple business card, plain or ornamental, such as may be of service in designating the business of the sender, is permitted. These cards are not transmissible as such to points outside of the Dominion and must have written or printed on the face thereof the words "Post Card."

Two more denominations of letter cards of the value of 1c and 2c respectively, are now supplied to the public. These cards serve in the fullest sense the purpose of letters. Two cent cards being for city circulation, while the one cent cards are for circulation where there is no carriers' delivery. No person should mail money or valuables in ordinary letters. These should in all cases, be handed in for registration.

A number of persons have been fined—in no case less than $10—for illegally enclosing correspondence in newspaper packets or in other articles of mail matter, prepaid at less than letter rate. A criminal prosecution is also pending against a man who falsely alleged that he had enclosed money in a post letter.

REGINALD HOOPER WILL APPEAL ONCE MORE.

He is Confident That a New Trial Will Result in his Release.

Convict John R. Hooper, of Port Hope, lives in hope down in his gloomy cell at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary. Notwithstanding the adverse decision to his petition for a new trial by His Excellency the Governor in Council this week, he is still fighting hard for liberty. A reverse such as announced by the government, has not seemingly embarrassed him to any great extent. Rather is he more determined than ever to bring his case before the authorities again. "New evidence, which will prove his innocence," is what he holds out for victory, and this is what he says about it in a letter to the Free Press today:—

"I shall obtain further new evidence and get that already sent in sworn to, in the shape of affidavits, and present for new trial in proper course.

"I can and will prove my entire innocence if I can get what I know exists in a complete shape.

"Thank all my friends. A just God is on the side of right.

Yours gratefully,
J. R. HOOPER.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Conductor Fred Russell is relieving Conductor Pym, of the Haliburton train, who is laid off duty by illness.

Chief Engineer Hannaford, of the G.T.R., passed through yesterday morning in a special car.

Mr. C. Piercy, relieving despatcher of Orillia, is at present replacing Despatcher Stripe, of Lindsay, who is enjoying a well-earned holiday.

A well-known freight driver and crew have been laid off for the past few days for having misinterpreted their crossing order and thereby risking a collision. It is expected they will be allowed off with a reprimand.

A telephone attachment for railroad use has been introduced which will greatly increase the safety of railroad travel. At present the device is designed only for communication between the conductors and the nearest station, but the intention is to so modify it that it can be used by passengers travelling on express trains. By this arrangement the telephone can be called into requisition by the train dispatcher in addition to the telegraph dispatching wires, while on the other hand the dispatcher can be called by any station or block along the line in a second. An ingenious part of the equipment is what is called a hanging set, which is to be carried in every baggage car and caboose. Should the train come to a standstill through a block or wreck or any other interruption, the hanging set, consisting of spliced rods, with a cross arm at the top, is dropped by two wires on the pole line alongside the track. This gives as perfect connection as if the telephone were in a private office, and it will work along every foot of railway line. In case of a wreck the telephone is instantly available, the dispatcher is called and orders are sent direct to the spot in return.

The new agreement between the C.P.R. managers and their engineers is for five years. It has been signed, all parties expressing themselves as being satisfied with its terms. The changes made from the old agreement, which expires next month, are not important.

An elegantly fitted private car for the use of the new president, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson who, it is said, will reside in Montreal for some time, is about to be turned out at the Grand Trunk Railway shops at Point St. Charles. The car is equipped with all the latest appliances for the comfort of its occupants.

Mr. A. White, General Freight Agent of the G.T.R., who is making one of his periodical trips over the line, is in town to-day.

Station Agent W. R. Bamford, of the C. P. R., anticipates a severe winter, and is making preparations accordingly.

WITH THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

CHRISTIAN SOCIALISM CONSIDERED;

Exhaustive Paper by Rev. Mr. Symonds—Its Origin, Principles and Significance Ably Presented—Interesting Discussion.

At the open meeting of the Fortnightly Club last night held in the County Council Chamber, there was a large attendance, representing the best social element and culture of the town.

Mr. Fessenden occupied the chair.

Rev. H. Symonds read a most interesting and inclusive paper, dealing in a very able manner with the new-old subject of Christian Socialism. He began by pointing out that the term did not imply any system of state socialism. It was descriptive of a tendency to resist individualism and to promote that view of Christianity which regards it as primarily the establishment of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth wherein we should realize the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. A brief summary of the paper can give no idea of its excellent character. After a preliminary sketch of socialism the paper defined socialism, used in the wider sense to represent all aspirations towards the improvement of society, and in its narrower sense the abolition of private ownership in capital and the means of production. Socialism was rapidly growing and was engaging the attention of both church and state. The development of political economy was rapidly sketched and only the modern of the three epochs considered, which was subdivided into three periods. Reference was made to the new movement that had set in which regards political economy simply as a branch of sociology, and comprehends the whole field of human relations. A profoundly ethical spirit pervades it, and wealth is declared not to be an end, but a means to a higher end, and political economists are becoming socialists in the wide sense of the term. Christianity was defined as essentially a social religion, as shown by the definition of the Gospel, which meant "good news" of the Kingdom of Heaven, and by the great commandment of the law of love to God and man, the twin foundations of the kingdom. A social virtue, love was the characteristic virtue of Christianity, and the other virtues were also social. This was the conception of the greatest thinkers among the apostles. Hence, it was the part of the Church not only to denounce individual sin and promote individual virtue, but social sins and social virtues as well. The relation of Christianity towards socialism is one of sympathy. Christianity, like socialism, aims at a perfect social order. The paper concluded with a history of Christian socialism and the deductions founded on the premises established.

There is no doubt of the existence of a spirit of social discontent among all classes throughout the world, and socialism in many shapes is proposed as a remedy for present disorders. Socialism is no longer a fad, but is steadily increasing in influence. It finds adherents amongst the leading preachers and dignitaries of the Church. Political economists are beginning to regard socialism as a factor to be dealt with. An examination of the New Testament shows that Christianity claims to be a society universal, unlimited and inclusive of all—designed to bring all men, through their mutual bonds, to the common Father of all. Christian Socialism, without committing itself to any theory of state socialism, is profoundly interested in every social investigation and aspiration.

A brief summary of Mr. Symonds' paper necessarily gives but a faint idea of its excellence of its depth and of its admirable juxtaposition of facts bearing upon the subject.

DISCUSSION.

Mr. Yokome opened the discussion that followed Mr. Symond's paper. He argued that true socialism is essentially Christian, that it is an outgrowth of Christianity. It was Christ who introduced a new era of unselfishness. The golden rule embodies the underlying principle of socialism in its broadest and noblest sense. It is a disregard of this rule, a failure to put it into practice, that leads to a great deal of the misery of to-day. The spirit of agrandizement creates the oppression that often makes the relation between employer and employee one of unloving injustice. This oppression obtains in all the departments of industrial and commercial life. The remedies that have so far been proposed by political economists and socialists for ameliorating the condition of the world, have proved ineffectual. The basic principle of Christianity alone is able to succeed in accomplishing this end. The church, therefore, has a great duty to perform. While it cannot be denied that it has done much, it is equally true that it has not done all that is possible. It has paid too much attention to preaching piety and not enough to the practical side of Christianity.

Rev. Carl Smith continued the discussion, and remarked that within the last fifty years a great change had taken place in man's way of looking at life. As in the natural world, so in the social, there is a natural progress or development. To-day the rule of life is to specialize in every department. This is seen in art, in science, in literature, among professional men and among artisans. Society is a great body, of which every part must do its duty in order that its life may be what it should be. In the performance by each man of his duty to society lies its happiness. The spirit of the age would teach us to live, not for ourselves, but for the good of all. In the teachings of Christ we find that which must have an important place in solving the great social problems of to-day. Any other solution cannot be found that will prove effectual in producing the desired results.

Rev. W. R. Young was requested to speak, and in response said that the social question had become one of vast importance within the last few years. Hugh Price Hughes asserts that the Church has become so much engrossed in saving men's souls that it has forgotten to save their bodies. With the advance of civilization come new conditions of life. Among the features of the present age is centralization. In the United States 91 per cent. of the entire wealth is held by 9 per cent. of the population. The great question for the Church to solve is how to change this condition of affairs. So far the Church has said to the poor, "Be patient; have faith in a risen Saviour, and hope for future reward." Upon the rich it has urged the necessity of being charitable to the needy. The true solution to the great social question is to be found along the line of justice. The church must be less divided in its efforts than it has been in the past.

Prof. Roper, of Trinity University, Toronto, who happened to be in the audience, was invited to speak. Mr. Roper showed himself to be of a practical turn of mind, and in a most lucid, effective and interesting manner treated briefly this side of the question. It is in the many details involved in the practical carrying out of socialistic theories that he sees very perplexing problems. What we stand greatly in need of, is light on these matters. Men of speculative ability must have the co-operation of those who are able to reduce their theories to actual use.

The discussion was brought to a close by Mr. A. C. McCallum in his usual fluent manner. He is of the opinion that the church has entirely failed to reach the poorer of the working class. The reason for this is found in the fact that it has not come down to their level. They are not able to feel at ease in church for obvious reasons. The speaker would like to see the workingman of the town map out a programme containing their ideas on the social problem as it concerns them. This would greatly aid in the discussion and practical solution of the difficulties that may exist in our own midst. He would also gladly see some way adopted by which the principals and details of Christian socialism might be taught.

The discussion was followed by an animated reply by Mr. Symonds.

MR. SYMOND'S REJOINDER.

Rev. H. Symonds in replying to the discussion, said that he was very glad Prof. Roper had referred to some of the practical questions connected with the subject. He fully concurred with Mr. Young in the opinion that there was no cut and dried system of social reform that could be adopted at present, nor did he think there ever would be. We must beware of mere theories. Our social difficulty must be solved by degrees, here a little, and there a little.

In reply to Mr. Yokome, he admitted that the church was, to a great extent, responsible for some of our social troubles, but we must remember that the church consists not only of its ministers, but its members. He thought the church was rising to a sense of its duties to society at large.

To Mr. McCallum, Mr. Symonds said that he would promise to give any workingmen who desired to study or to confer upon social questions as much time as he could spare. Nothing would give him greater pleasure, and he was sure there were others who could say the same thing.

At the close of the meeting the President announced that St. John's Mission had postponed an entertainment in order that it should not conflict with this meeting of the Fortnightly Club, and he trusted that in return for their courtesy those who were present would support the entertainment which was to be held on Tuesday next, Dec. 3rd.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held in the Judge's Chambers on Tuesday evening, December 17th. A paper is to be read by A. C. McCallum, on "Mechanical Absurdities."

It was announced by the president last evening that the next public meeting would take place on the evening of Jan. 28th. A debate will be held that evening on the resolution "That Chinese Labourers should be excluded from the Dominion of Canada." The speakers of the evening will be W. J. Drope and E. A. Peck on the affirmative, and R. M. Dennistoun and W. H. Hilton the negative.

The secretary will be glad to receive the name of any person who wishes to become a member of the club.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman finds ample compensation for her trials and worries and bothers in the soft, clinging little body nestling close to her own—in the trustful clinging of the little hands, and the love light in the little eyes.

A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Doctor Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo.

"I lost six babies by untimely births. In the eighth month of my seventh pregnancy, as usual, I was taken ill. The family doctor was called. He said there was no help for me. The baby must be born. I grieved excessively. I persuaded my husband, against the physician's advice, to get me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Four doses quieted my pains. That child was born at full time. It is three years old, and I am the happiest mother in the world."

ANOTHER TORONTO SUICIDE.

George C. Williams, Wanted on a Charge of Arson, Takes Poison.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—George C. Williams, the son of Esplanade Constable Williams, a corporation employe, living at 501 Front-street east, took poison yesterday morning and died at midnight.

Williams attempted suicide about a week ago and yesterday again dosed himself with a mixture of arsenic and laudanum. No doctor was called until 8 p.m., when Dr. Hastings was summoned; he did his best for the patient, but Williams was beyond his aid. His relatives were with him at his death.

The cause of Williams' self-murder was his having been charged with having set fire to the old Princess Hotel on the corner of George and Esplanade-streets. His family claim that he was innocent and say his suicide was due to worrying over the things which had been said about him. They admit, however, that he was offered money to do the job. One of the gang who did the deed on Nov. 5th, named Finn, turned Queen's evidence. Williams made a deposition before he died and the authorities propose to use it against other suspects. By a strange coincidence, as narrated in another column, the hotel was fired again last night.

There were other rumors afloat in the east end last night to the effect that he was implicated in a cattle stealing scrape, but this story is not confirmed.

He has a brother, Robert, living at 70 Saulter-street, and his father, who has long been a faithful servant to the city as keeper of the morgue, has the deepest sympathy of everyone.

HE HAS NO ORGAN.

Archbishop Cleary Repudiates The Canadian Freeman on the School Question.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 26.—Archbishop Cleary, in a letter to the press, declares that he has no organ in Kingston, or Canada, as papers allege. Whenever he has any utterances to make he does so over his own name. The Archbishop also repudiates the utterances of The Canadian Freeman on the Manitoba school question, declaring himself as standing by the constitution and the Privy Council, which has decided that the Catholics of Manitoba have grievances demanding immediate redress.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged—South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical commonsense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" That great discovery of the century, South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person affected with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who used the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure.

Palmer Defeats Pilmmer.

London, Nov. 25.—The fight between Billy Pilmmer and Palmer at 112 pounds for a purse of £1500 took place to-night. The referee stopped the fight in the 14th round and awarded the battle to Palmer owing to Pilmmer's brother entering the ring.

The fight took place at the Bolingbroke Club. Both men fought fast from the beginning. The first and second rounds were in Palmer's favor. The third, fourth and fifth were pretty even, neither man getting much the better of the other. Thereafter Palmer had the advantage in nearly every round, and in the 14th round, when the fight was awarded to Palmer, Pilmmer was dazed by the pounding Palmer had given him.

Another event on the program was a fight between White and McCoy. The latter had the advantage in the first six rounds. Then White picked up and won the battle.

No Football Champions Across the Line.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.—The Yale football eleven arrived in this city yesterday. All were in fine condition and delighted at their victory over Princeton. The general sentiment at Yale is that the eleven deserve the title of champions, as they defeated Princeton handsomely and Princeton won from Harvard by a wide margin. The football management, however, announce that they will make no formal claim of the championship, as there will be no game with the unbeaten Pennsylvanians this year.

Cornell is fast getting into trim for its game with the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia Thanksgiving day.

A Born Diplomat.

Charley was caught napping on the porch of the summer resort. A pair of soft little hands covered his eyes, and a sweet voice commanded: "Guess who it is."

Nothing very dreadful for Charley in this, you think; but, then, you don't know that Charley was engaged to two girls, and, for the life of him, couldn't decide which voice it was, which made it a very embarrassing situation for Charley. A wrong guess would lead to complications awful to think of. But a happy thought inspired Charley, and he announced: "It's the dearest, sweetest little girl in all the world."

"Oh, you lovely boy!" gurgled the satisfied one, as she removed her hands.

And now Charley thanks of applying for a foreign ministry, feeling that his talents would be wasted in any other diplomatic field.

CURED PERMANENTLY

BY TAKING

Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. It was usually accompanied with severe pains in the temples, a sense of fullness and tenderness in one eye, a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, hands and feet cold, and sickness at the stomach. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

DIVORCES IN THE EAST.

Burmese Separations Decided by the Aid of Candle or Rush Lights.

In Burmah when a couple desire a divorce the first step is a general summoning of the family relations of both sides, who commence proceedings by a discussion with a view to an amiable settlement. This, however, seldom takes place. Then the patriarchs of the village are called in, and they proceed as follows: They take two candles, wax, if possible, but generally rushlights, and apportion one to the husband and the other to the wife. The candles are then placed upon the table, if there is one, and on the floor if there is not, and lighted. Great care is taken that neither is in any draught likely to interfere with or expedite its combustion. Then the husband, wife and relatives sit round to wait and watch. If the husband's candle burns out first, he and all his relatives walk out of the door and leave the wife in possession of the house and all the chattels. If the wife's candle goes out first, she and her relatives depart. The victor pays a small fee to the candle-providing patriarchs, and the divorce is complete. In Madagascar a husband can divorce his wife for the most trivial offence by giving her a piece of money before witnesses and saying: "I thank you, madam." In Japan the couple simply proceed to the nearest temple, each wearing a blue scarf across the left shoulder and knotted under the right arm. They bow thrice before the altar, unfasten their scarfs, and leave the temple by opposite doors, thus having loosed the marriage tie. In Cochin-China the breaking of a pair of chopsticks in the presence of the couple is a legal form of divorce.—N. Y. Sun.

She Was Sentimental.

"You keep rings here, don't you?" he asked in a Woodward avenue jewelry store.

"Certainly," replied the clerk. "Something for yourself?"

"No; I'm thinkin' of gettin' suthin' fur my girl. Got anything fur about two dollars?"

"Yes, I can give you a plain ring at that price. Here is something very neat."

"I guess that would fit her all right. Kin I have sunthin' engraved on to it?"

"Of course—what is it?"

"Wall, I want you to put on it: 'From Thomas J. to Helen R., who is not only the best lookin', but the smartest girl in the State of Michigan. My love will never, never grow cold, and should death overtake me, my last thought would be of you. Be good and you'll be happy, and please accept this as a token of love.' That's what I want you to put on."

"Good gracious, but you can't get all that on a ring!" exclaimed the clerk.

"Must have it on or I don't want a ring!" was the firm reply.

"But the usual way is simply to engrave: 'T. to H.' with the date after it."

"The usual way may be all right with some girls, but it won't work with mine. What she wants is sentiment—heaps of sentiment. So you can't get it on?"

"Couldn't possibly do it. You'd want a surface as large as your hand to get that on."

"Say!" exclaimed the young man, after a moment of reflection—"I have it! I'll buy her a silver belt-buckle instead of a ring, and I'll have 'em put on all I said and add to it: You are never absent from my thoughts, and a vision of your dear face rises up before me a thousand times a day. Be true—be true! Virtue is its own reward, and your mother kin live with us after we are married. No more at present—good-by!"—Detroit Free Press.

Mound Builders' Corn.

A curious experiment was made this summer by Charles Graham, a nurseryman of this country, and the result lies upon the desk before your correspondent as he writes. Last year, Mr. A. A. Graham, of Mount Vernon, Ind., made a visit to the vicinity of Alton, Ill., and called upon a friend, who had just opened a mound builders' burial mound. Upon the mound grew several large trees, among them an oak four feet in diameter, and thus the age of the mound was established as considerable. In it were found the crumbling remains of bones, and, among other utensils, a large pot, containing a maize very much like our present common red corn. Of this Mr. Graham secured several grains, and on returning home planted it. It grew, and the result was that he produced a strain of corn which is most likely the ancestor of the corn we now cultivate.

In spite of having been in the grave for certainly not less than four hundred years, it grew very rapidly and produced a large, well-shaped ear upon a fairly tall stalk. The ear is well set, the grains being somewhat smaller than any of the present varieties, except pop-corn. In shape the grain resembles dried sweet corn, being rough and wrinkled. In taste it is sweet and agreeable.—Indianapolis News.

CONSUMPTION

Cheques for Seven Cents.

Of the many schemes employed by advertisers to attract and retain the attention of the public, the one employed by a haberdasher, is certainly as novel as any conceived, says a Chicago paper. He got an elaborate envelope with a crest upon it and inclosed a short and well-worded note asking the attention of the reader for two minutes to his notice of his goods, and enclosed also a cheque regularly signed, for seven cents, as the value of the time requested.

The advertisement was sent to Board of Trade men, bankers and the better class of business men throughout the city.

The haberdasher hardly thought that any one would take the trouble to cash the cheques, but some bright and kind-hearted wit conceived the idea of collecting these cheques and using them for a worthy object. Accordingly the cheques were gradually gathered in, all properly endorsed, and sent to the children's fresh air fund, and aggregated quite a comfortable sum.

While the advertiser was rather surprised at the novel use to which his advertising cheques were put, he is quite pleased to contribute thus indirectly, as it were, to such a worthy cause.—Chicago Times Herald

CATHEDRAL'S SHAKY SPIRE.

The Tallest in England—Its Base Spreading Dangerously.

The report of Sir Arthur Blomfield, A. R. A., upon the condition of the celebrated spire at Salisbury Cathedral is calculated to cause anxiety, if not alarm. It is quite evident, from that report, that the dangerous symptoms which threatened this beautiful structure some centuries back and which it was supposed had been completely overcome by a system of "tieing" and "bracing" then adopted, have begun to reappear, and that the thrust of the leaning walls of the spire is again forcing the straight walls of the spire outward which, if not attended to immediately, may lead to danger, if not disaster. With the experiences of Chichester, Peterborough, Mayence, and Seville before us, it is not likely that the appeal for funds to execute the necessary repairs will remain unanswered.

Although the tower and spire of the cathedral appear so admirably suited to the building that we could not imagine the church without this, its most distinguished feature, it formed no portion of the original design. The cathedral, which is nearly all of the same date, was completed (except the tower and spire) in 1258. The center tower then erected was probably either a low lantern crowned by a pyramidal roof, or a dwarf spire like that of Oxford Cathedral. The bells were suspended in an isolated campanile, which stood about 30 feet from the west front. This very solid bell tower was in existence down to 1790, when it was pulled down, because the "wise men" of that day thought it interrupted the view of the cathedral! But as it was built by the same men who erected the cathedral itself, we may be pretty sure that those who pulled it down made the blunder, not those who set it up. About a century after the building of the cathedral it was determined to take down the low central tower, and in its place to erect the present magnificent tower. It has always been a question whether it is judicious, from a constructive point of view, to erect a lofty tower or spread over the center of a great church, and the feature is almost peculiar to England and Normandy. In other parts of France and in Germany (except in some of the Romanesque churches) it is practically unknown. The constructive difficulty is this: A central tower can not be supported upon its own walls, but has to rest upon four columns which are more or less restricted as to size, because if they are made very large, they block the church in the center. Salisbury is the largest stone central spire in existence (it is rather over 400 feet in height). It was a very bold thing to place such a great structure upon four columns intended for only one about half the height, and we take it that the fact of its having stood over 500 years has justified the experiment. It must not however, be supposed that all has gone quite smoothly in the history of the Salisbury spire. The first notice we have that all was not right dates back as far as the year 1417, when the chapter obtained a royal warrant to acquire lands to the value of £50 a year to restore the steeple, which was then found to be in a dangerous state. At some time later on the spire was filled in with beams of timber and tied with iron. Sir Arthur Blomfield thinks that the latter operation did more harm than good. In 1681 the pillars were found to have sunk, thereby throwing the apex of the spire 2 inches out of the perpendicular —from some points of view this inclination is distinctly visible.

Sir Arthur Blomfield proposes that the great pinnacles at the base of the spire should be carefully repaired, as their stone-work is perished and fractured in places. It is to be hoped that this will stop the "spreading" of the base spire, which Sir Arthur regards as a serious danger. Might not the chain round the drum of the dome of St. Peter's, Rome, offer a suggestion?—London Graphic.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

A HEAVY MORTGAGE.

How a prominent farmer quickly lifted it.

A mortgage has been described as an incentive to industry, a heavy mortgage, as a sure sign of ruin. The last is particularly true, for if a mortgage is allowed to ran it will eat up the farm. In this connection Mr. Henry Fowler, of Huron writes: "From my boyhood scrofula had marked me for a victim and it seemed as if it had a life mortgage on my blood. I suffered fearfully with sores, and knowing my condition I have remained a single man. Doctor after doctor prescribed for me, and finally a Toronto specialist told me bluntly that my complaint was a deep-seated, incurable, blood disease. Sarsaparilla I knew was a good blood medicine, and I sent for a bottle of the best. Mr. Todd, the druggist, sent me Scott's Sarsaparilla, and I have stuck to it. It has lifted my mortgage, for to-day I am free from those horrible sores, my eyesight is not blurred, my tongue is not furry, and I have no irritation. I look upon Scott's Sarsaparilla as a marvellous medicine when it will cure a life long disease in so short a time."

Scrofula, pimples, running sores, rheumatism and all diseases generated by poisonous humors in the blood are cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla. The kind that cures. Sold only in concentrated form at $1 per bottle by your druggist. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from the six prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

CURLING.

A big curling bonspiel is booked for Peterborough between all the clubs between Toronto and Kingston, including Kingston. A meeting was held at the Bell Telephone Company's office last night at which there were present, Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, R. H. Kells, D. W. Dumble, W. Allen, Judge Weller, Geo. Edmison and J. S. Knapman. Mr. Dumble occupied the chair, and after discussion it was decided to hold a bonspiel of the clubs in the district mentioned above sometime in January. The joint committee of the two clubs are to have charge of the management of the arrangements for the bonspiel. The bonspiel will include a club competition for a trophy for which two rinks can be entered by each club, and also a single rink competition, for which not more than four rinks of any club can be entered. The matter of the bonspiel will be pushed vigorously and the clubs in the district included in the Bonspiel district, are being notified and arrangements will be made for procuring reduced rates from the C. P. R. and G. T. R.

YOUNG'S POINT.

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Young's Point cheese factory will be held in Heard's hall on Friday, Nov. 29th at 4 o'clock p.m. After the meeting an oyster supper will be held, commencing at 5 o'clock; from that until all are served. Immediately after the supper a concert will be held, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, &c.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day," performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though, (as may be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award the credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore, of the highest value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of the claim that Maltine Wine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarizes the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel" and affirms that "it is a wonderful sustainer." This preparation may be had at any drug store.

KEENE.

From our own Correspondent.

The Keene Carriage Works have a large number of cutters and sleighs on hand and will be ready for the winter season.

Rev. Mr. Liddy, pastor of the Methodist church, preached a very fine sermon on temperance from his pulpit on Sunday night. All who failed to hear him missed a treat.

The Ladies' Aid in connection with the Methodist church held a pie social in the town hall on Thursday night. The programme was excellent and well given and our village should be proud of the musical talent which resides there.

Mr. W. J. Hopwood, of Toronto, was in the village on Monday.

Mr. G. K. Martin, Inspector for the Canada Life Company, Peterborough, spent Tuesday here.

The high winds of Tuesday opened up Rice Lake, which was completely frozen over.

Thanksgiving passed off very quietly here.

Mr. J. R. McCrea, of Campbellford, spent Sunday in the village.

Mr. W. C. McCrea and wife, of Peterborough, spent Thanksgiving day in Keene.

Miss Alice Curtz, of Belleville, is spending a few days in the village, the guest of Miss S. Campbell.

Mr. W. English, of the Wm. English Canoe Factory, Peterborough, was in the village on Sunday.

At a meeting of the Hocky Club on Saturday night the following officers were elected:—

Honorary President—J. M. Shaw, M.D.
President—M. Miller.
Vice-President—J. R. McIntyre.
Secretary-Treasurer—John Quinn.
Captain—A. S. Laing.
Committee of Management—H. Burnham, A. Walsh, J. R. McIntyre, J. McCarthy.

Mr. John Gall will move into his new house in a few weeks.

Mr. Wm. Pullyblank, V.S., of Hastings, attended the Foresters' annual assembly on Friday night.

Mr. Jas. Metcalf and sister have moved into the village.

Mr. White, of Toronto, was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. Robert Brown has started to fit up the Curling and Skating Rink for the season.

ONE DOG'S MISFORTUNES.

Struck by a Locomotive. Stabbed. Scalded Run Over Twice and Stolen.

Belleville, N.Y., Nov. 26.—George L. Brooks of Main-street has offered a reward for the recovery of a lost dog. Mr. Brooks values the dog at $250. Jack Brooks was an every-day dog and would never take a prize at a bench show, but he is famous. Last August he was struck by a train on the Erie Railroad near the Essex Depot and hurled 60 feet. He was loaded on a wheelbarrow and taken to Mr. Brooks' house, and a grave was dug for his remains. While the dog was being placed in the grave one of the ears of the apparently dead dog was observed to twitch. Restoratives were applied, and the dog recovered.

Jack has been poisoned four times, has had a butcher knife thrust into him once, has been scalded once, and has been run over by wagons twice. It is supposed that now he has been stolen by dog thieves.

Going to a Warmer Clime

Fergus, Ont., Nov. 26.—Rev. R. M. Craig, who has been pastor of Melville Presbyterian Church here for the last six years, left this afternoon for Santa Fe, N.M., where he has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian Church. Mr Craig's health rendered it necessary for him to seek a warmer climate.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour.

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Sarah Cochrane of Peterborough, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Elliott of Beaverton, spent Thanksgiving in town, the guests of Mrs. Elliott's father, Mr. Wm. Vance.

Miss Roddy Campbell, of Toronto, is visiting Miss M. Collins.

Mr. Arthur Parkin of Lindsay, returned home on Monday after spending a few days here.

Miss Hattie Read spent Sunday in Bethany, the guest of Dr. Brereton.

Rev. Mr. Phelps entertained the Methodist choir at the parsonage on Friday evening, when a most enjoyable time was spent.

The entertainment in the town hall on Thursday evening under the auspices of the King's Daughters of the Church of England, was a grand success, both financially and otherwise.

Miss Hattie Melville of Peterborough, spent Sunday in town, the guest of Miss May Duncan.

The anniversary services of the Fallis Line Church were held on Sunday and Monday last. On Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Phelps preached a very appropriate sermon and in the afternoon Rev. Wm. Johnston delivered an able address. On Monday evening the annual tea and concert were held. Speeches were delivered by Rev. Mr. McKee, of Frazerville, and Dr. S. W. Clarke of Millbrook. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the proceeds were not as large as were expected.

The Methodist Sunday School have secured the services of Mr. Frank Yeigh, of Toronto, for New Year's night, to deliver his noted address, "The Highways of Europe," with limelight productions.

Miss Lottie Cochrane is visiting her friend, Miss Kathleen Patterson, of Port Hope.

Mrs. (Rev.) Wm. Buchanan, of Markham, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Wm. Pendrie.

Mr. Fred Byers and his sister, Miss Etta Byers, of Bailleboro, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hunter.

Look out for colds at this season. Keep yourself well and strong by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great tonic and blood purifier.

Pumps and Windmills.

Mr. G. W. Green, the new pump and windmill man, is meeting with unusual success since he started, on Charlotte street, near the English Canoe Co. Already he has erected five "Ideal" Windmills in the neighbourhood of Peterborough for the following persons:—Mr. Andrew Young, North Monaghan; Richard Evans, Manvers, for machine power, pumping water, sawing wood, crushing grain, etc.; Graham Bros., Bethany, for running a repair machine shop; Joseph Dawson, Bailleboro, 85 feet high, galvanized steel tower; W. S. Bowbright, Gore's Landing, 100 feet high, galvanized steel tower. His pump business is going ahead equally well and orders are coming briskly. 1wd

A GREAT MEDICINE.

Cod-liver Oil is useful beyond any praise it has ever won, and yet few are willing or can take it in its natural state. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not offensive; it is almost palatable.

Children like it. It is Cod-liver Oil made more effectual, and combined with the Hypophosphites its strengthening and flesh-forming powers are largely increased.

THE EVIDENCE ALL IN

Addresses of Counsel Begun in the Hyams Case.

GREAT CROWD IN THE COURT ROOM

A Goodly Number of Ladies in the Throng —Intense Interest Manifested by All —The Prisoners Show More Seriousness in Their Demeanour.

Toronto, Nov. 28.—The evidence in the great Hyams murder trial is all in, and Mr. Johnston, counsel for Dallas Hyams, has begun his plea before the jury for the life of his client. To-night Mr. Johnston's address will be concluded, Mr. Lount will have made his plea, and in all probability the verdict in the most remarkable murder trial ever held in Canadian courts will be announced on Saturday.

The defence yesterday, in addition to some unimportant testimony on the business carried on by the prisoners called a professor in mathematics and dynamics to swear to the feasibility of their theory that Wells' head when struck by the weight would reach the floor first. The indefinite elements entering into the question were so numerous the testimony was of little service to the defence, the cross-examination on the other hand resulting very favorably to the Crown's contention that the head would fall out of the true line of gravity. The Crown's rebuttal testimony went the way of so great a part of their important evidence, and was consequently not heard by the jurymen.

The news of the close of the evidence and the opening of the addresses to the jury, drew the largest crowd that has sought admission to the court room since the trial began. The gallery was crowded with ladies, many of whom have been in attendance since the opening day. Seated in a corner of the grand jury box, at the side of Mrs. Dallas Hyams, and directly behind her husband, was no less a personage than Mrs. Frances L. Wellman, nee Miss Emma Juch. The famous opera singer appeared thoroughly interested in the proceedings, paying careful attention to the eloquent address of Mr. Johnston. Mrs. Justice Ferguson and the Misses Ferguson also occupied chairs in the grand jury box during the afternoon session.

As the trial draws near its close, and the awful peril in which they stand impresses them, the deeanor of the twins slowly changes. The jaunty air of confidence and indifference worn by them for three weeks has now given place to painfully contracted features and knitted brows, that speak of the struggle going on within them, between their hope for acquittal and freedom, and fear that the verdict will place the hangman's noose about their necks.

The cross-examination of Auctioneer Langdon was taken up by Mr. Osler at the opening of the court for the morning session. It lasted for only a few moments, the only point brought out being that the business carried on required a very small capital.

In the absence of Auctioneer Palen, who was wanted as the next witness, Mr. Johnston made application to the court for the admission as evidence of the letters written by H. P. Hyams to Martha Wells, which had been put in by the Crown as identification of the handwriting of Harry Hyams. These letters were put in and used by the Crown at the last trial, as exhibits to the evidence of Martha Hyams. Mr. Johnston and Mr. Lount made use of the contents of the letters in their addresses to the jury, arguing from them that the affection existing between Harry Hyams and Martha Wells was of the sincerest character. His Lordship held that the admission of the letters would be against the elementary principle of evidence, that a man's own statements or writings cannot be used as evidence in his own behalf.

The deposition made by Thomas Bragg, formerly manager for J. D. Nasmith, before the commission which visited Cleveland the week prior to the opening of the May trial, was read by Mr. Lount. The purport of the deposition was that persons standing in the Nasmith basement, near the hole in the wall, could hear sounds in the Hyams warehouse basement.

Alfred Baker, Professor of Mathematics in the University of Toronto, who also had a knowledge of the science of falling bodies, was given the relative position of Wells to the weight shaft, as alleged by the defence when the weight became loosed from the hook, the distance the weight would fall before it struck Wells' head, and the other distances and conditions necessary to the theory of the defence, and asked to give his opinion on whether the head or the weight would reach the floor first. The proposition, the witness said, contained many indefinite elements, but if the velocity of the weight was imparted to the body, and the body free to fall, there would not be an appreciable difference in the time they would reach the floor. It would require only six-tenths of a second for a weight of 200 pounds to fall a distance of six feet. When it reached the buffer it would be travelling at the rate of 19 1-2 feet per second. As far as a body struck by a weight became a flexible body, it would fall perpendicular.

In cross-examination the witness said that a mere glancing blow would interfere with his conclusions. The hypothesis given him was a blow which engaged the head, imparting to it the full velocity of the weight, which carried the head down before it. If the head lost contact with the weight, the falling body would make room for itself both ways, the head going forward and the feet sliding backwards. The rigidity of the back bone would necessarily give a forward thrust to the body.

Charles Palin, auctioneer, said that in March, 1892, he began to do business for the prisoners as spoken of by Auctioneer Langden. As far as the witness could recollect, the contents of 30 or 40 houses were bought and sold by the witness for the prisoners. Books produced by the witness showed several sales conducted by him for the prisoners. The warehouse was given up by them on the advice of the witness, because of the elevator not being large enough to carry up heavy or bulky furniture.

The first money the witness got from the prisoners was in Feb., 1893, the sum being in the neighborhood of $20. The first large sum that passed from the hands of the prisoners to the witness was in March, 1893. The sales book showed that at the auction sales which were held at the warehouse mattresses were sold for the princely sum of 17 cents, and Scotch bureaus for 55 cents.

I. W. Curry, druggist, Wilton-avenue, was called to prove that [illegible] son Harry Hyams did not send the telegraph despatch to Pickering, informing the uncle that Wells would be down on the Monday, was that the witness' drug store, in which the telegraph office was situated, was closed when the message was given to the prisoner. The witness said his office was usually closed at 10 p.m. on Sundays.

Mr. Murphy, clerk in the offices at the Canadian Express Company, swore to certain documents which showed that between May 9, 1889, and Oct. 15, 1894, about $20,000 had been delivered by the Express Company to the prisoners.

To Mr. Osler the witness said that before Jan. 16, 1893, the prisoners had received only $150, the rest being sent to the mother. There was no shipment of the regular $200 allowance between Dec. 13, 1892, and June 9, 1893, the period the mother was in Florida. Just before her departure for Florida Mrs. Hyams received $1000 from New York.

When Murphy left the witness box, a consultation was held by counsel for the defence, at the close of which Mr. Lount rose and said, "That is the case for Harry Hyams, My Lord." Mr. Johnston said that he had nothing more to add for Dallas Hyams, and the case for the prisoners was closed.

Samuel W. Hughson, of the Covenant Mutual Insurance Company was called to swear, in rebuttal, that the experiments spoken of by Preston as being made by himself, with Taylor White and Crone, were made on Thursday, the day following the funeral, and in the presence of Harry Hyams, and that the weight was not resting on the nose of the hook, as sworn by Preston and White. These witnesses had sworn to having made the experiments on Wednesday, and the defence objected to the evidence of Hughson on the ground that it was apparent that Hughson did not refer to the day spoken of by the defence witnesses. Mr. Osler could not prove that the warehouse was locked on Wednesday and the evidence was over-ruled.

William Ferguson, an employe of Nasmith's, said that the potatoes and eggs were kept some distance from the place where McCarthy swore they were on the morning of the tragedy, when he heard the sounds of the falling weight.

Another attempt to get in the evidence of Hughson, another adverse ruling by His Lordship, and the hearing of evidence in the second trial of this most remarkable murder case, was at an end.

Mr. Johnston, counsel for Dallas Hyams, then began his address to the jury, and continued speaking till the close of the court.

Does the average citizen, who takes a morbid, or even a passing, interest in sensational murder trials, ever stop to figure in his mind the vast sums of money which are often expended in arriving at a conclusion which shall be alike just to the people and to the unfortunates who may be called upon to answer for their misdeeds? More than likely he does not.

Persons who have had no direct connection with courts of justice can have but little, if any, knowledge of the expenditures involved in the securing of legal support, the hunting up of evidence, and the thousand and one things that go to make a perfect trial; the days and weeks and months of constant work, entailing the employment of detectives, who are not at all times economical in their views and practices, assert themselves most prominently when the consequent billet-deuxs are presented at the office of the public treasury for settlement.

The recent trial of the multi-murderer, H. H. Holmes, at Philadelphia, though lasting but one short week, is reported to have cost the Commonwealth in the neighborhood of $20,000, the bulk of which sum being necessarily expended in hunting up evidence of the crimes of the arch-criminal. San Francisco papers place the cost of the formalities to the legal execution of Theodore Durrant, the cruel murderer of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams at more than $50,000, which amount is said to be enormous, notwithstanding the fact that the trial lasted nearly three months. The recent conviction of Harry Hayward, the cold-blooded individual who planned the diabolical murder of pretty Catharine Ging at Minneapolis, is said to have cost the good people of Hennepin County, Minn., the snug sum of $35,000, while trials which represent in themselves the expenditure of sums ranging from $5000 to $15,000, are common enough throughout the continent.

The following table giving an estimate of the xepenses of the Crown's side of the case, may be regarded as approximately correct:

Counsel and Attorneys' fees, including detectives and incidentals	$4,000 00
12 jurors at $2 per day, 26 days	624 00
21 constables at $1.25 per day, 26 days	682 50
Incidental expenses	300 00
Witness fees	350 00

To which sum it is but reasonable to add the salaries of His Lordship, the clerk, stenographer and other attachees of the court during the 26 days which the trial will have lasted on Saturday evening next. These additional items will foot up not less than $900, bringing the grand total for the consideration of the taxpayers up to the magnificent sum of $3,956.50.

But high and all as these figures may appear to the uninitiated, they are but a drop in the bucket as compared with the enormous sums the alleged murderers of Willie Wells are said to be expending in their efforts to once again enjoy the privileges of freedom. In the case of private individuals it is more difficult to secure exact information as to the distribution of money, but the annexed table is believed to approximate the amount the American relatives and friends of the accused men are expending in their cause in connection with the present trial:

Counsel:
Mr. Wellman, $300 per day	$7,800
Mr. Gouch, $100 per day	2,600
Mr. Lount, $100 per day	2,600
Mr. Johnston, $100 per day	2,600
Mr. Murdoch, $50 per day	1,300
Mr. Horn, $50 per day	1,300
Pinkerton detectives and witnesses	6,500
Incidental expenses, etc.	1,300
Total	$26,000

SENATOR PERLEY AS A FARMER.

He Finds the Business of Agriculture Very Profitable in Assiniboia Advice Which Should be Noted

Montreal, Nov. 27.—A gentleman in town has received a letter from Hon. Senator Perley of Wolseley, Assiniboia, one of the most successful farmers in the Canadian Northwest, giving some interesting information regarding that vast territory and the success which has attended his labors and which others can easily achieve. The Senator was a farmer in New Brunswick for 22 years before following Horace Greeley's advice; but when he went West—although aware that to succeed a man had to know something about the business besides holding the plow, that system and climate together with the natural conditions of the country had a great deal to do with successful agriculture—like a sensible man, he resolved to study the problem of the country, and to educate himself as to what was the best system to pursue before starting; his means being limited, he says, he could not afford to make a mistake. On arriving in Winnipeg, thirteen years ago, he first noted that the cattle were sleek and universally fleshy, fatter than any animals he had ever sold off his New Brunswick farm, and which would rank amongst the best he had ever seen in that Province. Their fine condition, he knew, was not due in the least to the skill or care in feeding, for the owners were not practical farmers, so he concluded that there was something in the grasses of the Northwest that was not contained in the grasses of Eastern Canada which accounted for their excellent condition. "I came to the conclusion," he writes, "that the great natural source of wealth of the west was in the grasses of the prairie; and now after thirteen years' close observation and seven years' actual experience in farming in this Northwest, I am convinced that if a man fails in farming it is his own fault and not that of the country."

The Senator strongly favors mixed farming as the speediest road to success. "While certain sections may be particularly well adapted to wheat raising," he says, "I am of the opinion that nineteen out of twenty districts are better adapted, or at least as well adapted, for mixed farming."

True a number of persons have failed to make farming pay, but the Senator attributes the failure to their own fault. He himself occupied a farm on which two men had failed in raising wheat, and he started in mixed farming with 20 cows and four hogs, and his stock paid the bills. The cows lived on the grass in summer, costing nothing except the herding, and hay, which was easily and cheaply got, furnished winter food. The skimmed milk fed the pigs. So he was not dependent on wheat raising alone, as many settlers were and still are.

"The following rule is practised on our farm," the Senator writes, "and we find it works successfully: The first principle to adopt is to raise on the farm all the food that is required by the family that the soil of the farm and climate of the district will produce. That done, there is little to buy in the grocery line; as in any of the thirteen years I have been in the country a farmer could raise his bread, meat—the best of all kinds—butter, milk, cream, poultry, eggs, together with almost every kind of vegetables—nearly all his living.

"The next and a most important rule to observe is to sell nothing of an inferior quality. The best only should be sold; then the sale is easily made and the best prices obtained. The difference between the prices of the first and the second and third grades is a good profit. No farmer can afford to truck or give away inferior produce. If he does it is his fault and not the country's, because in no other country can first-class articles be produced more easily than in the Canadian Northwest. We make a rule or specialty of selling off our farm four articles, viz.: Best No. 1 butter—and have never sold a pound for less than 22 cents at Wolseley Station, and could have sold ten times as much as we made—the difference between the price of good and poor or common butter is a fine profit—pork, beef and No. 1 hard wheat, for all of which we get the highest price. I had frosted wheat the first year of my farming. I fed it to the hogs, getting 7 cents a pound for the pork, thus realizing $1 a bushel for it in making it into No. 1 pork, while my neighbors sold theirs at 22 cents. My surplus oats and some third quality wheat this year which I am buying very cheap I am fattening my cattle with, and this feed will make them No. 1 extra, as they are now No. 1.

"Thus you see, by making a specialty of the four articles I have mentioned we can realize the highest prices the best wheat will bring on the market.

"People who fail in mixed farming," the Senator concludes, "have forgotten that in this age of intelligence and progress farming, as well as professional or mercantile business, requires a careful study of the surrounding circumstances and conditions to be successful, but with ordinary care and industry and economy, a system of mixed farming such as I am following on my farm, no man can fail to make a good, comfortable home for himself and family, and be able to put by a reasonable surplus every year, and there can be no such a word as failure on his farm."

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

WORKMEN AND WAGES.

In the Catholic World, of New York, the following extract appears in a temperance appeal by Rev. Father McSweeny:—

"A great manufacturing company in Massachusetts recently paid their workmen, on Saturday evening, seven hundred ten-dollar bills, each bill being marked. By the following Tuesday, four hundred and ten of these marked bills were deposited into the bank by the saloon-keepers of the town. Four thousand and one hundred dollars had passed from the hands of workmen on Saturday night and Sunday, and left them nothing to show for this great sum of money but headaches and poverty in their homes. Well might these men cry out to the state: "Save us from ourselves!" and their hapless wives and children: "Save us from our husbands and fathers on the Lord's Day at least."

The reverend gentleman is, like all enthusiasts, too ready to jump to conclusions, to the discredit of the cause they seek to promote. He assumes that the whole of each ten dollars deposited by a saloon keeper represented ten dollars spent in drink. But it is possible that very many of the marked ten dollar bills, were presented in payment for a few drinks and that the "change" went into the workingman's pocket, and was, perhaps, carried home to the wife. Still there is a terrible significance in the incident, which suggests two or three considerations. Workmen are apt to complain of the injustice they suffer at the hands of their employers in the matter of low wages, which it is often asserted are insufficient to provide the necessities of life not to speak luxuries. In very many cases such complaints are justified, but in other cases such as the one cited above, the working men are responsible for the condition of distress and privation in which their families are found. There is no place on earth where a working-man's wages melt away as fast as they do in a saloon in the midst of boon companions, and there is no way in which money can be more effectually wasted in reference to its proper destination, than is the payment for strong drink. Working men doubtless suffer much injustice at the hands of capital, and are to be commiserated accordingly. A working-man would kick very severely at a pay night if his employer "docked" his pay cheque by a couple of dollars, yet so far as his family and himself are concerned this reduction would be a better thing than spending a similar amount in strong drink. In both cases the family suffers, but in the one the workman himself suffers moral as well as physical deterioration, and in many cases the family suffers from ill-treatment from the husband and father temporarily brutalized by strong drink. When workingmen are true to themselves they will find that they will get a readier sympathy from those who work for their interests and truly desire to help them. Socialism, Christian or otherwise, or any other movement, will not help men who will not help themselves.

It is often urged that if Monday instead of Saturday were made pay day there would be an improvement—that the money earned would find its way into the hands of the wife before it had a chance of being converted into strong drink. This plan does not amount to so much in Ontario as in other places. In this province all bars must close at seven o'clock, and speaking from experience in this town, the law in this respect is pretty strictly observed, and the opportunities for Saturday night debauches are greatly lessened. But there cannot be much effectiveness in such a provision as early closing. Mechanical schemes of reform do not as a rule amount to much. True reform must come from within. The man himself must be brought to see the wisdom and necessity of devoting his wages to the proper object—his family—before he can make any change in his habits and practices that can be counted upon as enduring. And a great deal lies in the hands of honest, sober workingmen themselves. These represent, it is a pleasure to say, the great majority of the workingmen of Peterborough, and if they use their influence with brotherly kindness, to convert those of their fellows who have a weakness for wasting their wages in drink, to a better way of thinking, they will be rewarded with considerable success. Workingmen have in the past grown so accustomed to asking for bread and receiving a stone that they have so strong prejudices against the professional preachers of reform, that a spirit of antagonism instead of acquiescence is aroused. A word in season from a fellow-employee, whose life and practice are such as will give force to his words, kindly spoken, will have more influence, it is safe to say, than stacks of tracts and oceans of perfunctory moralising.

THAT the Government exists for the purpose of promoting its own interests—for the purpose of clinging to the spoils of the office is shown by the fact of its action in the matter of the bye-elections. Hardly had the body of the late Mr. Madill, of North Ontario, been laid at rest, than the government with almost indecent haste brings on the bye-election. West Huron has been vacant a much longer period. But the government majority in West Huron is only 14 and in North Ontario 254. Why, except for its own advantage, should the Government thus manipulate the elections and make the sacred privilege of the franchise the sport of their own selfish aims? Why is the spirit of the constitution broken by neglecting to bring on all the bye-elections on the same day, as in the general elections. The Montreal Witness in referring to the matter says: "The hardened shamelessness of the Dominion Government in gerrymandering the constituencies and manipulating the elections in order to secure an iniquitous advantage, is a disgrace to the Dominion." We see how shamelessly the Customs Collectorship of Montreal is manipulated in the interests of the Government, which is moved by no consideration of the public interest, but by the consideration of how an appointment can be made that will redound to the advantage of the Government. No matter how greatly the commercial interests of the most important port in the Dominion are imperilled by delay or intrigue, the question of how an appointment can be made, or not made, to best subserve party interests, is the only one that the Government will consider.

DOURO.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On last Sunday, Father Kielty, Parish Priest of Douro, preached his third and last sermon on Purgatory. On the occasion of his first sermon he took for his text—"Other foundation no man can lay but that which is laid, which is Christ Jesus. Now, if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble, every man's work shall be manifest, for the day of the Lord shall declare it, because it shall be revealed in fire, and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work burn he shall suffer loss but he himself shall be saved yet so as by fire."—I Cor. iii, 11-15.

On the following Sunday the reverend gentleman took for his text—"Be at agreement with thy adversary betimes, while thou art in the way with him, lest perhaps the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officers, and thou be cast into prison. I see to thee thou shalt not go out from thence till thou repay the last farthing."—Matthew v. 25 and 26.

Finally on last Sunday he preached the concluding sermon on the same subject, taking for his text—"Whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of Man it shall be forgiven him, but he that shall speak against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world nor in the world to come."—Matt. xii, 32.

BELMONT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Wm. Brown, of Belmont, had a very exciting experience while huntixg on Deer Lake about a week ago. He and Mr. Edwin Bowen, of Belmont, were hunting, and Mr. Brown was stationed on a runway on the lake shore. He was sitting quietly waiting in hopes for the approach of some large game, when suddenly a deer appeared and plunged into the lake. Mr. Brown gave chase in a small canoe and just as he got in shooting distance of the deer and had discharged a shot at it, the boat capsized, Mr. Brown swam three quarters of a mile to shore, when he shouted for assistance, and he had great difficulty in keeping his blood in circulation till assistance arrived. But as a climax to the accident—when a number of hunters, who were in the vicinity, arrived, none of them had any matches to build a fire, and they were a long distance from a habitation, but a fire was finally made by the firing off of the guns till the cotton wadding used in loading was ignited. Luckily Mr. Brown recovered from his chill without any serious consequences, and he is indeed thankful for his miraculous escape from a watery grave, for he knew when the boat capsized that he had only one chance in ten of getting to shore alive.

Mr. Brown should be commended for his coolness and presence of mind when he found himself in the water, for had he become frightened he would have surely drowned. The party had the pleasure of bagging the same deer that Mr. Brown shot, the next day.

A sale took place at the Ledyard Gold Mines last week, when a hundred cords of wood were sold at auction. Of course this does not look much like the mine resuming operations, but if we had a difference in the administration of our Dominion Government affairs we would soon see a decided change in respect to these mines. If any persons should desire a chance it should be the people of Belmont, for if the mines would go into operation there would be plenty of work for the young men of this township who now have to go away back north to work in the lumber limits or stay at home and compete in labour with those who work for from eight to twelve dollars per month and provide for their families. We hope and trust that when the next Dominion election takes place (if it ever does) that the ratepayers of Belmont will show by their ballots that they will not have a Government over them which takes the wheat and leaves the chaff for the poor labourers of Canada, who have to undergo at the present time great hardships to sustain life in themselves and families. Suppose that some of our worthy ratepayers or labourers, by reason of some mysterious agency, were transported to Ottawa to the House of Commons, and some of our worthy law-givers were to be transported to the northern timber limits to spend a certain period in doing the same labour that a poor man has to do; very probably when the honourable members again took their place in the legislative halls they would be a little more cautious how they managed our financial affairs at Ottawa.

Mr. Wm. Young, of Rockdale, has began lumbering on Bitter Creek, in which he will be engaged for about two months. Mr. Young is sure to make a success.

Mr. Joseph Chase, of Victoria, has gone back to Sandy Lake to get out logs for the Gilmour Co. Wages are very low in this locality this fall, the highest paid being thirteen dollars per month.

Revival services are being carried on at Rockdale by the Rev. Mr. Sanderson, of Blairton. It is to be hoped that he will do good work in that place.

The only inheritance many receive from their ancestors is impure blood. Fortunately, it is in everyone's to transmit a cleaner heritage to their posterity by the simple use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only blood-purifier admitted at the World's Fair.

Hood's is Wonderful.

No less than wonderful are the cures accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla, even after other preparations and physicians' prescriptions have failed. The reason, however is simple. When the blood is enriched and purified, disease disappears and good health returns, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

My Baby

was a living skeleton; the doctor said he was dying of Marasmus and Indigestion. At 13 months he weighed only seven pounds. Nothing strengthened or fattened him. I began using Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites, feeding it to him and rubbing it into his body. He began to fatten and is now a beautiful dimpled boy. The Emulsion seemed to supply the one thing needful.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

The Scabby Sheep Sent by the Scotsman.

THEY WERE STOPPED AT LIVERPOOL

No Knowledge of the Existence of the Disease in Canada—The Affected Animals Believed to be from Across the Line—Immigration Prospects.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Acting Minister Minister of Agriculture has received a cable stating that 4308 sheep shipped from Montreal by the Scotsman have been stopped at Liverpool, for the cause that scab has been found among them. The disease of sheep scab did not exist some time ago in Canada, but the veterinary officers of the department report that it is now entirely extirpated. Large numbers of sheep, however, from the United States, where scab is known to prevail, are shipped from Canadian ports, and if an attempt were made to stop these by a quarantine of observation, such action would be immediately met by reprisal from the United States, and a very important trade in sheep would be thereby destroyed. The latest returns of exports of sheep which have been received from the Customs' Department are as follows:

To Great Britain in 1893, 14,321; in 1894, 15,581.

To the United States in 1893, 337,718; in 1894, 207,844.

Capt. Holmes of the Immigration service, is in the city discussing with the officers of the Interior Department the arrangements for next season's work.

Mr. Holmes believes that a large contingent of German Baptists, or Tunkards, of Indiana, will remove to the Canadian Northwest next spring. Mr. Holmes has just returned from the immigration convention at St. Paul, where he got in his little licks on behalf of Canada. He distributed several hundred copies of The Toronto Globe containing the illustrated article by Mr. Willison on the harvest of Manitoba; many copies of the pamphlet on Alberta and other literature. He says that he was agreeably surprised to note the interest which the delegates to the convention, numbering some six hundred people, took in the Canadian Northwest. Hon. Mr. Daly was accorded a grand reception and his speech, descriptive of the Territories was vigorously applauded.

Judge Clarke, solicitor for the C.P.R. and Mr. Drinkwater secretary to the company, were here to-day on departmental business. On being asked what legislation the C.P.R. would have before Parliament the coming session, Mr. Clarke replied that so far as he knew it would be confined to two bills, asking for extension of time for the completion of the Montreal and Ottawa Railway and the South Ontario Pacific.

It is expected that the decision reached by the Board of Customs recently will be published in a few days. It is understood that they deal chiefly with classification of different lines of goods and will be of interest mainly to those engaged in business.

The New York Central Railway is within measurable distance of securing an independent entrance into Montreal. To-day R. W. Leonard, chief engineer of the South Western Railway, secured departmental approval of the location plans for that portion of the line between Valleyfield and Caughnawaga. This line was chartered in 1888, and is an extension of the St. Lawrence and Aderdonack Railway, which is now controlled by the New York Central.

Chief Engineer Schrieber returned to the city to-day. He says the lake created by Sheik's Island dams will be ready for navigation by the middle of next May. Coping to the masonry will be put on early in the spring. On the Rapide Plat the masonry to the lock is completed and the lock itself will be ready by June 1. At the Galops substantial progress has been made.

NEWS BY CABLE.

Mr. Huddart on the Canadian Fast Line.

A TWENTY-KNOT SERVICE REQUIRED

And the Vessels Must be First in Elegance and Comfort—The Copyright Agreement Well Received in London—Death of Alexandre Dumas—Other News.

London, Nov. 27.—The St. James' Gazette publishes a report of an interview with Mr. J. E. Huddart, promoter of the proposed fast trans-Atlantic steamship service, in which that gentleman says he has always relied upon the Imperial Government furnishing one-third and Canada two-thirds of the cost of that service. He expressed his belief that Mr. Chamberlain is willing to agree to this and is also favorable to leaving the matter of tendering the necessary contracts in the hands of the Canadian Government. Four steamships must be built, not bought, he says, and unless they are brought into the front rank of efficiency, capacity, and elegance, the whole scheme will be a failure.

The Canadian Gazette, in an article on the proposed fast service, says it has no doubt that Mr. Chamberlain has a 20-knot service in mind.

THE COPYRIGHT COMPROMISE.

Favorable Comments of a London Paper on the Agreement.

London, Nov. 27.—The Morning Post in an editorial says that if Messrs. Hall Caine, representing the British Authors, and Mr. Daldy, the British Copyright Association, have not carried all the points they advocated in their mission to Canada, they have secured a compromise that is not likely to interfere with the Berne Convention or disturb the existing understanding. It states that the extension of 60 days to a further allowance of 30 days is an important concession, only one license being granted. The restriction of cheap reprints to a material extent seems to be a great gain, and the royalties secured to the author by the regulation of revenue will be greatly appreciated.

THE SULTAN YIELDS.

Turkey Will Allow the Powers to Double the Number of Guard Ships.

London, Nov. 27.—The correspondent of the United Press in Constantinople telegraphs, under date of Nov. 24, that as a result of the advice of the Sultan's Ministers, Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Foreign Minister, informed Sir Philip Currie, British Ambassador, yesterday, that the Sultan had decided to grant the permit applied for by the powers to double the number of foreign guard ships in the Bosphorus.

DUMAS IS DEAD.

Passed Over the Bar Last Evening in the 71st Year of His Age

Paris, Nov. 27.—Alexander Dumas died at 8 o'clock this evening.

He was born in Paris July 28, 1824. His father was Alexandre Davy Dumas, the author of the "Count of Monte cristo," and many other works; and his grandfather was a French general, born in Hayti. Alexander Dumas wrote novels, poems and plays, but never attained the pouplarity of his father. His "Dame aux Camelias," published in 1848, was the most successful perhaps of all his writings. It was a nembellished history of a woman of the town with whom he had been on intimate terms, and who had just died. Dumas afterwards dramatized the story and it was played to crowded houses in Paris and all over France. Afterwards Verdi made it the libretto of his celebrated opera "Traviata," and in this way, perhaps, more than any other, the name of the third Alexandre Dumas was made famous.

The Pope is Better.

Rome, Nov. 27.—The Pope recovered his normal health yesterday, and issued invitations to the cardinals to attend a consistory on Friday, Nov. 29.

Jabez Found Guilty Again.

London, Nov. 27.—The trial of Jabez Spencer Balfour upon charges of fraud in connection with the House and Land Investment Trust ended to-day in a verdict of guilty. Balfour and his associates will be sentenced to-morrow.

Searching for Those in Peril.

Kilrush, Ireland, Nov. 27.—A tug has gone in search of the missing boat containing 11 men, believed to belong to the American ship Belle O'Brien, Captain Colley, from San Francisco, for Queenstown, which is supposed to have foundered off the coast of Ireland. The boat was sighted off Loop Head and was driven seaward by adverse winds. Survivors of the Belle O'Brien, as already cabled, reached Kerry Head on Saturday morning.

Strong Demand for Apples.

London, Nov. 27.—The sale of apples brought over from Canada and the United States by the steamers Scotsman, Etruria, Anglonian and Philadelphia, which took place in Liverpool to-day aggregated 9831 barrels. Northern Spies brought 13s to 15s 6d; Baldwins, 15s 6d to 18s 9d; Greenings, 12s to 15s, and Russets 16s. There was a strong demand for apples at the sale which took place in London to-day. The supply was short and consisted o fthe clearings up of the consignments by the last steamers. Canadian Greenings fetched 13s to 14s; Baldwins, 15s to 17s, and Russets 17s to 18s. There was a great demand for red fruit.

Bismarck Wreathed.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—The Emperor and Empress sent a large wreath to Prince Bismarck to-day, the anniversary of the death of the wife of the ex-Chancellor. The wreath is tied with a broad silk ribbon, bearing a crown and the initials of the Emperor and Empress, and will be attached to an oil painting of Princess Bismarck, hanging on the wall of the castle at Friedrichsruhe.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in their favour

THEY CLAIM $100,000.

The Owner and Crew of a Detroit Tug Want That Much From Great Britain.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 27.—A batch of claims against the Government of Great Britain, aggregating $100,000, has been forwarded to the State Department at Washington. The claimants are the owner, master and crew of the tug Ruelle and her conort the barge Huron, which were seized in the Detroit River by the Canadian revenue cutter Petrel last spring by order of the Canadian authorities. The boats were taken to Amherstburg, where the crews were arraigned on the charge of "Bringing a scow loaded with garbage into the township of Maiden."

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

"No Good Without the Other."

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. Only a few minutes inspection of Oak Hall's men's suits, overcoats and ulsters—almost the first you look at—will convince you that our clothing and our prices are right.—OAK HALL.

The Inevitable Result.

Don, in Saturday Night, draws some practical lessons from the recent accident near our town, when Mrs. Blanchard seized one of the lines, causing the horses to run into a ditch, and throwing out and killing the poor woman. He says: "Pulling on one rein always ends in the ditch. When I see women meeting in congress and associations and trying to grab the reins away from the men, I always think of her unchangeable tendency to grab for the lines when she gets frightened.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

A Few Items of News Concerning the Organization.

The Society wishes to gratefully acknowledge the receipt of a donation of $5 to the funds by Rev. V. Clementi.

An offer of adoption has already been received by the Society for one of the Smith children. It is probable that the offer will be accepted as the officials are much pleased with the letter.

The local branch of the organization, recognizing the evil arising from the allowing of young girls to walk the streets at night, are considering the advisability of taking some steps in the matter. With the co-operation of the police something surely could be done along this line.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, taken at this season will make you feel strong and vigorous and keep you from sickness later on.

Come Highly Endorsed.

Peterborough has had the opportunity of seeing some first-class companies at the opera house this season, and the company which appears on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week is strictly in this class. Miss Stuart in "The Doll's Home"—to be seen here on Friday night—and in "Sam'l of Posen"—to be presented here on Saturday—has been received with delight in other cities and comes from Toronto with strong press recommendations. Don't fail to see these two excellent presentations. Plan of seats at Schofield's drug store.

Smokers Attention.

We wish to draw the attention of all smokers of cigars to our recent direct importation of cigars from Havana, consisting of 10,000, assorted sizes Diaz Garcia, and 12,000 Manual Garcia, assorted sizes, bought at very close prices for cash and are prepared to give the benefit to the citizens of the town. Our cigars at 4 for 25c, 3 for 25c, 10c straight or 15c straight are away ahead in quality and size of those offered by other dealers at these prices. Come and see for yourself and be convinced that the best place in town for imported cigars is at Chas. LeGros', 329 George street, Peterborough's only direct importer.

The Exports of Cheese.

While the exports of Canadian cheese to Great Britain have gone on increasing by leaps and bounds, those of the United States have been decreasing at the same rate. Secretary Morton, of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, says in his annual report that the United States trade with Britain shows a serious falling off in cheese, and that on the British market the make of the United States ranks lowest in quality and price. Yet it is not so many years ago that we were envying the cheese business the United States did with Great Britain. Most of that business has now passed into our hands. We are now envying Denmark's big butter sales to Britain. We may be able to rival it in an equally short time.

Value of Corn.

Considerable difference of opinion exists among the farmers as to the number of pounds of pork that can be made from a bushel of corn. The estimates run all the way from three to twelve pounds. The amount depends upon the kind of stock, the weather, the skill of the feeder and other conditions. Breeds, too, differ in this respect, some showing somewhat greater gains than others, but all the improved varieties respond more readily than the scrub. It is impossible, therefore, to lay down any regular rule by which to find the pork equivalent of a bushel of corn. We are only able to determine the approximate value. In some experiments recently made in this direction it was found that thoroughbred pigs required nearly one thousand pounds of meal to carry them from 100 pounds to 300 pounds in a growing condition and and without making them too fat. Greater gain can be made, however, with pigs under 100 pounds, the smaller an animal the less amount of food being required to suppport its own weight while making the gain.

What an Emily Man Says About Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure.

A highly respected and well known citizen of the township of Emily has furnished the following testimonial to Mr. Jas. Lynch, druggist: I am a young man and have been a slave to tobacco since I was a boy. Although I have often tried to stop it I never could succeed until I used Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, recommended me to try this tobacco cure, and after some persuasion I bought a box. I continued using it for a short time and soon found the appetite for tobacco was leaving me. My nerves became stronger, my eyesight brighter and my desire for food improved. Now, I have lost all craving for the filthy weed; and I hereby certify that after using one package of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure, I have gained six pounds in weight, and I can heartily recommend it to any who are run down in weight from using tobacco. Some men object to lending their name to a testimonial of this kind, but I consider it my duty to do so if it will help any of my friends or fellow sufferers. G. DARK Emily, Franklin P.O., Ont.

AN ELEVATOR ACCIDENT.

MRS. BRODIGAN AND MR. J. W. CROSBY HAVE A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

The Car of the Grand Central Hotel Elevator Descends Upon Them and Administers a Terrible Shock—No One was Hurt.

A terrible accident was narrowly averted at noon to-day at the Grand Central Hotel, and the narrowness of the escape will prove the subject of conversation for months to come.

Mrs. Brodigan, sister of Dr. Caldwell, engaged apartments at the Grand Central this morning and returning to the hotel at noon, approached the elevator, and not seeing the bell boy around, asked Mr. J. W. Crosby if he would mind taking her to her flat in it. Mr. Crosby had never operated the elevator, but he had seen others do it, and as it looked simple he at once proffered his assistance and of the shaft stepped in followed by Mrs. Brodigan.

He seized the first wire rope which he saw and pulled on it and waited expectantly for the elevator to rise. It did not do so for the reason that the elevator was already at one of the upper flights, and Mrs. Brodigan and Mr. Crosby were standing directly beneath it. His pull on the rope caused the car to descend, and before they knew it, the floor of the elevator was upon them, crushing them beneath its resistless weight.

Both fell forward on their knees, Mr. Crosby doing his best to brace himself and uphold the weight off Mrs. Brodigan, upon whose shoulders the awful Juggernaut was pressing in such a manner that it was impossible for her to crouch much lower.

With great presence of mind Mr. Crosby reached out and seized hold of an other rope. Fortunately this time it was the right one, and though the elevator was not stopped its speed was slowed up to a degree to give Mr. George Burney, the clerk, time to spring forward, thrust his hand into the car and bring it to a standstill.

The whole house was alarmed through the cries of Mrs. Brodigan, whose nerves gave way under the terrible strain inflicted upon them and on seeing the narrow escape from death which the two had experienced, several of the ladies went into violent fits of hysterics.

Mr. Crosby was as brisk as ever five minutes afterwards, but Mrs. Brodigan is naturally completely prostrated by the shock.

This is the first accident which has happened at the Grand Central and it is a matter of congratulation that the one to-day resulted no more seriously. Had the bell been rung, as is usual, the occurrence would have been averted, together with the consequent fright and shock.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—C. P. R. earnings showed an increase of $42,000 last week.

—A large deer was on exhibition in Campbellford recently. It weighed when dressed 265 lbs.

—There are five or six inches of ice on Mud Lake and horses can be driven on some parts of the ice.

—Trains on the C. P. R. are being delayed by snow storms. It is stated there is already nearly three feet of snow at White River.

—A young lad in Belleville, while practicing with a revolver Tuesday, shot an old gentleman in the back. The result may be fatal.

—Wife to Husband—"Huckleberry, where did you get such a nice flavoured cigar?" "Louettie, that is one of Morgan's famous Sir Robert Peel cigars.

—Work on the Rutherford and Bogue section—No. 2—of the outlet sewer was completed yesterday, and connection made with the Rink street sewer.

—The Ottawa Electric Railway Company has expended $125,000 on extension of track, new cars and car sheds during the past twelve months; $15,000 of this was expended in the new car shed.

—Horseflesh continues to drop in price. A few days ago a Campbellford man offered his team to another man to accept as a present. He said he could not afford to feed them and did not like to shoot them.

—A child's paper published by Lady Aberdeen contains two liquor advertisements, and Lady Aberdeen will soon taste one of the joys of publishing a paper. The scoring her ladyship will get will be interesting reading.

—Wm. Farr of Winnipeg was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for attempting to murder his wife by burning the house. Farr was raised near Peterborough, on Rice Lake, and is well known by a number of our residents.

—Wanted, by the Children's Aid Society, warm clothing for boys and girls under 12 years of age. Also great coat, chest measurement 45 inches, for invalid. Persons having these articles to spare kindly send to the police station at once.

—A minister down south warned his congregation against dancing because of couples wandering in the 'conservatory.' Whereupon the wicked newspaper of the town said there was not a conservatory in the town, and never had been.

—The two huge smokestacks of the Rathbun Co's mill in Campbellford were blown down in the big gale and one of them fell through the roof of the building, doing damage to the extent of $50. It will require an expenditure of nearly $150 to replace them and make the repairs.

—The inspection of gas meters throughout the Dominion reveals the fact that out of 913,502 meters only 2,741 were found to be accurate, but a curious feature was that in a very large majority of cases the imperfect records were against the companies, and in favour of the consumers.

—The house boat Lotus, owned by Mr. R. B. Rogers, C. E., Superintendent Trent Valley Canal, will be transferred from the Little Lake to Lakefield. Mr. Elias Thompson has the contract in hand, and states that in order to remove the craft it will require three teams of horses. However, the removal will not be undertaken until a few inches of snow fall, when timbers will be used as runners.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

Mr. Cooper has also been appointed one of the examiners in Honour Theology, for the fourth time, for the coming year.

We learn from the Brighton Ensign that on Tuesday of last week Rev. Father McClosky of Campbellford, formerly of Brighton, preached in the Church of the Holy Angels in the latter village, officiating for the Right Reverend Bishop O'Connor of Peterborough. Father McClosky first erected the stations of the cross after which he delivered an eloquent sermon. His subject was "The way to the Cross."

Sausages Made of Horse-flesh.

The cheapness of horses in Canada has suggested the speculators the propriety of turning them to account for something more than mere beasts of burden. At the meeting of the Ontario Board of Health a letter was read from the medical health officer in a certain part of the province informing the board that several enterprising speculators were buying up the horses at $1 per head and shipping to Toronto, where they were killed and manufactured into sausages, although they were shipped ostensibly for fertilizing purposes. Several car loads of $1 horses have been shipped from Lambton to Toronto during the past summer, says the Forest Free Press.

A Hard Winter Coming.

A famous and venerable weather prophet of Easton, Pa., known as Uncle Josh Welton, in accordance with a long established custom, has issued a bulletin regarding the coming winter. He predicts that it will come early, and stay late, and will be remarkable for high winds, tremendous storms, deep snow and cold of the Polar variety. As reasons for his predictions he says that the leaves hang on the trees regardless of frosts and strong winds, the crickets stopped singing early, chipmonks have laid in a great supply of provisions, the corn has a remarkable thick coat of husk, cranberries possess peculiar acerbity, the chestnut burrs are lined with unusual thick fur, and the goose bone is mostly white. Uncle Josh is honoured in his own country, for his neighbors say that his predictions are always fulfilled. His latest is certainly not a very cheering one.

The High Prices Had to go.

And they are gone now. The Bordeaux Claret Co. killed the long prices for Clarets, Burgundies and Ports. It puts a good wine upon your table at $3 and $4 a dozen quarts. This is astounding. It is without precedent. For the great thing was to keep up the price. It was an article of faith that you could not have a good cheap wine. Fiddle sticks! Rot! The Bordeaux Claret Co. do not care a straw for dignified labels. They are selling a fine, supple, wholesome wine for a little over the price of beer, and people all over the country are ordering it. It is for general consumption. One can drink a bottle of wine now with his dinner and feel that he has not swallowed an estate. Good wine for the million at nominal prices. Address —Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

THE TRIGGER.

The M. A. Jamieson party left this morning for the Centreville turkey shooting match. Capt. Jamieson's party is comprised of the following notable shots: Capt. M. A. Jamieson, Jos Lannin, Billy Creamer, Steve Holland, Geo. Evans, Sid. Martin, Michael Costello, Geo. Paxman and Saul Reading. No doubt the boys will give a good account of themselves.

The Belleville Forest and Stream Club passed the following resolutions at a meeting held Tuesday evening:

1. That in the opinion of this Club it is undesirable at the present time to make any alterations in the law respecting the killing or taking of deer.

2. That a clause be added to the Game Law prohibiting the sale of venison for three years.

3. That the season for killing and taking rabbits be extended to 15th Feb.

4. And this Club would respectfully recommend that additional funds or salaries be placed at the disposition of or paid to the Game Wardens to enable them to enforce the laws. It being in our opinion that more injury results from non enforcement of the law than could be remedied by any alterations in it.

5. That the Province be sub divided into districts for game protection purposes.

Some discussion took place, during which it was stated that deer have increased in numbers during the past fifteen years and especially since the present law was passed, but that large numbers were still slaughtered out of season for their skins and for use in shanties by parties who live in the back townships. It was also reported that moose had been killed in defiance of the law, and that as the residents of the northern municipalities would not give information, it would be necessary to employ special officers to enforce the law.

THE WHEEL.

The city of Quebec is already pulling wires for the C. W. A. meet on the first of July next, and Peterborough is also throwing out a feeler or two. A meeting of the Bicycle Club is called for to-morrow evening, and it hoped that active measures will be taken to ensure this event taking place at Peterborough next year.

The roads of the country and town are again in excellent shape for wheeling and a great many bicyclists took advantage of them to-day for a farewell spin over the district.

You can smoke on a bicycle, but the average observer is apt to think you are only half enjoying each of the pleasures you aim at. For the pipe—the fireside and a book, the dressing gown and the slippers. For the wheel—clear eyes, steady hands, a light heart and a soul open to drink in the beneficent sweets of nature. It really isn't worth while to care what the observer thinks, except where, on reflection, you find yourself able to draw a profitable lesson from his conclusions. So if you are satisfied to pedal and smoke, why pedal and smoke, and let who will make sarcastic remarks. We personally like to pedal and smoke by turns, but that is no clear proof that there may not be great virtues which we have failed to discover in the process of pedaling and puffing jointly.

As a rule riders do not take sufficient care of their chains. In Europe nearly every first-class machine is gear cased, but the fashion has not yet caught on in this country. Chains should be the subject of very careful attention. About once in a thousand miles it is worth while to clean them thoroughly in kerosene and then let them drain dry. Next immerse in melted tallow for half an hour, leaving the chain in till the tallow cools somewhat. Then withdraw and wipe away the superfluous grease. Fit onto the sprocket wheels and lubricate, preferably, with something less likely than oil to collect dust.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—Chairman Gideon of the L.A.W. said to-day that he taken definite action in the cases of 'Cyclists Cabanne, Titus and Murphy, who were suspended for alleged crooked racing in a class B race at St. Louis on August 17. The decision of the board is that the three men are suspended for life.

Mr. Gideon said the decision is final, and the men can only be reinstated by the action of the National Assembly, which, of course, can overrule any action of its committees. The specific charges against the men were conspiracy and agreement to "fix" or pre-arrange the result of a race. D. W. Robert, the St. Louis member of the Racing Board, made the charges. There were numerous witnesses against the men, but the two principal ones were two Kansas City newspaper men, who interviewed the racing men, published the fact and afterwards swore to the truth of their statements. The denial of all three of the men were quite voluminous and they submitted proofs of previous good character.

Percy Brown has retired from the Brantford racing team. He has received a number of offers for next season. He had more that his share of bad luck during the past summer, but he nevestheless made his claim good to ride in the fastest company.

Harley Davidson will go south at the end of the month, and will endeavour to make some records while there. It is said that he will be connected with a American firm next year.

ANGLICAN CLERGYMEN FOR COUNSEL ASSEMBLED.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ARCHDIACONAL CONFERENCE.

Financial and Numerical State of the Church Considered—Paper on the Spiritual State of the Church—Interesting Addresses—Religion in the Schools.

The afternoon session of the Archdiaconal Conference opened yesterday at 2.30 p.m., Venerable Archdeacon Allen being in the chair.

Rev. Mr. McCann, Omemee, and Rev. C. W. Marsh, Lindsay, registered during the afternoon, and a number of laymen were present at the session.

The first paper was by Rural Dean Allen of Millbrook, on "The Financial and numerical state of the church in the Archdeaconry." He said that the numerical and financial state of the church was of course subordinate to the spiritual, yet it indicated the state of the church. He gave the geograpy of the three rural deaneries of of the Archdeaconry, and showed that the population had decreased between 1881 and 1891. The financial condition of the church as gathered from the Mission report of the Bishop, was far from satisfactory. He thought that the relative claims of the Home and Foreign Mission funds of the diocese required more consideration.

THE HOME MISSIONS

were too much neglected and he hoped that church people would return to the old rule and lay by in store as God had prospered them.

Canon Harding's address on the same subject followed. He remarked upon the increase in the number of clergy and parishes in the diocese. He described the rise of the church in the northern part of the Archdeaconry, and gave an interesting account of the opening up of the Apsley Mission. He spoke with great pleasure of the successful mission of South Burleigh, and said that this diocese was a missionary one in many respects, and more difficult than many foreign ones.

Rev. G. H. Webb then addressed the conference on the same subject, and from the statistics he furnished he hoped for a bright future. He thought that any losses are more apparent than real. There had been decided gain in some parts of the Archdeaconry. He thought that the children in the Sunday schools need very careful attention, and recorded considerable gains in the number of scholars within the last ten years. Greater liberality, he stated, was displayed by church people now than in 1885. Church property had increased very much in value, and he furnished the gratifying intelligence that the proportion of communicants compared with ten years ago is VERY MUCH GREATER.

The next paper was by Rev. G. Warren on the Spiritual State of the Church in the Archdeaconry. He dwelt upon the spiritual state of the Church as determined by its attitude towards other Christian bodies, and urged a policy of reconciliation. He next spoke of the need of a larger conception of the Church of Christ, such as would indicate to men the conquests that ought to be won for the Head of the Church in every day life. This was followed by references to the services of the church. The need of family religion and its unifying influences, and the responsibilities of the church to insist upon personal devotion and personal service to Jesus Christ.

An address followed by Rev. E. Daniels. He quoted some advice about taking latitude in speaking and leaving longitude. He spoke on the same subject as that of the previous paper and dwelt on the need of avoiding confusion between the form and the spirit. He said there was great need of a spiritual ministry. The extension of the church on the day of Pentecost by the addition of 3,000 souls came after the descent of the Holy Spirit. The 3000 felt that spiritual power. God is willing to do the same for us now.

THE HISTORIC PENTECOST

does not need repetition, but we ought to expect the fullness of the Holy Spirit. The Acts of the Apostles may well described as the acts of the Holy Ghost. Ourselves and our people need the fuller work of the spirit in their lives. Its manifestation depends upon us in a measure, just as Lake Ontario would require channels for purposes of irrigation, and as electricity waited all through the century for instruments, so God, the Holy Ghost, needs channels and instruments—namely, men and women through whom to act. It is the great work of the Apostolic church to be the instrument of the Holy Ghost to proclaim His power.

Rev. F. H. Fortney then followed on the same subject. He spoke from his own experience in two missions. His people were engaged in farming under difficult conditions. They were much isolated, their homes being far apart. He thought the clergy should study the occupations of their people. If people regard the things around them as of God, they would become enlightened and elevated, notwithstanding poverty of circumstances, otherwise their work degrades them. The priest has to teach them to look up higher than their surroundings. Vice is by no means uncommon in backwoods places. The missionary goes to the people as the pastor of the whole population. He noticed an increase in the spiritual life of the people by use of the means of grace. Family worship is established in many homes. His people were increasing in the knowledge and love of God. There was an amount of irreligion to be contended with which he endeavoured to overcome by special visiting and exhortation. He believed in plain dealing with sin. He would like to have services every Sunday in every church or station—and weekly celebrations of the Holy Communion. He was gratified with the success with which he had met.

Rev. John Creighton, of Clarke, considered that the Church of England was respected, and is absolutely necessary and that she will eventually take her rightful position throughout the country. He felt sure that the Church of England was gradually increasing.

Rural Dean Cooper, M.A., of Campbellford, said that there was one point not touched upon in the papers on "The Spiritual State"—namely the Church's worship. The school house was not a very good place for the services. He described what was meant by worship. It was de-

Mr. Chas. Payton, of Medicine Hat, N. W.T., spent a few days in the village visiting friends and renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. J. C. Sherin, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Chamberlain, at Morrisburg.

Mr. T. H. Benson spent Sunday in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McWilliams, of Peterborough, spent Thanksgiving day in the village.

Miss Maud Allen, of Peterborough, spent Thanksgiving day in the village visiting friends.

Miss Mann, of Peterborough, was in the village visiting friends on Thanksgiving day.

Miss McDonald, of Peterborough, was in the village last week.

Miss Sarah Gordon has returned home from Peterborough, where she was visiting friends.

A thank-offering service in connection with the Presbyterian W. F. M. S. was held on Sabbath morning last, the pastor, Rev. A. C. Reeves, officiating.

On Sunday evening Revs. McDonald and Reeves exchanged pulpits.

Rev. J. Tate Kitts, a returned missionary from China, delivered a very interesting lecture on China, on Wednesday evening of last week to a large audience in the Baptist church. Should the Rev. gentleman come this way again he will have a much larger audience to hear him.

R. Graham & Son are offering their stock of millinery at greatly reduced prices. See their untrimmed hats at 35c. New mantles very cheap.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church held a very successful tea and entertainment in the Town Hall on Thanksgiving night. After all had been served to a sumptuous repast in the Fire Hall, a platform meeting wre held upstairs, with Dr. Goldsmith in the chair, which was filled very happily. Excellent speeches were delivered by Revs. W. R. Young, of Peterborough, and Robeson, of Warsaw. Mrs. Goldsmith, of Peterborough, contributed to the evening's entertainment by one or two well rendered recitations. During the evening the choir rendered several excellent selections. Misses White and Galvin and Messrs. Renson and Doidge rendered a very pleasing quartette. The proceeds netted upwards of $60, which was very gratifying to the ladies.

Mr. A. J. Kidd had a shooting match for turkeys on Thursday afternoon at the rifle range. Owing to the heavy wind that day there were not as many turkeys taken as otherwise would have been.

Mr. J. H. Davis, who was working with his team at the coffer dam being erected on the Trent Valley Canal, while crossing the river with his team, got into a hole and they all went under and got a cold dip. Fortunately they all got out without any further damage than a wetting.

The coffer dam on the Trent Valley Canal is almost completed, and when the water is taken out they will commence blasting out the bed of the river and dyking of the river bank from Hamilton's corner down below Mr. Galvin's.

The School Board met in the town hall on Friday evening, Nov. 22nd, at which there were present—Messrs. R. Q. Dench, W. McDonald, Levi Payne, Dr. D. Fraser, with Dr. J. R. Fraser in the chair.

The following bills were presented: J. F. Lillicrap & Co., lumber, $6.20; Albion Assurance Co., $30; Map, School Supply Co., $13.95, which on motion of Messrs. McDonald and Dench were received and ordered to be paid.

Mr. J. H. Davis made an offer to supply the school with wood at $3 per cord.

Moved by Mr. W. McDonald, seconded by Mr. Levi Payne, that the procuring of wood be laid over for the present.—Carried.

A communication was received from Mr. Evans, asking permission to attend the examinations at Norwood, he being one of the examiners, which on motion of Messrs. Dench and McDonald was granted, he to find a substitute during his absence.

Mr. W. Wilson and Miss Nelly Cox sent in their resignations as teachers, which were accepted, on motion of Messrs. McDonald and Fraser.

Applications for re-engagement were read from Mr. W. A. Evans, Miss Duff and Miss Bower, which on motion were taken up separately.

Moved by Dr. D. Fraser, seconded by Mr. R. Q. Dench, that Mr. Evans be re-engaged for the year 1896, at his present salary, and that the Board sincerely regret that at present they cannot see their way clear to increase his present remuneration.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. McDonald and Payne, Miss Duff was re-engaged at her present salary.

On motion of Dr. D. Fraser and Mr. Payne, Miss Bower was re-engaged at her present salary.

Messrs. Isaac Watson and Wm. Smith were present and asked for re-engagement as janitors, which on motion was agreed to, at their former salaries.

The board then adjourned.

Nutritive Wine

This palatable and HIGHLY NOURISHING Wine prepared with Cod Liver Oil, is easely retained and digested by the most delicate.

For Wasting Diseases, General Debility, Impaired Digestion, Colds, Catarrhal and Bronchial Trouble, and Loss of Muscular tone. Of great Nutritive value to Aduks and Children.

A marked increase in weight is noticeable after taking a few bottles of this Wine, which represents an equal quantity of Cod Liver Oil. All Druggists.

For Sale by G. A. Schofield.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no stomach or bowel trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They work as if their bodies were made of iron and their brains of steel. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles; health goes and strength goes. It is really wonderful how much abuse the human body will stand! It is equally wonderful how quickly it will recover from abuse if one helps in a rational, natural way.

It was to give just such help that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets were prepared. They are for constipation and torpid liver, and in curing those derangements—cure many complications and resultant diseases, such as sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. They are mild in action—merely supplementing nature. They are the result of years of study and experience, and there is nothing else like them—nothing so effective. If your druggist tries to sell you something else he is either ignorant or makes more money out of the other thing.

PACIFIC CABLE PROJECT.

Mr. Sandford Fleming, C.B., Takes an Optimistic View of the Scheme.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—Mr. Sandford Fleming, C.B., was in the city to-day, and, in referring to the Pacific cable project, said that he had every hope that the scheme would soon be carried into execution. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, he said, was in sympathy with everything that tended to the consolidation of the Empire, and no doubt would do all in his power to aid the undertaking in question.

"I have not seen any of the Canadian Ministers," continued Mr. Fleming, "since the request for a conference was made by the Imperial authorities, but I believe they have received communication by cable and that further official news is now on the way."

He added that one by one the many prejudices existing and objections raised by interested parties against a cable from Vancouver to Australia had disappeared, and public opinion, both here and in Britain, was now pretty well educated up to the necessity of a cable from Canada to Australia.

"Will this be the first cable in the Pacific?" asked the correspondent.

"Yes, the first, except a short cable along a portion of the coast of South America, but from soundings made by the "Challenger" some years ago, there will be no more difficulty in laying a cable on the bottom of the Pacific than the Atlantic Ocean."

Mr. Fleming is also of the opinion that the cable can be laid without the necessity of surveys extending over two or three years, as some pretend, and he has every hope that the coming conference will lead up to the realization of one of the most important undertakings ever carried out by the British people.

A strange case was begun to-day before the Police Magistrate, when the newspapers as well as the general public were denied admission. It appears that a Miss Lamarre of Longueuil, an exceedingly prepossessing young lady, had married an infirm man named Beaudry, who has to be wheeled around in a carriage. it appears that the father of the bride accuses one Larose with having signed the name of Ed. Lamarre as a witness. The bride declares that she is 23 years of age, knows what she is about and married the cripple because she liked him. In fact, she would not leave him for anything.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged—South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion. Dyspepsia Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical commonsense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" That great discovery of the century. South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person affected with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who used the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

FELL DEAD IN CHURCH

While His Grand Niece Was Being Married —A Forger Sentenced—Other Montreal News.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—A tragic event took place this evening in St. Gabriel's Church while the pastor, Rev. Dr. Campbell, was uniting in marriage Rev. C. E. Amaion, of St. John's Presbyterian Church, and well-known in French Protestant circles, to Miss Maggie Lynch, an esteemed member of Dr. Campbell's congregation. Mr. Thomas Patton, aged 70 years, and a grand uncle of the bride, was to have given the lady away, but just as the ceremony began the old gentleman fell to the floor and immediately expired. He was carried into an adjoining room and as the congregation supposed Mr. Patton to have fainted, the ceremony was proceeded with to the end, and it was only a few minutes after that the sad event was known. The unsuspecting bride, who, with her husband, left this evening for Toronto by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, does not yet know of her uncle's terribly sudden death. It appears that deceased had been ailing for some time past and the doctors had forbidden him taking part in any functions whatever.

To-day Joseph H. Ford, alias J. H. Wood, of Winnipeg, was sentenced to 23 months in jail for having forged two railway tickets which he used on a trip out west by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The accused had formerly been operator at St. Philippe, Laprairie county. He was arrested in Winnipeg by one of Pinkerton's men and when brought before Judge Desnoyers pleaded guilty.

Fifth race, ⅞ mile—Jennie June 1, Tommie Butler 2, G. B. Cox 3. Time 1.16¾.

Smith Defeats Burge.

London, Nov. 26.—The fight between Dick Burge and Jem Smith for £200 a side and a purse of £300 took place to-night at the Bolingbroke Club. In the ninth round Burge, who had been badly punished, fell several times from exhaustion, and Referee Angle declared Smith the winner. Burge was not able to hit his opponent. The articles, which were signed in July last, provided for a 20-round fight.

Smith exceeded 180 pounds, while Burge tipped the scales at just 140. Burge was a slight favorite in the betting at the ring side. The first round consisted chiefly of sparring. In the second round Burge landed several times without a return, leading Smith a dance all over the ring until finally the latter planted a heavy blow on Burge's ribs, knocking him down. In the third and fourth rounds Burge displayed remarkable agility in avoiding danger, but but he nevertheless received several nasty blows on the head. The fifth and sixth rounds were slightly in favor of Burge, but in the following rounds Smith's weight told, and he had the better of the fight until the finish.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

Prompt People.

Don't live a single hour of your life without doing exactly what is to be done in it, and going straight through it from beginning to end. Work, play, study—whatever it is, take hold at once and finish it up squarely; then to the next thing, without letting any moments drop between. It is wonderful to see how many hours these prompt people contrive to make of a day; it is as if they picked up the moments which the dawdlers lost. And if ever you find yourself where you have so many things pressing upon you that you hardly know where to begin, let me tell you a secret. Take hold of the very first one that comes to hand, and you will find the rest all fall into file and follow after.

A BUSY WOMAN

IS MRS. BALLINGTON BOOTH OF THE SALVATION ARMY.

She is a Hard Woman to Interview--Has Found by Experience That Visitors If Admitted Would Take Up All Her Time.

The wife of Commander Ballington Booth, a woman who enjoys somewhat unusual distinction of being second in command of a large and thoroughly well equipped army, is on her way back from the Pacific coast to the National Salvation headquarters in Fourteenth street. She is expected on Thursday next.

Things have been running with tolerable regularity at the headquarters during the month that she has been away, but it is not denied, either by the rank or file, that she has been seriously missed.

Everybody knows this sweet-faced chief lady of the Salvationists. Her photographs have had a large sale. It will probably prove of interest to many persons to learn something of her daily habits and duties when at her post as Vice-Commander of this large and remarkable semi-military organization.

In the first place like every other important military commander, she can only be reached by the general public through her chief aide or military secretary. It would seem to one who listens to the sympathetic addresses Vice-Commander Booth is so fond of delivering, that it would be the easiest thing in the world to get an interview with her next day. There's where the repentant, ungodly person is fooled. Mrs. Booth is as difficult to see as a member of the President's Cabinet or a metropolitan theater manager.

The office she occupies in the new Salvation Army Headquarters building, is spacious and handsomely furnished, but it can only be reached through an anteroom in which Staff Captain and Private Secretary Vickery is established.

Miss Vickery, who belongs to an aristocratic New England family, joined the army as a private several years ago, greatly against the wishes of her family. She is now twenty-five years of age, and is a remarkably comely and attractive young woman. She ran rapidly through the various grades of private, corporal, lieutenant and captain, and finally became chief aide to Mrs. Booth.

No private secretary, whatever the work of the chief, is called upon to exercise greater diplomacy in dealing with crowds of people than is Miss Vickery. She has a sweet voice and gentle manner and is able every day to turn away hundreds of people who clamor for an interview with Mrs Booth, without offending them.

The chief piece of furniture in the room occupied by Mrs. Booth is an enormous oak desk. It stands in the center of a light, high-ceilinged apartment the floor of which is of slate. One or two rugs are scattered about, but not in sufficient numbers to hide the cold stone floor. A large picture of Commander Ballington Booth ornaments one of the walls. It is in this apartment that Mrs. Booth puts in long business hours six days out of the week, and there are few men or women in New York who are more busily employed. Her home is at Montclair, N.J., but she is seldom later than 10 A.M. in reaching headquarters.

For an hour or more thereafter she is occupied with an unusually voluminous mail.

People write to her on all sorts of subjects, from all parts of the country, and she makes a point of opening and dictating replies to all the letters she receives. No written communication is too simple or too silly to fail of recognition and answer by this remarkable woman.

If callers could be as quickly disposed of as their letters, Mrs. Booth would see every one who calls, but she has discovered, like many other eminent persons, that to attempt to receive all visitors would leave her no time for other work. The tip may be freely given that anybody who wishes for a word from this remarkable woman will do well to seek it through the medium of the mails.

It is a modest little house that she and Commander Booth occupy in Montclair. Newspaper reports have credited Mr. and Mrs. Booth with the ownership of a large estate and the possession of horses and carriages. As a matter of fact, their home is most simple and unpretentious. Their only live stock is chickens, and the chicken-house was built by Commander Booth himself. He is also the only gardener on the estate.

An admirer of the Booths in Montclair recently offered to present the Booth children with a team of goats and a goat carriage, but Mrs. Booth declined to receive the present, on the ground that it would be sure to be magnified into a coach and blooded pair of horses and might hurt the cause for which she and her husband are working.

Mrs. Booth, although she looks like a girl, is the mother of two children—Willie, seven years old, and Theodora, aged three. Notwithstanding her work as second chief executive officer of the Army, and her many and frequent contributions of editorials to the War Cry, Mrs. Booth assumes the entire charge of these children. Both of them have been consecrated to the Salvation Army, and their education will be turned solely in the direction of making them useful members in this unique Satan-fighting force.

There is not a detail in the organization and perfection of the constantly-growing army with which Mrs. Booth is not as familiar as her husband, but from the time they leave Montclair, at 7 A. M., until they start for home at 5 P. M., they do not meet, each being occupied with a different line of work. Mrs. Booth does not even find time to go out for luncheon: it is served to her by the janitor of the building at the big desk at which she works so hard.—N. Y. World.

CONSUMPTION

A Talk-Meter Wanted.

The man who wishes to take a short cut to fame and fortune has now the chance of his life before him. The crying need in the telephone business is a talk-meter, an automatic arrangement by which language can be measured off and recorded in specific lengths. The telephone exchange people say that the garrulity of some of their subscribers is appalling, and that the trouble is not confined to one sex. The sound of their voices in the telephone transmitter has for some people a great fascination, and they will be ringing up "central" all day if they find the most trivial pretext. The telephone companies say that in this way a large amount of work is unduly thrown on the exchange employes. They hold that the fault is with the system, and that if the people could be made to pay according to the number and lengths of their calls, they would make more temperate and legitimate use of the instrument. Philadelphia is approaching the idea. The Bell Telephone Company there gives what is called a measured service, the "measurement" being determined by the number of calls or connections, each five minutes' conversation or fraction thereof being counted as a call. This gives subscribers rates in proportion to the use of their instruments. Some such method as this will have to come into general use if the abuse of the telephone is to be arrested. Seven hundred and fifty million telephone messages were sent over the wires last year, averaging about ten messages to every man, woman and child in the United States. Telegrams never exceeded one per head per year.

The Old Oaken Bucket.

"It is a wonder to me how the human system resists disease," said an eminent physician and bacteriologist in a chat on domestic hygiene and sanitation. "I had occasion to make a professional call at a house the other day, and, wanting some water, went to the family pail to get it. The pail was nearly empty, and as I tipped it up to see the condition of its contents, a spasm of nausea struck me. It is perfectly safe to say that there was a quarter of inch of slime and gelatinous deposit in the inside of that time-honored receptacle. I went to the well to draw some fresh water, and the old oaken bucket was just as slimy, just as green and just as covered with sediment as was the water pail. It was not exactly the thing to tell the family that their careless habits were in danger of costing them their lives, but all the same I wanted to do it. I slyly cleaned out the bucket and water pail before I was satisfied to use the water to mix medicine for my patient. I would have enjoyed a microscopic examination of the coating of the inside of that pail just to see how many microbes, bacteria, infusoria, bacilli, et al. there were to the square inch. Untold millions, no doubt. It is not always easy to exercise proper care in regard to such matters, and from force of habit, people come to be indifferent about them, many times because they are unaware of the danger that threatens from such sources."—London Telegram.

The Bachelor's Home.

The multiplicity of apartment houses is dragging a good many bachelors out of boarding houses. As a rule, two rooms and a bath, or one room with an alcove and a washing outfit, are most sought after, and can be readily secured. For from $500 to $800 per annum, a suite of four to six rooms, small but cozy, can be secured. If the bachelor desires to give a supper he can have the use of the dining room and table service occasionally without extra charge. As restaurants are always handy, and waiters and caterers obliging, the life of a bachelor is not near so gloomy as it used to be. A few real estate agents make a specialty of these apartments, both furnished and unfurnished, and strangers have no trouble to fix themselves comfortably, providing they have the price.—Pittsburg Despatch.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Weak, Nervous Women.

One to whom a night's rest was unknown.

Strength and good health restored.

I was subject to frequent attacks of nervousness that seemed to sap all my vitality and left me in a state of weakness and misery. I could not relish food and such a thing as a good night's rest was unknown. Incapable of any exertion and with an ever present tired and despondent feeling. Medicines that I took did not do any good; it was a case of gradually becoming weaker and weaker. Hearing of Scott's Sarsaparilla and its success with similar cases to mine, I used it, and, from the first few doses began to get better, appetite returned, got natural and refreshing sleep. I grew stronger, in fact life seemed to be fanned into activity.—Lottie Graham, 174 Crawford Street, Toronto.

For any weakness of the nerves, pale and sallow complexion, loss of appetite use the best blood and nerve remedy extant, Scott's Sarsaparilla. Insist on getting Scott's—imitations do not cure.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from [illegible] prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years.....774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

JOHN H. MELLAR CASE.

Dismisses Two Physicians and Gets Well.

This Was in Chicago. But Dodd's Kidney Pills Always Cure Rheumatism no Matter Where.

Special to THE EXAMINER.

Belmont, Nov. 28.—Your correspondent on his mission of medical investigation, calling upon Mr. John H. Mellar, of this place, and after finding him he said: "About a year ago, while living in Chicago, as the result of a cold, I became a victim of inflammatory rheumatism and a terrible sufferer.

"I was confined to my bed for many weeks and was treated by two of the best physicians I could obtain.

"But I grew worse, until I had completely lost the use of the hands, wrists, and arms, and I feared that I should become entirely paralysed.

"As I was growing worse continually I realized that some change must be made in my treatment, and I decided to dismiss my doctors.

"At this crisis a friend from Canada advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I am happy to say that the first few doses brought relief and by the time I had finished the first box I was free from pain.

"I completed the cure by using the second box, and have had no occasion since to use the pills or any other medicine.

"I consider them worth $25 a box in my case, for that is what my doctors cost me and they failed."

CANADIAN ALMANAC.

THE EXAMINER has to thank the Copp, Clark Company (Limited) for a copy of their invaluable Canadian Almanac. Amongst the large amount of statistical information this year's almanac contains the following special features:

The article by Dr. Bourinot on "Forms of Government throughout the World," will be found interesting and valuable, showing, as it does, how every Province, State and Country in the world is governed, and giving also its population and area.

Mr. E. M. Chadwick, the eminent barrister, contributes an article on "The Canadian Flag," which is timely, and will help to crystallize public opinion on this question. This article is illustrated with coloured lithographs of the red and blue ensigns, with the maple leaves.

Special attention has been given to the County and Municipal Directory, and the information given will be found full and accurate. The Ontario Law List has also been carefully revised.

The regular departments of the Almanac, such as Customs Tariff, Clergy List, Post Office List, with railways on which located or near at railway station, Directory of Government Officials, Societies, Schools and Colleges, Statistics, Meteorological Information, etc., have all been corrected and revised to the latest possible date.

This admirable compendium of useful knowledge is indispensable for every library and business office. Multum in parvo, with the accent on the multum, fitly describes the really encyclopædic character of the contents of the Canadian Almanac for 1896. At the Peterborough Bookstore.

votion of body, soul and spirit. Our churches, in their architecture and appointments, should correspond to this three-fold division. New Jerusalem would be a delight to man hereafter. It would be all glorious within. The worship of the church on earth was a preparation for those delights. If the true nature of worship were taught it would impart a new idea of spiritual life to the congregations and raise them to a higher grade of spiritual life.

Rev. R. A. McGinnis said that the question to discuss was the way to cure our defects. He thought that the Church needed more buildings dedicated to the service of God throughout the country. They should be occupied every Sunday by devout laymen, when clergymen cannot be had. He thought that the retired clergymen might in the country, residing there instead of in the city. He emphasized the need of a spiritual ministry, and said that Christ's life in us would be the means of drawing men to us and to the Church of England.

Rev. Canon Farncombe of Newcastle, thought that not sufficient gratitude had been expressed to Rural Dean Allen and Rev. G. H. Webb for the careful papers which they had prepared. The results of their investigations should be laid up for future reference. He thought there was more life in the church now than 15 years ago, and that its foundations were being laid deep and strong in Canada.

Rev. W. C. Allen, Rev. E. Soward, Rev. W. H. A. French, Rev. Cannon Spragge, Rev. Baynes Reid and Rev. A. G. E. Westmacott also spoke.

The chairman advocated more co-operation among the clergy.

Bev. J. C. Davidson, who has always set a noble example, asked for more brotherly sympathy among the clergy. He expressed himself as being determined to show more in the future than in the past.

IN THE EVENING,

service was held in St. John's at 8 o'clock, with a full attendance of the congregations of St. Luke's, St. John's and the Mission. The service was a very hearty one, decidedly creditable to the town and church. The lessons were read by Rev. G. H. Webb of Colborne, and Rev. W. C. Allen, the sermon being taken by Canon Spragge, who preached from Col. 1, 12. He preached a very appropriate sermon on the "Mystical Union with Christ." He addressed the laity and clergy on the wealth of their inheritance as English Churchmen, and on the sacredness of their charge.

After the service a devotional meeting, conducted by Rev. J. C. Roper, was held.

This morning service was held at 9 o'clock, and the sessions of the conference began at 10 o'clock in St. John's school house. Prayers were read by Rural Dean Cooper. A short address of congratulation was given by Archdeacon Allen.

The first paper read was on Christian Education in Public Schools, by Rev. H. Symonds, of Ashburnham. He said that religious education in the schools was a present day topic. He divided his paper into

THREE PARTS, STATING:

The need of religious instruction.
The kind of religious instruction.
The manner of religious instruction.

He said it was a notorious fact that the standard of morality was decreasing and that the lack of religious instruction in all grades of schools was the ground of so many erroneous ideas about the Bible. One of the dangers that confronts us, is that of contempt of the Bible. He likened the prevailing ignorance of the Bible to Egyptian darkness and considered the present need of religious instruction as very great. He then treated of the question as to what kind of religious instruction should be given and mentioned the various demands of the different parties interested. He thought that the public had no desire for separate schools. He thought that common education fostered harmony among the people and some Roman Catholics regret the effect of their system. Christian denominations were not opposed to religious instruction in the public schools. He told of what was being done in Kingston and in New South Wales, and urged for unanimous action in this important matter when the right time came.

Rev. C. H. Marsh, in an address on the same subject, spoke of it as and said that Mr. Symonds had anticipated some of his remarks. He spoke from his own experience of the prevailing ignorance in public schools even of the ten commandments. Religious instruction, he thought, had a restraining influence even upon those who did not pofess Christianity, proving itself to be a check in time of temptation. He thought that we had a decided right to ask for religious instruction in the Public Schools and the State had no right to punish that of which the State has not taught the evil.

Rev. J. C. Roper had made a very careful study of the whole question under singular advantages in England, having had access to documents in possession of the foremost educationalists on the bench of Bishops. He could endorse the New South Wales scheme with some modifications as a practical measure. At the same time he admitted that it was not the ideal thing. He was a Canadian now and did not think that we ought to stand outside the national life of Canada. But, he he continued, there are many advocates for Separate Schools. John Stewart Mill thinks that England has gained very much by

HER EDUCATIONAL DIVERSITY.

Monotony in education lost the advantage of rightful rivalry. Canadians are made up of several peoples and must be moulded into one righteous nation. For this it needs some united action in education for its upbuilding. Still, as an ideal, much could be said for Separate Schools. The Bible as yet had no distinct place in the school curriculum. It should be made a text book and a subject of examination. He also thought that the clergy should go to the schools at certain appointed times. He did not admit that the State can settle for us what is common Christianity.

Rev. E. Daniels, of Port Hope, spoke on the same subject, agreeing substantially with what had been said by the previous speakers.

Rev. Canon Farncombe followed, after which Rev. W. L. Allen spoke, and wished to avoid anything which would perpetuate separation amongst the people.

Rev. Canon Harding, Rev. A. G. Westmacott, Rev. G. H. Webb, and Rural Dean Cooper, also spoke on the same subject.

Canon Farncombe then read a paper on Sunday School work. He stated that the clergy were not jealous of the help of laymen, but to accept their services. Our duty and authority to direct the organizations in our parishes, he said, is generally respected. Much enthusiasm had been shown in lay organizations. Amongst these Sunday school teachers occupied an honourable position, having been working for a hundred years. It was suitable and profitable work for many of our people. We are under obligation to do everything in our power for the education of the little ones. As essential qualifications of the S. S. teacher he mentioned common sense, and interest in the Sunday school children. He recommended sermons on Sunday school work, teachers' meetings and Bible classes.

Rural Dean Cooper said there was a distinction between education and conveying information. The art of catechising is an absolute necessity and an appeal to the heart and spirit of the pupil.

He was followed by Rev. A. G. Westmacott, Canon Srpagge, W. C. Allen and other speakers on the same subject.

The conference then adjourned to partake of luncheon, which had been prepared St. Luke's school house by the ladies of that congregation. This afternoon the conference resumed at half-past two o'clock.

Don't Miss Wilder at the Opera House To-Night.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A Christmas tree festival is to be held on Christmas eve, in the school house, by the members and adherents of the Methodist church.

The Idle Hour ran a trip to Lakefield last Wednesday, probably the last one this season as ice could be seen on many parts of the lake the next day.

Miss Maggie Hales and Miss Jessie Reid have been appointed collectors for the Missionary Society of the Methodist church.

Miss Abbley Bronson has returned home from Lakefield.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day," performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though, (as may be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award the credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore, of the highest value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of the claim that Maltine Wine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel" and affirms that "it is a wonderful sustainer." This preparation may be had at any drug store.

Men's Heavy Melton Winter Overcoats—speaking value to the man seeking a warm, wearable Overcoat,—they'd surely be $7.50 elsewhere — $5 00

Men's strictly All Wool Overcoats—colours blue or black—the shapes, the latest. We can fit anybody—better than $12 will do elsewhere, for — 8 50

That leads us to fine All Wool Overcoats—single or double breasted. They're well lined and well made, and the price anywhere would not be less than $15, for — 12 00

Gentlemen's extra fine Overcoats. Good Merchants need not hesitate to buy these to sell again at our price — 15 00

Down to the Marrow---Furnishings.

A grand value in Underwear, splendid quality — 40c

Superfine Underwear, extra heavy Underwear in Shirts and Drawers, perfectly made finished, very soft and nice. Never sold less than $1.00, for — 55c

Men's Woolen Outside Shirts. We've a fine line of Men's Wool Shirts, in light and dark greys, mixtures and fancies; good value at $1.50, for — 60c

A 20c Tie for — 10c
A 30c Tie for — 15c
A 50c Tie for — 25c

Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Gloves, Hose and Suspenders, go clean to the marrow.

Down to the Marrow---Hats.

Think of it—$1 for a handsome Derby or Soft Fedora Hat, the very latest in style and finish. They come in blacks and browns, rich satin lining, silk bands and bindings. These Hats are sold elsewhere at $2 and $2.50, our prices only — $1.00

Boy's Hats and Caps.

24c will buy a Golf Cap, a Brighton or Eton Cap, and several styles and colours, worth 50c.

49c will buy a good, warm Winter Cap for the boys, worth 75c

98c will give you choice of a boy's stylish Alpine Hat or nobby Derby, good values $1.50.

Down to the Marrow---Boy's Wear.

Children's Cape Overcoats, ages 4 to 14, neat dark colours, the same Overcoats other stores will sell for $3, our price — $1.98

Sealette at $6.00, last season's choice $10.00.
Sealette at $8.00, last season's choice $12.00.

These goods are all the best makes and warranted not to crush. Sealettes have not been as low in the history of the present generation, and now is your time to buy. To those who have Sealette Mantles that need remodelling we would say that we can make them look like new by using an extra yard of Sealette; bring them in and have them altered.

Astrachan Curls for $2.75.
Astrachan Curls for $3.50.
Astrachan Curls for $4.50.
Astrachan Curls for $6.00.

We have a line we are offering at $3.50, which would be good value at $7,00, makes up handsome in Capes, which are now so much worn. The reason this piece is sold so much under value—the curl is too open to look well to be made up in close fitting Mantles.

MANTLES.

Last week brought us some Novelties in Mantles. We keep this department up to date. We are now offering several lines in small and medium sized Sleeves at less than half price, they are excellent cloths and well made. Just the thing for those who do not wish to follow the fashions too closely.

FLANNELETTES.

We are dressing a window to-day with a job line of English Flannelettes which have not been sold in Peterborough to anyone but ourselves. The patterns are small and neat and the grounds pink, sky, cream, peacock, cardinal, garnet and lavender, with black and white flowers, our price is 8½c regular value is 12½c. These goods wash well, even in the most delicate shades.

LADIES' UNDERWEAR.

We handle and are selling large quantities of Ladies' Hygene Underwear. They are heavier and softer finish than most makes and range in price from 15c. to 75c.

The Election Promises to be a Very Hot One.

BIG MEETING AT SEVERN BRIDGE.

The Orange Hall Filled on Short Notice—Hon. Messrs. Wallace and Wood and Major Sam Hughes Deliver Speeches—Evasive on the School Question.

Severn, Ont., Nov. 28.—Although only 24 hours' notice had been given of Major John A. McGillivray's meeting here to-night in the Orange Hall, it was packed to the doors, Severn Bridge is thoroughly Orange, and the fact that Hon. N. C. Wallace was to address the meeting aroused great interest. Hon. John F. Wood, and Major Sam Hughes were also on hand and the meeting was as satisfactory as any Conservative could wish. L.O.L. 1144 adjourned its regular meeting so that the distinguished visitors could address the public.

To say that the election in North Ontario is going to be a hot one does not express the idea. The three-cornered fight has mixed up the local political prophets and they content themselves with looking wise and saying nothing.

Morrison township, in which Severn Bridge is situated, gives a Conservative majority of about 60 usually, and just now it is viewed with more interest by all parties than half the rest of the riding.

Among the prominent residents present were: Messrs. W. H. Miller, Jas. Young, Reeve of Morrison township; William Young, secretary-treasurer of the township; John Canning, sr.; Jas. Blackwell, Joseph Hunter, George Robinson, William Woods, Miss McLeod, Miss Robinson.

Mr. Wm. Young was elected chairman.

Major Sam Hughes, the first speaker made a feeling reference to the death of the late member for North Ontario, the late Frank Madill. After referring to the three candidates in the field, Major McGillivray, Mr. Brandon, and Mr. F. J. Gillespie, the Liberal, he said it was no man's privilege to say how North Ontario would vote on Dec. 12. He himself had never insulted a man by canvassing him for his vote. The electors, he did not doubt, would go to the polls unbiased by prejudice. He pointed out that it was easy for Opposition speakers to find fault and make promises. He had found that the man who glibly made promises were the very men who broke them easily. He admired Mr. McGillivray for his stand in not pledging himself on remedial legislation for Manitoba. Major McGillivray's work in the past in North Ontario, fighting against separate school encroachments, was well known. He dtprecated the efforts of some men to distort the Conservative candidate's position on the remedial order. Major Hughes gave an instance of Patron Brandon's duplicity in trying to work a deal in North Ontario whereby the Conservative votes would go to the Grit candidate in the last election there.

The Trent Valley Canal and the great benefit it would be to North Ontario was touched on. In North Victoria there were at present 450 men working on the canal. As soon as the present section was finished the Couchiching and Georgian Bay section would be commenced. That would be probably next year. This great work would cheapen the transportation of farmers' produce and stock. Every man's land which would be needed would be paid for as would also all land that would have to be flooded. The canal would be completed in two or three years.

In closing he ridiculed the many alleged policies presented in past years by the Reform party and paid a great tribute to Sir John A. Macdonald's work in building up a Canadian nationality. He knew Severn Bridge would do its duty on Dec. 12. (Applause).

Mr. William Rissell of Washago, who announced that he came forward because his friends thought there should be some opposition, then arose. The audience took him good naturedly.

Hon. John F. Wood was received with applause. His remarks, after a reference to the late Frank Madill, treated of the Manitoba school question. He thought that the whole national trade question should not hang on a side issue like the remedial order. The order came to the Government unsought, and it had not been the Government's wish to receive it. He repudiated Mr. Laurier's charge that the Government was "wobbling" on the question. He showed that Mr. Laurier met all difficulties with a promise for "commissions." He was not definite on any of the great questions before the people. Major McGillivray should not be condemned because he refused to give up his liberty of conscience on the remedial order question. He should not be tied down to vote against the Government before he found out what that Government would do. He did not object to the independence of thought found in the Conservative party; it was an evidence of healthy public opinion. He objected to the abuse which Patrons bestowed on the oGvernment. They dealt too much in generalities.

Facts about the trade question were then brought out. The real issue today before North Ontario was taxation, not the remedial order. Mr. Wood gave figures to show that farmers paid lower prices for implements and utensils now than they ever did. Implements were cheaper in Canada than in the United States. If the United States would reduce duties, Canada would also. The Canadian tariff is all round only 20 per cent. of the American tariff.

In reply to a question, Mr. Wood said Canada had tried nine times to get lower tariff arrangements with the United States and had been unsuccessful. Some $14,000,000 more revenue was raised per pear now than in 1878. Reformers said this was augmented taxation taken out of the pockets of the people. Mr. Wood showed that this increased amount came out of excise, customs, railways and canals and postal service. It was not taxes at all.

In closing, Mr. Wood spoke of the efforts of the Conservative party to carry out conscientiously the policy laid down by Sir John Macdonald.

Hon. N. C. Wallace was the speaker the meeting wanted to hear, and he was greeted with more than ordinary enthusiasm. He first remarked that despite The Globe's opinion to the contrary, he thought he had a right to speak in North Ontario. He reiterated his opinion that non-sectarian schools would be the best for the whole of Canada, and that if occasion should arise he would give effect to that opinion in Parliament. He then asked the electors to support Major McGillivray, if they approved of the opinion held by the speaker. Major McGillivray's record was a sound one on the Separate school question, and North Ontario could well afford to trust its interests on the school question in his hands. He twitted Mr. Laurier with his statements regarding his thankfulness that there were no Orangemen in the ranks of the Liberal party. La Patrie, the leading Rouge paper in Quebec had reported Mr. Laurier's words. The Liberal leader had not specifically denied having used the words. Mr. Laurier's words were a menace to Orangemen that the order was to be restricted and ostracised.

The hon. gentleman then gave the history of Mr. Laurier's bad break and dissected the Liberal leader's general denial, showing that the denial was framed so as to read in Quebec as an endorsement of La Patrie's account. Mr. Wallace said he was being abused most roundly by the Quebec Grit papers, because he was an Orangeman.

Passing to Mr. Laurier's declaration for a commission to investigate the Manitoba school question, Mr. Wallace said there was no necessity for it. There was nothing more to find out. We know all the details. The question had been thoroughly thrashed out. Mr. Laurier was unable to take a stand as a man of principle would. He was a wobbler on every question on which a distinct statement would lose him votes.

A reasonable and proper solution of the Manitoba school question was that proposed by the Presbyterian Synod at Winnipeg, if both parties could be got to agree to it, said Mr. Wallace, in regard to the Remedial Order.

He then talked of protection v. free trade. The Conservative party stood by the old policy, by British connection, and believed that Canada was the brightest gem in the British crown. It had built railroads from ocean to ocean. It had dug canals and made Canada free of the United States. The farmers were well-off, compared with American farmers. Wheat was 14 cents a bushel higher in Toronto than Chicago on Nov. 28, these figures being taken from The Toronto Globe of that date. Wheat was 47 cents in Manitoba, and at Spokane, Wash., it was 17 cents. Some people wanted free trade with these 17-cent people. (Laughter.)

The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, the visiting Ministers and McGillivray.

A JOB I PREFERS TO GIVE OUT.

KIND-HEARTED GENTLEMAN, whistling: Hi, there! Tommy. Here's a job for you, my son.

ROBBERS IN HAMILTON.

A Butcher Badly Beaten and $69 Taken from Him—Female Shoplifter Who Wore Tights.

Hamilton, Nov. 28.—As S. Luscombe, a butcher living on Wilson street, below Sanford avenue, was walking along Wilson about 7.30 this evening, he was held up by three men. They knocked him down and took $69 from him, and after kicking him a few times in the ribs, ran away. The police were at once notified, and are on the lookout for the highwaymen.

Last night as George Leslie of Clappison's Corners was coming up McNab-street at a late hour he was held up by two men, who assaulted him and robbed him of $9. The affair took place near the corner of Main and McNab-streets, and while one man held Leslie about the neck the other went through his pockets.

Detective Inspector McMahon, Detectives Campbell, Reid and Coulter made a remarkable arrest this afternoon of a professional shoplifter and thief, the victim being Nancy Culver, a married woman about 30 years old, residing in Jarvis, Ont. Yesterday Misses Graham, 67 Wellington street north, reported the loss of three gold watches and chains, charms, gold pendants, a new pair of boots, several yards of black lace, a pair of black kid gloves, a gold brooch and other articles. They had been absent from the house about an hour, and were accompanied by Nancy Culver, who had come to the house to board about a week ago. When they returned they missed the articles. After the detectives interviewed Nancy, she resolved to leave the city, and was arrested this afternoon at the station with a ticket for Jarvis. When brought to the police station, Mrs. Headland was called to examine the woman, and, after removing the outer garments, noticed she wore a pair of tights. Mrs. Headland removed the tights and from a pair of stockings pinned to her corsets, and hanging inside the tights she removed the gold watches, jewelry and other articles. Pinned to Nancy's chemise on either side was a new boot, and she had three ostrich tips concealed about the chemise. The tights were tied at the bottom to prevent the booty falling out. She will appear at the Police Court to-morrow morning.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

POPULATION AND PROSPERITY.

At the Archdiaconal Council in St. John's, the president Ven. Archdeacon Allen, in dealing with the subject of the financial and numerical state of the Church, pointed out that between the years 1881 and 1891 the population of the region embraced in the Archdiaconal district—the Counties of Peterborough, Northumberland and Durham, Victoria and Haliburton—the population had decreased. There was, of course, no political—using the word in its widest sense—significance to the speaker in the statement; it was simply used to illustrate what he wished to impress in connection with the subject; but it is, after all, full of significance in relation to the claims made by the advocates of the National Policy, as to its effect in promoting the progress and prosperity of the country. One of the primary conditions of progress in a new country like Canada, is increasing population. Our illimitable resources in agricultural and mineral wealth can hardly be said to have begun their development. Our exclusive fiscal system demands a home market of adequate receptivity for our manufactured products. We must have population to have buyers. And it is unfortunate that the very trade system that requires a large population prevents, or at least fails, to create population necessary for its success.

The Montreal Herald has been dredging in the dry depths of the census returns and evolved some facts that pretty effectually flatten out the pretensions of the N. P. to the power of creating a condition of plethora in population that would grieve the infecund soul of Malthus. These figures show that between the years 1861 and 1871, under a revenue tariff, the population of the Maritime Provinces, (New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island) increased by 103,645, or at the rate of 15.6 per cent. Between the years 1871 and 1881—eight years of which were passed under a revenue tariff and a fatal two years under the National Policy, the increase in the population of these provinces was 103,231, or at the rate of 13.4 per cent. That the N. P. was responsible for, or was unable to prevent, this decrease in population is demonstrated by citing the increase of population during an entirely N. P. decennial period; the figures of the increase between 1881 and 1891 may be quoted. The figures of increase had fallen from 103,645 in the revenue tariff decade to 10,041, less than one-tenth of the revenue tariff period of increase. Commenting on these figures the St. John's (N.B.) Telegraph says:—"If the National Policy had not come to interfere with our progress it is safe to affirm that our growth in population between 1871 and 1891, and between that year and 1891, would have been as rapid as it was between 1861 and 1871, or at the rate of 15.6 per cent. for each decennial period. This rate of increase would have given us a population of 887,131 in 1891, and of 1,035,383 in 1891, or 144,786 more people than the census of 1891 showed the Maritime Provinces to have. As it is the population of the Maritime Provinces is stationary, and in many of the counties it is declining, as a result of the National Policy." And the Montreal Herald adds:—"If this falling off in the rate of increase had been confined to the Maritime Provinces—which it has not—the National Policy must still be arraigned on charge of having failed in its vaunted mission in respect of the inter-provincial trade. Inter-provincial trade is supposed, under the National Policy, to make up for the loss of that foreign trade which the National Policy is designed to discourage. But the Maritime Provinces census figures seem to suggest the possibility that if the National Policy be maintained much longer there will be no Maritime Provinces for the rest of the country to trade withal."

Exposure to cold, damp winds, may result in pneumonia unless the system is kept invigorated with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The hall was crowded, and showed the interest taken by the public in the school, Mr. W. E. Roxburgh in the chair. The programme was well rendered all through. The instrumentals all showed excellent preparation. In his retrospective report, Mr. W. H. Stephenson followed the High School from its foundation, describing the different buildings, and also the different principals, and showed the rapid growth made. The speeches made by the different men who distributed the certificates were all good. The different solos were all exceedingly well rendered. Interesting speeches were given by a number of ex-students. Prof. Anderson dwelt upon the subject of an "Old Boys' Club." F. D. Roxburgh, B. A., spoke on High School and College reminescences; B. J. Hales on those who had gone to join the great majority; C. Edwards on the value of a High School education. The chairman read a number of letters from old pupils in which they expressed their regrets at not being able to be present. F. D. Roxburgh, B. A., B. J. Hales, B. A., and H. E. Ford, B.A., were appointed a committee to draw up a constitution for an "Old Boys' Club."

On Friday evening last the ladies of the Presbyterian church had a Thanksgiving tea. Tea was served from half-past five until half past seven, after which an excellent programme was rendered:

Mrs. Perney's recital for the benefit of the public library will be held in the Town Hall on Friday evening, the 6th of Dec.

The fifteenth anniversary of the foundation of the Methodist church in this place will be celebrated shortly. They expect the Rev. Dr. Hammon, of St. Thomas, and Rev. Dr. Dewart, of Toronto, to preach the jubilee sermons. Both these eminent divines are former residents of Dummer and have won their way to the front by their energy, aided by their ability. A committee has been appointed to make all necessary arrangements.

A very happy event took place last Wednesday, the 20th. It was the marriage of Miss M. E. Fry to Mr. A. Hofstetter, both of this place. The ceremony was performed by their pastor, Rev. S. S. Weaver, at the residence of the bride's father on Queen street. The bride was beautifully attired in "Ashes of Roses" costume cloth, with fur trimming to match, and the bridesmaid, Miss P. Fry, was very suitably dressed in "tweed effect" with velvet trimmings. The bride held a bouquet of chrysanthemums, maiden hair fern, smilax and carnations, and the room was also beautifully decorated with the same. The groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. Will Foy. The presents were numerous and costly. After the ceremony was concluded, Mr. Hofstetter was presented with a letter from his brother Oddfellows, which expressed their sincere regret at the loss of their brother, who for some time past has been their permanent secretary, and commended him to the friendship and protection of his brother Oddfellows wherever he should be. The guests, among whom was Miss M. Hammond, of Lindsay, sat down to a sumptuous dejeuner. At the conclusion of this the happy couple left on the 4:12 train for their home in Battle Creek, Mich., amidst showers of rice and old shoes. Their many friend wish them prosperity and happiness.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

The Sultan Hesitates About Admitting Warships.

STILL MORE MASSACRES REPORTED

An Italian Warship Stopped at the Mouth of the Dardanelles—The Marquis of Bute Defeats Viscount Peel—Lord Warkworth Elected for South Kensington.

Constantinople, Nov. 28.—Despite the assurance given to Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, by Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, that each power would be permitted to send an additional guard-ship to the Bosphorus, the Sultan has not yet granted the requisite permits for their entrance through the Dardanelles. The hesitancy of the Sultan in the matter, it is understood, is due to his fear that the movement of the powers to increase the number of their guard-ships in the Bosphorus is merely designed to mask an ulterior demonstration of the naval forces. It is thought, however, that the Sultan will yield to the demands of the powers in view of the unanimous pressure they are bringing upon him, otherwise it is probable that the powers will send gun boats into the Bosphorus without waiting any longer for the Sultan to issue firmans permitting them to enter.

The Italian despatch boat Archimede has arrived at the entrance of the Dardanelles. She has not been allowed to pass in and is now awaiting the instructions of the Italian Government.

Another Frightful Massacre.

London, Nov. 28.—The correspondent of the United Press in Constantinople telegraphs under date of Nov. 27, that a second terrible massacre has occurred at Marash and five houses have been pillaged without regard to who their occupants might be. It is reported that thousands of persons were killed and many hundreds wounded. The American theological seminary was plundered and burned and two of the students at that institution were shot, one being fatally wounded. The hotels and boarding houses also were plundered. The Christians at Marash and in that vicinity, thousands of whom are destitute, have appealed for aid.

M. Nelidoff, the Russian Ambassador to Turkey, has had an audience with the Sultan, during which he warned him that if serious disturbances should occur at Constantinople the foreign fleet would penetrate the Dardanelles. The Sultan admitted to M. Nelidoff that the powers had a right to the admission of a second guard-ship to the Bosphorus, but renewed his request that they should not insist upon that right. He urged that the promised reforms were progressing and that the approach of an era of reform was shown by the appointment of six inspecting judges, of whom three were Christians. Despite the assurance of the Sultan to the contrary, the arrest of Armenians in Constantinople has been renewed, though there is no sign of an uprising or resistance to the laws on the part of Armenians in Constantinople. Thousands of them, however, are reported to have been frightened into conversion to Moslemism.

The United Press representative in Constantinople telegraphs under yesterday's date that news has been received from Zeitun that on November 13th a force of 15,000 Armenians under a Russo-Armenian leader captured the fort occupied by Turkish troops. In the attack upon the fort dynamite was used by the Armenians with great effect.

Twenty thousand Turkish troops are said to be advancing upon Zeitun from all sides, it being the intention, it is understood, to raze that place to the ground.

Rumors are in circulation in Constantinople that a dreadful massacre occurred at Aintab on Nov. 17th.

The Government has prohibited all telegraphic communication with that place so it is impossible to get any information in regard to the reported massacre.

"The Common People."

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache. 25c.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

An Embargo Ordered Against Canadian Sheep.

MUST BE SLAUGHTERED ON LANDING

The Order to Take Effect on January 1—Hay Being Bought for Western Ontario—A Protest from Montreal Forwarders—Criminal Statistics.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—An important communication was received by cable at the Department of Agriculture this afternoon from Sir Charles Tupper, intimating that the Board of Agriculture has issued an order to the effect that sheep imported into Great Britain from Canada and the United States must be slaughtered at the port of landing on and after Jan. 1 next. This order was not unexpected by the Department. In fact it could not have been prevented except at the cost of establishing a quarantine against American sheep at ports on the frontier. Such action would have been followed by two results: First the stoppage of traffic as respects importations in transit through Canada, and second, what is of great importance, an immediate reprisal from the nited States. Information in possession of the Department is positive on the last point. The question has been for a long time pending, and the Department has taken the responsibility of selecting the chance of the present restriction, which has now taken place in England, as the lesser of two evils.

It appears that Captain E. D. Sutherland is the officer of the 43rd Battalion who has been requested by his deputy to resign his position either in the militia force or in the civil service. Captain Sutherland is secretary of the Canadian Military Rifle League, a splendid shot and an enthusiastic volunteer. His superior officer in the civil service is the Auditor-General. Surprise is expressed that Mr. McDougall has not evinced more of a patriotic spirit in this matter. If Government officers are not to be allowed to respond to the call of duty, employers generally can hardly be expected to allow those in their service to get away. It is stated that some of the men of the 43rd, who went up to Lowe, have lost their situations as a result.

Bids for the $172,869 worth of city debentures were opened at the finance committee meeting to-night. The best offr was ethat of Osler, Hammond & Co., Toronto, to whom the whole were awarded at a price equivalent to 103 2-5 per cent. The debentures are four per cent. The next highest bid was that of Stinson & Co., Toronto, whose offer was $83 below that of the successful tenders. There were 14 bids in all.

The Marine Department received a telegram to-day from the president of the Forwarders' Association of Montreal complaining of the removal of the light ships from Lake St. Louis, while the channel was still clear of ice and navigation not yet closed. He says that while all the grain is down, yet there are several barges on their way up. He thinks that the action of the Department calling in the light ships was simply done in the interest of the contractor.

Mr. Featherstone, M.P., who has been in this vicinity, with headquarters at Ottawa, for the last two months, expects to be engaged purchasing hay in the counties adjacent to Ottawa until March next. He has already secured 50 car loads in this vicinity at prices ranging from $10 to $14 per ton. This hay is intended for sale in Western Ontario. Owing to the extensive purchase around here the price in the local hay market is stiffening.

The total number of convictions, criminal and summary, recordede in Canada during 1894 was 36,165, compared with 35,653 for 1893, or an increase in 1894 of 592. There was an increase in the number of jury cases for the year, the number being 994 in 1894 and 942 in 1893. There were 166 cases in which the prerogative of mercy had been exercised; including seven sentences commuted, against 109 in 1893, with one death sentence commuted. Eleven were sentenced to death against nine in 1893. Fifty-four per cent. of all the criminals were moderate drinkers, and 38 per cent. were habitual or excessive drinkers. There was a decrease in the summary convictions of 116 out of 30,907. Ontario had a decrease of 1,014 and Quebec an increase of 806. The indistable offences show an increase of 835 over the previous year out of 7,601 charges.

The Ottawa and Gatineau Valley Railway Company have applied to the Quebec Government to lease all the lakes between Wakefield and the desert, some 40 in number, which have not yet been leased to fishing clubs or private parties. These lakes abound in black bass and speckled trout, and the object of the company is to convert the district into a haunt for sportsmen.

Captain Spain, Commandant of the Fisheries Inspection Service, returned to the city to-day from an official trip of inspection of the cruisers Petrel and Dolphin, which are operating on Lake Erie and Georgian Bay, respectively. The vessels are in excellent shape, and their presence in these waters is having a most salutary effect upon poachers, whether American or Canadian.

All the vessels of the fleet on the Atlantic coast are in winter quarters, with the exception of the Kingfisher and the Curlew, which will remain out for a little while longer.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day," performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though, (as may be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award the credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore, of the highest value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of the claim that Maltine Wine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarizes the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel" and affirms that "it is a wonderful sustainer." This preparation may be had at any drug store.

HAGGART AND CHAPLEAU.

A Conference in Montreal Yesterday which Aroused the Curiosity of Politicians.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—The Ottawa Ministers are after Lieut.-Governor Chapleau once more. There was considerable excitement, in fact, amongst politicians to-day, when it was learned that Hon. John Haggart had come down from Ottawa with the intention of making a last effort to induce His Honor to leave Spencerwood and re-enter the Cabinet. The Minister signed his ful name, "John Haggart, Ottawa," in the hotel register, and in a short time was in deep conversation with the Lieut.-Governor of the province in room 132.

While this important conference was going on Hon. Mr. Ouimet, who reached the city last evening, came up to the hotel and in ignorance of Mr. Haggart's presence, even in the city, repaired to His Honor's apartments. While this was going on all sorts of comments were being indulged in in the rotunda below.

The Minister or Railways and Canals returned to the Capital this evening.

Fell and Broke His Neck.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

Lt.-Col. R. W. It is hardly likely the invitation will be accepted as it was not received until last night, owing to its being misdirected.

"No Good Without the Other."

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. A STREET AND BRIDGE SUGGESTION.

How to do Away With Five Expensive Bridges—By Diverting the Bed of the Creek.

A practical citizen, who has had an extensive building experience and whose name is not given for publication, makes a suggestion which will at least be of interest and create some little discussion, if it is not practicable.

He proposes giving the creek that runs through the town, a sharp curve at the point where it crosses King street and running it, by means of a tunnel, under King street to the river, somewhere in the line of the old raceway that furnished the power to Scott's Mills in the very infancy of the town, over 70 years ago. This proposed tunnel would cost, be estimated, $10,000, which at that price for the short distance would seem to furnish a rather capacious waterway. The means of providing for unusual flow of water at times of freshet is not suggested. The gentleman who proposes this scheme submits that in the end it would be a great saving. The tunnel would be of such a permanent character as to prevent the necessity of future repairs, while there would be six bridges, expensive in the matter of repairs and in case of renewal, that could be away with. These are the bridges at King street, at Sherbrooke street and at Dalhousie street, the bridge on George street across Spaulding's Bay, which is to be rebuilt at a cost of about $2,500, and two C. P. R. bridges. Of course these latter are of no interest to the town, but the proposer of the tunnel scheme thinks the C. P. R. Company would give substantial assistance to the tunnel construction in consideration of being relieved of their bridges which are the bete noir of railway construction. Taking the cost of the Hunter street and Charlotte street bridges over the creek as the standard, the tunnel advocate thinks that the cost of construction of new bridges, which will have to come some day, would be less than the cost of the proposed tunnel to start with, not to speak of the question of future maintenance. Besides, it is suggested that at the outlet of the tunnel into the river a water power might be created for some small factory, which would represent a small but permanent source of revenue. And he thinks the Peter Hamilton Company would appreciate the advantage of having a new basement story added to their warerooms that are built over the creek between King and Sherbrooke streets.

A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Hugh Davidson and her Two Children Thrown From a Buggy.

Yesterday afternoon as Mrs. Hugh Davidson, of Smith, accompanied by her little boy and girl, were driving into town and were passing Meldrum & McAllister's mill their horse became frightened at motor No. 1, in charge of Conductor Smith ann Motorman Payton. The animal shied and bolted and the buggy coming in contact with the car was overturned.

The three occupants were quickly extricated from the wrecked vehicle and taken into Mr. Sullivan's residence, where it was found that the little girl was badly bruised.

Mrs. Davidson and the little boy escaped uninjured with the exception of a gash which Mrs. Davidson received on the forehead, though both were considerably frightened and shaken up by the accident.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

Herman Crowe, of Dummer, in a Critical Condition as the Result.

A shooting accident which might have resulted fatally occurred at Stony Lake on Monday.

Two boys, Walter and Herman Crowe, were out hunting that morning, and being overtaken by a rainstorm, Herman placed his gun containing a large buckshot in a hollow log to keep it dry. In drawing it out the hammer caught and the gun went off, the contents of the weapon entering his right side. Some of the shot passed through his body, but it is feared sufficient remained to cause trouble. His condition is said to be very critical. He is under the care of a physician.

The unfortunate lad is about 16 years of age. He is the son of Mr. Thomas Crowe, of Dummer.

Smokers Attention.

We wish to draw the attention of all smokers of cigars to our recent direct importation of cigars from Havana, consisting of 10,000, assorted sizes Diaz Garcia, and 12,000 Manual Garcia, assorted sizes, bought at very close prices for cash and are prepared to give the benefit to the citizens of the town. Our cigars at 4 for 25c, 3 for 25c, 10c straight or 15c straight are away ahead in quality and size of those offered by other dealers at these prices. Come and see for yourself and be convinced that the best place in town for imported cigars is at Chas. LeGros', 329 George street, Peterborough's only direct importer.

Poor Lindsay.

The Watchman bemoans the state of Lindsay in the following lament:—"When anything goes wrong with the health of an individual, skilled attendance is provided and the severer the complaint, the greater is the skill sought. Lindsay just now is in a seriously unhealthy condition. With a large debt, which the electors a short time ago sensibly refused to increase, with a tax rate of 24 to 25 mills on an assessment that could not be sustained before the county judge, is there any wonder that the people are feeling blue and wondering how it will all end. Lindsay is in a bad condition, and if ever she needed skilled and good management it is now."

What an Emily Man Says About Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure.

A highly respected and well known citizen of the township of Emily has furnished the following testimonial to Mr. Jas. Lynch, druggist: I am a young man and have been a slave to tobacco since I was a boy. Although I have often tried to stop it I never could succeed until I used Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, recommended me to try this tobacco cure, and after some persuasion I bought a box. I continued using it for a short time and soon found the appetite for tobacco was leaving me. My nerves became stronger, my eyesight brighter and my desire for food improved. Now, I have lost all craving for the filthy weed; and I hereby certify that after using one package of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure, I have gained six pounds in weight, and I can heartily recommend it to any who are run down in weight from using tobacco. Some men object to lending their name to a testimonial of this kind, but I consider it my duty to do so if it will help any of my friends or fellow sufferers. G. DARE Emily, Franklin P.O., Ont.

THE CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH CONCERT IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

It was Without Doubt the Greatest Event of the Season—Marshall P. Wilder Proved Himself to be the Prince of Entertainers, Indeed.

Peterborough owes a debt of gratitude to the Charlotte Street Methodist Church for having been the instrument through which Marshall P. Wilder was introduced to the amusement-loving public of the town last evening.

The Opera House was packed to the doors, and every time that Mr. Wilder made his appearance on the stage a wave of merriment swept over the house and the remembrance of his jokes kept the audience in a titter until his re-appearance. He told a series of street car stories, which were amusing beyond description, and his jokes and quibs followed one another so rapidly as to almost turn the heads of the audience, who, however, lost nothing, but snapped up his jests in a spirit which, as he said, helped him immensely in keeping the ball rolling. Amongst his was one in which a fresh youth was instanced as skipping aboard the car and shouting, "Let her go, Gallagher!" A young lady at the next crossing addressed the conductor as "Mr. Gallagher," and asked him to stop the car. But it was not in the stories, so much as in the inimitable way in which they were told. One which brought down the house was the narrative concerning a Southern clergyman who, speaking to his congregation of the great division in the future, interrogated them as to who would be the sheep and who the goats. The query was repeated several times, until finally an Irishman in the back of the church, who was not quite in touch with religious matters, called out, "Well, I'll be the goat. Now what's the answer?"

Mr. Wilder stated that he had been termed a self-made man. The first time he had visited Chicago one of the papers, alluding to his dwarfed appearance, stated that if he was a self-made man he must have been interrupted in the job. This was his first joke and until he made his final exit from the stage, after half a dozen recalls, his audience was kept convulsed with laughter.

Should Marshall P. Wilder ever visit Peterbofough again it is safe to predict that he will be accorded indeed although last night's audience was one that could not be cavilled at by the most exacting of stars.

The evening's programme was opened by a very fine selection by the Fireman's band, which also played several times later on in a manner which showed the care and attention which they are giving during the winter months to their music.

Miss Hendren's "Madelini" was a revelation to the audience, many of whom had not been privileged in hearing the talented young vocalist before. She was accorded two encores during the evening and her rendition of "Ben Bolt" and "Annie Laurie" were most acceptable. The range and sweetness of Miss Hendren's voice are improving greatly with time and a very high place in the musical circles of the province is undoubtedly awaiting her.

Mr. Geo. W. Mulligan gave the "Death of Nelson," with his usual fine delivery, his full, rich baritone voice sounding to peculiar advantage in this fine old song, as well as in "The Song of Hybrias, the Cretan," which he sang later on in the evening.

Mr. J. B. McKay, of the Kingston Business College, who is accompanying Mr. Wilder on his Canadian trip as manager, told several very amusing anecdotes, and told them well too. His descriptive number concerning the enquiries of a number of young ladies who were about to cross a railway track, was a great laugh producer.

The evening was brought to a close by the rendition of "God Save the Queen," by the band.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY AT HAND.

A Splendid Suggestion of its Proximity in Miss Rudkins' Shop Window.

To-morrow is St. Andrew's day, and the average Scots' mind is reverting to the scenes of the "land of cakes," and his memory is stimulated by the beautiful display in the window of Miss Rudkins' store. Rev. Mr. Paterson, was judged by this example, perhaps right, when he said the Scotch were Irish and that the Irish loved the Scotch. Miss Rudkins has shown that this is true in her case. For several years she has honoured St. Andrew's day by dressing her window with Scottish emblems. This year her window is dressed in tartan as usual for the "day and a' wha honour it." In a tastefully disposed tartan environment stands the waxen effigy of a Highland laddie, tricked out in complete Highland costume, displaying the clan Mackenzie tartan. The doublet and vest are of dark green velvet with plaited thistle buttons; below this is the tartan plaid kilt, with tartan shawl and silver mounted brooch, dress sporran. The three quarter tartan stockings were knitted by a Scotch lady 70 years of age. Patent leather shoes and a jaunty Glengarry cap with a feather complete a strikingly beautiful costume. This Highland laddies' costume was recently brought from Scotland by Miss Jessie Minorgan, daughter of Mr. Geo. Minorgan, Stewart street, who, during her visit to Scotland, ordered the suit for her little brother, who kindly loaned it to Miss Rudkins, who has given it a prominence which must represent to Scotchmen a very pleasing instance of international, as well as of neighbourly courtesy. The very handsome curly pated waxen figure used for the display of the costume, was kindly loaned by Oak Hall. Thus we see involved in Miss Rudkin's thoughtful fancy, a suggestion of the national unity that should characterize the three chief racial elements of the Empire, the warm-hearted Irish, the sturdy steady-going Scot and the English hearts of oak. It is to be hoped that the actual relations of the three great nationalities will be as closely united in friendly bonds in reality as Miss Rudkins' beautiful composite display suggests.

The Unknown Dead.

The body of the unknown man who was taken out of the Toronto bay at the foot of Sherbourne street last Monday morning, and is still unidentified, was reported yesterday afternoon to be that of Mr. G. T. West, a retired farmer of Minden in the county of Haliburton. Upon learning this, the Globe wired its correspondent at Minden, to ascertain if Mr. West had reached home, and received the following reply: "Mr. Geo. T. West is here alive and well." The identify of the dead man is therefore still a mystery.

"A PITIABLE STORY."

Contradiction of a Statement Clipped From the Bobcaygeon Independent.

Referring to a paragraph appearing in a late issue of the EXAMINER, and copied from the Bobcaygeon Independent, entitled "A Pitiable Story," we are informed by Messrs. J. W. Howry & Sons, to whom this paragraph refers, that in so far as the statements in the paragraph mentioned, reflect upon them there is no foundation therefor in fact, and we regret that such statements should have been reproduced in the EXAMINER. We are further informed by Messrs. J. W. Howry & Sons that the large proportion of the men reaching their camps are hired by employment bureaus, outside this Province and for whose actions the Messrs. Howry are in no way responsible, and that the fees of these bureaus being obtained from the men, depend to a large extent upon the number sent forward. That many of these men so hired are without knowledge of the work in the woods and wholly unfit for such work, and could not be employed by Messrs. Howry & Sons unless they proposed to run a charitable institution instead of a lumber business.

A Close Call.

The family of Mr. Wm. Neill of Ormee, had a close call the other evening from being asphyxiated with coal gas. Very fortunately Mr. Neill wakened in time, and at once threw open windows and doors and let in the fresh air. He then summoned a doctor, who found considerable difficulty in restoring several members of the family to consciousness.

The Non-Coms. Class.

Sgt. Major Peters has started his non-commissioned officers class, and this second meeting will be held in the Collegiate Institute gymnasium this evening. There were ten names enrolled the first night, and the Sgt.-Major expects to see ten more members join to-night. The advantages of joining the class are so apparent that there is little use laying stress upon them.

Tableaux Entertainment.

A series of tableaux will be given on Tuesday evening, December 3rd, in the hall adjoining Bradburn's opera house. The proceeds are in aid of St. John's Church poor fund. The young ladies and gentlemen who kindly volunteered their services have devoted a great deal of time and attention to the various subjects to be illustrated, and such laudable enterprise deserves the generous encouragement it will doubtless receive. Butcher's orchestra will assist the evening's entertainment. Tickets 15c. 4d127

Creamery Association.

Mr. R. G. Murphy, the indefatigable secretary of the Eastern Ontario Creamery Association, has returned from Campbellford, where he went to make arrangements for the coming meeting of the association, January 8th, 9th and 10th, says the Brockville Recorder of Nov. 27th. He says the citizens of Campbellford are taking hold of the affair, and it is bound to be a success. Some of the leading dairymen on both sides of the line will be in attendance and add to the interest of the discussions.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

THE WHEEL.

Despite all reports to the contrary, Angus McLeod and Harley Davidson will be members of the Brantford team next year.

It is claimed that the wooden handle will be used to a greater extent next year and this winter, as the vibrations common to the steel handles, is lessened appreciably by the wooden handles.

At a recent road race in England it was found that a number of pounds of tacks had been sprinkled over the course, as the result of which nearly every wheel was rendered useless, and the race was declared off.

A new bicycle hub has been invented by a Connecticut wheelman. The hub is so constructed that the spokes may be removed and replaced without difficulty, and will not rip out. Lightness is combined with strength, as the hub weighs only about one-half as much as those now in use.

THE TRIGGER.

The Jamieson party returned last evening from the Centreville turkey shoot with their game bags well stocked with turkeys and geese. Capt. Jamieson bagged four turkeys and two geese; Davie Evans, two geese; Michael Costello, four turkeys; Billy Creamer, three turkeys; Billy Fanning, one turkey, and Jim [illegible] two turkeys. Eli Sager was there also, but his shooting being wild he did not secure a prize, he not even soiling the whitewash on the target with his No. 12. The boys had an exceedingly fine day's sport, everything passing off splendidly, considering there were sharp shooters from the surrounding towns and villages. The Jamieson party did exceedingly well in securing eighteen birds out of the fifty shot. Capt. Jamieson is arranging for a shoot the Friday before Christmas on the Riverside Park, where two hundred turkeys and geese will be shot for. Further particulars will appear in the sporting column of this journal at a future date. Capt. Jamieson's team will have an opportunity of distinguishing themselves at Cavanville on the 5th December, when there will be one hundred turkeys shot for.

ANGLICAN CLERGYMEN FOR COUNSEL ASSEMBLED.

CONCLUSION OF THE ARCHDIACONAL CONFERENCE.

Order and Liberty in the Services and Work of the Church Considered.

Upon returning from dinner yesterday afternoon in St. Luke's Sunday school, where they enjoyed a most sumptuous repast, the clergy resumed their session in St. John's School House at three o'clock.

The first paper in the afternoon was read by Rural Dean Cooper on "The Order and Liberty in the Services and Work of the Church." He said the Church must not be taken to indicate only the Clergy. Every baptized man, woman and child is a member of the church. He thought it was a fundamental error when the general Priesthood of the people in worship of the church is assumed wholly to be the ministry. The people should be allowed to do their part. The clergy of the church were the book of Common Prayer in its integrity. Every priest is bound to offer morning and evening prayer daily in the church, if possible, if not, then in private. He said the people may not delegate their part in worship to others. The Holy Communion service in that rubric which makes it necessary to have three or four people present at the celebration teaches the necessity of having the laity do their part. Other kinds of service are possible and under certain conditions allowable, but all such services should be framed on the model of the ordinary services of the church. Extemporary prayer does not foster congregational worship in anything like the way in which that is done by a stated liturgy. The bishop's charge to the clergy at their ordination is a most effecient guide. He mentioned a few points to remember—"The clergy are not the whole church." The laymen may do more effective work than they do at present. Sectism, heresy and division

SWORN TO USE

ARE GREAT EVILS.

There is great need of teaching the oneness of Christ and his church, what the church is and what it is not. It is not right to promote division. The whole subject of division is often put in a false light. The origin of the Church of England is often misrepresented. Every churchman now has abundance of work to do for the church by prayer and by vigorous aggressiveness.

At this juncture Rev. Mr. Etherington, of Sunderland, and Rev. Mr. Reed, of Uxbridge, were welcomed to the conference.

He said that the divine purpose of the church permeates even its framework. This is to be seen in our forms of worship.

THE ANCIENT LITURGIES

show that the adaptation of the church to different races, different countries and different times was along certain lines.

Rev. J. C. Davidson addressed the meeting. He said that this subject came home to the clergy every day and needs more light. The order and liberty in the service of the church were both important. He thought that all advance should be made in perfect loyalty and the prayer book traditions of the Church and the prayer book rule followed on clearly discernible lines. The reformation had not changed this. At that time the Anglican liturgical worship was only purged of foreign and corrupt accretions. It is the glory of the Church of England that she did not cast the ancient heritage of the church to the winds. He, himself, gloried in the Anglican position and the prospects before them. Our Common Prayer book was sober, is not verbose, and was really common prayer, that is adapted to the common wants and aspirations of all men. It treated men as a body and not as individual entities living and worshiping apart, one from the other. The The Church is planted in different lands. We are planted here in Canada. We must consider our position and circumstances and accentuate the Church as the Church of Canada.

Rev. W. H. French would like to see more general use of the service for the churching of women.

Rev. Mr. Read, of Uxbridge, the spoke on some of his experiences in this regard. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Roper, who spoke glowingly of the liturgy. He would like to see a selection of Psalms for different services, and when it can a revision of the Prayer Book and adaptation to our needs according to the procedure of the Church from the beginning. The prayer book is a safeguard affording as a guarantee of the future of the churches worship.

Rev. Mr. Symonds moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Roper for his presence and services. It was seconded by Rev. Mr. French and carried unanimously.

Speeches were made by Rev. C. H. Marsh, A. G. Westmacott, W. H. French and E. Daniels.

Canon Spragge said that we should be in no hurry to revise the prayer book. The great American church undertook to do so some years ago, and after mature consideration contented themselves with very little alteration of the ancient liturgy together with some enrichment from the ancient services and a few occasional services.

Votes of thanks were then passed to the local clergy and the congregations of St. John's and St. Luke's for kindnesses extended and to the wardens for the use of the church.

After a number of complimentary speeches had been made by the visiting clergy in reference to their treatment and the hospitalities extended to them while in Peterborough, the conference adjourned after signing the doxology and the pronounciation of the benediction by the Archdeacon.

NATURAL HISTORY ASSOCIATION

Organization Effected and the Officers for the Year Elected—A "Talk" by Mr. Fife on "Earthworms."

At the meeting held at Mr. Mark's house last night for the purpose of organizing a Natural History Association, there were present: Miss Mark, Miss Lough, Miss Beckett and Miss Findley, and Rev. H. Symonds, Mr. Fife, Mr. Wherry, Mr. Keogh and Mr. Denney. Several others who were unable to be present signified through friends their intention of becoming members.

Mr. Fife was chosen chairman of the evening, and Mr. Wherry acted as secretary. A resolution moved by Miss Beckett, seconded by Miss Mark, that the meeting organize itself into a Natural History Association, adopting, as its aims, those already published in the EXAMINER, was next carried.

Some discussion followed as to rules and regulations to be adopted for the guidance of members. On motion of Mr. Symonds, seconded by Mr. Denney, it was decided to require only that each member make choice of some one branch of Natural History, and pursue it, practically giving the Association the benefit of his specimens and observations, and that he take an active part in the work of the meetings.

The election of officers then followed; Rev. H. Symonds was chosen honorary president; Mr. Fyfe, president; Miss Mark, vice-president, and Mr. Wherry, secretary.

The time of meeting was next settled. It was decided to meet on Tuesday evening, once in three weeks, at 8 p.m., beginning with Tuesday, Dec. 10th, next.

A committee consisting of the President, Mr. Denney and Mr. Keogh was chosen to secure a suitable room in which to meet, and report at the next meeting.

At the next meeting the president's address will be delivered, as well as a talk on some subject by Mr. Wherry, and a general discussion by the members.

When the business of the evening was concluded Mr. Fife gave a talk on "Earthworms," using drawings to illustrate his remarks. After explaining the structure of these creatures, the speaker dealt fully and clearly with their habits and food, and went on to show the great importance of these animals to agriculture, from their habits of burrowing, pointing out that, in a few years, the whole soil to a depth of several feet was worked over by them and the surface layers buried by the mould brought up from the subsoil. The closest attention was given to the talk throughout. The meeting then adjourned.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Lassitude almost overcomes her. Nervousness and sleeplessness and pain harass her and life seems hardly worth the living.

That her sufferings are due solely to her own fault seldom occurs to her, but often it is so. Health, strength and vigorous vitality are hers if she will but ask and reach for them.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for the ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays irritating inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood. Best of all, with these remedies there is no need of detested "examinations" and "local treatment" so abhorrent to every modest woman.

Thousands of grateful women have written letters like this:

MRS. SAMANTHA M. CRANMER, of Box 36, La Roy, Bradford Co., Pa., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write these few lines in favor of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription'—the medicines which have done me so much good. I was completely run down so that I could scarcely drag myself around the house, had been getting weaker and worse for several years until I lost all hope of ever getting any better. I took four bottles of each of your medicines and am now perfectly well."

Respectfully yours,

Samantha M Cranmer

BALFOUR SENTENCED.

The Wrecker of the Liberator Building Society Gets Fourteen Years.

London, Nov. 28.—The court-room was crowded this morning when Jabez Spencer Balfour and his fellow-defendants who have been twice found guilty of frauds in connection with the Liberator Building Society and other kindred companies were arraigned for sentence. Balfour was very gloomy and spoke not a word to any one near him.

The court sentenced Balfour to 14 years' imprisonment, seven years for each conviction. Brock was sentenced to nine months' and Theobald to four months' imprisonment. Wright and Dibley were discharged. The jury found them not guilty. The remaining charges against Balfour and his associates were dropped.

REV. MR. SMITH WAS RICH.

Yet He Accepted the Proceeds of a Benefit Performance Last Spring.

Boston, Mass. Nov. 27.—The will of the late Rev. Samuel F. Smith, the author of the patriotic hymn "America," which has been made public, was a surprise to many of his friends.

It was supposed in Boston that Mr. Smith was a poor man. Last spring a committee of the citizens gave a benefit performance at Music Hall, at which something like $1600 was cleared, and presented it to the poet-preacher.

It has now been learned, upon the affidavit of the executors of his estate, that he left property valued at $45,000, one-third of which is in real estate.

Another notable thing about the will is that it was written only one day before the death of Mr. Smith, and by the testator himself.

The public bequests contained in the will are as follows: $2000 to the American Baptist Missionary Union of Boston; $1000 to the Richmond Theological Seminary, to found the S. F. Smith scolarship; to the trustees of the American Baptist Missionary Union and to the Colby University of Waterville, Me., the residue of the estate.

Big Winners in England.

London, Nov. 26.—Sporting Life will tomorrow publish a list of the winnings of owners of horses during the season of 1895. Mr. Leopold de Rothschild won $105,000; Mr. McCalmont, $80,000; Sir Blundell Maple, $60,000, and Lord Rosebery, $35,000. These four head the list. The Duke of Westminster, who is seventh on the list, won $51,000. Mrs. Langtry won $11,000; Mr. M. F. Dwyer, $3000; Mr. Richard Croker, $2000, and Lord Dunraven, $600.

Thundering Over Cup History.

London, Nov. 26.—The Times will tomorrow print a special article summarizing the history of the America's Cup contest of 1895. Most of what the article says has been said before, but in the course of its history The Times declares that the injudicious wording of the New York Yacht Club's acceptance of the challenge of Mr. Rose afforded a great temptation to make an answering statement, but it is regrettable that Lord Dunraven issued his pamphlet. The New York Yacht Club it is said can hardly make a rejoinder without the presence of Lord Dunraven or his witnesses at the inquiry. A court of inquiry with witnesses on one side only could not expect its decision to carry the weight of a considered verdict.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

To destroy worms and expel them from children or adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

Masks for Soldiers in Warfare.

Masks for soldiers engaged in warfare in the colonies, not as a defense against the sword or the bullet of the enemy, but as a protection from the no less dangerous cohorts of fevers—such is the original proposition which has been submitted to the Academy of Medicine. It emanates from Dr. Heurtop, professor at the Rheims School of Medicine, who argues that the use of this mask would prevent the germs from penetrating to the lungs of the soldier engaged in colonial warfare, who, as he is not acclimated, and is overworked, is much more liable to attack from fever than other people. In short, he maintains, it would place a barrier between the deleterious atmosphere and the organs of respiration.—London Times.

WINNIPEG NOTES.

Civic Reforms Two Railroad Men Killed —Counterfeiter Sentenced.

Winnipeg, Nov. 27.—The Citizens' Committee habe completed the task of framing amendments to the municipal act. It has been decided to have an executive of council and general superintendent, to act as intermediary between the executive and the city officials.

John Colloton, a brakeman, fell from a freight train near Holland yesterday and was instantly killed. The body was badly mutilated. Colloton was about 32 years old and was formerly employed by the Bell Telephone Co. of this city.

Robert Clark, about 30 years of age, employed as switchman in the Northern Pacific yards here, was jammed between the bumpers and killed yesterday.

George Anderson has been sentenced to six months hard labor for passing bogus Yankee money.

The Bean Market

Chatham, Nov. 27.—The Banner, in its weekly summary of the bean market says: The market has been featureless for another week and shippers all agree that there seems to be nothing to do but wait till the outside market shows some signs of improvement or continued low prices become a fixture. The receipts are very light at all the bean buying centres, except Bothwell, where Mr. Tighe reports 700 bushels taken yesterday and almost as many several days last week. The few cars that are being moved are to Eastern Canada points, one car to Brooklyn, being the only one to go across the line in the week.

Glenn & Son sent three cars to England last week and report the sale as a satisfactory one.

The rates here remain at 65c to 75c for primes, although 80c has been paid for extra samples within a day or two. Farmers' hand-picked will bring 85c.

Unloading the Nessmore.

London, Nov. 27.—The Norwegian steamer Linwood, Captain Dawson, at Greenock, from Quebec, reports having experienced heavy weather on the voyage, during which she lost part of her deck load, stove a boat, and sustained other damages.

The crew of the British steamer Nessmore, ashore on the island of Coll Hebrides, are working night and day to get her cargo out. Much of the cargo has been forwarded to Liverpool.

New Decree Against Secret Societies.

Rome, Nov. 27.—The Congregation of Cardinals has issued a new decree, couched in strong terms, against secret societies in the United States.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged—South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion. Dyspepsia Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical common-sense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" That great discovery of the century. South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person afflicted with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who used the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

CRAZY KINGS.

Rulers Who Have Gone Daft While in Power.

Bavaria's crazy King, who has now reached the stage where he insists on roaming about his dismal palace of Fuerstenried on all fours in a state of absolute nudity, constitutes a striking evidence of the fact that even in monarchical countries Kings and Emperors are altogether superfluous personages. Otto has now been made king for just ten years, and, though he has been under restraint the entire time and taken no share whatsoever in either the ceremonial or administrative functions of the government, the affairs of his kingdom have gone on in a perfectly normal manner, far better indeed than if he had been sane. Apart from any other consideration, his uncle, old Prince Luitpold, who has been acting as regent, has been content to conduct the court on the civil list which he himself drew from the national exchequer before he became Regent and the consequence is that the entire civil list of the King—which is very large—has been devoted to paying off the enormous debt left by his predecessor, King Ludwig.

The latter was equally crazy, although his mania did not attain such a disgusting form, and he died after being put under restraint. Indeed, Americans would be astonished were it to be pointed out to them how many of the monarchs of the Old World have been acknowledged lunatics in spite of their being, according to popular ideas, the anointed of the Lord and that superior authority which we are taught by Christianity to obey and respect. Thus Emperor Ferdinand, uncle and predecessor of the present ruler of Austria-Hungary, was a drivelling imbecile, reduced to that state by the epilpesy which is the curse of the house of Hapsburg, and he was forced to abdicate because it had become impossible for him to longer conduct the affairs of state.

King Frederick William IV., of Prussia, elder brother of old Emperor William, and grand-uncle, therefore, of the present sovereign of Prussia, spent the last three years of his life in a state of lunacy, his younger brother acting as regent. His mania resulted from identically the same disease of the ear with which the present Emperor of Germany is afflicted. The late King of Wurtemberg would have been deposed by his people as a disgusting lunatic had it not been for his strong-minded Russian wife, Queen Olga, who practically retained the reins of government in her capable hands, leaving him to pursue his horrible debaucheries unchecked until public opinion became so outraged that she was forced to have him placed under restraint.

The late King John of Saxony was insane, his madness coming upon him very suddenly. It was at a court ball, where he grossly insulted a young Austrian countess who had become engaged to be married to one of the proudest Prussian nobles in the diplomatic service of Emperor William I. So grave was the indignity which he placed upon her that it became necessary to immediately place him in confinement, and according to court gossip, this was not effected before he had killed one of his officers in attendance. He is generally believed to have survived his official funeral for several years, living in restraint in a monastery in one of the remotest portions of the Hartz Mountains.

Sultan Murad is now a close prisoner at Constantinople, having been deposed nearly twenty years ago on the ground of lunacy, and there is likewise the Belgian King Leopold's sister, Empress Charlotte of Mexico, who has been confined in one of her brother's chateaux near Brussels since she lost her reason, in 1867. Queen Victoria's grandfather, George III., was officially acknowledged to be insane while her uncle and immediate predecessor, King William IV., frequently acted in such a way as to leave no doubt that he was an imbecile. Empress Elizabeth of Austria has been at times eccentric to the verge of insanity, and so has the now widowed Empress of Russia, whose condition was such six years ago, after the terrible railroad accident at Borki as to necessitate a journey to St. Petersburg of the two most eminent French specialists in diseases of the mind.

The elder brother of the present Grand Duke of Baden was deposed on the ground of lunacy after his younger brother had ruled for a time in his place as regent. The Queen of Roumania spent three years in confinement at one of her brother's chateaux in Germany, her insanity, having almost wrecked her husband's throne, so great were the extravagancies of which she was guilty. Queen Marguerite of Italy spent six months under restraint in Bordighera about a year after Passanante's attempt to assassinate her husband, her nerves having been utterly shattered by the shock which she then received. Old King William of Holland, the father of little Queen Wilhelmina, passed the last two years of his life in a state of dementia, all the more difficult to put up with, owing to his violent character, his wife acting in his stead as sovereign. In his case it was manifestly inherited from his Russian grandfather, Czar Paul.

Emperor Paul's insanity was of a permanent character and particularly alarming, owing to the autocratic character of his rule, there being no parliament or any constitutional method of appointing a regent in his stead. Imagine a maniac the autocrat of 100,000,000 subjects, the irresponsible master of these lives and fortunes. Among other freaks were the ordering of his nobles to stop their carriages in the streets and to get out and kneel in the mud as he passes.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses, and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Scott's Sarsaparilla his Salvation.

Nothing blights existence like the knowledge that our appearance is repellant to those with whom we come in contact, nor is there any relief like that of feeling that the disfiguring causes have been removed. Says Mr. William Alger: My face on one side was a mass of blotches, some of which were constantly full of matter. I run a bake shop doing my own work, but my face got so bad that customers drifted away. Then I hired a man and went to a doctor. He said my blood was in a horrible condition. I sold my business and moved to the city where Scott's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me. The first bottle did me much good, and after taking five bottles my skin is as clear as possible, and not a sign of my previous disfigurement. I say Scott's Sarsaparilla is the best blood medicine going and am speaking from experience.

Pimples, blotches, boils, ulcers and all diseases arising from vital exhaustion and impure blood are radically cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla, a concentrated compound of the finest medicines ever known. Your druggist has it at $1. But get Scott's. The kind that cures.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from six prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.38	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years.....774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

THE HYAMS TRIAL.

Six Hours of Impassioned Oratory on Behalf of the Prisoners.

For six hours yesterday the jury in the great Hyams murder trial listened to the impassioned and eloquent appeals of Mr. Johnston and Mr. Lount on behalf of the twins who are accused of the murder of Willie Wells. The closing scenes of this great trial are as remarkable as those features which have already distinguished it as one of the most romantic in criminal records. The address of Mr. Johnston occupied six hours in all, and when court adjourned last evening, Mr. Lount, who is recognized as one of the most brilliant orators of the Canadian Bar, had spoken for two hours, scarcely reaching, even in that time, the great body of evidence which has been piled up day after day for three weeks past. His address will occupy all of to-day's sessions, Mr. Osler opening to the jury Saturday morning.

Thousands of people yesterday sought admission, only to be turned away, not even a foot of standing room being available in the Assize room. The gallery was crowded more than on any previous day by ladies who were anxious to hear the addresses of the counsel. Mrs. Francis L. Wellman occupied a seat at her husband's side by the barristers' table. Mrs. E. F. B. Johnston was present and heard the pathetic closing words of her husband's great effort.

At the close of Mr. Johnston's address, Mr. Lount arose and began his eloquent plea for the life of Harry Hyams.

He said: "It now falls upon my shoulders to undertake a responsibility which of itself alone is sufficient to deter even the bravest man; a responsibility which, while it is charged with the very gravest consideration, I must not avoid. I must give my very best efforts to it, even though in the doing of it I may to some extent be wearisome in detail; and I may be obliged, by reason of the long and splendid effort of my learned friend who preceded me, to repeat at some length, to present to you in repetition, arguments advanced by him and facts to which he has alluded; yet I have to pray your very best consideration—your best attention—if I do appear so wearisome.

"There is one thing at least I can say in which you will agree with me, that this long river of evidence that has been flowing for the past three weeks—rocks ahead, shoals and quicksands all around, troubles and difficulties facing us—is at last presenting, at least to me and I hope to you, the prospect that we are at last out in open sea; that the mysteries that have surrounded this case as presented by the Crown; that the difficulties that have enshrouded us in the masterful presentation of this case are at last cleared away, and that there is a harbor of refuge; that there is a resting place at last in sight; that the agonized lives of these two men for the last nine months with the gallows facing them; the rope dangling around their necks, with the awful horror of their situation; the terrible punishment they have undergone; sufferings which outside of hell itself can scarcely be more strongly depicted than when you have one man or two facing death day after day, hour after hour, night after night; haunting them in their sleep—ever with them—never leaving them. I say it is a glorious chance indeed and a glorious prospect for them when they can safely feel that all the efforts of the Crown to bring conviction home to them have failed, as I trust that you and you all at last will say.

"Suspicions, almost only suspicions, have magnified, built up and formulated in the shape and the shape only of crime, against these two men until suspicion at last in the minds of many takes the form of substance and of facts; until suspicion engendered and fostered by the press for the last nine months has more or less, perhaps a great deal more than there was any right or cause for, produced in the minds of many who have not heard the cold, clear, unanswerable truth which has been presented to you here; and I implore you one and all to dispel from your minds any one impression, any one thought, any one belief that any one of you might have had before you entered that jury box.

"I do not ask it from sympathy. I ask it as a right; I demand it for my clients; it is your sworn duty and obligation that, when you determined to try this case according to the evidence and the evidence alone, you should render your minds clear and free from the slightest impress of past thoughts or past belief.

"The man who permits, on a trial like this where life is at stake, any one thought, any one impression to prevail, does to himself a great injustice. It is to these prisoners the foulest wrong, and, as my learned friend who has preceded me has said, would be adding to this wrong legal murder. And I am sure I am talking to twelve gentlemen, who, having assumed the responsibility to try this question, will try it as the law directs, and without the slightest influence prevailing.

"One matter which I desire you to have in full consideration is that we are now on a trial after two and a half years from the alleged offence; that the memory of all those who might have shed light upon it is past and gone, and that the Crown have here undertaken the responsibility of furnishing to you at this date the treacherous and doubtful memory of the past; the dangerous, shifting, doubtful testimony of witnesses who have shown their weakness, shown their defects, shown their imporsibility to retain almost from hour to hour that which is of importance, and how can you trust memory so doubtful and so unworthy of confidence or belief?

"When this young man died, when there was suspicion in the air, when the detectives were at work, when the Crown officers were investigating, when the insurance companies were giving their most important consideration and thought to this death, when all things were open and there was no occasion for a doubtful memory, this matter was investigated by that class of investigators and investigation which such an occasion demanded.

"Then the doctor called upon the scene, having before him all the circumstances as far as eye and ear could obtain; the coroner called for the same purpose and exercised his best judgment; and when Detectives Cuddy and Davis called and, at the instance of the insurance companies, I believe, applied all the skill with which this force is said to be possessed of in the investigation of this matter, and the answer to all that investigation was absolute innocence, no cause of suspicion, no idea of wrongdoing; these prisoners remained here in this city without the slightest attempt at leaving; they lived as they had lived, they acted as they had acted, they remained in their business, they remained in their homes, they did not flee from any suspicion of guilt within themselves, but they were here until February of this year, when the arrest took place. Now, I ask you with confidence to assume that when these men were asked to go and inform the uncle, it being said there was something the people talked of, by the fact that Mr. Cuddy was making careful enquiry regarding the insurance, that their staying here, facing all chances, running all risks, is one of the strongest indications of innocence that you can possibly have, especially where you have men like these, that were bound under no obligation to remain in this country; men who had, according to the Crown, within a very short period after the death of Wells, obtained a large proportion of this money; who were largely in debt, as the Crown alleges, and who, if dishonest persons, were at liberty to go, taking the fruits of their fraud with them.

"Innocence will stand and face the accuser or face danger, but guilt will always, more or less, seek some escape. The very guilty soul itself would drive the guilty man to flee from the place of danger to a place of safety. We have to take the proposition of the Crown; it is for you to see how far we meet it.

"The press took it up and wrote those villainous articles so their papers could be sold upon the streets, or to be attractive. I ask your keeping that in consideration, and endeavoring with all the ability I possess, I appeal to you not for their forgiveness, not for a verdict resting upon any doubts you may have, but an absolute acquittal on the ground that they have been shown to be wholly innocent."

Continuing, Mr. Lount said that it was the duty of the Crown to establish that there had been an unlawful death before they dare impeach his client with the guilt of murder. "Where is the evidence upon which any man in that box can say that an unlawful death has taken place?" At the close of the Crown's case, Mr. Lount claimed there had been no such case made out, and he asked for a verdict of acquittal independent of the evidence for the defence.

The theory of the Crown as to the scheming of the prisoners for the placing of the insurance upon the life of Wells for the purpose of slaying him, and the succesful consummation of these plans in the death of Wells on Jan. 16, 1893, was reviewed by Mr. Lount, who said that if these circumstances could be satisfactorily explained by the defence, the whole position of the Crown would be swept away.

TRIED TO KILL HER HUSBAND.

Elizabeth Green Attacks Jacob Green With a Knife.

Belleville Intelligencer.

Elizabeth Green, a white woman living in Deseronto, was committed to gaol this morning to await her trial on a serious charge. She is married to an Indian named Jacob Green, but their married life has been by no means happy. About a year ago Mrs. Green was convicted of attempting to burn her husband up by setting fire to his bed, and she served a term in gaol.

Recently she attacked her husband with a knife, but was unsuccessful in her effort to end his existance. She was brought before Commissioner McCullough yesterday for a preliminary hearing, at the conclusion of which she was committed to gaol to stand her trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction.

GRAVEL, A KIDNEY DISEASE.

One of the most painful results of neglected kidneys is known as gravel.

Lime and uric acid combine to form small stone-like substances.

These granules being sharp and rough set up local irritation in the urinary ducts and the resulting misery is indescribable.

Pain in the loins, straining, cutting pains, and scalding, during the passage of urine, chalky and brick-dusty sediments, are a few of the symptoms.

If the trouble is allowed to go on from worse to worse, life is not worth living.

And yet we have testimonials of cures by using from two to six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Edwin Rakestraw, of Germania, Ont., endured this sort of misery fourteen years.

He had to be relieved with instruments from time to time.

He got relief in four days and was cured by two boxes in four weeks.

Another man was too ill and weak to work for fourteen months and was cured by a few boxes in two months.

You see a cure is easy when Dodd's Kidney Pills are used.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have never been recommended for anything outside of kidney diseases.

People have tried them in sheer despair for many diseases thought to have no connection with kidney complaints. When they cure, as they invariably do, the user learns something, for nearly every disease arises from deranged kidneys, and they learn this truth,

The British Army.

The annual returns of the British Army issued recently, contain some very interesting figures. On June last there were 222,151 men and officers in the regular army—being the highest number reached during the twenty years for which statistics are available. The army reserve numbered 82,674, being slightly in excess of the previous year; the militia (enrolled) 131,607; yeomanry, 10,014, and volunteers, 231,328 enrolled, or 224,525 efficient—the latter figure being 5,414 above that of 1893, and the highest yet reached. In the event of a great national emergency we could raise the regulars to 300,000, and have besides over 300,000 militia and volunteers.—London Spectator.

PLEA FOR THE TWINS

Mr. Lount Concludes His Brilliant Effort

AMID THE MOST EAGER INTEREST

The Mighty Osler Opens His Address for the Crown—The Consideration of the Jury Claimed Upon the "Hard Facts" Brought Out in Evidence.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—The end of the great murder trial is at hand, and in a few hours the Hyamese twins, who have been the centre of so great interest for four weeks' past, will know whether the scaffold and the hangman's noose, or sweet liberty shall be their lot.

Perhaps this continet has never before witnessed so great a struggle of debate in a criminal court as that which for two days has waged in the York Assize Court. The address of Mr. Lount, lasting six hours and 15 minutes, was one of the most masterly efforts of Canadian criminal trials. The Crown's side of the case occupied the learned counsel's attention for four hours. The circumstances which the Crown allege point to guilt were boldly and fearlessly taken up, each in its turn, stripped of the bloody, lurid glare, which Mr. Lount claimed was given it by the testimony of Aylesworth, and turned with a masterful hand into indications of absolute innocence.

It was remarked that while Mr. Johnston denied in toto that the prisoners were in any way connected with or responsible for the insuring of the life of Wells, Mr. Lount took the opposite, and admitted that the insurance was placed at the instance of Harry Hyams, who, unable to insure his own life, induced Wells to allow his life to be insured in favor of the sister whom, he, Hyams, intended to marry. While Mr. Johnston's position was the more difficult to successfully maintain, it was felt by many that the admissions of Mr. Lount were extremely dangerous for the lives of their clients.

Notwithstanding this, Mr. Lount's address was full of strong and telling arguments against what he termed "the buttresses of the Crown's case." It was divided into several heads, and at the close of the arguments of the evidence, on each of these, a passionate and pathetic and eloquent appeal was made for the benefit of any doubts which might linger in the minds of the jurymen on the clearness and sufficiency of the evidence on the point dealt with.

"Gentlemen, my task of analysing all this mass of evidence, is drawing to a close; I have no more to say upon the facts than I have already said. I might go over it in greater detail, but I feel my duty is done, my work fulfilled, if in the main points of testimony I could obtain your consideration. There only remains for me to ask you to put from your minds all preconceived notions or obligations, and judge this case solely and only by what you have heard sworn to you here. Do right by us; don't do wrong; do justice by us.

"Two lives are hanging upon your words; two lives that have not been happy for many a long day; two lives that have lived almost together—brothers—twins in aspect and physical formation; twins in life; gone through, God knows, great suffering; and as I appeal to you, are innocent men. Oh, gentlemen, just for a time think of the terrible agony that they are going through in days; weeks and months gone by; and if they be, as I ask you to say they are, guiltless, oh, what have they not suffered; and if they be guilty, what have they not suffered? Could hanging them by the neck make them suffer more? They have suffered a thousand deaths; they have passed through a thousand agonized dying moments. But, that is no reason why you should acquit them if they be guilty; but, oh, it is a reason why you should give them the benefit of all doubt. Supposing you say they are guilty! Look a few days hence; a short time from now they are passing on their way to the gallows; the bell is tolling; their hour is near. Gentlemen, take off the rope; take it off, for if you pronounce them guilty, you may err and you cannot recall the life you have taken; and all through your lives it will rest upon your memory that you failed to give them that which the law said they ought to have—acquittal if there is doubt. Can there be anything else but doubt, is not this case built upon doubt and uncertainty? What part of the testimony can you take and say, that is certain and we are convinced? If you cannot possess yourselves of these facts you should not take them.

Mr. Lount's closing peroration was as follows:

"Gentlemen, there is not far from here an old widowed mother; she bore them in her youth; she has clung to them in her old age; and she prays for them now. That old life has not long on this earth; but let her have the happy knowledge that that which was born of her are not villains, are not murderers; let her clasp them to-morrow night if you can, close to her bosom with a prayer to God that they may never leave her more; let Harry Hyams' wife, now sick and near to death, let her know that her husband is not guilty; do not break the silver cord that is almost broken now, but help her to live with joy that her husband is free; and as for that woman who has been here once or twice broken hearted—the wife of Dallas—hungering for her husband; for the love of God, let her have her husband once more."

"With reference to any opinion His Lordship may give you upon the evidence, great difficulties have arisen in English-speaking communities. Some judges let it be well understood how they view the evidence; others carefully refrain from doing so. In some of the States of the neighboring country the law prevents the judge from expressing an opinion on the evidence. It is an embarrassing matter for the jury, they being bound to honor and respect the judge; they being bound to find on the evidence what they are to do.

During Mr. Lount's pathetic peroration a hush almost like the stillness of death fell over the court room, and during the momentary intervals between his sentences the sound of a falling pin could have been discerned several yards away. Hundreds of ladies had crowded into the court room and gallery, and tears flowed freely when touching reference was made to the widowed mother praying for the acquittal of her boys, and the waiting wives who watched for their return.

Mr. Lount closed at exactly 3:13 p.m. and before the hand of the clock had indicated the flight of another 60 seconds, Mr. Osler was before the jury. He gave no place to rhetoric or eloquence. His attitude and his words were those of a man who had no time for polished expressions and well-worded sentences; no time for anything but the presentation of the hard, stern facts, and a demand that mercy and sympathy be laid aside; that the cry of justice be satisfied. His arraignment of the prisoners was even more pitiless and severe than at the last trial. The brightness of expression that was manifest in the countenances of the prisoners during Mr. Lount's address gradually wore away as Mr. Osler proceeded, and finally gave place to a pitiful look of harrowing fear.

Mr Osler's Reply.

Mr. Osler soke as follows:

"If the eloquent sentiments which my learned friend who last addressed you expressed were to prevail in a court of justice, no one with friends to suffer would be punished. People who propose to commit crime should not call upon jurors to think of their friends; they should think themselves of their friends before the crime is committed. If they are not merciful to their friends, it is not for you to be merciful if crime is made out. You are here, gentlemen, in the most responsible position men can be placed in; you are here for the time, judges of act, in the high court of justice; you have to bring your intelligence and your moral sense to bear—your strong intelligence—in this case; and the product, if founded on the evidence and evidence alone, is justice, right, very right.

"The quality of mercy is not here at all. You cannot, you must not, let that enter into your consideration. A man may forgive a fellow-man an offence against him as an individual—he is told to forgive him seventy times seven—but where the public trust you; where you are not acting for yourself, but for the public, there you have no right to give away that which belongs to another department; you only have to do the duty, and that duty is to endeavor to do the right, no matter what the consequences may be. You, I know, will not be terrorized by what my learned friends have said, you will not deviate from the path.

"My learned friend, Mr. Johnston, said your verdict might be treated as 'legal murder.' My learned friend, Mr. Lount, pictured to you the procession to the gallows. These are suggested to you to ask you to deviate, but they must not weigh with you at all. Get into your minds the beauty of right, and once that possesses you all other considerations are past. What you have heard from the press, from the individual, from my learned friends, are gone, if you once realize, as I know you will, the responsibility that is upon you.

"I remember once in a case being anxious some days after the trial had been going on because it was discovered one of the jurors was akin to the accused.

"The trial went on and that man realised the sense of right so strongly that he was foreman of the jury bringing in a verdict of guilt, although it turned out afterwards that he had been approached, as being akin and the hope of the defence rested upon him. That man realised that when a jury has to be approached it is evidence of guilt and he recognized that, above kin, was the sense of doing his duty by his country and by the prisoner, and when he had delivered himself of that he could look any man in the face, for he had done right."

Continuing, Mr. Osler said that it was the duty of the Crown to bring out the truth, and if they did not do that all prisoners with powerful friends and money at their back could put up a defence. In speaking of the credibility of the defence witness, Mr. Osler pointed out that when a man wanted to tell an untruth all he had to do was to keep in mind the time. The only way to examine such a witness was to test his memory on points that concern himself. If you believe the evidence for the Crown, you must discard the stories of these defence witnesses.

One or two things he complained of in the defence, and one was that Mr. Lount had referred rather bitterly to the attempt of the Crown to introduce irrelevant testimony. It is true, said Mr. Osler, that evidence tendered for the Crown had been ruled out, a dozen, yes, a score of times, but he claimed that he was acting in the discharge of his duties as a Crown officer, and had acted fairly in every way.

The other cause of complaint was the cheques which represented the money secured by the prisoners before the marriage of Harry Hyams and Martha Wells. Mr. Lount had led the jury to believe that the money was used for purposes of investment. To offset this Mr. Osler read an admission by Mr. Lount to the effect that it was not intended in his address to convey the impression that the money thus secured was used for investment or was in any way represented now by securities.

The finances and business of the prisoners was incisively dealt with by Mr. Osler, who pointed out that the profitable business conducted in the warehouse and referred to by Palin, netted the twins, in six months, according to Palin's books, a profit of $31, while the warehouse at the same time was costing them $2080 per year. The documents of the Express Company proved that the monthly remittances from New York and New Orleans were for the mother, who spent her summers in Muskoka and her winters in Florida. More than that, the same documents showed that when the mother went to Florida the remittances ceased, to begin again when she returned. Prior to the death of Wells $15,000 had been received, and the evidence tells us that the furniture in the Gould-street house cost $12,000. Was this money applied to furnish that house? The money owed to Lane, Grandige and other people was not reverted to.

Debts met them everywhere, pressing debts, the aged mother is in Florida, and they have not the monthly remittances to take toll from. "Get this desperate financial condition in your mind, said Mr. Osler," and we will take the next step.

The Dallas applications for insurance were read, and the significance of the dates pointed out. The proposal was that these two men should carry $75,000 worth of insurance on the most expensive plans. "Let us see whether or not this was honest. The actual charge upon them per annum was for the Wells policy alone over $5000. These men were at the time paying 5 per cent. on the little money secured on the office furniture.

"Having realized their financil condition, ask yourself if that insurance was honest. If it was not honest insurance, it was murder. How was it paid? We find that just at the time when the $1000 had been received from New York for the mother, they paid the first premium on the policy. It arrived just in time for these men to get their toll and pay the premium.

"Why, then, did Dallas apply for a policy for $50,000? It was to show the New York Life that they had a greater interest in Dallas than they had in Willie Wells. If Dallas was guilty of murder, then they would have to pay the $50,000 on his life. How were the premiums on these policies paid? Out of the dead man's money. The first payment made to the New York Life, except a trifle, was the sum of $1290.40 on the 18th day of April, the day in which the Hyamses got the $2500 cheque from Martha Wells.

"They were paying back the New York Life in their own coin; they had not the money, they had no means, and it was with part of the money they got from the New York Life that they paid the first substantial payment upon this. And apart from that $1290, it is a significant fact that Dallas drew out of this fund just about enough too pay the balance of the insurance premiums, and then when danger was passed the policies were dropped.

"Now, is that a fair and reasonable deduction? If it is not, are our papers inaccurate, are the facts misstated? It is for you to draw the deduction not me; it is for you to find the truth and it is only for me to point out what are undeniable facts.

"Now, remember that greed is at the bottom of more than half the crime, that greed induces men to scheme complicated things, let us take up other lines and we will see that all fingers point to the body lying in the basement.

"The engagement was necessary for the crime. Harry Hyams could not insure Wells' life in his own favor, and he proposed to control Martha. The sequel shows he was in a position to control her. The results justify their calculations that they could secure the money. Do the results justify you in concluding that there was that calculation?"

The cost of the endowment policies was severely dealt with by Mr. Osler, who said that there was nothing in it for the insured except in premature death. These were the policies by which the insurance companies built the large buildings and the magnificent offices. Where was the money to keep up this policy to come from? What was the purpose of it? These men were not used to butcher, but where was the financial daylight, except over the body of their victim?

The mercantile agency and its alleged profits was analyzed, and the significant fact pointed out that not a single subscriber had been produced, or a single person who ever received a report from them. Miss Lattimer was spoken of by the defence, and the question asked why she was there. "I don't know why," said Mr. Osler, "unless it was they thought that as she was the friend of Wells, he would be less restless with her there."

"Taking the preparations in the warehouse, there was the old-fashioned freight hoist, as the witnesses say, used by Imrie & Graham, and giving better satisfaction the last two months than ever it had before. Why all this changing and tinkering with the hoist, the changing of the weight, and the building of the platform? If you answer that you have gone a long way to conviction. Why all this? They must have a hook that could come off.

"Fox wouldn't operate it with the light weight and they cut it in two and made it even lighter. Why? It was wanted. Why did they cut it? They cut it because it was 26 inches long and the other was 19 inches. It was too long to pull out on the platform, and they had to have it cut in two so that they could pull it out and manipulate the weight from above. What was the design of that platform upstairs? Was there any design to have so light a weight that there would be an apparent accident with the cage falling? They were groping towards a safe way of killing. Their plans did not come to them at once. What does Fox say? 'You are always monkeying with that weight.'

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

AN EXCELLENT CAUSE.

The age is prolific in philanthropic organizations having for their object the practical application of the spirit of Christianity to the various needs of mankind. Of all these none is, perhaps, more deserving of the aid and countenance that will insure its success, than the Children's Aid Society, inasmuch as it is in its aims and operations preventive, as well as curative, of the evils of our social condition. The public are sufficiently well acquainted with its objects not to require any reiteration of them. The public, who will respond to any appeal to their better natures, have, we are sure, only to be reminded of the expediency of doing their duty in the regard involved by this society, to atttend to it practically. All who have heads to think and hearts to feel recognize such a duty. It is acknowledged the world over that prevention is better than cure, and this is included in the functions of this society. Children who are exposed to vicious surroundings, and especially vicious home influences, are rescued and placed in homes and under conditions of rearing and training such as go to the making of our best class of citizens, and this in contrast to the lives of vice they would eventually lead as adults if they were not rescued by the beneficent intervention of the C. A. S. In view of the fact that the state saves money in the expenses attendant upon the administration of justice by having the raw materials of criminals metamorphised by the work of the society into law-abiding God-fearing and wealth-producing citizens, it would seem that it is the duty of the state, represented by both the Province and the municipality to financially aid the organization to much greater extent than is done at present. Lack of funds is one of the chief drawbacks to the work of the local society. True, there are the energy, zeal and philanthropic enterprise of the members and officers, and abundance of sympathy; but sympathy, soothing and grateful as it is, is, at the best, a very defective lubricant to oil the wheels of any organization that has practical work to do. Any that have sentimental sympathy to bestow on the Children's Aid Society will find it heartily appreciated; but there will be no less cordial appreciation of practical sympathy in the shape of money or clothing — when this is called for—or of direct personal effort. The excellent work done by the society in Peterborough has been done under financial conditions that would have daunted the courage of anyone whose heart was not in the work as deeply as the officers and members of the society. That these persons have spent more than they received, is abundant evidence that they are at heart interested in this work—financial sacrifice is the touchstone of sincerity. How much more could have been done if the sinews of action had been available more abundantly! Under these circumstances the public is particularly urged to remember—and in propria persona, too, the concert to be given in the interests of the funds of the Children's Aid Society, in the Opera House on December 13th. On this occasion an excellent programme is presented, well worthy the attention of all lovers of high class music, independently of the good object of the concert. A combination of these two considerations should pack the Opera House on that evening.

SCOTLAND'S PATRON SAINT.

THE DAY SACRED TO HIS MEMORY.

How it Will be Celebrated and why it Should be Celebrated—St. Andrew's Biography.

Wherever Scotchmen are to be found—and they are as universal as land and water—there, there will be festivity to-night. For to-day is St. Andrew's Day, the feast day of all Scotland, and every man who can boast that in his blood is a strain of that rich red blood which flowed so freely at Bannockburn, at Preston pans—ay, and at Culloden, too—feels it his bounden duty to honour the occasion as his circumstances permit.

Not, indeed, that the Scotchman has, as a general thing, any particular veneration for the worthy saint himself, for—tell it not in Gath—there are more sons of the heather who do not know who St. Andrew was than there are who do, but the festival in its yearly occurrence means to them all an opportunity of testifying to their undying affection for the Auld Mither.

From John O'Groat's to Berwick-on-Tweed, in the castle of the noble and in the hovel of the cotter to-day sees celebrated in some way or other the glorious death of the patron saint, the patriarch with flowing hair and beard who is ever represented as bearing the tree on which his life was sacrificed.

On the heated plains of India, in Africa, Australia, on that lonely rock which guards the Mediterranean, wherever the white and blue of St. Andrew's banner are to be seen on the folds of the Union Jack, yes, and to the south of us, where so many citizens of the Great Republic find their proudest boast in their common origin with all of Scotia's sons, wherever Scotchmen can forgather, there was toasted "The Day an' A' Who Honor It."

It would be a useless task here to detail the many ways in which the Scottish festival will be celebrated in Canada.

But who was St. Andrew, by the way? Somewhere in the back of the brain of the average Sassenach, there lurks an idea, primarily, that the saint is dead and, secondly, that he was a Scotch gentleman who live in Edinboro' or Glasgow several centuries ago. That his diet was composed entirely of kail, brose and parritch, that he could tell John Dewar from Glenlivet a mile away and that his chief occupation, when not playing the bagpipes, was dancing the Highland Fling. Many, too, hold the belief that the holy man died from an acute attack of indigestion brought on by an over-indulgence in a favourite dish known as "haggis."

Nor is the degenerate Sassenach aforesaid to be altogether blamed for so erroneous an impression, or series of impressions, as he has generally gathered this pot-pourri of inaccuracies from his recollections of various Scottish celebrations.

To such it will come as something of a shock to learn that St. Andrew was not only not a Scotchman (though a Scotchman will say that he would have been a much better man if he had been,) but that he was never in Scotland. Concerning his career there is much uncertainty, to be sure, but it is at least pretty clearly established that he was crucified at Patrae, (wherever that may be) on November, 30th, A.D., '09. The reason of his selection as the patron saint of Scotland is a curious one. According to one tradition, King Hungus, the Pict, while carrying on a campaign against the Northumbrians, had a dream, In those days, when a king had a dream something was liable to drop, and if his majesty announced at breakfast that his slumbers had been disturbed, the Lord High Chamberlain generally had visions of the royal sabre neatly severing his spinal column. But King Hungus' dream, like the little boy's kitten, was not that sort of a dream. It seems that St. Andrew had appeared to him and had assured him of a complete victory over his foes. The next day the cross of St. Andrew appeared in the air and sure enough the Northumbrians were defeated.

One would think that the saint's faculty for picking a winner would have ensured him a position as a patron saint at once, but, alas for the frailty of saintly hopes, it was not until many hundreds of years that Achaius I, of Scotland, when making an alliance with Charlemagne, instituted the original order of the Thistle, and selected St. Andrew as patron saint of the order and of Scotland.

But what has all this to do with St. Andrew's dinner at the Huffman House on December 2nd? some impatient reader may ask.

Much, sweet reader, much. For if there had been no St. Andrew—nay, even if he had not acted as he did to King Hungus, it must be obvious that there would be no dinner, and that would be a gastronomic, social, national and patriotic calamity.

Still there can be no profit in turning over the dry bones of a dusty past, while there is so much flesh and bload, throbbing with life, remaining to be described.

A truce to all these doubts and uncertainties. Whether there was ever such a person as St. Andrew, or whether there was not, whether he was a Dutchman or a Turk, what matters? We have now to deal with facts, and Monday night there will be held the annual banquet of St. Andrew's Society, and it will be, as in the past, an occasion of complete enjoyment.

As everybody knows, this historic event is looked for as the opening of the winter season, and not only will it mark the beginning of the festive season but will emphasize the existence of a society that before the long dreary winter is past will cheer the heart of many a poor unfortunate, for even Scotchmen with their magnificent thrift, are sometimes "down on their luck."

The only inheritance many receive from their ancestors is impure blood. Fortunately, it is in everyone's to transmit a cleaner heritage to their posterity by the simple use of Ayer's Sarsparilla, the only blood-purifier admitted at the World's Fair.

CIGARETTE SMOKING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The evil of cigarette smoking among the boys seems to be increasing to an alarming extent. The teachers of public schools and colleges, parents and guardians all unite in saying that the number of boys from 5 or 6 years upwards who spoke cigarettes is surprising. This, too, when any person selling or giving tobacco of any kind to a minor under 18 years is liable to a severe punishment. One teacher told me that he was satisfied over 50 per cent. of the boys smoke cigarettes. Parents complain that their boys get them. Dealers assure me that they do not sell to minors, but the boys induce young men to buy and divide with them. But what is the most surprising feature is while most parents are trying to prevent their boys smoking there are a few so lost to the interests of their children's welfare as to encourage a practice that will unfailingly destroy their health and intellect and throw them on the world wrecks of humanity. A grocery man of this city told me to-day that the father of a family sent his little boys to him for cigarettes; he refused them. The father sent an order; he again refused. The father came himself, purchased the cigarettes and gave them to his boys. I am not done with that father yet. Not long ago the Principal of a large educational institution in the United States reported that the only young men who failed at their finals were cigarette smokers, and so far as he knew not one succeeded. I know a young man in this city, an inveterate smoker. He is just out the limit in age, I have always had a high regard for him; both on his own account and that of his friends. I have for a number of weeks watched him closely, and I am satisfied he is doomed soon if he does not call a halt. He is becoming thin in flesh, complexion sallow, a dark circle around his eyes, hesitating in his manner, and changed all around from the rosy cheeked boy of a few months ago.

Yours,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

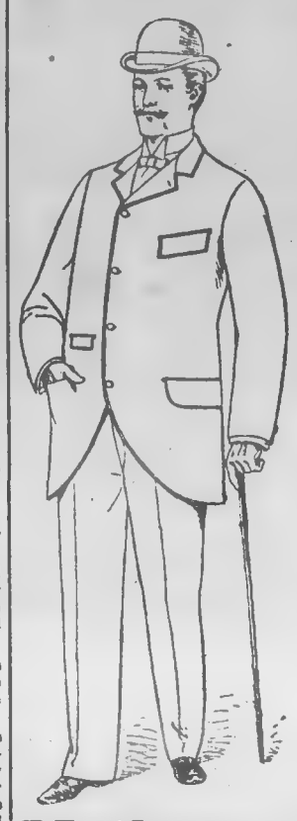
Middle Aged Men



Generally like to have their clothes comfortably fitting as well as stylish.

They're the hardest men to please in dressing. Young men want style rather than comfort—old men don't care for style if comfort is present—but the middle aged man wants and must have both. We've made a study of the middle-aged man and his wants. We know exactly how to make clothing that will fit and fit easy.

Your money back if you'd rather.

Working Suits.

We never sell a suit of clothes that does not look well. We have made a reputation on our working suits and those just put in our new stock will fully sustain our popularity in this line. While they were made for general service no point of good finish has been overlooked. The material is strong, durable and comfortable, the cut neat and handsome, the price right.

Our new stock of Fall Overcoats and Ulsters is now complete. There is not a coat in the whole lot but what you can depend on.

Mothers, who Have Boys

We would like to speak to you about our stock of Boy's Reefers, Overcoats Ulsters and Suits. Come with your Boy to Oak Hall—come and see the goods, just the right kind for present wear—come and we will be pleased to try on—and consider it no trouble if you don't buy.

Physicians

prescribe Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites because they find their patients can tolerate it for a long time, as it does not upset the stomach nor derange the digestion like the plain oil.

Scott's Emulsion is as much easier to digest than the plain oil as milk is easier to digest than butter. Besides, the fish-fat taste is taken out of the oil, and it is almost palatable. The way sickly children, emaciated, anæmic and consumptive adults, gain flesh on Scott's Emulsion is very remarkable.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

THE ARMY.

Proclaiming Full and Free Salvation to All.

A SOLDIER TELLS HOW SHE WAS SAVED.

She Says: "I Thank God for the Wonders Paine' Celery Compound Accomplished for me."

General Booth and his vast army of salvationists are now a mighty power in every quarter of the globe. Their drums, music, soul-inspiring songs and prayers are stirring up the cold callous, indifferent and wicked in every country under heaven and they are accomplishing a work that puts to shame the united efforts of all our Christian churches.

The members of the Salvation Army endure trials, hardships and persecutions as did the valiant apostle Paul in his time. Many of these faithful Salvationists labour on from day to day, suffering from thorns in the flesh, no doubt of a like character to that endured by the great preacher to the Gentiles; but, a merciful and wise Ruler, has, through science, provided for His afflicted and diseased servants.

Mrs. H. Herbour, of Winnipeg, Man., a faithful veteran of the great Salvation Army, was for a time obliged to give up active work owing to the agonies and sufferings of heart disease, kidney trouble and general weakness.

Knowing well that her grand work demanded a strong and vigourous body, she wisely determined to use Paine's Celery Compound, after hearing what it had done for the tens of thousands in Canada. The results were surprising to herself as well as to her brother and sister soldiers. Mrs. Harbour's experiences with Paine's Celery Compound induced hundreds of other Salvationists to seek a new physical life from the same great medicine.

Reader, this same wonderful Paine's Celery Compound will do a like work for you, if you are ailing and suffering. Your friends and neighbours have tested it, and it has made them well and strong, after they failed with the common medicines of the day.

Mrs. Harbour writes as follows, with the view of benefiting all sick people:

"It is with great pleasure that I write to thank you for your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. Some time ago I was very sick and happened to see one of your publications, in which I read of others being cured. I concluded to try Paine's Celery Compound myself, and I now thank God for the wonders it accomplished for me. I was suffering from heart disease, kidney trouble and general weakness; and some days was not able to stand without experiencing great pain; my appetite was also very poor. Since I used the Compound I am able to get about the house and work, and can now eat anything put before me.

"I trust my testimony may lead many to try you valuable remedy."

PLEA FOR THE TWINS.

"Why did they say there would be an accident? Were they preparing for one? These are considerations for you, gentlemen. I only give them to assist you in coming to your conclusions.

"Down to that warehouse Monday morning were to come Aylesworth, Wells and Miss Lattimer, who got there about 9 o'clock; Wells sometimes a little later. There is undobuted evidence that they sent Miss Lattimer out. H. P. Hyams, who had never been at her home before goes there himself on Saturday with three letters, letters which Her Majesty's mail would carry to their destination for 6 cents just as quickly as she would; and he leaves the three letters and 25 cents to cover car fare and have them delivered Monday morning before she comes to the office.

"Why was there any urgency? Why before she came to the office? No hurry about the letter to Mrs. Burgess. If there was urgency it was on them through their counsel to show it. Was it honest, or was it preparation for what followed? Aylesworth says he got his errand and went east on seven names, an errand they know will take all morning. Was it the same reason that made them send Miss Lattimer out?

"Then there is the other message. Willie must come to the office early, he is wanted. What is he wanted for? Are not all these stones of the same building, the outline of which spells murder?

At this point the court adjourned.

Mr. Osler's address will likely be concluded before adjournment for lunch, with a probability of a verdict before midnight. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper occupied a seat beside His Lordship, Mr. Justice Ferguson, while Mr. Osler was speaking.

WAS AN IRISH PEER.

Death of Count Taafe, Formerly Prime Minister of Austria.

Vienna, Nov. 29.—Count Edward Taafe, formerly Prime Minister of Austria, died this morning on his estate at Flischau, in Bohemia. He had been ill for several months with heart affection and subsequent pyaemia.

Count Edward Francis Joseph Taafe was born in Prague, Feb. 24, 1833. He was Viscount Taafe of Corren and Baron of Ballantyne, Sligo, in the Irish peerage, Count of the Holy Roman Empire and a life member of the Herdenhause of Austria. He was brought up along with Emperor Francis Joseph, whose intimate friend he was. He entered the Imperial service in 1857 as society of the Hungarian Government and was appointed Governor of Salzburg in 1863. In 1867 he became Austrian Minister of the Interior and Vice-President of the Cisleithan Ministry. At the end of 1869 he served as Minister President and in 1871 accepted the office of Governor of the Tyrol and Vorariberg. He was conspicuously opposed to anti-Semite agitation. In 1893 he put forward a carefully elaborated political program, which met with general opposition and led to his retirement.

WINNIPEG CIVIC POLITICS.

The Labor Party Will be In Evidence—Good Lumber Prospects.

Winnipeg, Nov. 28.—Civic politics absorb public attention just now. Besides a discussion of the civic reform proposals, the mayoralty contest excites keen interest. The candidates are D. W. Bole, wholesale druggist, and R. W. Jamieson, barrister. The Labor party are exerting a strong influence in the aldermanic contests, having candidates in three wards, two of whom are yet unopposed. This promises to be the most exciting election of many years.

William Margack, Crown timber agent for the Lake of the Woods district, who is in the city, says ten million feet of logs, half a million ties and four thousand cords of stave bolts will be taken out this winter. There will be 750 men employed.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day," performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though, (as may be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award the credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore, of the highest value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of the claim that Maltine Wine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel" and affirms that "it is a wonderful sustainer." This preparation may be had at any drug store.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Rev. Father McColl, of Ennismore, will deliver a charity sermon at Vespers in St. Peter's Cathedral, to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock, for the benefit of St. Vincent de Paul Society, for whose charitable funds a special offertory will be made. The Society has done a noble work for the poor in the past and its appeal for funds should meet with a liberal recognition.

The Dixon Park Matter.

At a meeting of the Property Committee, last, night, Mr. A. E. Dixon's letter in reference to his intention to resume the ownership of Dixon Park unless the town showed its appreciation of the gift by bestowing more attention upon it, was taken up, but no decisive action was taken until Mr. Dixon could be seen and his wishes regarding the matter more fully ascertained.

They Owe us $800.

The Ashburnham council met with the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night in regard to the settlement of the debt owing the town for according fire protection to the village. At first the Ashburnham councillors contended that nothing at all was owing the town, but they were soon argued away from this point and shown that there was an outstanding debt of $800. The village councillors offered $600 to "jump accounts," but the town held out for $800 and as neither side seemed inclined to give in the matter still stands unsettled.

Cheese Cheques.

Business should have been good with our merchants to-day. Yesterday was settling day with most of the cheese factories, and cheques were issued to the patrons for their season's milk, and a large number came to town this morning to have them cashed at the different banks, and many farmers would naturally spend a portion before they returned home. Patrons are generally well pleased with the season's operations, though prices have been lower than heretofore. Mr. T. Blezard, M.P., has been 25 years salesman of the Westwood factory and says he has never at any settling day seen patrons less inclined to find fault, though the prices were not up to a high mark.

The Lock Company's Stockholders Meet

A meeting of the stockholders of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co'y, to consider the propositions of the Bank of Montreal and the Auburn Woollen Company, with reference to the question of whether the Company would remain in their present premises or remove to the site offered by the Auburn Company, was held on Friday evening. The matter was talked over, but no definite action was taken, except an adjournment for one week.

A TRIO OF ACCIDENTS.

A Broken Nose—A Broken Wrist and a Severed Finger.

While engaged in coupling cars on Meldrum & McAllister's siding yesterday afternoon Mr. Robert Henderson, of McDonel street, was struck violently in the fall by a flying coupling pin, which was forced from the socket by the concussion, incidental to the cars coming together. Examination showed that his nose had been broken by the blow, but as it was he was lucky, his physician stating that if the blow had been received a little higher up death might have resulted instantly.

Fred Shambo, of 95 Rubidge street, fell from a trapese in a King street gymnasium, through the carelessness of a comrade, last night, and broke his wrist.

Through accidentally allowing his finger to get under the knife of a heading machine in the Canadian General Electric Works, yesterday, John Cooper, of Bolivar street, lost the index finger of his left hand.

"No Good Without the Other."

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. Only a few minutes inspection of Oak Hall's men's suits, overcoats and ulsters—almost the first you look at—will convince you that our clothing and our prices are right.—OAK HALL.

A Good Resolve

Among the good resolutions to start off the New Year with would be a determination to stop using tobacco. Let this year end the tobacco habit with the self-respecting men of Peterborough. They can carry out their resolutions very easily by starting on a box of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure at once. By using it until New Year's they won't want any more tobacco, and can start 1896 with a clean mouth. JAS. LYNCH, Druggist, keeps it.

Both Teams to Work.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee will recommend that the two teams in the fire department be worked alternate days. When this matter was brought up about a year ago, it was pointed out that in the event of both teams being trained to run out to the engine trouble, would be caused when the bell was rung, as if it was at a time when the four horses were in the stable, all would probably make a wild break for the fire hall. This argument, however, will hardly hold good, as fire horses usually grow very intelligent and would soon learn to know what they were expected to do.

The High Prices Had to go.

And they are gone now. The Bordeaux Claret Co. killed the long prices for Clarets, Burgundies and Ports. It puts a good wine upon your table at $3 and $4 a dozen quarts. This is astounding. It is without precedent. For the great thing was to keep up the price. It was an article of faith that you could not have a good cheap wine. Fiddle sticks! Rot! The Bordeaux Claret Co. do not care a straw for dignified labels. They are selling a fine, supple, wholesome wine for a little over the price of beer, and people all over the country are ordering it. It is for general consumption. One can drink a bottle of wine now with his dinner and feel that he has not swallowed an estate. Good wine for the million at nominal prices. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Newcombe Piano Sale.

Mr. W. A. Shaw, Octavius Newcombe & Co.'s traveller, has returned from an eastern trip and reports business good. Mr. Shaw says the fact of the Newcombe having competed at Chicago and having the honour of carrying away the highest award, has established beyond a question that the Newcombe is the leading piano manufactured on this continent. While absent Mr. Shaw had the pleasure of selling Dr. Tovell, of Sydenham, a Newcombe upright, as a Christmas present for Mrs. Tovell. C. Stewart, Esq., P. M. of Harrowsmith, also purchased a Newcombe as a Christmas present for his accomplished daughter; while Conductor Laidley, of the B.Q.R., presents his little Gertie with a Newcombe this Christmas. Mrs. Dowley, of Tweed, after trying cheaper pianos, decided that the best was not too good for her daughter, and purchased a Newcombe. Mr. Shaw comes home thinking this a fair week's work. 1d Argument for Advertising.

The way the public at large look at advertising is forcibly shown by the utterance of a well-known Philadelphian, formerly of Washington, who was walking somewhat out of his way to reach a florist's. When his attention was called to the fact that there were florists nearer, he said: "I am seeking this man because he advertises in the newspapers. The man who advertises is always up to the times and he is easier to deal with. You laugh, but I tell you it is a fact. I have studied this over and and I know from personal experience. For the last few years of my life I've made it a rule never to deal with any business man who doesn't advertise. I wanted some flowers to send off in a box by mail, and I looked in the paper this morning for the advertisement of a florist. Now you see he wants to deal with me—else he wouldn't put that in the papers. I don't know any of the places here; but the rule is a good one and I'll bet you anything you say that I can get what I want at this place and get it cheaper than anywhere else or at any flower place that keeps its name out of the newspapers. The business man that doesn't advertise almost invariably cheated me, on the theory, I presume, that I'd come there anyhow—or that his reputation was made and that he could do what he pleased. I have always found such a man narrow-minded, selfish, non-enterprising, penny-wise and pound-foolish, even if he didn't cheat me outright. No sir; I never buy anything of him.'

Palpitation of the Heart Defined.

Palpitation of the heart is perhaps the most common symptom of heart disease, and is defined as pulsations that are perceived by the patient. It comes on in paroxysms, with intervals of more or less freedom from attack. The heart may begin to beat violently; it may pound against the walls of the chest; the vessels may throb in the neck; the eyes become suffused and the head ache; or, on the other hand, the heart may be very rapid and very feeble, so that the pulse may consist only of a series of rapid and almost impalpable waves.

Those suffering from palpitation or fluttering of the heart should not delay treatment a single hour. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will always relieve this trouble within the first half hour, and for this reason is regarded by physicians generally as the greatest known remedy for the heart. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

ARCHDIACONAL CONFERENCE ECHOES.

St. Luke's Luncheon Amenities—Toasts and Responses.

A very pleasing feature of the Archidiaconal meeting held in Peterborough this week was the excellent speeches made at the luncheon at St. Luke's school house. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, in an excellent speech, proposed the toast of the Bishop of the Diocese. In his absence the Rev. Canon Harding, of Apsley, the oldest clergyman present, returned thanks. He referred to the exciting election of 1879, when the present Bishop was elected. Until the casting of the last ballot he had voted against him, but finally with many others withdrew from the opposition and had never regretted it. He was sure the Bishop would be much gratified to know that his health had been proposed and so cordially received.

Mr. John Burnham, M.P., proposed the health of the Ven. Archdeacon Allen and the clergy of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough. He made special reference to the growth of lay work in the Church of England in recent years, and emphasized its value. The toast was received with the utmost enthusiasm and musical honours.

Archdeacon Allen, who has laboured so many years and with such fidelity and success in Cavan, was much affected by the cordiality of his reception. He made an admirable speech in which he warmly thanked the clergy for their co-operation in making the conference the success it had undoubtedly been. He concluded by proposing the health of the Rev. J. C. Roper, of St. Thomas church, Toronto, who had conducted, to the great help and profit of them all, the devotional part of the conference.

Mr. Roper briefly replied, expressing the pleasure which it had given him to be present at such an important gathering.

Rev. W. J. Creighton, of Bobcaygeon, returned thanks to the ladies for their bountiful lunch.

The beautiful flowers which adorned the lunch table were presented by Mr. J. H. Cobb, Aylmer street, and his thoughtful kindness is very greatly appreciated.

A FAKIR OR CRAZY—WHICH?

Strange Actions of a Frenchman Over in Lindsay

"Lindsay Watchman"

A Frenchman by the name of Felix Massau, visited town three or four week ago, purporting to come from Manitoba. He stated that he had fallen heir to $10,000 and was so pleased to meet persons whom he claimed were relatives and that he was only too anxious to see them all doing well. Among them was a widow in very poor circumstances, whom he wished to befriend in his own peculiar way. He proposed purchasing a house, furnishing the same throughout, and let his poor relation live therein until she should again marry, in event of which she was to retain the house and pay a rental of $6 per month. This was highly acceptable and he called on Mr. D. Hallinan, a near neighbor, who has several houses for sale. He inquired the price of one, but finding it so good a bargain he decided to buy two at $2,200. He had the property surveyed, visited the registry office and made a thorough search into the title. He then secured the services of an attorney to prepare the necessary deeds, selected and ordered carpets, stoves, and furniture. The merchants, however, withheld the goods until the cash should be forthcoming. He also let a contract for fencing the same with wire. He lived with his friends as an honored guest for about eight days, and succeeded in borrowing a five dollar gold piece from the widow whom he wished to befriend. Everything looked nice up to the day on which the papers were to be signed and the money handed over for the property. He had carried the little game as far as it would go, and knowing it, he arose early in the morning, eat an apple, went through the pockets of his friends, folded his tent and like the Arab stole away. For a time nothing was heard of him, but a few days ago he was seen in the vicinity of Lorneville where he was negotiating for the bogus purchase of a farm. This gent should be corralled and given a term in prison or an asylum to enable him to get over his craze for speculating in his mind. Bailiff Kirkfield a few days ago to make a seizure of a farm, and found Massau there, negotiating for purchase of said farm, for his cousin, Mr. P. Massau, of Lindsay. The bailiff supposed it was all right, but on his return to Lindsay he found out differently.

With the Sweetness of Melting Foam

Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency, for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

St. Luke's Annual Tea and Sale of Work.

Several entertainments this year have been described as the "the event of the season." Those who used this language must have forgotten THE event of the season, viz., the annual tea and sale of work at St. Luke's school house. As usual the ladies, under Mrs. John Burnham's presidency, have a quantity of useful and ornamental work for sale at reasonable prices. The tea will be of the usual bountiful description and a pleasing entertainment will also be given, Thursday, Dec. 5th, at 5 p. m. Tickets 25c.

The Ground Floor Photographic Studio, Charlotte Street, has a reputation for first-class work. It is now in charge of one of the best practical photographers in Ontario. Call and give him a sitting. You are sure to be satisfied.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Last night a delightfully successful social was held at the residence of Mr. T. Blezard, M.P.P., Otonabee. The social was under the auspices of the Westwood Methodist church, but it was by no means a Methodist social, for the very large attendance included English church people, Presbyterians and Methodists in about equal numbers, and gave special significance to the social features of the evening. Refreshments of an excellent quality and generous abundance were served.

Mr. John McMullen occupied the chair, and gave a brief address, as did also Mr. Blezard. Miss Comstock and Miss Black gave a vocal duet, and Misses Blezard and Miller a pianoforte duet, Miss Blezard also giving a fine pianoforte solo. Messrs. D. Hunter, Hugh Bowie and Hugh Lancaster supplied a mouth organ and piano trio. Rev. J. Peake made a brief speech. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Blezard for his hearty hospitality during the evening, and a most delightful evening came to a close with the singing of "God Save the Queen" and the benediction.

DAILY MOTTO.

Saturday, Nov. 30th.

"Work on I and working right manfully you will find that day by day you are working out your own salvation from every morbid doubt and fear. Live on, the very best and fullest life that you can. Live cheerfully if you can, but manfully always; and he that endureth to the end shall be saved."

Still must we sow like tillers of the earth,
Still hope for good proportioned to our needs,
Still work with action all the days of dearth,
And if the rain come it will find our seeds.

New Teachers Recommended.

The Committee on Appointments of the Board of Education met last evening to recommend the names of the teachers needed for the extra rooms in the addition to the South Ward School.

Cold in the Head

And Headache cured in 5 minutes. Catarrh cured in a week by using Dr. Hunt's Magic snuff, 25 cents box. For sale by J. D. Tully and H. S. McDonald and all druggists.

The Ruling Passion.

A correspondent writes a letter to the EXAMINER strongly endorsing Rev. Canon Dumoulin's anti-betting crusade, but oddly concludes by asserting that he will bet two to one that nothing practical will come out of it.

The Dinner

Is always the centre of attraction. Housekeepers plan to have the bill of fare extra nice; but the surest way to have it pass off right is to draw on John J. Howden's meat market for your beef and other meats. 'Phone 39.

Special Course of Sermons at St Luke's.

To-morrow evening at St. Luke's the Rev. H. Symonds will commence a special course of sermons on "Law." The subject for to-morrow evening will be "The Reign of Law in the Spiritual World." The other sermons of the course will be, "The Law of Habit," "The Law of Retribution," "The Law of Reward," "The Law of Love."

For Mother's Darling.

We catch the little fellows with attractive styles in Oak Hall overcoats, ulsters and suits—the same elegance and excellence as in our clothing for men. If your boy is not altogether different from other boys, we think, with our immense stock at your convenience, we can fit them perfectly for a very little price.—OAK HALL.

Tableaux Entertainment.

A series of tableaux will be given on Tuesday evening, December 3rd, in the hall adjoining Bradburn's opera house. The proceeds are in aid of St. John's Church poor fund. The young ladies and gentlemen who kindly volunteered their services have devoted a great deal of time and attention to the various subjects to be illustrated, and such laudable enterprise deserves the generous encouragement it will doubtless receive. Butcher's orchestra will assist the evening's entertainment. Tickets 15c. 4d127

Died at the Nicholls' Hospital.

The death of Annie Smyth, wife of Jas. Sandham, of Fraserville, occurred yesterday at the Nicholls' Hospital, at the age of 38 years. The deceased was afflicted with gangrene, and although an operation was performed, the disease was too far gone for an operation to be effective. She was born in Cavan, and although having no children to mourn her loss, her death will be sincerely regretted by her aged husband and by her brothers, Rev. W. Smyth, of Petrolia, and Thos. and George Smyth of Fraserville, as well as by her sister, Mrs. Neithercutt. The funeral takes place Sunday afternoon from the family residence, Fraserville to the Baptist cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. McKee.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

SELF DENIAL WEEK.

A Week's Special Practice of This Sublime Virtue of Salvationists.

A few days ago it was announced in THE EXAMINER that the Salvationists throughout Canada and Newfoundland are having their self-denial week from November 30th till December 7th, inclusive. Consequently the most strenuous efforts are being made on the part of the Army generally throughout the Dominion, and locally in the separate towns and villages where the Army operates. One would conclude from the contents of their official gazette, the "War Cry," as well as from some special pamphlets and appeals which are being distributed by the soldiers and officers that they evidently intend this year's total to far exceed last year's. It is a cause for surprise that the amounts collected during past self-denial weeks in Canada have been continually increasing, and there are many reasons for believing that this year's effort will exceed any former one. It is said that many of the officers and soldiery have actually determined to live on bread and water (others next to it) in order to raise more money and reach the goal aimed for. Soldiers have been told off to visit from house to house and solicit contributions. In other places members of the Army's brass band have arranged to serenade, and by this means raise something towards the target.

A PEACH.

Not of the Fruit Species and Yet a Sort of Northern Spy.

Hotel men to-day are singing, with a knowing wink, "There's a new coon in town."

"Who is the new coon?" one of them was asked.

"He's a peach," was the reply. "Not peaches and cream, nor anything of that sort," the speaker continued, "but just a plain whisky peach."

"He's one of these fellows"—the speaker was warming up to his subject—"he's one of these fellows that comes around with seven or eight changes of raiment, bobs up serenely in any establishment selling after hours, appears in the Police Court against the offenders, makes a boodle out of the saloon keepers' fines and then flits.

"He's registered to-day, and will probably do the town to-night and to morrow. If during that time he finds an open house, there will be some police court cases on Monday or Tuesday, and he will have money enough to get hence to another field of labour.

"Oh, he's a bird, a regular canary bird. But he can't find anything to do in this town. Our hotel men have had a lesson on the evils of Sunday selling, and his proportion of the fines raked in this round will not make him a millionaire."

This seems an easy way to make money, but if, as the speaker says, hotel men are living within the law, the profits ought to be few and far between. In other words, if there were no field for the informer to profitably operate in, his talents would be forced into some other channel and there would be no more "whiskey peaches.."

PERSONAL.

Miss L. Trollope is on a visit to Lakefield friends.

Mrs. Kendry passed a quiet night and is a great deal better to-day.

Miss Emma Scollard, of Young's Point, has been visiting friends in town for some time.

Mrs. Brodigan, who met with an accident on Thursday last, has sufficiently recovered as to be able to leave her room.

Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., of the George Street Methodist Church, will deliver missionary sermons at Bethany to-morrow.

Miss C. Quinn left this morning for Calgary, N.W.T., where she will reside for the future with her uncle, Mr. T. McLean, formerly of Lakefield.

The Rev. B. C. Andrews has been appointed to the Curacy of Holy Trinity Church, Toronto, in succession to the Rev. Frank DuMoulin, and will commence duty there on the 1st January.

A telegram from Chicago last night reports Mr. Jos. Hurley, son of Mr. T. Hurley town, in a fair way of recovery, although his life has been despaired of during the past week, as the result of a surgical operation for appendites.

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, of Cleveland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city is in town on a short visit with his mother. Mr. Ritchie, since leaving Peterborough some 19 years ago has been very successful, and he has numerous friends here who are always glad to see him return to his old home.

Dr. Shaw, of Keene, passed through town last evening en route for Toronto. He received an urgent message to come to the bedside of his father, Rev. Dr. John Shaw, whose condition has assumed a serious character. He has not recovered consciousness, except for a very short time, since he was injured by a street car a short time since. The concussion of the brain was more severe than was thought at the time of the accident.

Big Shipment of Turkeys.

Probably the largest shipments of turkeys in Canada will be made to-day by Thomas Seldon, of Ingersoll, who intends shipping five car loads, containing in all some 8,000 birds. The birds have all been purchased in the vicinity of Ingersoll and represent about 600 farmers. The total value of the shipment is estimated at $8,000, and about $7,000 of this has been distributed among the raisers. This will be Mr. Seldon's only shipment. The fowls will all be securely packed and shipped direct to Liverpool, travelling via Montreal and Portland.

—The numbers have been received from Messrs. LeSimple, Jarvis and Dunn, for the concert in aid of the Children's Aid Society. The concert and the object are well worthy of the extensive patronage which they are receiving.

—The (C.S.A.) Children's Aid Society wishes to thank Col. H. C. Rogers, Mr. Burton Brooks, and Mrs. A. Nicholls, Mrs. W. Pringle and Mrs. F. Miller, for donations of clothing, also Mr. R. Neill for a pair of boots.

—Principal Grant, in an address on John Cairns, stated he taught 150 pupils in every subject from the classics to the primary class. Nowadays it was said a teacher had too many pupils when there were only 50 in a class, and all studying the one subject.

—Venison is now selling for two cents a pound in Michigamme, Mich. but judging from the wholesale slaughter of deer now going on in the forests of that section there will not be any venison at all in the market of Michigamme next year.

—The annual special service under the auspices of St. Andrew's society, is this year very appropriately to be held in St. Andrew's church, to-morrow evening. Rev. A. McWilliams will preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

—The Lindsay Watchman says:—"Recently Mr. Geo. Matthews, of this town, received a communication from his English representative, stating that he had never seen pork sell so low on the metropolitan market as at the present time. The price rules at 3d or 6c.

—W. G. Wright reports having seen a white deer while hunting in Kaladar, seven miles from Tweed last week. The animal was a mile or so from him and was being closely pursued along the side of a mountain by hounds. It appeared to be much larger than the ordinary deer.—Tweed News.

—Woodstock barbers have agreed that after the first day of December, 1895, having received the name of any person owing for work in any other shop in town, they will refuse to do any work whatever for the said person until the same is paid to the barber to whom it is due. A scale of prices was also adopted.

—The several butcher shops in town are making an excellent display of meats at the present time, and the prices for choice roasts and steaks were never so low. This is as it should be. Times are hard, people have to live, and in a rigourous climate like Canada meat is about as much "staff of life" as bread. The latter is always fluctuating in price; while up to the present meat has remained at the same figure all the year round.

THE BOY LAFLAMME.

The Son of a Leading Merchant Cured of Diabetes.

In a Few Weeks After Remaining in Bed for Several Months Under Medical Operations Arthur LaFlamme Gets Well.

Special to the Examiner:

Pappineauville, Que., Nov. 30.—Investigation of still another case of cure past common belief, your correspondent on inquiry found the father of the boy Laflamme to be a leading merchant here. On gaining an interview he said:

"My little by Arthur, after scarlet fever taken about one year ago, instead of recovering, developed the symptoms of diabetes.

"His body was swoelen to nearly twice its usual size, and tests of the urine showed as high as 45 per cent. of sugar. He was treated and several times operated upon by first-class physicians without a cure. The sufferings of the little fellow were very severe, and we despaired of any help whatever.

"But about three months ago we commenced giving him Dodd's Kidney Pills. The result in that short time is that the swelling has entirely left him, and the lad is playing about with others the same as ever.

"Here, Arthur," said his father, "this gentleman wants to see you."

At this a boy came romping towards us apparently in a convalescent condition after a severe illness.

"He was confined to his bed for three months. I have paid over $100 to the doctors, but Dodd's Kidney Pills is the doctor wanted in this case.

"And these Pills have also cured me of dyspepsia," said Mr. Laflamme."

FOR
Football.

The brutality attributed to football affects the few; the suffering from exposure to the elements, affects the multitude of spectators, laying a foundation for disease that often results fatally or in prolonged illness. Prolonged exposure to cold and fatigue causes Pneumonia.

The lucky exceptions are the wise ones who carry and take "77." It acts like a warm blanket to ward off the the cold. It keeps up the circulation—revives the drooping spirits—prevents numbness and chill, the forerunners of serious colds. Carry it, take it, and be safe.

Many a boy starts out in life with the firm determination of conquering the world. He means to achieve success and wealth and fame. His intentions are good, and his will is strong. If he has the bodily strength to carry him through, his efforts will be crowned with achievement. Bodily strength and health are his greatest capital. Without them he can hope for nothing. How many young men and young women are cut off just when the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. Consumption has been considered incurable, and the medical profession has never made a greater mistake than this. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections. There is no reason why the child of consumptive parents need ever have consumption if its blood and lungs are strengthened by the proper use of the "Discovery." All who have any reason to fear consumption, should read the chapters on that disease in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great medical work of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, has reached a sale of over 680,000 copies. It will be sent free of charge on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A GRATEFUL LETTER.

A PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND LADY SPEAKS FOR THE BENEFIT OF HER SEX.

Was no Appetite, was Pale and Easily Exhausted—Subject to Severe Spells of Dizziness and Other Distressing Symptoms.

TIGNISH, P.E.I., May 30th, 1895.

To the Editor of L'Impartial.

DEAR SIR,—I see by your paper the names of many who have been benefitted by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I feel that I ought to let my case be known as I am sure that many women will be benefitted as I have been. For a number of years I have been almost an invalid. I did not know the nature of my malady. I had a tired feeling, being exhausted at the least exertion. I had no appetite and was very pale. I sometimes felt like lying down never to rise. A dizziness would sometimes take me causing me to drop where I would be. During these spells of dizziness I had a roaring sound in my head. I took medical treatment but found no relief. My husband and father both drew my attention to the many articles which appeared from time to time in your paper concerning the cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At first I had no faith in them, in fact I had lost faith in all medicine, and was resigned to my lot, thinking that my days were numbered in this world. Finally, however, I consented to try the Pink Pills. I had not taken them long before I felt an improvement, and hope revived. I ordered more, and continued taking the pills for three months, and I must say that to-day I am as well and as strong as ever, and the many ailments which I had are completely cured. I attribute my complete recovery to the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and hope by telling you this that others may be benefitted by them.

MRS. WILLIAM PERRY.

After reading the above letter we sent a reporter to interview Mrs. Perry and she repeated what she had already stated in her letter. Her husband, William Perry, and her father, Mr. J. H. Lander, J. P., and fishery warden, corroborated her statements.—Ed. L'Impartial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People make pure, rich blood, restore shattered nerves and drive out disease. They cure when other medicines fail and are beyond all question the greatest life-saving medicine ever discovered. Sold by all dealers, but only in boxes the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Pills offered in loose form, by the hundred or ounce, are imitations and should be avoided, as they are worthless and perhaps dangerous.

Bragged too Much.

Bragging has brought Kansas into a sorry strait again. She has been astonishing the world for some time telling about her 400,000,000 bushel corn crop of this year, but now the crop is gathered and measured she finds herself compelled to sell her 200,000,000 bushels, the actual crop, at the low price set by her inflated estimate of 400,000,000 bushels.

TORIES AND GRITS

Summoned to Ottawa by Official Proclamation

FOR THE COUNTRY'S BUSINESS.

The Faithful Senators and Commoners Requested to Meet in Ottawa on January 2—Cause of Low Water in the Lakes—General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The Canada Gazette to-morrow will contain a proclamation extending greetings to "our beloved and faithful the Senators of the Dominion of Canada, and the members elected to serve in the House of Commons, commanding, and by the tenor of these presents, enjoining you, and each of you, all and all others in this behalf interested, that on Thursday, the second day of the month of January next, at our City of Ottawa, aforesaid, personally you be and appear, for the despatch of business, to treat, do, act and conclude upon those things which in our said Parliament of Canada, by the common Council of our said Dominion, may, by the favor of God, be ordained."

The Department of Railways and Canals has had referred to it from the Marine Department a request of shipping interests centering in Toronto for a scientific explanation of causes of low water in the lakes last season. The matter will probably be investigated at the earliest possible moment. It seems to be the impression of some members of the Marine Association that the deepening of the Galops channel has had an influence upon the water level of the great lakes, but this theory is scouted by experienced navigators of the St. Lawrence route. They contend that no changes of any kind in the St. Lawrence channel, below the Niagara, can have any possible effect upon the outflow of water from the lakes above the cataract.

Mr. William Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has received a letter from General Laurie, M.P., asking to be supplied with information in regard to the light dues charged in this country. The general also enquired as to the number of lighthouses outside of the Dominion the Government of Canada supported. The writer will probably be informed that the Government maintains seven lighthouses which are not on Canadian territory, although they are stationed at important points on leading routes of navigation to and from this country.

Latest reports received at the Department of Trade and Commerce indicate a substantial revival in business in Demerara, which colony has, in common with other sugar-raising countries, suffered from the prevailing low prices of recent years. Writing to the Deputy Minister, the Canadian agent says: "Business has been depressed of late owing to the dry season, but as the estates will soon be in full operation for the crop season, and sugar prices since my last communication are on the increase, the colony looks forward to better times. The disturbance in Cuba has also tended to assist in the improvement of the prices of cane sugar."

The agent reports exports to Canada during the past quarter as follows: Sugar, 1553¼ tons; molasses, 9600 gallons, rum, 12,100 gallons.

A prominent official of the Government, whose duties are largely in connection with matters of trade, expressed the opinion to-day that the levying of an embargo upon Canadian sheep landed in British ports was but a covert form of protection, made by way of concession to the farmers of Great Britain, in the same way as the importation of live cattle was prohibited, with the idea of securing to him the benefits of the home market by legislation which cannot be called protection.

The marine authorities have ordered the steamer Quadra to be placed in the dry dock at Esquimalt for repairs. It is expected this it will iecost about $5000 to repair the damages which the vessel sustained by going on the rocks on the British Columbia coast.

A. W. Ross, M.P. for Lisgar, in a private letter to a friend in this city, says that there was no foundation for the story that he is to succeed Mr. William Smith as Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Although Mr. Ross does not say so, he is now practically out of politics. He has been appointed resident director and general manager for the Province of Ontario for the Colonial Mutual Life Association. While Mr. Ross will in all probability be found representing Lisgar during the next session here, much of his time will be taken up with his new duties, and it is not in all likely that he will be a candidate for Parliamentary honors at the next general election.

Among this week's notices of application to Parliament is one from the Board of Trade of Toronto, to amend the act of incorporation, in so far as relates to their gratuity fund and the administration thereof, and for enabling the Board of Trade to make such changes in the manner of working the gratuity fund as they see fit.

The Montreal Island eBlt Line Railway Company, which created such a stir before the Railway Committee year before last, will seek a number of changes in its charter.

Application is made to incorporate the Lake Ontario Transfer Company.

The Kingston, Napanee & Western Railway will ask for an extension of time.

REV. MUNGO FRAZER, D. D.,

Of Hamilton, Ont.—The Well-Known Presbyterian Divine, Pastor of Knox Church, Hamilton, Ont., has Used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and Tells its Virtues.

Few ministers in the Presbyterian Church of Canada are better known than the Rev. Mungo Fraser, D. D., of Hamilton. His great talents have been over and over again recognized in the church courts. As a preacher he has few equals, and the people of Knox Church, one of the largest Presbyterian churches in Canada, believe he stands at the head of the list. He had suffered, as so many in his profession suffer, from cold in the head—a serious hindrance to those who have mental work to do. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder was brought under his notice, and over his own signature he has told of the great benefits it has conferred on him, as it does on all who use it.

One short puff of the breath through the Blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this Powder over the surfaces of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves in ten minutes, and permanently cures Catarrh, Hay Fever, Colds, Headache, Sore Throat, Tonsilitis and Deafness. 60 cents. Sold by druggists. Sample bottle and blower sent on receipt of two 3 cent stamps. S. G. Detchon, 44 Church street, Toronto. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

To destroy worms and expel them from children or adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

When you want a life like photograph, with perfect finish and at reasonable figures, go to the Ground Floor Gallery, Charlotte Street.

A PRINTER DIES SUDDENLY.

The Foreman of The Woodstock Times Office, Formerly on The Toronto World.

Woodstock, Nov. 28.—Joseph Abbott, who for six years has occupied the position of foreman in The Times printing office, died shortly before noon today, from peritonitis, after an illness of only two days' duration.

Mr. Abbott was a man of many amiable qualities and a much respected citizen. Before taking the position of foreman of The Times here he worked in The World office, Toronto. A wife and three children—two boys and a girl—are left to mourn.

J. G. Short and James Dunlop, trading under the name, style and firm of The Thomas Organ Co., assigned this afternoon for the benefit of their creditors, to Franklin H. Wright of Toronto. Inability to make colections is the cause given.

Handsome Blonde From Toronto.

Whitby, Ont., Nov. 28.—Mrs. J. E. Fox, a handsome blonde young woman from Toronto, was charged in the Police Court here to-day with infraction of the Medical Act. She came here ten days ago and got an introduction to many of the best women in Whitby through a series of free lectures at the rooms of the W.C.T.U. The evidence shows that Mrs. Fox has been prescribing for female diseases, making charges of from $3 to $15 for advice and remedies. These last are three only—a salve, a spray for the nostrils and pills. The case was enlarged till Monday.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

DEAR SIR:—I have suffered from Eczema for two years; tried different kinds of medicine. I was at the hospital for some time, and was told there that all had been done for me that could be done. I ceased treatment at Christmas. After leaving the hospital I was under the care of a Hamilton physician, but got no relief. I have taken four bottles of Kootenay Cure, and I am now well and free from Eczema. Yours very truly,

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—There is very little doing, and the feeling is rather easier, owing to lower prices of wheat. Straight rollers are quoted at $3 to $3.10, Toronto freights.

Bran—Market is unchanged. Bran is quoted at $11.50 to $12, Toronto freights. Shorts, $13 to $14.50.

Wheat—Offerings are fair and the demand restricted. White and red winter offer at 63c, but this is too high for millers. A car of No. 1 Manitoba hard sold at 69c west, and 73c is asked for grinding in transit. No. 1 is quoted at 64c, Midland.

Peas—The market is unchanged, with sales to-day at 58c outside west.

Oats—The market is steady, with demand moderate. White sold to-day at 23½c to 24c, the latter middle freight. They are quoted at 25½c on Midland.

Barley—There is a moderate demand for malting barley, and prices are firm at 45c for No. 1, 40c for No. 2, 35c for No. 3 extra. Feed barley 29c to 30c.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet and prices steady. Sales were made to-day at 32c east.

Oatmeal—Business quiet, with prices unchanged at $3 on track, and small lots at $3.25.

Corn—Trade dull and prices nominal at 33c outside.

Rye—The market is quiet, with the price unchanged at 45c east.

Commission prices: Butter, choice tub, 16c to 17½c; bakers', 10c to 13c; pound rolls, 18c to 20c; large rolls, 14c to 15½c; creamery tub at 20c to 20½c, and rolls at 21c to 22c. Eggs are firm at 17c to 17½c per doz. for ordinary, 14½c to 15c for limed, and 20c for new-laid. Cheese, Sept., 9½c to 10c.

BRITISH MARKETS.

Liverpool, Nov. 28.—Wheat—Spring, no stock; red, 5s 2d to 5s 3d; No. 1 California, 5s 3d to 5s 4d; corn, 3s 3¾d; peas, 5s 11d; pork, 53s 0d; lard, 37s 0d; heavy bacon, 27s 6d; do., light, 28s 0d; tallow, no stock; cheese, white, 44s 0d; do., colored, 45s.

London, Nov. 28.—Opening—Wheat off coast nothing doing, on passage rather worse. English country markets steady. Maize off coast quiet, on passage dull.

Liverpool—Wheat futures steady at 5s 1¾d for Nov. and Dec. and 5s 2¼d for Jan. Maize quiet at 3s 3¾d for Nov. and Dec. and 3s 2¼d for Jan., Feb., March and April. Flour 17s 3d.

Paris—Wheat 18f 75c for Dec. and flour 41f 50c for Nov. and Dec.

Effects Must be Taught in the Public Schools.

State Superintendent Charles R. Skinner, of the department of public instruction, has issued an official interpretation of the law enacted by the last legislature, providing for study of the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics, in connection with physiology and hygiene, in the public schools. The new law, which went into effect August, 1, it appears, has not been fully understood by all the teachers and superintendents of schools. Numerous enquiries as to what should be done have been received at the office of the department of public instruction in Albany. In answer Mr. Skinner says the subject embraces tobacco in all its forms and opium, morphine, coffee, tea and all mixtures into which alcohol or any other narcotic enters. It shall be taught as thoroughly as arithmetic, grammar, geography, reading, writing and spelling or any other subject prescribed in the course of study. The length of each lesson must be determined by the local school authorities, and should be of sufficient length to insure such instruction as will prepare pupils to pass required tests. Superintendent Skinner also directs that the course of study must be arranged for each grade in every school below the second year of the high school, and as all pupils cannot read equally well, the law provides that text books shall be graded to the capacities of primary, intermediate and high school pupils. Teachers must also give oral instruction four times a week for ten weeks to all pupils who cannot read. The new law says particularly that "no teacher shall be licensed who has not passed a satisfactory examination on the subject and the best methods of teaching it." Mr. Skinner says that his provision re-enacts and emphasizes one of the wise requirements of the law of 1884, which has been strictly enforced. One of the most important questions, about which a great deal of uneasiness has been felt by the teachers and school superintendents, is that one which refers to the payment of state school moneys. The law is very emphatic. It says that "no state school money shall be paid for the benefit of any district, city, normal or other school until the officer or board having jurisdiction and supervision of such school has filed with the officer whose duty it is in each case to disburse the state school money for such school an affidavit made by such officer, or by the president or secretary of such board, that he has made thorough investigation as to the facts, and that to the best of his knowledge, information and belief all the provisions of this Act have been faithfully complied with during the preceding school year." This law took effect August 1, yet the letter of the law cannot be complied with, inasmuch as the apportionment of state school moneys is made at different times and by different methods. "A strict construction of the law," says Superintendent Skinner, 'would require normal schools, teachers' training classes and teachers' institutes to comply with 'all the provisions of the act, including the requirements of the first section, but this is manifestly impossible. Normal schools could not comply with that section without employing more teachers and purchasing more books, for which no appropriation has been made. To deprive them of public money would close them. Therefore, presidents of normal school boards, instructors of teachers' training classes and conductors of teachers' institutes will be required once each year after July 31, 1896, to make affidavit only that 'adequate time and attention have been given to instruction in the best methods of teaching this branch during the preceding year.' These affidavits will be made to the state superintendent of public instruction."

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour

Another Point of New.

"I thought you said that you would never marry," said the "old woman" when the "new woman" had told her of her engagement.

"Well, I did," admitted the "new woman" candidly.

"You asserted, as I recall it," went on the "old woman," "that a progressive woman like yourself should devote her time to the work of enlarging woman's sphere of action, and that for that absolute freedom was necessary."

"But marriage—"

"My dear, the sphere of action is all right, but upon looking at the marriage question from another point of view I discovered that I was wrong as to that feature of our grand new movement. I must have some one to support me while I am enlarging the sphere."—Chicago Post.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

LOWE FARMERS KICKING AGAIN.

They Decidedly Object to the Expense of the Military Expedition Being Saddled Upon Them

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—It is stated that there is a prospect of further trouble in Lowe Township. A good deal of dissatisfaction prevails owing to the cost of the recent military expedition being saddled on the municipality. The ratepayers may attempt to frustrate any move on the part of the new council to issue debentures for the cost of the recent expedition, which amounts to $4000. If the ratepayers of Lowe refuse to allow the new township council to perform its functions in issuing debentures for the amount, County Solicitor Major states that he will levy an act of apportionment on each ratepayer to cover the costs and subsequent costs. If the ratepayers do not pay up within 15 days of the service of notice upon them the bailiffs will again invade the township, and if any resistance is offered the militia will once more be called out to restore law and order.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Rheumatism of 20 years' standing radically cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Sarah Browning, an estimable resident of the Ambitious City, was for twenty years a sufferer from acute rheumatism, and her restoration to health is so remarkable that we present the case for the benefit of our readers, many of whom are doubtless sufferers from this painful complaint which arises from blood poison. Mrs. Browning says: "I used only one bottle of Scott's Sarsaparilla and received such benefit that I continued taking only at intervals for two months. That is seven months ago, and the pain has not returned. I had spent a fortune in various "treatments" and was told by one medical man that a cure was impossible as I had suffered so long."

Scott's Sarsaparilla cures by making and keeping the blood pure. It increases flesh by digesting flesh-forming foods. It is the most successful medicine in the world to-day, for dyspepsia, nervous troubles, rheumatism, sciatica, syphilitic afflictions, pimples and all diseases originating in a foul condition of the blood. Dose from one half to one teaspoonful.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XL.

A True Story.

[The following communication came as a letter to the editor of this column, and after mature consideration and consultation with an officer of the club he decided to publish it.]

More than three years ago three men occupied a hundred-acre farm in the province of Ontario. After the death of one, the two remaining continued to hold the farm. They did not rent it, but held it in purchase from a loan company, paying so much a year interest. Their circumstances, however, were not any better on this account, for they were required to pay as much in the shape of interest as the farm would have brought in the shape of rent even in better times. They also laboured under other difficulties. They owed $400 to a money-lending retired farmer, $75 to a merchant, and $40 to a farmer labourer. The yearly payments demanded of them were $191 to the loan company and $27 to the money-lending farmer, amounting altogether to $218 a year. This they have tried to raise on a farm worth, to an ordinary tenant, about $125 a year.

Some way out of the difficulty must be found. A thought struck them. The farm labourer to whom they owed $60 was honest, industrious and the possessor of substantial savings. Persuade him to assume the burden, at the same time assuring him of its lightness, and of the fair prospect of his soon becoming the owner of the farm. Accordingly they persuaded the farm labourer and also acquainted the money-lending retired farmer with their plan.

It is better to have one debtor possessing substantial savings than to have two possessing nothing. A man stands rather more chance of getting his money—with interest. The money-lending retired farmer went to see the farm labourer, made himself acquainted with his character and resources, and glowingly pictured the fair future that would be his if he would take the farm.

The farm labourer thought over the matter. Three heads are better than one. The two farmers certainly had experience; the money-lending retired farmer very evidently showed much disinterested kindness, even to the extent of giving his counsel for nothing. Besides, it is better to be an independent farmer, and as good as your neighbour, than to work always for another man.

A little more persuasion turned the scale, and a bargain was made. On one side of the scale were, a farm worth not more than $125 a year, second-hand farm implements worth at the outside about $150, and plenty of friendly counsel. On the other side of the scale were, a debt of $2,950 owing the loan company another of $460 owing to the money-lending retired farmer, another of $75 owing to a merchant, another of $40 owing to the farm labourer, and a payment of $100 in cash to the two farmers, who relieved of their load, started life anew with light hearts, and with the consciousness of having done—as they would be done by?

The farm labourer also starts life anew as an independent farmer. He had undertaken to stock and work the farm, so as to make a living for his family and pay all the debts. Out of his savings he paid $60 to himself, $75 to the merchant, $100 to the two farmers, $160 to the money-ending retired farmer, $50 to the loan Co, a yearly payment of $188 to the company, and a year's interest, $18, to the money-lender; he bought some furniture for his home and some stock, etc., for his farm. Henceforth he must pay $206 and taxes every year, and keep his family.

He hoped for good seasons. During the three years that followed he had one good season and two poor ones. Good or bad, the money must be paid. He borrows $194 more of the money-lending, retired farmer, with which to pay the loan company's interest. Last spring the retired farmer demanded a chattel mortgage as security for full amount of $494. Previously he had security only on the second-hand implements. The farmer still hopes for better days, yet with some misgivings. He works on; summer passes away, harvest is over, the grain, straw hay and roots are in the barn.

The time to act had come. The money-lending retired farmer sent for the independent farmer, and demanded his $494. He must have it, for he expects to die before very long, and wishes to settle his affairs. One might think that he would have prepared for death by showing mercy and kindness to his neighbour, and waiting until his neighbour could pay. Not so, that is an old fashioned way of preparing to die. Business and religion must be kept separate—selfishness must rule business, mercy is only a sort of Sunday virtue. In fact he did exactly by the independent farmer as he himself expects to be done by when he stands before the tribunal of the great Judge. He exacted a a bill of sale, sold the man's chrttels, got his own money, and left his victim to sink or swim as best he could.

We put the question seriously: Is it by such methods of business that men can best prepare to die?

What were the motives that actuated the two farmers that held the farm three years ago? Were they not mean and wrong? Are loan companies to get as much as they can from men without considering what is at the time just and fair, and making allowance for depreciation in the value of property since the time of acquiring possession? The farm may have been worth $3000, at 6½ per cent., twenty or twenty-five years ago; it certainly was not worth that amount at 6½ per cent. three years since.

Compare the friendly and confident persuasions of the money-lender with his eagle-like swoop at the right moment upon the chattels. Is it possible that he feels no responsibility for the independent farmer's plight?

It strikes one very much that "a certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves;" and that if this sort of thing prevails in our midst, we are still as a people a long way from the Kingdom of God.

Upon this true story we desire to make a few remarks. We are assured that there is nothing very exceptional in this transaction, and that to business men it would present no marked features of injustice or wrong. Nor does it appear to us to be a very extreme case. In the first place the labourer apparently in three years lost but $600, and that in bad times. In the next place the rate of interest charged on the various loans was by no means excessive.

Where, then, lay the wrong? Obviously in the inducements of the two original owners of the farm, and the advice of the retired farmer to the labourer to take the farm, knowing that he must inevitably be a loser.

But here it may be said, "This is but an ordinary case of a business transaction, conducted on business principles. The labourer knew what were the obligations he was assuming. If he was ignorant of business, and of farming business in particular, that was his own fault." Now if these are (we do not pretend to know whether they are or no) business principles, if business is regarded as a kind of game of cards at which the most experienced, or it may be the most unscrupulous, player wins, then it seems to us these principles should be as fully understood and as freely discussed as possible.

At this point the vital question arises: Is it a business principle to take advantage of another's ignorance. If A., who has had no experience, goes into a shop and is shown a piece of goods worth (making full allowance for fair profits) say $8, but for which, taking advantage of his ignorance, the salesman charges $10, do business men regard this as a fair transaction, and if not is it fair to advise an ignorant man to take a farm on terms, which the owner knows, render it impossible for him to make a living.

We have no doubt as to the verdict of Christianity on such principles. Human law does not profess to be perfect, but in the light of the very plainest and most indubitable principles of the New Testament, we feel compelled to say that the transaction to which our correspondent draws our attention, offends against the eighth commandment, and the law that we are to "do unto others as we would they should do unto us."

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen—Aquatic and Field Sports.

HOCKEY.

A meeting of the hockey team in connection with the Canadian General Electric Works, was held last evening, and reorganization for the season was effected.

The chair was occupied by Mr. W. D. Wilgar, and after some discussion it was decided that a team would not be entered this year in the Ontario Hockey Association.

The club was re organized under the old name of "The Volts," and the following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—Mr. C. S. Mallett.
President—Mr. H. V. Hedenburg.
Vice. Pres.—Mr. Mudge.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. E. E. Lord.
Captain—Mr. W. D. Wilgar.
Executive Committee — Messrs. R. Thorne, F. Adams and J. Barclay.

The team this year will be composed of almost entirely new material, Wilgar and Thorne being the only two members of last years seven remaining in the works. Billy and Harry Moore are both gone as well as Dunsford, Cluxton and McIntosh. The new blood, however, it is expected will strengthen the team considerably. Barclay has played in Montreal, and Mudge at McGill, and several other men with crack teams. The acquisition of these expert stick weilders it is thought will do a lot towards bringing the Volts to the front this season.

At last night's meeting there were about twenty present, all of whom will join the club, and arrangements will be made whereby the rink can be secured for practice on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, between seven and eight o'clock, and on Saturday afternoons between five and six.

As the local clubs are now in shape for the season's fun a brief discussion on the make up of the first seven of the crack Peterboroughs may not be out of place.

There will be several changes in the team this year. Wonham, the agile little wing man, who played such a great combination game with King has left town, as has George Dixon, that most invincible of goalkeepers.

Sam Adams' great work in the final match for the championship in Toronto, last year, justly entitles him to the first opening on the team, and though his best game is played at cover point, he will doubtless be tried on the wing with King, in Wonham's place.

It is thought that amongst the aspirants for George Dixon's mantle, Ernie Wasson stands the best chance of being selected, if he intends to play hockey this winter. He showed up well in the practice games last winter, and as he has a very sure eye, he will, without doubt, develop into a most worthy successor of the redoubtable George.

There are a large number of other most likely young players, foremost among whom are Bellegham, Crossley, Hamilton, Poussette, and in fact all of the members of last years' Peterborough II and Collegiate Institute teams, who are rapidly pushing to the front as hockey players, and if the members of the Peterborough I team do not pay the closest possible attention to their work there will be a second team on the ice which will wrest their laurels from them.

Montgomery, of course, will occupy his old position as "back" and as of yore will inspire his men with confidence to make those brilliant dashes down the ice for which they are justly famed. In front of him Parsons will probably play his old steady game at half-back, whilst the forward line will include King, Phelan, Davidson and Adams. With such a team Peterborough should not be afraid of the best of them and she isn't either.

Twice has the intermediate championship trophy fallen to the doughty representatives of the Plate Glass City, and the third time is the charm. If the championship comes to Peterborough this year the trophy remains in possession of the team for all time. While this fact inspires the Peterboroughs to great efforts to retain the cup, it also acts as a tremendous incentive to the other clubs in the league to wrest victory from the champions. It will be only by the sternest of battles that the championship will be won by the local club this year, but it would be a great deal sterner fight which would result in the taking of that cup from Peterborough. It is here and here it is to stay.

THE TRIGGER.

The following gratifying intelligence was to-day contained in a communication addressed to the Sporting Editor:—

"Before the time expired for partridge shooting that game was inadequate plentiful; but when the season approached for their extermination it was quite the contrary."

Exactly so, but we hesitated for some time as to whether or not we should make known the stand we take on this all absorbing question. In justice to ourselves, however, we wish to announce that we think so, too, though we hope there is nothing in it all to constitute a breach of the game laws.

That Kootenay Cure Has Done and Will Do All That is Claimed for it—He Investigated Twenty-Five Cases

Hamilton, Sept. 25, 1895.

S. S. Ryckman, Esq., Hamilton:

Dear Sir,—Acting upon your suggestion, I made personal inquiries from 25 persons of different ages and various social conditions who have been suffering from rheumatism and kindred diseases, as to the effect of your medicine upon them. From each and every one the testimony was the same: Kootenay Cure has cured me." Several very striking cases of chronic rheumatism, paralysis, loss of sight and hearing came under my notice, and had it not been for the personal testimony of the patients themselves I could not have beleived that such results were possible. From young and old came the same hearty and grateful testimony of pain removed, health restored and a new lease of life gained. Wishing you continued success, I am, yours faithfully,

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

The Hyams Jury Speedily Reach a Verdict.

TOOK THEM ONLY HALF AN HOUR

To Decide That the Evidence Brought Out Would Not Justify the Hanging of the Twins—Scenes in and About the Court House During the Last Day.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Harry Place Hyams and Dallas Theodore Hyams were on Saturday found "Not guilty" of the charge of having on Jan. 16, 1893, killed and murdered William Chinnock Wells.

When the verdict had been formally recorded. His Lordship discharged both men, but they were at once rearrested on a charge of conspiracy, to defraud the insurance companies and murder Martha Wells Hyams.

The charge of His Lordship Mr. Justice Ferguson to the jury was in many respects the most remarkable ever delivered in a Canadian assize court. The address of Mr. Osler was concluded at 12.20, and a moment later the learned judge took up his task. During his address of two hours and forty minutes he expressed his opinions of the evidence with a force and clearness that left no doubt in the minds of either jurymen, counsel or spectators of his views on the whole case. "That is the way I look at it. You may see it in another light, and hold a different opinion," was a remark which frequently fell from His Lordship's lips.

While Mr. Osler was reviewing on behalf of the Crown the evidence which he claimed pointed the finger of guilt at the prisoners, the accused men sat in the dock as motionless as statues and without a trace of color or life in their faces. As His Lordship's charge proceeded the faces of both men brightened with the hope that his words inspired within them, that the verdict of the jury could be none other than that of acquittal.

When Mr. Osler had stated to the court the grounds upon which he asked for a reserved case, the prisoners were conducted by their guards from the dock to their cells.

Mrs. Dallas Hyams had sat during the afternoon in the northwest corner of the grand jury box. As her husband passed her on the way to his cell from which he was to return to hear the verdict that to him meant life or death, she reached out her hand and grasping his gave it a feeble shake, but it was noticed that there was a complete absence of the display of affection which took place before the jury at the May trial. Mrs. Hyams at once retired and was not seen again in the court room.

Exactly seven minutes after the jury had retired a loud knock was heard at the door through which they had passed into the jury room. A murmur ran through the court room that an agreement had been reached, and for the moment there was a bustle of excitement. Sheriff Mowat answered the call, which proved to be only a request for paper for use as ballots.

The application of Mr. Osler for a new trial had been concluded, Mr. and Mrs. Wellman had taken leave of their friends in the court room and hurried away to catch the out-going train for their home in New York. A buzz of conversation ran through the court room until 4.35, when the rapping on the jury room door was again heard. As before it was answered by Sheriff Mowat, who, on receipt of the message, summoned His Lordship from his private room. Everyone knew that a verdict had been reached and a hurrying of feet and uneasy moving about of chairs was followed by a silence almost of death. Every sound was hushed and every eye was turned to the room through which the jury must enter. Slowly the men to whom the fate of the twins had been entrusted by their country filed into their places.

The jurors looked satisfied. They walked with the quick, anxious step of men who had come to the end of a long and wearisome task.

High Constable Jones was calling the names of the jurymen when the prisoners emerged through the eastern door of the court room. The cheery look on their countenances told that they fully anticipated an acquittal at the hands of their fellow-countrymen. They walked with a step that was more elastic and steady than they have for many days.

When the formalities of court procedure were passed Constable Jones put the question: "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon your verdict"

William Frisby, who had been appointed foreman, rose from his chair and in a low, but distinct voice, answered: "We have."

A painful pause followed, the foreman evidently waiting for the clerk to ask another question. All eyes turned toward him and when he had realized that the court was waiting to hear the words, he said: "NOT GUILTY," and settled back into his chair, with a heavy sigh of relief.

The prisoners heard the words with composure. For a moment Dallas appeared to be unable to realize the meaning of the verdict. His face grew ashen pale, and it was only with a great effort that he forced a smile. Harry was less affected. His head sank into the corner of the dock, but his broad grin indicated that a crushing load was taken from his heart.

A feeble attempt at applause by some impulsive women in the gallery was suppressed by the sheriff and constables.

The verdict was formally recorded and Mr. Johnston and Mr. Lount arose and asked for the discharge of the prisoners. On behalf of the Crown, Crown Attorney Dewart asked that the prisoners both be held on a charge of conspiracy to defraud insurance companies and murder Martha Wells Hyams, and also that Harry be held on a charge of forgery. The Sheriff informed His Lordship that he had not been requested by the Crown to hold the prisoners, and they were discharged. For two short seconds they breathed their of freedom. They had taked four steps from the prisoners' dock and were shaking hands with their counsel, when Detective Alf Cuddy stepped forward and re-arrested them on the charge already named.

The twins were escorted by Detective Cuddy and County Constable Burns to the awaiting cab and hurried away to the jail, where the last nine months of their lives have been spent.

In conversation with a World reporter, a juryman said that His Lordship's charge appeared to strongly favor the prisoners. Only one ballot was taken in the juryroom, resulting in a unanimous vote for acquittal. It is safe to say that no more unpopular verdict was ever delivered in the York Assize Court.

In a private hospital in Bellevue-avenue, the woman who was so thoroughly convinced that her husband was the murderer of her brother she accepted the doubtful distinction of being the only woman in the history of Canada to give evidence that she knew was putting the rope about her husband's neck heard the news of the verdict that liberated the twins. Mrs. Hyams received the announcement of the result of the trial very quietly.

The sorely-stricken woman has been unable to leave her bed the past week, but is said by her physician to be getting on nicely. It is reported that while she was satisfied that the twins murdered her brother, she felt that she was near the close of her own life, and did not want to have her last hours made more unhappy by the thought that she had assisted in sending her husband to the gallows. For this reason she requested her solicitor, Mr. Smoke, not to testify.

At a meeting of the Christian Alliance held at Bethany Church, University and Christopher-streets, prayers were offered on behalf of Mrs. H. P. Hyams.

HOLMES MUST HANG.

The Application For a New Trial Refused.

SENTENCE PRONOUNCED UPON HIM

Date of Execution Not Fixed—The Culprit Hears the Death Message With the Same Indifference Manifested Throughout—Talk of Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Herman W. Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, who was convicted of murder in the first degree for having caused the death in this city of Benjamin F. Pitezel, was on Saturday, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, refused a new trial and sentenced to be hanged. The opinion denying the accused a new trial was delivered by Judge Arnold, it having been concurred in by Judges Thayer, Wilson and Arnold, who heard the application for a new trial. Judge Arnold then pronounced the death sentence.

Holmes was placed in the dock at 10 o'clock and his counsel, Messrs. Rotan and Shoemaker, took their accustomed places at the bar of the court. District Attorney Graham, who secured the conviction of the prisoner, sat within the rail and beneath the bench where sat Judge Arnold, before whom Holmes was tried. But once during the delivery of the lengthy opinion did Holmes move in his seat, and then he leaned forward to catch the words of the judge as he said that "it was the unanimous opinion of the court that the verdict of murder in the first degree is fully justified by the evidence."

When Judge Arnold had concluded District Attorney Graham moved for the pronouncing of judgment upon the prisoner, to which there was no objection from counsel for the defence. Holmes was told to stand up by the court clerk, and as he did so every one in the court-room rose with him. The clerk then asked the prisoner the usual questions:

"Have you anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon you?"

"Nothing to say at present," came in low tones from the prisoner, and then followed the sentence of the court.

Judge Arnold arose and addressed Holmes as follows, in impressive tones:

"Herman W. Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, I have nothing to say to you further than what is contained in the opinion I have just read. There remains nothing for me to do but to proceed and pass the sentence which the law has imposed, and that is that you be taken hence to the place from whence you came, and from thence to the place of execution, and there hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may God have mercy on your soul."

During the pronouncing of the sentence Messrs. Rotan and Shoemaker stood close to the prisoner, they leaning on the rail of the dock. Holmes kept his eyes fixed upon the judge, but he did not betray any consciousness of the import of the words.

Then Holmes turned to his guard, and with the remark, "That is all," as if glad it was all over, he walked out of the court-room with a nimble tread, attended by three officers.

After Holmes was sentenced he had a conference with Lawyer Rotan, and instructed his counsel to have an appeal taken to the Supreme Court. Subsequently Mr. Rotan said: "I shall enter at once upon the preparation of papers for an appeal. When I shall have them ready it is impossible to tell, but no time will be lost. More than that I cannot say."

FUNERAL OF M. DUMAS.

Exquisite Floral Offerings—All the Notables Present—Very Little Formality

Paris, Dec. 1.—The funeral of Alexandre Dumas took place here Saturday. The floral offerings were of exquisite design and excited great admiration.

A five-pointed silver star took the place of the customary cross behind the coffin. At the right of the casket which was surrounded by lighted tapers, was a cushion upon which rested the grand cross of the Legion of Honor.

In the salon adjoining the chamber in which the coffin rested, Madame Dumas and the family of the dead author received the condolences of the statesmen, authors, academicians, army officers, actors, actresses and other persons of prominence who were friends and admirers of M. Dumas.

The interment not being a religious one, there was very little formality, either at the house or the cemetery.

The pall-bearers were MM. Victorien Sardou, Jean Baptiste De Taille, Emile Zola, Count Bisard-Roujon and the Academicians Garton Boissier and Jules Claretie. The cars bearing the wreaths preceded the cortege to the Montmartre Cemetery, taking a route along the outer boulevards, the family following the hearse in coaches.

HOW THE MORNING OPENED.

The Crowds Increased in Anticipation of the End.

The bright, frosty morning brought out hundreds of people desirous of hearing the balance of Mr. Osler's address, and the constables at all the doors had their hands full in keeping away the crowds who eagerly sought admission. More people endeavored to get into the court room Saturday than on any previous day of the trial, but unless they had an order from the Sheriff or else belonged to the same lodge as the doorkeeper, their efforts were in vian. Many of them, with "side-door" propensities, hied themselves to Court-street lane, thinking to get in by the back entrance, but there the doors were even more strongly guarded than in the front.

It was 9.15 when the hacks containing the prisoners and their escort drove to the rear of the Court House and the crowd eagerly tipped forward to get a glimpse of the faces of the men who were to know their fate in a few hours.

The twins alighted from the coupe with a firm, brisk step, but their appearance would suggest that they had passed a sleepless night. With a smiling nod of the head and a cheery "Good morning," Harry Hyams returned the greeting of The World's young man. The prisoners were quickly ushered through the crowd, and entered the court at the rear west door.

A steady stream of citizens, many of them ladies, continued to apply for admission, but the court was crowded long before 10 o'clock.

It was a mixed group that waited outside in the hope that some influential friend would arrive who could carry them past the constable on guard, but they were doomed to disappointment, and from remarks overheard will not mention the constables in their prayers for many moons.

Mr. J. W. St. John, M.L.A., Manager Smith of the Ferry Co.; John Gregg, foreman of the jury at the former trial; prominent lawyers and business men, many accompanied by ladies, had to submit to the inevitable, and turn their steps homeward. Many ladies came alone, but the men on the door were not ladies' men by any means, and no distinction was made.

Barristers Johnston, Horn and Murdoch entered the court at 9.45, and were curiously criticized as they passed.

Judge Ferguson came along, accompanied by two ladies, five minutes afterwards. Here an amusing incident occurred. Two ladies had been refused admittance ten minutes before, and had been lingering longingly on the outskirts of the crowd. Noticing the judge approaching, the youngest of the two maids, a bewitching damsel, with brown eyes and drugstore hair, conceived a bright idea, which she expressed in a monotone to her companion. "Say, let's try and get in with the judge; they'll think we belong to his party." The World's young man watched with interest the development of the scheme, and was delighted to see it succeed. The two girls got in front of the judge, who pushed his way through the crowd, which had entirely forgotten any respect it may have had for the court, in their eager desire to obtain ingress themselves. Keeping close to His Lordship, the girls passed coolly through the narrow entrance. The doors were finally barred, and the crowd dispersed in bitter disappointment at their failure to see the twins or hear Mr. Osler's mighty marshalling of the facts with which the Crown sought to bring conviction to the prisoners.

All day there was an immense rush of people at the front entrance of the Court House, all clamoring for admittance, and the constables were constantly called upon to use harsh means to carry out the Sheriff's orders.

A Victoria-street barrister was the victim of rather hard usage. He was desirous of keeping an appointment with Barrister Hoskin in the Civil Assize Court, and explained his mission to the constable, who refused, however, to let him pass. The lawyer insisted and endeavored to get by, whereupon the constable called the assistant of several of his brethren, and the lawyer was forcibly ejected, after he had made a good fight against big odds. His apparel was damaged and he was slightly hurt, but his dignity suffered most, as the disturbance had provided a vast amount of amusement for the large number of ladies who were blocking the stairway.

The injured barrister has caused a letter to be sent to the Sheriff demanding that amends be made, and making charges against constables whom he names for exceeding their duty.

Several citizens complain bitterly of the high-handed manner in which they were treated by the specials, but, of course, allowance must be made for the crush and the stringent orders under which the men were laboring.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators, and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. THE ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL UNION.

THE association known as the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union was established in 1879, but was not widely known by the farmers in general throughout Ontario until during the past few years. Its growth has been of a very substantial character, although not rapid. The work which the Union is doing should commend itself to every practical farmer throughout this Province. The results of experiments already obtained through the association are worth thousands of dollars to the people of Ontario. To get some idea of the value of these results a person has only to examine the annual report of the Union, which is printed each year as an appendix to the report of the Ontari Agricultural College.

The Union is composed of the officers and students, past and present, of the Agricultural College, who pay an annual fee. The members are entitled to vote, hold office, and discuss any question before the association. All interested parties, however, are welcome to the meetings and are always invited to take an active part in the discussions. They are also invited to join in the co-operative experiments con ducted over Ontario.

The chief objects of the association are to cherish a bond of union among those who have been connected with the Agricultural College; to establish a system of co-operative experimental work in agriculture throughout Ontario; to invite the co-operation of the farmers of the Province in this work; and to hold an annual meeting at the College, which is free to all persons desirous of attending.

The members of the Ontario Agricultur-and Experimental Union, along with other interested farmers over Ontario, are actively engaged in carrying out a system of co-operative experiments in agriculture. This work was started upon its present plan in the spring of 1886 with twelve experimenters, who received grains and fertilizers, carried out the necessary instructions, and reported the results at the end of the season. For the first two or three years the experiments were confined almost entirely to the ex-students of the Agricultural College; but as many other farmers expressed a desire to join in the work, the invitation was extended to them also, and material was sent to those who applied on the condition that they would be careful to follow the necessary instructions, and report the results of their tests after harvest. The work has steadily increased since its commencement, and, during the past four years, the Union has been unable to supply the material to the full number of applicants, owing to the demand being so great. In 1891 there were 2,642 plots; in 1892, 5,688 plots; in 1893, 7,181 plots; in 1894, 7,721 plots; and in 1895, 9,179 plots were used for these co-operative tests over Ontario. Besides those in Agriculture, co-operative experiments are also being conducted in dairying, Horticulture, Apiculture, Botany and Entomology, the explanations of which are too elaborate to give to our readers at this time. It is certainly a fact that one of the most extensive systems of co-operative experimental work in general agriculture to be found at the present time is the one established in Ontario under the direction of the Agricultural Experimental Union.

The programme for the next annual meeting has just been issued by the executive council, and we notice that the next meeting of the Union is to be held at the Agricultural College, Guelph, on Thursday and Friday, the 12th and 13th of December next. If this programme can be taken as an indication of what the meeting is likely to be, we prophesy a most interesting, profitable and enthusiastic convention. It is mentioned in the programme that every person advertised so speak has consented to be present. J. A. Craig, B. S. A., Professor of Animal Husbandry, Agricultural College, Madison, Wisconsin; Miss Bessie Livingston, Superintendent School of Cookery, Ottawa, Ontario; C. C. James, M. A., Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Toronto; A. W. Campbell, C. E., St. Thomas; Dr. James Mills, Agricultural College, Guelph, and others, are to be present and read papers or deliver addresses. The results of the successfully conducted co-operative experiments will also be presented at the meeting, and should be of much practical value to the farmers of Ontario. Another pleasing feature of the meeting is that during the evening session a representative ex-student of each associate class since the college started in 1874 is to speak in the discussion on Dr. Mills' paper. An exchange of ideas in this way, with the view of mutual information along practical lines, will no doubt bring out some valuable points.

As the Provincial Winter show, the annual meeting of the Dominion Sheep and Swine Breeders' Associations, and the Guelph Poultry Association, are to be held in Guelph on the 10th, 11th and 12th of December, there will be an opportunity for persons to attend any or all of these gatherings within the one week.

In regard to excursion rates on the railways, the programme states that those who wish to attend these conventions should purchase a first class single fare ticket to Guelph, and obtain from the railway agent at the starting point a standard railway certificate, which must be signed and supplied free by him to any person who asks for it. This certificate when signed by the secretary at the meetings, entitles the holder to return at excursion rates.

We also notice in the programme that the officers of the Union and the officers of the College unite in the pleasure of inviting all interested persons to be present at the Union meeting, to be held in the College buildings, commencing at 10 a.m. on the 12th, and closing about 5 p.m. on the 13th of December next.

We advise all parties who wish to attend one of the best agricultural conventions of Ontario, to apply to C. A. Zavitz, B.S.A., Agricultural College, Guelph, for a programme of the next annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union, and then to be present at each of the five sessions of the meeting.

THE HUDSON CASE.

Impaled and Severely Hurt—The Kidneys Affected.

One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Worth One Hundred Dollars.

Special to the EXAMINER.

Combermere, Dec. 2.—Your correspondent finds a case of public interest here in the recovery, after years of misery, of Mr. H. E. Hudson, a lumberman, who was impaled while at work eight years ago. He said:

"I fell upon a projecting knot, which seemed to have injured my bladder, and afterwards to affect my kidneys.

"Since then, until using Dodd's Kidney Pills I never knew a well day.

"I was weak and sometimes had to lay off work for weeks, and at no time was I able to do a square day's work.

Every cold, or unusual exertion seemed to go to the weak spot. So I was miserable.

"I had taken only one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills when I got to feeling all right and ever since I have remained, and am now as well as ever in my life.

"My cousin, Mr. John L. Hudson, was also injured by over-lifting and was cured by one or two boxes.

"In my case one box of pills was worth one hundred dollars.

OTONABEE.

From our own Correspondent

Meeting of Otonabee Council. Absent, Councillor Deyell.

Messrs. Jas. Fawcett, Wm. Fitzgerald, Michael Grady and Jas. Devlin were present, requesting the Council to open and grade the 1st concession line between lots 28, 29 and 30. The road is swampy and never has been opened for travel. $150 was granted—$100 special grant and $50 out of Ward No. 2 appropriation.

A deputation from South Monaghan composed of Reeve Fisher, Councillor McAllister and Mr. Buchan, secretary of the Rosa Bridge Committee, requesting the conveying of the concession line to R. A. Deyell as part payment of the new road. No action taken.

John Barbidge and Amelia Brown made application for charity. On motion, Miss Brown's application was refused, John Barbidge to be allowed $1.50 per month, until further notice.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—Mrs. Alex. O'Brien, $5.00, for keep of Edward O'Brien; D. McFarlane, repairing Keene sidewalks, $2.25; John Dinsdale, $5.25, for posting up scarlet fever notices and ordering parties to bury dead animals left on road. Allowance for jury selecting—W. Anderson $4.00, C. Matchett $3.00, J. M. Drummond $3.00; A. McDonald, plank for culvert, $2.52; John Brackenridge, culverts, $6.00. Council adjourned to December 16th.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for.

They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps overeating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question: What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves, that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

BRITISH VESSEL FIRED UPON.

She Arrived at the Entrance to the Dardanelles, and Three Shells Were Fired at Her From the Shore.

London, Dec. 2.—The Daily News publishes a despatch from Odessa, giving an interview with Captain Noble, of the British steamer Loch Rannoch, from Leith, Nov. 1, for Odessa, which arrived a few days ago at Chanak, at the entrance of the Dardanelles, a few minutes after sundown. Captain Noble observed that the shore on either side of the Straits was lined with troops under canvas and that cannon were placed at close stages along the banks. Two blank shots, one from each shore, were fired at the Loch Rannoch. The captain did not heave his vessel to, thinking that the shots were part of some military manoeuvre. Soon three shells were fired at the steamer. The first shell dropped under her bows, the second fell astern and the third whizzed across the bridge a few feet from the captain's head. Captain Noble instantly reversed the steamer's engines. He was astonished and thought that war had been declared between England and Turkey. Hitherto the Turkish authorities have always allowed a time margin for vessels arriving in the Straits after sundown. The head of the Dardanelles is covered with torpedos.

DEATH OF A. G. HILL.

He Was a Terror to the Desperate Classes at the Niagara Frontier.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Dec. 1.—Andrew Gregory Hill, Police Magistrate, and a well-known barrister, died last night. Deceased was born near St. Catharines, Sept. 23, 1834, was admitted to the bar in 1864, graduated at Victoria College, and practised in St. Catharines, Welland and this town. He was appointed Police Magistrate in 1874 by special Act of the Provincial Legislature, which created the Ontario Police Force. This was done to rid the frontier of a desperate class of criminals who made their headquarters on the Canadian frontier. Magistrate Hill accomplished it, and was regarded as a terror by the criminal classes. Deceased leaves a widow and four children. The funeral takes place on Tuesday afternoon to St. Andrew's Church. The town flag is at half mast.

MR. CAINE REPLIES

To Objections Raised to the Copyright Agreement.

SPECIAL REFERENCE TO SERIALS

The Points Raised by Toronto Papers Taken Up by the Novelist and Explained—Seizure of Salmon Trout at Tobermoray—New Instructions to Collectors.

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—Before his departure for New York, Mr. Hall Caine was asked for a statement dealing with the objections which had been made respecting the copyright agreement, since it had been given to the public. The distinguished novelist said he would willingly reply to the objections which had been raised in certain quarters. The Globe had made the point that if, for instance, Harper's Magazine paid $15,000 for the serial rights of DuMaurier's forthcoming book, it would be possible for a Canadian newspaper to insist on Du Maurier publishing that story in Canada in serial form on the payment of not more than $50.

Mr. Caine said if that were possible it would be an injustice of the grossest kind, and he would be the last man in the world to be guilty of such a slip. The first clause of the portion of the proposed bill referring to serial publications states that anybody publishing a work in separate chapters or instalments may protect it during the period of such publication down to the moment of its publication as a book by the simple method of registering at Ottawa its name, description, and an account of its general character. That was one method of protecting the serial, and it was just possible that publishers of magazines paying high prices for English serials would avail themselves of it. The second method was the American one and taken out of the United States statute, viz., that the definition of a work in the preliminary clauses covers any pamphlet, part of book, part of pamphlet or sheet of letter press. These, being printed according to the Act, could be protected at Ottawa.

The next criticism which he had noticed was that of The World, in which the point was made that whereas the publisher of a book at 25c would only have $12.50 to pay on an edition of 500 the newspaper with a circulation of perhaps not more than a thousand would have to pay $25 for the use of the same book. That was quite true, but The World forgot that the issue of the book was not limited to 500; that it might be 2500 or 5000, when the amount would be $50; and, next, the circulation of the paper was not to be 1000, but 1000 a week.

The prices which it was proposed to charge for serial rights, $25, or $50, were, compared with English prices, grotesquely low. Provincial papers in England never paid less than $100 for serial rights, and often as high as $750. London papers have paid as high as $1500 to $5000. Personally he had never received less from country papers than $250. From the Illustrated London News he had received $2500 and from The Queen $4000. At the present time he had an arrangement with The Windsor Magazine to pay him $7500 for simultaneous publication of one of his stories in a United States magazine. He thought therefore that the statement he had made that the prices proposed to be charged in Canada were very low was fully borne out

As to the remark of The Montreal Witness, that the copyright arrangement embodied the very eccentricity of protectionism, he had no responsibility for that; Canada was responsible for it. It was part of Canada's policy.

A recent customs ruling fixes the value for duty on lead covering on packages containing tea at the following rates: 2c each for pound packages; 1 1-4c each for 1-2 pound packages; the packages themselves to be rated for duty at 30 per cent.

The Department of Fisheries has been advised of the seizure at Tobermoray of a quantity of salmon trout, the property of the Buffalo Fish Company. The fish was seized because salmon trout are now out of season.

Collectors of customs at the more important ports have been notified to send all entries to the department daily, in order to secure both prompt and efficient checking. The order applies to the following cities and towns in Ontario, viz.: Brantford, Brockville, Fort Erie, Guelph, Hamilton, Kingston, London, Niagara Falls, Ottawa, Peterboro Port Arthur, St. Catharines, Sarnia, Stratford, Toronto, Windsor and Woodstock.

A proclamation was issued yesterday revoking the clause of the treaty of Washington Act of 1888 empowering the issue of fishing licenses to United States vessels for a period of two years. The proclamation has no particular significance, a special Act of 1890 covering this particular proviso. There is no present intention of the Government to abolish the license system, which has worked well.

During the past year the official analysts of the Dominion have analyzed 926 samples of foods, drugs and fertilizers. Of this number 680 were genuine, 161 adulterated and the remaining 85 doubtful or unclassed. The most notable adulterations are in respect of butter, tea and coffee. The The butter consists of excess of water or salt, sometimes of both, indicative of carelessness rather than fraud. It is gratifying to observe that infant foods and meat extracts are generally genuine, wholesome and nutritious.

St. Andrew's Society attended divine service to-night at Knox Presbyterian Church, where the sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. McIntosh of the Ottawa Congregational Church, one of the society's chaplains. In the course of his observations Mr. McIntosh referred to the question of education, and spoke strongly in favor of the State providing for the teaching of secular subjects, leaving religious teaching to the churches.

Big Fire at Amherst, N.S.

Amherst, N.S., Dec. 1.—The most disastrous fire in Amherst for years broke out in the Sentinel newspaper building this morning. At first it was feared that the whole block north and south of the building in which the fire started was doomed, but the firemen confined it to this and the building immediately adjoining, owned by C. A. Black, M.D., both of which were totally destroyed. Losses about $20,000; insurance about half that amount.

New Yorkers Didn't Pray for Ingersoll.

New York, Dec. 1.—To-day was the time designated for special prayers in behalf of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll by Christian Endeavorers of the United States and Canada, in which it was announced the Salvation Army was to participate. H. A. Kimport, secretary of the Y.P.S.C.E. of the State of New York and of this city, told a United Press reporter that the Endeavorers here and throughout the State would not offer any such special prayers.

HONEYMOON DON'TS.

A Few Tips for Girls About to Get Married.

Don't be afraid to eat in public; no appetite denotes the silly bride.

Don't expect to quarrel; the expectation of it often leads to the spat.

Don't be argumentative and contradictory; there is nothing so galling.

Don't worry if husband is absent a few minutes; kidnaping men is obsolete.

Don't scold, no matter what happens; tirades are never a cure or a remedy.

Don't cry when leaving home; people will think you have made a bad match.

Don't use new trunks and handbags; they are the emblems of the honeymoon.

Don't be dissatisfied with habitation; chosen contentment is better than riches.

Don't nag each other; nagging is the most dangerous element in married life.

Don't—please don't—display affection in public; even seasickness is less nauseating.

Don't elongate discussions; in any event victory is not worth the irritation it causes.

Don't remark defects in each other never noticed before marriage; "love is blind."

Don't fabricate in regard to your age; a man or a woman usually looks as old as they are

Don't be extravagant; many a man dates the beginning of economy from the wedding day.

Don't sniff at each other's newly met relatives and friends; there is good in Israel.

Don't have different tastes about trivial things; it is noble to make sacrifices for peace.

Don't forget the engagement days; remembrance of them always promotes amiability.

Don't criticise the presents each other's relations gave; be thankful they sent anything.

Don't be a gadder; if there is any*thing a man hates it is a woman for*ever out of doors.

Don't neglect to acknowledge wedding presents, even if six months after the ceremony.

Don't be too independent, either of you; what will it amount to 100 years hence?

Don't perpetrate mother-in-law jokes; they malign a great many very lovable women.

Don't be disagreeable—either of you; not even a fire will break up a home quicker.

Don't have any secrets from each other; honesty, candor and openness triumph in the end.

Don't have any woman confidant; keep your affairs to yourself and you will be happier.

Don't go to everybody for advice and sympathy in perplexity; work out your own salvation.

Don't be surreptitious in anything; deceit makes more marital quarrels than anything else.

Don't forget to count 50 before uttering a harsh, unkind or irritating word in displeasure.

Don't say or do anything that could possibly give to either offence; be uniformly considerate.

Don't be dictatorial in anything; full-grown people never like to be treated as little children.

Don't threaten to go home every time the husband is remiss; you would probably break his heart.

Don't come to breakfast slovenly and untidy; think if you would have so appeared before marriage.

Don't think because you are married either can be indifferent to appearance in matter of dress.

Don't object to the husband's club; make home so fascinating that he will sacrifice the club.

Don't think more of the parlor curtains than of the husband's comfort with tobacco; this is important.

Don't have "views" or "theories"; a woman with "views" must be beautiful or angelic to retain affection.

Don't ever be too tired to gratify the wishes or pleasure of either—singing or playing piano, for instance.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

A Vicious Runaway.

On Saturday evening at about six o'clock a young horse, attached to a top buggy, took fright whilst left standing on the lower end of George street, and running away came up the centre of that thoroughfare on the "keen sail." Fortunately nobody got in the way and the animal tore along at the top of its speed until it passed Mayor Kendry's residence, without doing any damage. Shortly afterwards, however, the buggy came to grief against a telegraph pole and the horse was caught.

The Saturday Market.

The Saturday market was a grand one, and it was with difficulty that the farmers could be provided with the necessary accommodation. Poultry, eggs and vegetables were very plentiful. Butter brought from 16 to 18c per pound, and eggs were worth 18c a dozen. Chickens brought from 25 to 40c, and ducks 50c a pair. Geese sold at 40 and 50c, and turkeys from 50c to $1. It will be observed that although produce was marketed in abundance yet prices remained firm. As soon as the sleighing sets in for the winter the market will in all probability increase to an unprecedented size.

Tableaux Entertainment.

A series of tableaux will be given on Tuesday evening, December 3rd, in the hall adjoining Bradburn's opera house. The proceeds are in aid of St. John's Church poor fund. The young ladies and gentlemen who kindly volunteered their services have devoted a great deal of time and attention to the various subjects to be illustrated, and such laudable enterprise deserves the generous encouragement it will doubtless receive. Butcher's orchestra will assist the evening's entertainment. Tickets 15c. 4d127

FOUND GUILTY

Of Taking a Pair of Lines Which did not Belong to him.

Mr. John Bothwell, a young blacksmith from Fraserville, was before Magistrate Dumble to-day charged with stealing a pair of lines from Mr. Wm. Yelland.

The latter, it appears, bought a pair of lines for $1.05 at the recent sale on the premises of the late John Fawcett and threw them down until he was ready to go home. He afterwards crossed the road to where the cows were being sold and on his return could not find the lines. He was told that a young man had been seen going off with a set of lines down town and started in pursuit. On the way down he learned that the young man he was in pursuit of had taken the car and by inquiry he ascertained that Mr. Bothwell had the bundle of harness.

Information was laid and officer Stewart went down to Fraserville and saw the two Bothwell brothers, but both indignantly denied having taken the lines, stating that they had themselves purchased some old harness, and it was a portion of this which was carried on the car.

Before the magistrate witnesses were called to prove Mr. Yelland's charge, but the evidence was very complicated. While one witness swore to the identity of the prisoner, another was equally sure it was the brother who was in the car. One was positive that a bundle of lines were carried and the next witness would say that it was a bundle of short straps.

A dark young man was seen by one witness going away with the lines, and yet the prisoner is very fair, and whilst one witness was positive as to the identity of Bothwell with the man who carried off the lines, he could neither tell the colour of his clothes, hair or eyes, or knew what clothing he wore. The magistrate considered, however, that the evidence was sufficiently strong for a conviction and remanded the prisoner until to-morrow for sentence.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown, and Mr. W. A. Stratton for the defence. The hearing of the case occupied about four hours.

Mr. Geo. Bothwell states that he bought a bundle of old straps at the sale, consisting of a halter shank, two holdbacks and two old pieces of lines and some other small straps, that he gave them to his brother John to bring home. He came down in the car with the straps and he thinks that the only suspicion that could be created was through this, that the witness, McColl, who swore he saw them in Bothwell's possession on the car, was mistaken, as he only had the old straps.

MR. JOSEPH HURLEY DEAD.

The Remains have been Forwarded to Peterborough from Chicago for Burial.

The death of Mr. Joseph Hurley, formerly of Peterborough, and son of Mr. Thos. Hurley, occurred in Chicago on Saturday last.

It was known that Mr. Hurley was suffering from an attack of appendicitis, and that an operation was performed on Nov. 20th, and a telegram was received by his relatives on Friday stating that he was on the mend, but the sad news of his death was flashed over the wires on Saturday.

The deceased had many friends in Peterborough where he lived for many years, being with his father in the real estate business. Afterwards he lived in Texas for about three years and at the time of his death held the lucrative position of head bookkeeper for a large firm in Chicago.

The remains have been forwarded to Peterborough for burial and are expected to arrive this evening.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Were Crossing the River and Drove Into a Deep Hole.

On Thursday morning, says the Lakefield News, Messrs. J. H. Davis and T. McBrien had a narrow escape from being drowned in the Otonabee river. It appears they were going down to work on the canal with a team of horses and a wagon, and took a short cut across the river just below Mr. S. Nelson's to do so. All went well until they got about the middle of the river, when suddenly the horses and wagon dropped into a big hole, the wagon immediately sinking, leaving its occupants clinging to the box of the wagon, for dear life. After a hard struggle the horses managed to reach the Douro side of the river with the wagon, the horses and men being nearly perished with the cold, as it was a very cold morning. It was a very narrow escape, and will not be forgotten for some time. If they had gone down the river a short distance it would have been all right as a good ford was down there.

By using it until New Year's they won't want any more tobacco, and can start 1896 with a clean mouth. JAS. LYNCH, Druggist, keeps it.

VESPER SERVICE AND AN ELOQUENT SERMON.

IN THE HOLY NAME OF CHARITY.

Rev. Father McColl's Eloquent Sermon at St. Peter's—In Aid of St. Vincent de Paul's Society.

Last night there was a large congregation present at St. Peter's cathedral at Vespers and to listen to a special charity sermon preached in the interests of the charitable funds of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Peterborough.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey sang vespers, and Rev. Father McColl of Ennismore, took as his text St. Matthew's Gospel xxv, 40:

Amen, I say unto you, so long as you did it to one of these my least brethren you did it to me.

After recounting the circumstances under which these words were uttered by our divine Lord, the preacher pointed out that they reminded us of the numberless instances in which Christ had shown his tender solicitude for suffering humanity. His heart was always overflowing with sympathy while on earth, and though exalted to a throne at the right hand of God, still the Sacred Heart of Jesus was full of tender sympathy with the weakness, misery and suffering of this world. The work he committed to His Apostles was a mission of mercy. The heart of Jesus poured itself into the hearts of men and even the darkened heathens were enlightened and stirred to deeds of mercy. The condition of the pagan world was graphically pictured—where every man was the enemy of man and the lust of blood and slaughter was a dominant passion. Terrible deeds of cruelty characterized even the best amongst heathen nations. Mercy, gentleness and charity found no place in their catalogue of virtues. All the world-wide Roman Empire at the time of the birth of Christ did not contain one asylum for the relief of human want or suffering. We in this Christian age could not realize the wretchedness of the poor under paganism—the hopeless despair that obtained in pagan countries, and it was only by the advent of God, Himself, upon earth that a change could be effected. It was only in the presence of Christ that the antagonisms and hostilities that marked the relations of man to his fellow-man, died away. Without distinction of class or race or condition Christ was the Saviour of men. The influence, the force that changed the face of society was the deep, broad love of God to men, which included every creature of the human race. And all that God asked in return was love to Himself. Love was, the preacher said, the fulfilment of the law—we must love God with our whole heart, mind and strength, and our neighbour as ourself. If we loved God we must love our fellowmen—we must love especially the poor whom Christ left in our charge. The true love of our neighbour found a remedy for every form of human misery and suffering. It founded asylums for the young and the old, and hospitals for the sick and the suffering. Eloquent reference was made to the devoted lives of such great saints as St. Francis, St. Domino, St. Vincent de Paul, and others who were the ministers and dispensers of the compassion that flowed from the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The numberless forms of ministering to the suffering and afflicted of these days was but a continuance of the blessed mission of Christ upon earth. St. Vincent de Paul was one of those noble sons of the church who spent his life in works of mercy and his ministrations touched every form and condition of suffering and need. The St. Vincent de Paul Society was but a continuation of the work he carried on in his day. His noble life formed one of the most beautiful histories in the annals of the church. He was animated by a deep faith and fervent charity. He realized that his works of mercy done to the suffering would be regarded as done to Christ. What we gave to the poor, therefore, was given to God himself. The great example of St. Vincent de Paul should lead us to contrast the little work we do for the poor to the great work done by him, who devoted his whole life to charity. If Christ should come to Peterborough, placed in the rude shelter of a manger, suffering with cold and exposure, as he did in Bethlehem, we would all vie in ministering to his wants, yet all who did works of charity towards the poor were equally ministering to Christ. The speaker pointed out the happiness and benefit that would result from alms given for the love of God and out of gratitude for what God had done for us, for all the blessings we enjoy, and closed with an eloquent appeal for a liberal contribution to the funds of the society. The offertory amounted to over $50.

CURLIANA.

The Granites meet to-night to select their rinks for the coming season.

The proposed bonspiel to be held in Peterborough during the coming winter is meeting with great favour at the hands of different clubs invited to participate. The newspapers of the different towns are taking up the idea and without doubt the bonspiel will be a huge success. The idea originated with Mr. R. H. Kells, who, it will be remembered, talked of the scheme last year, but it was then too late in the season to take it up. This year he was in the field early and the bonspiel is now on the cards and will likely become an annual affair in connection with the Peterborough clubs.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring you perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them, forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

DOURO.

Death of William James Leeson.

The numerous friends of Mr. William Leeson, deputy reeve of Douro, and family, will learn with regret of the death of his son, William James Leeson, at the early age of 17 years, which sad event took place on December 1st. The young man had been in ill-health for some time, but his last severe illness was not of long duration. The funeral takes place at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, Dec. 3rd, from the family residence, lot 3, concession 9, Douro.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—It looks like winter this time.

—A meeting of Lansdowne Lodge will be held this evening.

—The temperature has already dropped to four degrees below zero, this year, in Haliburton.

—The snow-ploughing contract will be awarded at the Council to-night—just in time, evidently.

—During November there were registered with the town clerk 14 births, 8 deaths and 11 marriages.

—It is said that Christmas cards will be fashionable again this year. For a few years past they have been little used.

—The sidewalks were difficult to walk upon last night and, in consequence, pedestrians used the road to a great extent.

—"Cool" Burgess, an old time comedian and general favourite with the boys in town, has opened up an hotel on King street, Toronto.

—Wife to Husband—"Huckleberry, where did you get such a nice flavoured cigar?" "Louettie, that is one of Morgan's famous Sir Robert Peel cigars.

—Oddly enough Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows, No. 13, celebrates its 13th anniversary to-night. It is hoped that the duplex combination of 13 will break the charm of this unlucky number.

—The town looks beautifully picturesque to-day, the snow clothing the boughs of trees and shrubs, which bend with their graceful weight into forms of surpassing loveliness. Here is a chance for the aspiring amateur photograper.

—A well-known judge advises the civic authorities to forestall all actions for damages for defective sidewalks by having a standing advertisement in the daily papers, requesting all persons finding broken planks to promptly report the fact to the street commissioner.

—Farmers come to the Peterborough market with hay from within three miles of Lindsay. The explanation is, of course, our superior market, where hay sells at about $14 per ton, as against $9 or $10 in the Lindsay market. We give such visitors a hearty welcome.

—The fixtures in Ostrom's new grocery store on George street, as well as in Ed. Welsh's restaurant, Hunter street, were manufactured at the Peterborough Canoe Co's. Works, under the foremanship of Mr. Will Crow. The work speaks well for the class of fixtures which are being turned out of this factory.

—When Mr. James Head, of the Nicholls Hospital, was in Toronto attending the chrysanthemum show, he noticed that a great number of the prizes were carried off by Dale Bros, the Brampton florists, and together with several friends he ran out to that town and was more than delighted with what he saw. He states that in one greenhouse alone there were more and better specimens of chrysanthemums than those seen at the show. Mr. Thos. Warren, of town, who was one of those who accompanied Mr. Head, is a brother-in-law to the head of the firm.

Mercer's

CHURCH CHIMES.

Yesterday was the first Sunday in Advent.

The young people of St. Andrew's are holding a social this evening in the Sunday school.

The Board of Managers of St. Andrew's church will meet Tuesday evening next, at eight o'clock.

The rector of St. Luke's gratefully acknowledged further contributions of money and provisions for the poor fund.

The Executive Committee of the St. Andrew's branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society meets on Wednesday next.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary in connection with St. Andrew's church will be held on Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

During the offertory at the George street church last evening Mrs. Kernegan sang "The Rosebud," (sacred) by H. P. Danks, in splendid voice.

The annual tea and sale of work at St. Luke's church will be held on Thursday next in the school house, beginning at 5 p.m. Admission 25c.

Miss Hendren sang "Sinner Come Home," last evening, in the Charlotte Street Church, in especially good voice and with great effect.

The choir of the Park Street Church sang "Abiding Rest" as an anthem, last evening, and rendered the selection in a very pleasing manner.

Yesterday being Advent Sunday, the St. Luke's Sunday School promotions were made. New books for the library will be purchased this week.

The first fruits of the Rector's Communicants' Class were seen yesterday morning at St. Luke's, when over ninety persons received the Holy Communion.

Next Sunday evening Rev. J. J. Rae will take as the subject of his sermon the query, "If Christ came to the world what would he say and think of the new woman?"

Mr. John Miller took the solo in "Lift Up Your Heads" in the evening anthem in the Charlotte street church on Sunday. Mr. Miller's fine voice sounded to peculiar advantage in the selection.

Crossley and Hunter are working in the maritime provinces and a great religious awakening is reported. At Fredericton, N. B., the names of 632 were handed in as those desirous of changing their mode of living.

"Radiant Morn" was the title of the morning anthem in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church yesterday. Miss Martha Stevens took the solo and Misses Stevens and Hendren the duet in excellent voice.

Rev. Dr. Torrance conducted both services in St. Paul's church, yesterday. In the evening the choir sang Dudley Buck's "Evening Hymn" as an anthem. The exquisite shading in the composition was excellently brought out.

Last night the rector of St. Luke's commenced his course of sermons on "Law." The subject next Sunday will be "The Law of Habit." Considering the bad, not to say dangerous, condition of the roads the congregation was large.

Rev. Mr. Garbutt of Omemee, who was ordained at the last conference, preached two excellent sermons in the George street church yesterday. Mr. Garbutt, though young, is evidently a deep thinker. He possesses the advantage also of being a clear and distinct speaker and having a splendid delivery. Those who were privileged in hearing him yesterday predict a brilliant future for the clever young divine.

Rev. Mr. Pady preached a special sermon to children yesterday morning in the Park street Baptist church. In the evening he delivered an excellent sermon from Nehemiah viii., 3, "And he read therein before the street that was before the water gate, from the morning until mid day, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law."

To-morrow evening Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, of Port Hope, will deliver a lecture on "Ancient Cities and God's use of Them," at the Park Street Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Young People connected with that congregation. Rev. Mr. Dayfoot is well known as a most eloquent speaker, and his address will doubtless be of a most interesting character. No admission fee will be charged, though a free will offering will be taken up during the evening.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Sypophosphites.

Remarkable results have been obtained from the use of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophites in cases of emaciation associated with bronchial irritation and cough. The efficacy of cod liver oil in this class of affections has long been conceded, and combined as it is in this preparation with the hypopophosphites (which affords a valuable stimulus to the nervous system) and with maltine (itself a food and reconstructive of the greatest value), its usefulness is vastly increased. Furthermore, by the action of maltine starchy foods are more easily digested and in larger quantities, affording additional nourishment for the replacement of the waste of the body and for reconstructive purposes. If you are now using cod liver oil or any of the emulsions of this agent, weigh yourself, use Maltine for two weeks and observe the results. You will have gained both weight and strength, and relief from cough, bronchial irritation, and the distress these occasion.

ANNUAL SERMON TO ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

IT IS DELIVERED BY REV. MR. MACWILLIAMS.

A Large Congregation in Attendance to Hear Him Speak on the Patron Saint of the Sons of Old Scotia.

Rev. A. MacWilliams delivered the annual sermon to St. Andrews Society last evening in St. Andrew's church. As his text he took the verse:

St. John, 1:41.42, "He (Andrew) first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, we have found the Messias which is being interpreted the Christ. And he brought him to Jesus."

In opening Mr. MacWilliams stated that he did not believe the pulpit was the platform from which to deliver an address on the characteristics of the Scotch people, such as might be deemed a necessary adjunct to a St. Andrew's day sermon.

He knew, however, that should he once begin to dwell on the advantages of being a son of old Scotia, everyone in the congregation not of Scotch extraction would be sorry that they could not claim that honour, and would feel dissatisfied with their lot in life in consequence, and the modesty of those who were Scotch would, he knew, have a very severe strain put upon it by the many excellent traits of the Scotch which he would have to dilate upon.

If he did not intend to speak of Scotland, however, he would speak of

SCOTLAND'S PATRON SAINT,

St. Andrew. Andrew was one of the two apostles who followed Jesus when he was walking amongst the people after the first temptation. The Scriptures showed Andrew to be very devout and very religious, and this was one of the traits which distinguished the Scotch people. They had always a great reverence for God and for the Sabbath day, but as soon as the sons of old Scotia follow the example of many of the other nations in their disregard for the observance of the Sabbath Day, then Scotland's glory shall have departed from her. May the glory, said he, that has rested upon old Scotland remain with us. Let us revrence our God as of old.

Coming back to his subject, the speaker stated that we found that Andrew on finding God immediately sought out his brother to bring him to Jesus. This action was the mainspring of all missionary work. It was during that night when Andrew was with his Saviour that the Divine Spirit dwelt in his soul and crucified the carnal nature and implanted in his soul a longing desire that others might be brought to see Christ. A yearning was created and a longing desire to save others. If you and I, said Mr. MacWilliams, are ever to have we must do as St. Andrew, the patron saint of old Scotia—come to God and receive the divine light.

It was hard, the speaker thought, to decide who was the first foreign missionary. There were Peter, Paul and Philip and those who went home and preached after the day of Pentecost, but even previous to this little missionary meetings were known to have been conducted in Rome. But if this difficulty existed in respect to determining who was the first foreign missionary there never was any doubt about who was the first home missionary. It was Andrew. Andrew, who on receiving the light himself, hastened to seek out his brother that he too might be saved.

All might learn one lesson from St. Andrew and that was that the design of all missionary effort was to bring souls to Jesus. This alone was salvation. The speaker was afraid that lower motives than this often inspired the CHRISTIANITY OF TO-DAY.

Something less than the object stated satisfied, and if the congregation was enlarged the matter was pushed no farther. This was all right as leading to an end and if this end was Christ, only then shall the workers be united in the bonds of eternity.

Andrew's mission was a distinctively home mission, which work the speaker greatly encouraged. He had, however, no sympathy with those who would not encourage foreign missions, as he had found that those who had no sympathy for foreign missions were not much use to home missions either. He did not believe in concentrating all attention abroad, but urged that the sympathy be divided, with the preference being given to the home missions first. In concluding, Mr. MacWilliams stated that the latter were especially commended if not commanded by God, who instructed his apostles to begin their work in Jerusalem and all Judea and afterwards spread it unto of the earth. But time will not permit me to say more. What a noble character Andrew was! The individual, the congregation or the society that chooses Andrew as their patron saint, and followed him, shall be a benediction to mankind and shall themselves be richly blessed by the eternal God. O, I appeal to you all with myself, let us do as did Andrew. Let us come, see and dwell with Jesus and having found Him for ourselves, let us go out after our brethren that we may bring them to the Master also. O, let nothing less satisfy us, for nothing else will avail at the judgment day. Let us not tarry, but like Andrew, begin at once, for while we delay immortal souls are perishing. O, then make haste, tarry not. If we do, success will surely crown our efforts, souls shall be brought to Jesus, and there shall be joy in heaven among the angels of God over sinners repenting, and when time with us is no more, and the Master's loving voice is heard saying, "it is enough, come up higher," we shall then pass through the pearly gates into glory land, welcomed by God, welcomed by the holy angels, welcomed by the redeemed ones whom ye, like Andrew, have brought to Jesus. Welcome! thrice welcome to the paradise of God. May it be so! Amen.

NOTES.

The ladies of the choir wore each a sprig of heather in recognition of the day.

In the front of the pulpit there was placed a beautiful floral trophy—chrysanthemums.

One of the sweetest, if not the sweetest effects of the service was a hymn sung to the sweetly plaintive tune, "Robin Adair."

Special.

Another lot of fine imported cigars will be sold by the box at wholesale prices and under. E. B. CLEGG, one door south of Stratton's Bookstore.

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Special Invitation for the Ground Floor Gallery.

Christmas is coming; in less than four short weeks it will be here and the time honoured custom of gift giving will necessarily include photographs of yourself or your family for your best friends. Nothing in the way of a present in good taste can better be given than a photograph—it represents a small cost if got at the Ground Floor Studio—and is of the highest value to a friend. Next to a visit from oneself a well taken photograph is the most acceptable gift. Business has been good with us since I assumed the management of the Ground Floor Gallery, Charlotte street, a few days ago, and with the great satisfaction expressed with our work we have reason to expect a genuine rush as Christmas approaches. Now you are advised to take the very first chance to give me a sitting, if you wish the best photograph that can be produced in this district. You know it takes some time to take, print and finish a photograph and that work done hurriedly in any branch cannot be done as well as when reasonable time is given. I am sure there will be a rush of orders as Christmas comes near and that many who apply late will perhaps be disappointed—only so much work can be done. So that if you do your part in spreading the rush over the weeks between now and Christmas by giving me a sitting at once, you will serve your interests and my own. Call early therefore and leave your order for your Christmas photographs at the Ground Floor Studio, Charlotte street (Sproule's former premises).

ELDRIDGE STANTON.

Dec. 2nd, 1895.

LINES

On the Death of Richard Esson, who Died Nov. 30th, 1892, and his wife, Mary Jane, who Died October 7th, 1893.

(Published by request.)

No more we'll see their loving faces,
No more we'll grasp their kindly hand,
They have left this world below
And gone to a better land.

As we, lonely, stood round that hallowed spot,
Where rests our father dear,
We had no friend to soothe our aching heart,
Or wipe away a falling tear.

Although sad, lonely and bereft,
Cruel death still lingered near;
We were deprived of a fond and loving mother,
'Ere the close of another year.

Although they're resting far apart,
In a distant land,
We know their spirits are united,
To dwell at God's right hand.

May he be ever watchful o'er our brother,
When he is far away,
He, who is a Father to the fatherless,
And the orphans, stay.

When in our lonely hours we watch the sun go down
And settle in the west,
We know it sheds its golden hue
O'er the graves where our fond parents rest.

When we are called from all earthly ties,
May we be reunited as before,
And meet with heavenly greeting,
When we reach the other shore.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable! Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

QUEEN STREET

Before the finished fruit come bud and blossom. Bud grows into blossom and blossom into fruit. And so girlhood merges into womanhood and the woman into motherhood.

The two most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman, and the woman a mother. At these times, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is of incalculable value. It turns danger into safety and pain into ease. It is a medicine which has but one object. It is good for but one thing. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, it promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all of the ills of womankind are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." And this generally begins either at the time of puberty or childbirth, or at the "turn of life."

There are not three cases in a hundred of woman's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will not cure. Thousands of grateful women have been rendered healthy and happy by its use, and the experience and testimony of many of them has been included in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser.

When Dr. Pierce published the first edition of his work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would give away the next half million free. He is now distributing, absolutely free, 500,000 of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, at Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains over 1000 pages and more than 300 illustrations. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send NOW before all are given away. They are going off rapidly, therefore, do not delay sending immediately if you want one.

STOLE HER OWN MONEY.

The Charge Upon Which Mrs. Besson Has Been Arraigned.

London, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Fontane Besson, wife of a manufacturer of musical instruments in this city, New York, Paris and St. Petersburg, who was arrested in Seville, Spain, in October and extradited to England, was arraigned here to-day upon the charge of having stolen from her husband securities valued at £100,000. Her husband's counsel said that Mrs. Besson had eloped with a Spaniard, taking the securities with her, and that it was the intention of the eloping couple to go from Spain to America. Already, counsel asserted, the defendant had disposed of £30,000 worth of stolen securities. Mrs. Besson's lawyer testified that the husband had taken his wife's name, and did not deny that the property was hers, but ought to manage and administer it because of the community of goods under the marriage contract, which was drawn according to the provisions of the French law. The case was adjourned, the defendant being liberated under bonds in the sum of £5000, which were furnished by herself.

AFTER AN ENGLISH ADMIRAL.

China Wants Captain Lang of the Devastation to Take Command.

London, Nov. 29.—China has invited Captain William Lang to reassume the command of her navy. Capt. Lang is now commander of the battleship Devastation at Devonport. Capt. Lang was formerly admiral of the Chinese navy, from which position he retired owing, it is said, to the machinations of a clique of Anti-foreigners at Pekin Chow.

CHALLENGE TO FIGHT.

Hungarian Parliamentarians to Settle on the Field of Honor.

Buda-Pest, Nov. 29.—In the Lower House of the Hungarian Diet to-day Herr Andreansky reproached Herr von Perczel, Minister of the Interior, for the assisting in electoral abuses. In replying to the charge made against him the Minister said that the accusation was insolent, and used language that was offensive to Herr Andreansky and the House. The President of the Chamber finally intervened and called the Minister to order. After the sitting Herr Andreansky sent to Herr von Perczel a challenge to fight a duel, which was accepted. Herr von Perczel temporarily resigning his Ministerial post in order to be able to meet his adversary on the field of honor.

Only 58 Animals Lost.

London, Nov. 29.—Of the 550 animals on the British steamer Nessmore, from Moutreal and Quebec, for Liverpool, before reported ashore on the Island of Coll, Hebrides, 58 were lost.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged—South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion, Dyspepsia Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical commonsense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" That great discovery of the century, South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person affected with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who used the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH

Fell Backwards Into a Pot of Boiling Water and After Much Suffering Died From the Effects.

London, Ont., Nov. 30.—Yesterday was wash-day at the residence of Mr. Geo. E. Gibson, 502 William-street, and about 4 o'clock in the afternoon the hired girl, who had been scrubbing, left some boiling water in a pot in the kitchen. Little Alice, the 2-year-old child, was toddling about the house and fell backwards into the scalding bath. A terrifying scream brought the equally terrified mother to the child's side. She snatched her out and tore off her clothes. A doctor was sent for, and everything possible done to alleviate her distress, but despite all efforts she died this morning. About three months ago Mr. Gibson lost his only boy, and a few days ago the victim of yesterday's accident fell onto a baking pan and sustained injuries from which she was just recovering.

TRAIN WRECK AND FIRE.

Engineer and Fireman Killed and Many Passengers Injured.

Syracuse, Dec. 2.—The New York & Philadelphia express on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, which leaves Syracuse at 10.10 p.m., was wrecked one-half north of Preble Station, 26 miles south of this city, at 12.30 a.m. The train was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour when the wreck occurred. The siding at Preble had been left open to allow a freight train to get out of the way of the express, and the switch was left open. The train crashed into the freight cars on the siding, completely telescoping three of them. The engine and tender of the express were completely demilished, and the engineer, George Young, of Syracuse, was instantly killed.

MISS RYE SPEAKS.

She Assures the British Public That Canadian Justice is All Right.

London, Dec. 1.—The Times prints a letter from Miss Rye, of Niagara-on-the-Lake. Miss Rye states that she has had much experience with English emigrant girls, and has usually found them satisfactory. She assures the British public that the case of the boy Green may safely be left to a Canadian judicial investigation. Miss Rye desires to bear testimony to the wonderful forbearance which Canadians exercise towards these backward and ignorant children.

Miss Rye reminds the English people that at a meeting in Toronto in 1894 Inspector Stark, chief of detectives, had the manliness to acknowledge that after examining the history of the young criminals dealt with by his department he was bound to confess that he was unable to trace one as having come from England.

DEATH OF MR. SAMUEL DAVIS.

The Head of the Well-Known Cigar Business Passes Away.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—Mr. Samuel Davis, head of the well-known cigar manufacturing business, died here on Saturday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. Mr Davis was very popular throughout Canada and his death will be generally regretted.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour

One Honest Man.

Dear Sirs:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Rev. Dr. Peter Trimble Rowe, Who Was Born and Educated in Toronto, Made Bishop of Alaska.

New York, Dec. 1.—At St. George's Church, Stuyvesant-square, Saturday morning, Rev. Dr. Peter Trimble Rowe of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was consecrated Bishop of Alaska.

Bishop Doane of Albany conducted the ceremony, assisted by Bishops Potter of New York and Davies of Michigan while Bishop Talbot of Wyoming and Idaho delivered the sermon.

Bishop Rowe was born Nov. 28, 1859, in Toronto, Canada, graduated from the University of Toronto in 1878 and received the degree of Master of Arts in 1882 from the same University. He can speak six languages fluently.

His first field was among the Indians at the reservations at Garden River, Ont., and along Lake Huron and in the islands of St. Joseph and Cockburn. He went about in a small boat in summer time and in winter he travelled from place to place on snow shoes.

A little over 11 years ago the energetic young missionary was appointed by the late Bishop Harris of Michigan to the mission of Sault Ste. Marie, where he has done a great work.

During the prevalence of la grippe, those who made use of Ayers'Cherry Pectoral found it prompt to act and sure to cure, No other medicine is so safe and efficacious in all diseases of the throat and lungs, and the only remedy successful in consumption.

Lungs Closed Up.

GENTS,—In the early part of the winter I caught a bad cold followed by a severe cough. I could not sleep as my lungs seemed closed up. I could walk only a few yards without stopping to get breath. I sent for Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion and before I had finished the third bottle the cough was gone—I could breathe freely and felt like a new man. I advise all sufferers from coughs, colds or asthma, to give your Emulsion a trial.

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. It was usually accompanied with severe pains in the temples, a sense of fullness and tenderness in one eye, a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, hands and feet cold, and sickness at the stomach. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

TURKEY THREATENS

The Porte Will Renounce All Responsibility

FOR PROTECTION OF FOREIGNERS

That is if the Powers Make a Naval Display—Sir Philip Carrie and Other Ambassadors Awaiting Instructions—China Seeking an English Admiral.

Munich, Nov. 29.—The correspondent of the Neueste Nachrichten at Constantinople telegraphs a report of an interview had by him with Halil Rifat Pasha, the Turkish Grand Vizier, in which that official declares that if the united fleets of the powers shall make a demonstration at Constantinople, the Porte will inform the powers that the Turkish Government renounces all responsibility for the consequences, especially as regards the matter of protection to foreigners.

The British Gunboat Dryad Ordered Forward.

London, Nov. 29.—Upon the strength of the assurances given by the Porte to Sir Phillip Currie, British Ambassador to Turkey, that the Sultan would permit each of the powers to send into the Bosphorus a second guardship, Sir Phillip telegraphed to Admiral Seymour, commanding the British Mediterranean squadron, requesting him to dispatch the gunboat Dryad to the Bosphorus at once. The Dryad was expected to arrive at Osanakkale at 11 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 28, and the Porte was so informed, but no authority to pass through the straits of Dardanelles had been given up to the time of writing this despatch. The Sultan upon learning this news became greatly disquieted and at the hour of midnight sent messages to Tewfik Pasha, the Foreign Minister, and Said Pasha, ex-Grand Vizier.

Sir Phillip Currie is now awaiting instructions from Lord Salisbury, and the other foreign diplomats have in the meantime asked their respective Governments for instructions.

The synod of the Greek Church in Turkey has refused to commit itself to an expression of satisfaction with the policy of the Government in Asia Minor.

Greece Acting Warlike.

Berlin, Nov. 29.—A despatch from Athens to the Cologne Gazette, says that great activity is being observed in fitting out Greek ironclads for sea service and that the Greek Government is arranging with the National Bank for a loan of 500,000 francs to be expended for that purpose.

A BATCH OF RED HATS

Disposed of at a Secret Consistory Held at the Vatican Yesterday.

Rome, Nov. 29.—A secret consistory was held at the Vatican to-day over which the Pope presided. The session ended at noon, when it was announced that His Holiness was in fair health and had made a speech of some length eulogizing the new cardinals whom the consistory had elevated to the sacred college. The prelates elevated to the cardinalate by the consistory were Archbishop Sembratowicz of Lemberg, Austria; Archbishop Haller of Salsburg, Austria; Archbishop Cascajeres Y. Azara of Valladolid, Spain; Archbishop Boyer of Bourges, France; Mgr. Gotti, Archbishop of Petra; Archbishop Satolli, Apostolic Delegate to the United States; Bishop Cassanas Y Pages of Seo de Urgel, Spain; Bishop Manara of Ancona, Italy, and Bishop Perraud of Autun, France.

The Pope also recognized 24 new Italian bishops.

The consistory was especially imposing because of the unusually large number of cardinals present. Cardinal Persico, Secretary General of the Propaganda, was absent on account of illness. The Grand Master of Ceremonies announced that the Pope would confer the red hat upon the new cardinals at the next public consistory. The proceedings of the consistory lasted only half an hour, owing to the Pope becoming somewhat weak from fatigue.

The body must be well nourished now, to prevent sickness. If your appetite is poor take Hoood's Sarsaparilla.

THE POLICE AT FORT CUDAHY.

Not Establishing Posts in Connection With the Boundary Dispute—Indians Who Were in the Custer Massacre.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—Canada is not establishing posts on the frontier in connection with the boundary dispute, said Captain A. R. Cuthbert of "D" division of Canadian Mounted Police, who reached this city yesterday from British Columbia. The sending of a mounted force to Fort Cudahy, which is near the Canadian boundary, had nothing whatever to do with the boundary question. For a long time the people around Fort Cudahy have been appealing to our authorities to send some police to that section, empowered to enforce order.

"The country is far from civilization," said he, "and the miners have been making and carrying out laws to suit themselves. These measures worked great injustice to everyone. In addition to this, smugglers have been unmolested. There have been no forts established other than simple barracks for the small detachments which have been sent there.

"The point where I am stationed is Prince Albert, in the northern part of Northwest Canada. We are surrounded by Indians and one band of Sioux, refugees from the States, participants in the Custer massacre, affords us a great deal of interest. We are constantly getting hold of some relic from them which has a direct association with that affair. Spurs and carbines, a ring or two, and other trinkets have been found in their possession. It was not long ago that one of our men found a gold watch of American make in the hands of one of the Sioux band. Just prior to my departure we were informed by our Government officials that the watch had been returned to the relatives of an officer who fell with Custer at Little Big Horn."

Cold in the Head

And Headache cured in 5 minutes. Catarrh cured in a week by using Dr. Hunt's Maple snuff, 25 cents box. For sale by J. D. Tully and H. S. McDonald and all druggists.

Nervous Prostration.

Cured effectually by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

His heart was affected.

"Overwork as a student at college brought on an attack of nervous prostration," says Mr. Gilbert, a railway missionary. "I was exceedingly nervous and if I exerted myself my heart commenced to flutter violently, and I was warned that even ordinary exercise endangered my life. But thanks to Scott's Sarsaparilla I feel better than I ever expected to feel, for I can now address a meeting without effort, can walk a brisk pace for two hours or more without exhaustion and am free from that distressing palpitation. In my work I have oftentime recommended Scott's Sarsaparilla, and have seen many cases where its effects have been most marked."

Scott's Sarsaparilla acts like magic in restoring shattered nerves because it rebuilds the nerve centres. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia and all nerve derangements wear on the system. Scott's Sarsaparilla makes new blood and muscles and strong nerves. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years.....774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. C. F. Thompson, of Harwood, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. George Thrasher, barrister, of Stirling, is in town to-day on business.

Miss Minnie Chambers, of Fenelon Falls, is spending the winter in town with friends.

Mrs. Fred Routh, of Peterborough, was the guest of Mrs. Lance Routh, Cobourg, last week.

Mr. Henry Greene, of Peterborough, was registered at the Anglo-American Hotel Belleville, on Saturday.

Mr. Walter Connor, nephew of Mr. Andrew Macfarlane, Homewood avenue, leaves this evening to accept a position in Bay City, Michigan.

Mr. Wm. Caldwell, that nomadic paradox, a stationery wanderer, has just returned from a successful business visit to the Pacific Coast and the Maritime Provinces, in the interests of Brown Bros, stationers, etc. He is in town to-day and his energetic immitation of the wandering Jew seems to agree with his health.

Mr. Henry Myers, proprietor of the "Cat's Paw" Comedy Company, accompanied by Mrs. Myers, were in town over Sunday, the guests of the Huffman House. He was in town making arrangements for the appearance of the "Cat's Paw"—which was a splendid success here last month—in the Opera House on Dec. 7th. This is a paving of the way for Max O'Rell himself, who will appear in the Opera House on Feb. 10th.

The Canadian Mute, a journal published to teach printing to some of the pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Belleville, says:—"W. J. Emery, of Peterborough, was the only one of our old boys who spent Thanksgiving Day with us this year. It is ten years since he left school, and he looks as if the world had been kind to him. He is on an extended holiday tour to Montreal and Ottawa, and will then visit Toronto." Mr. Emery is well known to the citizens as the deaf and dumb boy who looks after the Court House Park in the summer.

A CONSTABLE'S MISHAPS.

His Horse is Stolen and He Runs Up Against a Wild Animal.

"For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain this country of ours is peculiar; which same we now rise to explain." With all due deference to the Heathen Chinee, this should be the quotation, though it is not.

It all came about in this way. One of our numerous county constables had been detailed to arrest a man charged with the larceny of an oak tree or an elm swamp or some such thing.

The constable knew that he was to go out near Springville, and being armed with the necessary documents, executed a right about face and went, regardless of the fact that he didn't know just where he was heading for.

Having driven out to near Springville, at about dusk he alighted from his rig and went to a house to make enquiries.

Scarcely had he reached the door, however, when he saw a form hop into his buggy and drive off at a rapid gait down the road.

Was this a horrid nightmare? Could it be possible that he had fallen asleep on the way out and not known anything about it? Or was it an optical illusion?

He rubbed his eyes and looked again. The buggy still bowled along at a good clip.

He pinched himself to be sure he was awake, and kicked himself for not being asleep; and then he started out down the road in hot pursuit of the retreating rig. But he couldn't make it. He spurted like an absconding cashier; but to no avail. The other fellow had the lead and kept it.

Recognizing at last the futility of the chase, he gave it up, took to the railway track and commenced to count ties for home.

He couldn't banish from his mind the idea that someone with no poetry in his soul would be unreasonable enough to guy him, a constable chasing up a thief, for letting some duffer come along and swipe his horse and buggy.

The walk seemed to be getting pretty long, the ties quite numerous, and he was telling his whip, his sole companion on his lonely tramp, what he would do to the bloke in the buggy when he laid hands on him, when something moved close beside him.

It was quite dark and he could not distinguish what was the cause of the stir. It was something alive, however, something on which he could vent his pent up spleen.

Swish-sh, biff! Down came the whip stock. He had struck it.

! !! !!! * * * ! ? — —!!! !! !!! ?

It had struck back.

It was only a pretty, fluffy-furred, bushy-tailed pole-cat. But even they will turn when biffed by a blooming constable.

Next morning he set out to get his horse and found that it had simply been borrowed, driven five or six miles and left. A pound-keeper with a keen eye to business had spotted it.

No more than the usual pound-keeper's fee was charged to redeem it. By dint of hard work and disinfectants he can now come to town and even enter into court without anyone having the slightest suspicion of the mishaps that befel him on that eventful autumn eve.

CONSUMPTION

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Baltimore, Nov. 30.—Get-away day at Pimlico furnished some of the best finishes seen during the 18 days of the meeting. The best four-mile steeplechase witnessed hereabouts in recent years was the concluding event. Six starters, with gentlemen riders up, and to the surprise of everybody all finished. Young Arion finished first by a neck. Mr. Merriman, who rode Harry Harwood, claimed that Young Arion went wrong, and his statement was accepted by the judges. They disqualified Arion, and gave the race to Chevy Chase. Summaries:

First race, ⅝ mile—Damsel, 4 to 5, 1; Maple Prince, 4 to 1, 2; Lillie Mills, 6 to 1, 3. Time 1.09¾.

Second race, ¾ mile—Pontlear, 2 to 1, 1; Claurece, 20 to 1, 2; Tom Moore, 15 to 1, 3. Time 1.28½.

Third race, 1⅛ miles—Langdon, 3 to 1, 1; Sue Kitty, 3 to 1, 2; Ina 3. Time 2.00¼.

Fourth race, ⅝ mile—Old Saugus, 10 to 1, 1; Shakespeare II., 3 to 1, 2; Venetia II., 10 to 1, 3. Time 1.05¼.

Fifth race, 1 1-16 miles—Charade, 6 to 1, 1; Phoebus, 2 to 1, 2; The Swain, 3 to 1, 3. Time 1.53½.

Sixth race, steeplechase, over full course—Chevy Chase, 7 to 5, 1; Harry Harwood, 5 to 1, 2; Najle, 5 to 1, 3. Time 10.02½.

Sixth race, 6½ furlongs—Solitaire, 8 to 1, 1; Tancred, 7 to 5, 2; Mattie Chun 3. Time 1.21.

Lexington results—First race, 4½ furlongs—Mattie Lee 1, Hawthorne Belle 2, Whiteaway 3. Time 1.00.

Second race, ¾ mile—Rupee 1, Gateway 2, Uno 3. Time 1.20½.

Third race, 1 mile—Sunburst 1, Mill Boy 2, Momus 3. Time 1.48½.

Fourth race, ⅝ mile—Fresco 1, Usury 2, Old Nassau 3. Time 1.09¾.

Fifth race, ¾ mile—James Monroe 1, Ida Wagner 2, Wildfire 3. Time 1.18¼. This was the closing day.

Slavin and Maher.

New York, Nov. 30.—Signed articles of agreement were received yesterday at The Police Gazette office from Frank P. Slavin, with a request that they be forwarded to Peter Maher for his signature. The articles are very prolific, and say that the match is to be fought before May 27, 1896, in a 20-foot ring, under Queensberry rules, with four-ounce gloves, to be decided either in England or South Africa, for the biggest purse offered. Slavin said he would deposit $1000 with London Sporting Life last Wednesday, but did not do so. Slavin is also matched to box Jem Smith, which may complicate matters.

AN OLD SONG RESUNG.

Sing a song of sixpence,
A pocketful of gold,
Four-and-twenty secrets
Waiting to be told.

Wait till Christmas morning,
Secrets will be out,

Isn't that a jolly time
To hear the children shout?

Children in the parlor
Pulling out their toys;
Parents in the doorway
Laughing at their noise;

Postman on the doorstep
Handing up the mail—
Isn't this a merry time?
Pleasures never fail!

SIR WILLIAM HINGSTON ACCEPTS

He will be the Liberal-Conservative Candidate in the Centre Riding of Montreal.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—Sir William Hingston is in the field as the Government candidate in Montreal Centre. A strong deputation waited on Sir William at his residence last evening and he accepted the Liberal-Conservative nomination. The feature of the evening was a speech by the Hon. Senator Drummond, who, in discussing the Manitoba school question, said: "The situation was an extremely portentous one. The English Protestants in Quebec, as a minority, enjoy certain rights, and as Protestants they should be prepared to do justice to all parties. (Applause.) The question that was now paramount and that overshadowed all other issues was undoubtely the Manitoba school question. It would take fearless and manly handling to settle that question in a manner satisfactory to the people of Quebec. What would be thought, then, if the chief constituency in the Province of Quebec were to give a verdict adverse to a Government that had staked its very existence on rendering justice to all. (Applause.) The English Protestants must put their shoulders to the wheel and unite with the other races. Let justice be done though the heavens fall."

Your correspondent interviewed the leading Montreal bankers on Saturday and their opinions regarding the business outlook in Canada will no doubt be read with more than ordinary interest by the mercantile community.

Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, was the first gentleman seen, and he spoke as follows:

"Since my recent trip to British Columbia and the Territories, I believe that, without being a boom, all the change has been for the better. The crops are bound to tell, but the fact is people are too impatient. They should realize that it takes time to bring about a marked improvement in trade, even when the trend is all in that direction. We should speak comparatively of Canada," continued the general manager, "for the Dominion has certainly stood up much better throughout the crisis than the United States or any of the European countries, and if things continue to go on as at present the fall of 1896 will see a decided improvement."

Mr. George Hague, general manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, said:

"I do not think the country is in an unsatisfactory condition. Navigation is now closed and the exports of Canada's exportable products have been very large. Prices have not been as good as formerly, but it cannot be said that they have been bad or that the country will not derive great benefit from the trade that has been done. The splendid crops in Manitoba and the Northwest, even at low prices, have diffused a general feeling of hopefulness and buoyancy all over that country, and this feeling cannot but have a good effect in this part of the Dominion, especially when so much of the business of the Northwest centres in Montreal and Toronto." Continuing, Mr. Hague said that on all sides the change was for the better. "Debts," added the veteran general manager, "are much easier collected, and in many cases payments are now being made that were deemed almost hopeless at the time. Manufacturers generally are doing fairly well in most lines of enterprise, and manufacturers of timber and deals have found good markets in Great Britain, while the improved condition of affairs in the United States will ere long greatly improve the market in that country for Canadian lumber.

"Taking the Dominion as a whole," concluded Mr. Hague, "there is nothing to cause apprehension as to the future of Canada, but that on the contrary a moderate degree of prosperity will be our heritage."

Mr. F. Wolferstan Thomas, general manager of Molsons Bank, was likewise seen, and expressed himself thus: "In a general way the trade of the country is fairly prosperous. A good many small failures have taken place, and it is likely that others will follow during the winter, but no doubt the experience of the last two or three years has brought a great deal of prudence and foresight in the management of business. This applies especially to Manitoba and the Northwest, and it appears likely that British Columbia will experience a great revival in her mining industries. However," said Mr. Thomas, "no province has made greater progress, and especially in agriculture, than the Province of of Quebec, and in this particular," he said, "great credit was due the Hon. Mr. Beaubien for the good work he had done." Mr. Thomas also bore hearty testimony to the thrift and progress of the French-Canadian farmers of this province, and concluded by predicting a lengthy term of prosperity to rural Quebec.

Mr. William Weir, president and manager of the Banque Ville Marie, was seen, and his remarks on the export of gold from New York are of interest. He could not but think that some injurious effects would follow the outflow as far as the United States was concerned.

Any scarcity of money there, however, will be favorable to Canada, "for," he added, "we are large lenders of money, and not borrowers. Our banks have now about $27,000,000 on loan in New York and Chicago, the Bank of Montreal having somewhere near half the amount alone." The president of the Ville Marie Bank explained that this large sum of money which Canadian banks loan to the Americans is for the greater part on call. As for trade, Mr. Weir says the country is thoroughly sound, although there are still too many people in trade and the banks give them too easy accommodation.

None Better Known.

There is no better known traveller in the Maritime Provinces than Mr. Fred Anderson, the popular representative of Messers. T. S. Simms & Co., St. John, N. B. Speaking of Norway Pine Syrup, Mr. Anderson says: "It is the best cough cure I have ever used and I prefer it to any other. I have given it to friends of mine and it cures every time. It would be a difficult matter now to induce me to use any other."

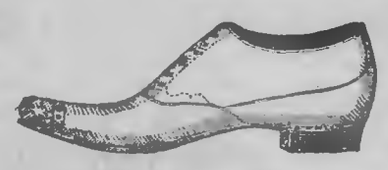
The Way We Sell Boots and Shoes

Is remarkable enough to be told about and repeatedly emphasized. There are lots of stores with handsomer appointments, and lots of them swinging more style, but when it comes to downright good shoes at downright low prices we lead the trade. You buy them for just what they are, without any falsehood or exaggeration. The newest styles the most complete range of sizes, and the finest qualities are here as you want them. No one can afford to do any fooling or show an indifference at this season of the year as to the quality and character of the footwear worn. Our shoes are solidified samples of success, both in the quality of every pair we offer and in the prices.



There's Nothing We Like Better Than to

SAVE YOU MONEY!

It's as good as a gold mine to us, this being able to mark prices below the average. People find it out and come and keep coming. There is absolutely no limit to the trade we can get, with values leaning your way as they are now.

HYAMS TWINS HAPPY.

Arraigned Yesterday in the Toronto Police Court

ON INDICTMENTS FOR CONSPIRACY

A Plea of Not Guilty Entered and a Remand of a Week Granted—Further Charges to Come in Case the Present Ones Fail—No Demand for Bail.

Toronto, Dec. 3.—The Hyamese twins were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to murder Martha Wells Hyams. The indictment charges that the conspiracy was entered into in the months of December, 1894, and January, 1895.

A plea of not guilty was entered through their counsel, Mr. E. F. B. Johnston.

A week's remand was granted the Crown, and in the meantime the little fellows will enjoy life as it is in Castle Green.

It is the intention of the Crown officers to press the conspiracy charge against the diminutive prisoners, and in the event of a failure to bring about a conviction, will follow with other charges of attempting to defraud insurance companies, and also forgery. Under the latter heading there are four charges at present standing against the two men in this city, the greatest of these being the alleged forgery of a cheque drawn by Martha Wells Hyams in favor of a man named John Jackson, with whom the twins had once boarded. The endorsation of Jackson on the cheque is claimed by the Crown to be a forgery. Two other cheques of $500 each, made by Martha Wells Hyams to the order of Alex. Crone or Crane and to William Stone, are claimed to be forgeries. The fourth charge has not yet been stated specifically, the Crown officials not having completed their inquiries. In the Crone case the utmost diligence has failed to unearth the party to whom the cheque had been issued by Mrs. Hyams, and it is believed that he is a myth. In the case of Jackson, however, it is claimed that the evidence necessary to convict is in possession of the Government officials.

The appearance of the twins in court yesterday betokened the joy they felt in the failure of the Crown to convict them of the murder of Willie Wells. They were particularly gay, and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the evident interest with which they were viewed by the unusually large gathering of loungers at the Police Court. Dallas was, if anything, the more chipper of the two men, having regained that spirit of bravado which he affected after his arrest in February last, but which forsook him during the latter portion of the recent trial.

The prisoners' counsel made no demand for bail and the Police Magistrate will merely investigate the conspiracy charge to determine upon the advisability of binding the men over for trial, the question of bail being probably left for the determination of the higher courts.

Apart from the charges above mentioned, Harry Hyams is wanted in Montreal on a charge of forgery, and will be taken to that city in the event of a failure to convict here.

A DELIBERATE PLOT.

The Wreck of the New York and Philadelphia Night Express Was a Villainous and Cool Plan.

Cortland, N.Y., Dec. 2.—The wreck of the New York and Philadelphia night express on the D.L. & W. railroad at Preble, at 11.05 o'clock last night, was the result of a most deliberate plot on the part of persons urknown.

The train was due at Preble at 11.01 p.m., but did not stop there. It was four minutes late in passing, and had ten miles of straight track on a down grade, where the train is usually run at the rate of 60 miles an hour.

Ten rods north of Preble station there is a switch, which side tracks cars behind the station. There is a water tank north of the switch, so that the switch cannot be seen from the north till the water tank has been passed. The switch is an automatic ball affair, and must be held up to open it. The ball lever was propped up by an iron bar and a piece of fence board.

The engine was wrecked beyond repair, torn all to pieces and turned on its left side and its nose plowed a hole in the ground five feet deep.

Two freight cars were smashed to pieces and several others were driven down the track.

The wreck took fire from the lamps, and every bit of the wood work of the engine and four cars was burned up clean. Superintendent Schwartz of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad has posted the following notice:

"The Syracuse, Binghamton and New York Railroad Company hereby offers a reward of $5000 to whomsoever shall secure the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who caused the wreck of the express train at Preble on the night of December 1, 1895."

EASTERN QUESTION.

The Sultan's Dilly-Dallying Must Come to an End.

THE POWERS GETTING TIRED OF IT

Further Details of the Rioting in Harpoot—Reported Attempt on the Life of the Czar—Serious Outbreak in Morocco—General News by Cable.

Constantinople, Dec. 2.—The general situation here has not changed since Saturday, but it is now apparent that a change is about to take place.

The representatives of the powers, some of whom have been awaiting instructions from their Governments in regard to the matter of putting additional guard boats into the Bosphorus, now seem to be unanimous in their insistence upon the issuance of permits for the admission of these boats by the Sultan.

About 7000 Armenian Greeks have reached the town of Chekmerziman, ten miles from Alexandretta, fleeing from the Moslem pursuers, who have completely demolished the villages of Userli, Adjakli and Karakilissia. The horde of marauders in this vicinity are not molested by the Turkish troops, who are encamped near this place. They are preparing to attack the Armenian refugees at Chekmerziman, who offer to surrender if they are protected by the troops.

The Harpoot Massacre.

London, Dec. 2.—Details of the rioting at Harpoot say that on Nov. 10 the Kurds made an attack upon the place, but were easily repulsed. On the 11th a party of soldiers and leading Turks met the Kurds in a conference, during the progress of which a bugle was sounded, at which signal the soldiers withdrew.

The Kurds thereupon advanced with yells. There was no effort on the part of the soldiers and Armenians to resist, and the Turks joined in the killing and plundering. The Armenian school was burned, and then began the attack upon the Christian quarters, the buildings of which were also set on fire. The Christians were without weapons of any sort and trusted entirely to the Government to protect them. The Americans remained in the girls' seminary until the building was set on fire, and then they appealed to the Governor for protection. They obtained a guard of soldiers, all but two of whom afterwards deserted.

These two remained and carried out the orders issued to them, to fight the fires which had been kindled. The burning continued for three days. The Americans were stripped of everything but their clothes. All of the Christian villages around were burned by the Kurds. The outrages continued unchecked until the Government at Constantinople ordered the troops to take action. Fourteen Kurds were then shot, when the murders and pillaging ceased instantly. The districts of Diarbekir, Malatia, Arabkir, Eyin and Palu have been made desolate. Thirty-five villages have been destroyed and thousands of the inhabitants have embraced Islamism in consequence of the pressure brought to bear upon them.

A PUBLIC CONSISTORY.

Red Hats Dispensed by the Pope at the Vatican Yesterday.

London, Dec. 2.—A despatch from Rome to The Pall Mall Gazette says crowds of people gathered in the Vatican early this morning upon the occasion of the holding of the public consistory. The papal procession into the Sala Regia where the consistory was held began at 9 o'clock. First came the Swiss Guard, followed by the Noble Guard and Papal Choir. Immediately following was the Pope, carried in the Sedia Gestatoria, the chair in which he is carried upon certain occasions. His Holiness was followed by a number of cardinals and bishops and the members of the papal court. The services were very short. Those of the newly appointed cardinals who are now in Rome kissed the foot and hand of the Pope, and received from His Holiness the apostolic embrace. They then received the red hat from the hands of the Pope, who at once retired.

The official announcement of the following appointments of bishops was made: Rev. Father Mostyn, Vicar Apostolic of Wales; Rev. Father MacNeil, Vicar of Newfoundland; Rev. Father Pereira, Coadjutor Bishop of Nicaragua; Rev. Father Kenrick of St. Louis and Right Rev. Mgr. John M. Farley Coadjutor Bishop of New York.

BLOODSHED IN MOROCCO.

The Sultan's Troops Besieged by a Strong Force of Rebels.

Gibraltar, Dec. 2.—Advices received here from Saffi, a fortified seaport 107 miles northwest of the city of Morocco, under date of November 11, say that the Sultan's troops fought a battle with rebels around the city on November 7. The engagement lasted 11 hours on the 7th and was resumed on the following days. A short armistice occurred on the 9th, while the Governor of Saffi went to the rebel camp to endeavor to arrange terms of peace with Chief Benomar, who was in command of the rebels. In the course of the negotiations the Governor struck one of the tribal chiefs, several of whom were present at the conference, and a general melee ensued. The Governor and the officials accompanying him, together with a number of the people of Saffi, who had gone out to witness the negotiations, made a run for the city. The gates were so crowded by the sudden rush of the fugitives that many persons were crushed. When the advices were sent the city was surrounded by a large force of rebels, including 1500 cavalry.

AFTER THE NEW CZAR.

A Missile Thrown at His Majesty Which Grazed His Cloak.

London, Dec. 2.—The Central News correspondent in Vienna says that a report is in circulation there that a projectile was thrown at the Czar at St. Petersburg to-day. The missile grazed His Majesty's cloak and fell harmlessly to the ground. No one was injured. The report says that fourteen arrests have been made in connection with the affair. Confirmation of the rumor is lacking.

STARTLING EPISODE IN MONTREAL

Dr. J. W. Rice of New Brunswick, N.J., Makes Wild Threats in the Rotunda of the Windsor.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—"If anyone touches my daughter he will have to come down; if anyone hurts a hair of her head there will be murder." These startling statements were made in the rotunda of the Windsor Hotel in a tone loud enough to be heard by several of the astonished people who were lounging about. The speaker, a tall, thin man, with short cut hair and grey military moustache and spectacles, was J. W. Rice of New Brunswick, New Jersey, whose mysterious disappearance with his daughter created a great sensation in the States. It appears that Dr. Rice's relatives consider that he and his wife are both mentally unfit to have charge of their beautiful young daughter, Helen M. Rice, and that Mrs. Woodbridge, the child's step-grandmother, asked for a habeas corpus, which was issued by Chancellor McGill of New Jersey. To evade this writ and prevent his child being taken away, he fled with her and was supposed to have taken the steamer St. Paul to Europe. Instead, however, they came here. He and his daughter arrived at the Windsor three days ago. They had hardly any luggage and only one suit of clothes apiece. The doctor seemed to have lots of money.

Thinks Himself Rich.

New Brunswick, N.J., Dec. 2.—Statements made by Dr. J. Warren Rice to reporters in Montreal concerning large wealth do not surprise people here. One of the traits of the doctor and his wife, who were adjudged incompetent to care for their daughter on Saturday, is that of believing that they have unlimited means. Mrs. Rice patronized dealers here lavishly, but for several months the shopkeepers have refused to fill the orders because their bills were not paid. Dr. Rice stood very high in the town as a skilled surgeon and physician. He is a graduate of Rutger's College. His statement in Montreal that he had placed $25,000 in the Bank of Montreal for Miss Helen is not believed.

Efforts will be made immediately to induce Dr. Rice to return to this city and bring his daughter with him.

A friend of the family is already on the way to Montreal for that purpose, and to see that no harm befalls him. Dr. Rice, even when under the influence of drugs such as he has been accustomed to use, never displayed a violent temper, but it is feared by some of the family's friends that the present trouble may induce him to do something violent.

NEWFOUNDLAND MATTERS.

An Alleged Smuggler Arrested on His Return From Nova Scotia.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 2.—Parrell, the so-called secretary of the smuggling syndicate, who escaped from here two months ago, when the prosecutions were at their height, returned to-day from Sidney, N.S., believing that the collapse of the smuggling cases would enable him to square himself with the authorities by the payment of a fine. He was arrested this afternoon, and his trial began almost immediately. The Government will probably be compelled by the new Governor to prosecute him vigorously, although he was always a strong Whitewayite, upon which fact he doubtless counted for clemency.

The revenue returns for November are satisfactory, but the officials anticipate a considerable shortage this month.

A CRAZY JEWELER.

He Threw Coal Oil Over His Wife and Tried to Set Fire to Her.

Buffalo, Dec. 2.—Thomas White, a jeweller, 32 years old, while crazed from the effects of a prolonged debauch, attempted to murder his wife late last night. His method was fiendish, for, after locking the door so she could not escape from the house, he threw half a gallon of kerosene oil all over her and attempted to set fire to her saturated clothing. Her screams attracted the attention of the police, who rescued the woman before the match was applied. He was arrested and sent down for 60 days. He is a Canadian.

A Woman's Fall.

Oswego, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Helen Barnes, wife of Attorney Charles Barnes of Oswego, who has been separated for four years from her husband, and who during that time has been employed by Chappell Bacon & Co., dry goods merchants, of Fulton, as cashier and clerk, has been accused of taking from her employer goods valued at $11,000. Seven thousand dollars cash, which she had on deposit in Oswego, and Syracuse, as well as several hundred dollars' worth of dress goods, are now in the hands of the District Attorney pending an investigation into the case.

Fast Time on the Rail.

The New York Central to-day put the Empire State express on its new schedule of 53 1-3 miles per hour between New York and Buffalo, or 25 minutes less than the previous scheduled time. To-day's train was an unusually heavy one, and the weather unfavorable, but the train was on schedule time until within about 50 miles of the city, when a delay was caused by the scoop being caught while taking water, and the train came in here 23 minutes behind schedule time. Several stretches of miles were reeled off in 54 and 55 seconds.

Split Her Lip by Sneezing.

Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 2.—Among the patients at the office of a well-known surgeon Saturday was a middle-aged lady, who was suffering from a deep slit in the centre of the lower lip. The lip tissue had suddenly parted, following a fit of violent sneezing, and is regarded by the physician as a remarkable accident.

Killed by a Trolley.

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—Professor Dudley C. Stone, one of the pioneer educators of California, was struck and killed by an electric car at East Oakland yesterday.

Margaret Said to Have Got $100,000.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 2.—Margaret Mather, the actress, wife of Col. Pabst, son of the brewer, has left the city, and it is reported that she has settled the proposed divorce suit with her husband, and has taken $100,000 of the big beer mans money with her. Miss Mather, it will be remembered, was accused of horsewhipping her husband on a public street in broad daylight a few weeks ago.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. MR. MCGILLIVRAY seems t be a very consistent government candidate in North Ontario. He doesn't know what his position is in regard to remedial legislation and the government is equally lost in the big words of wobble. Mr. Clark Wallace, supports the Conservative candidate in Cardwell, who declares that he will not support the government in the event of remedial legislation. Mr. Wallace is a member of a government which issued the the remedial order, and head of an order—which he may not find so remedial an one—that proposes to oppose it. Which interest will he support and which betray?

BEFORE horseless carriages can be used to any considerable extent in displacing the horse, the condition of our country roads must be improved. The average country roads with which farmers kill horses and wear out wagons could not be used at all, it is claimed, by the horseless carriages. These vehicles and the bicycle come as a harbinger of benefit, inasmuch as they demand good roads, and good roads would be the biggest kind of a boon to the farmers of Canada. But horseless carriages and bicycles are not the horse's greatest foes. The electric railways are putting horses out of fashion, to a very large degree. Four years ago there were about 150,000 horses used in the street railways of this continent, now only about 50,000 are used for drawing cars. But no horseless carriage or bicycle can altogether replace the horse as a servant of man. The horse may be less used but while grass grows and water runs horses for the use of man will be found to crop the one and drink the other. And a farmer who raises a good horse of the right kind will always be able to find a market for him.

WHAT ABOUT CATARRH?

First of all, nearly every porson has it.

Everyone knows just what it is.

But everyone does not know exactly what it does when once started.

It affects, pervades and constantly encroaches upon the mocous surfaces of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels and bladder.

Had you ever considered the fact that it never has yet been cured by local treatment?

We need not ask this question of anyone who has ever tried any of the local treatments advertised.

The only way catarrah can be reached and radically cured is by the way of the blood.

And this can be done only by treating the Kidneys.

This has been done in many cases by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This unprecedented kidney treatment has cured catarrah along with other obstinate diseases.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are curing catarrah in every case where it is used, whether used for this disease or not.

Therefore Dodd's Kidney Pills is a successful treatment for any case of catarrah.

If that is all that ails you the cure is all the easier.

Now, after knowing this, do you propose to neglect catarrah and let it run into other dangerous diseases.

We mean catarrah of the nose, throat stomach, bowels and bladder.

We say Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it.

Unable to Work.

GENTS.—I was troubled with Liver C m plaint so much that I was unable to work because of the pain and sickness it caused. The pain under my shoulder and in my sides was very severe. I am glad to say that one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters completely cured me and I am now in perfect health.

E. DAGENAIS,
Ste. Rose de Laval, Que.

Baby was troubled with sores on head and legs. I tried "Palmo-Tar Soap." In a very short time the sores disappeared, skin became smooth and white, and the child got perfectly well.

THE TOWN COUNCIL'S REGULAR MEETING.

Finance Committee and if correct were ordered to be paid. Mrs. Burns' account was ordered to be paid.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Councillor Best, reported that it had advertised for tenders for the work of cleaning off the sidewalks this season, and received the following tenders:

SOUTHERN DIVISION.
Richard M Lillico	$ 68 00
Geo Henry	79 00
Wm Forster	79 00
W Breckenridge	79 75
C Bremner	80 00
Z Blodgett	82 80
Z Blodgett	90 00
John Shanahan	90 00
Wm Drake	92 00
NORTHERN DISTRICT.
V B and J H Southard (with conditions)	$ 84 50
T C Westlake	85 00
James A Blodgett	89 50
John Parnell	90 00

2. The committee recommended that the contract for the southern division be let to Richard M Lillico, and for the northern district to T C Westlake at the prices named in their tenders, satisfactory bonds to be given in each case for the fulfillment of the contract.

3. In carrying out the arrangement made for raising the grade of George street, the committee arranged with Thomas Rehill to load the cars with gravel at 10 cents per yard.

Councillor Brady said that he thought the contract for gravel ought to have been let by tender.

Councillor Best stated that several had been asked to tender, but Rehill's was the only one put in, and therefore his was accepted.

The report was adopted.

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE

reported that at a meeting of the committee held on Tuesday evening last reports were received from the town engineer and also from the inspector on the outfall sewer. They reported that Section One, Mr. Grant's contract, was completed, excepting some rip rap at the connection with the steel outfall pipe, and that the entire work of the section had been satisfactorily completed. They also reported that Section Two, Messrs. Rutherford and Bogue's contract, was completed with the exception of the connection with the Edison sewer pipe, and that the work on this section had been satisfactorily done. The committee had accepted the reports and ordered the connection to be made with the Edison sewer, which had since been done.

The report was adopted.

THE PROPERYY COMMITTEE

reported

That it had received a report from the Town Solicitor regarding the land occupied by the C. P. R. from which it appears that the matter is one for the Town Trust Commissioners to deal with. The commissioners have taken steps in the matter and your committee recommend that this council ask them to press the claims of the town. All of which is respectfully submitted.

ADAM DAWSON,
Chairman.

Councillor Dawson stated that he would like the solicitor to be instructed to proceed and get the sheds removed and the land taken possession of.

The report was adopted.

MUST REMOVE THE SHEDS.

It was moved by Councillor Dawson, seconded by Councillor Sawers, that the town solicitor demand the C. P. R. to remove their freight sheds from Wolfe street and to proceed with action at once if he thinks they are wrongfully in possession.

The motion carried.

THE COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS

reported

That they had considered the applications for the position of caretaker of the town buildings referred to them, and recommended that Isaac Richardson be appointed caretaker at the salary that has heretofore been paid, namely, $5.00 per week, this appointment to take effect on December 15th, 1895.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. B. STONE,
Chairman.

In reply to Mr. Denne, Mr. Stone said that this was the report of a majority of the committee, and it was not on account of Mrs. Elliott's neglect, but because it was thought a position which ought to be held by a man.

Councillor Dawson agreed with Councillor Stone.

It was moved in amendment by Councillor Mills, seconded by Councillor Denne, that Miss Victoria Elliott, be appointed janitor of the town building at $5.00 per week.

After considerable discussion the amendment carried unanimously.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Finance Committee recommended the payment of the following accounts:

2. Also that John E. Belcher, Town Engineer, be paid $200 further on his commission on account of the outfall sewer construction.

3. That Thos. Parrington, collector's bailiff, whose application was referred to the committee, be made a grant of $25, and that a cheque be issued to him for that sum.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE DOG TAXES.

Councillor Dawson moved the first reading of a bylaw regarding the application of a tax on dogs in Peterborough, the substance of which is that in future all damage done to the town by dogs will not be a liability on the town unless the ownership of the dog is established. It was given the usual number of readings and signed and sealed.

THE SHERBROOKE STREET DRAIN.

Councillor Denne, moved, seconded by Councillor Phelan, that the taxes amounting to $65.00 incurred by expenses on Sherbrooke street drain be struck off the roll, and those paid remitted. Councillor Denne cited one case when a Mr. O Brien, was taxed with 25 per cent off the expenditure which he thought unjust.

Town Engineer Belcher, said, that as instructed by Council he made an estimate of cost of drain on Sherbrooke street, and as Mr. O Brien had the largest lot in that section, he had, under the Ontario Drainage Act, the largest assessment to pay.

After considerable discussion the matter was referred to the Court of Revision.

The meeting was then adjourned.

WARMINSTER CHEESE FACTORY

Annual Report of the Season's Operations—Credit Due to the Babcock Test.

The following is the report of the Warminster cheese factory for the past season:

THE SEASON'S MAKE.

Tabulated statement of the season's business at Warminster cheese factory, 1895. Season began April 11th and closed Nov. 2nd:

	Milk lbs.	Cheese.	Cash.
April	46,705	3,788½	$ 341 48
May	208,208	18,234	1,283 48
June	224,280	19,632	1,602 47
July	180,985	15,838½	1,136 79
Aug	187,150	17,377	1,350 74
Sept	186,816	16,168	1,306 44
Oct	140,459	15,193	1,297 04
	1,154,863	106,131	$8,350 44

The number of lbs. of milk per lb. of cheese in each month was as follows:—April, 12.33; May, 11.31; June, 11.45; July, 11.43; Aug., 10.77; Sept., 10.41; Oct., 9.29

Average per cent. for each month as follows: April, 3.45 per cent.; May, 3.15 per cent.; June, 3.18 per cent.; July, 3.35 per cent.; August, 3.62 per cent.; September, 3.53 per cent.; October, 3.80 per cent. We pay by the butter fat system and find that a patron's milk does occasionally vary one per cent. from one week to the following week, but as a general circumstance it keeps very uniform, sometimes testing the same per cent. for five or six weeks in succession. I also find the same herd of cows test the same about, from one season to another. There is no doubt but the system is gaining in favour in public opinion and it is of much advantage to the manufacturers as the patrons take better care of their milk when paying this way. They air it better, which is one of the most essential things in the care of milk for cheese. I only sent home four cans of milk during the past season, if my memory serves me right, which is proof of the very excellent care our patrons take of their milk in such an unusual season as we have passed through.

Our output of cheese has been very gratifying indeed to all concerned, and I must say deserves a share of the credit. A good many fines have been made and paid in this county during the past season, but none in factories using the Babcock test as a basis of payment. From what I know of the variability of the quality of milk I must say this fining business on one test is certainly very unjust, and the stigma may fall on innocent ones as readily almost as guilty ones. We, as dairymen, should be very careful about selling any patron's character in this respect, and it can de absolutely avoided, and to the benefit of all concerned, if the fat system is properly adopted and managed.

Our aevarge for this season is 10.88 lbs. of milk for one cheese; last season it was 10.70. The rise is caused by the severe drouth and fresh August grass no doubt. I find prices below last season 1¾c. per lb. of cheese. The price of milk per cwt. for 1895 is 72.31c. Last season it was 89.85c. or about 17½c. less this season. We settled up with our patrons Friday, Nov. 22nd, everything going off pleasantly,

WHAT GOES ON AT THE CAPITAL.

Ministers to Take the Stump in Cardwell and North Ontario—Bank Defaulter Patterson Sentenced at Strathroy—Suicides and Accidents Reported at Various Points.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The campaign in Cardwell is to be opened on Thursday of this week, when the electors will be addressed by Hon. G. E. Foster and Hon. Dr. Montague, both at Bolton and at Alton. It is not yet definitely settled at which point the Tuesday evening meeting will be held, but if at Bolton then the Alton gathering will be held on Friday.

Four Ministers will visit North Ontario and address meetings on Monday and Tuesday of next week. The meetings will be held at Sunderland, Beaverton, Brechin and Bracebridge, and will be addressed by Hon. Messrs. Costigan, Foster, Haggart, and Montague.

The Department of Marine has received the report of Capt. Smith, of Halifax, the commissioner appointed to inquire into the case of the passenger steamer Miramichi and schooner Osceola last summer, by which three ladies were drowned. The accident was due to the Miramichi not having kept out of the way of the schooner, the want of a proper lookout, etc. The court has suspended the master's certificate for 12 months.

According to advices received at the Fisheries Department there are still 12 United States mackerel vessels off the coast of Shelburne county. The Government cruiser Kingfisher is watching these vessels, but they are expecting to leave for home shortly, and the Kingfisher will go into winter quarters at Shelburne on the 15th of December.

Speaking to your correspondent today, Commander Spain said that the general opinion among United States fishermen is now one of disgust with the purse seine, owing to its destructive methods, and the huge expense attendant upon fitting out a seining vessel. A hook and liner can be equipped for $400 or $500, whereas the cost of fitting up a seiner amounts to as many thousands. The hook and liners during the past season have done very well. It will be a matter of satisfaction to the officers of the Fishery Department if seining is entirely abolished, as it will tend to stop the present destructive methods of fishing.

A report has been received at the Department of Public Works from Mr. Temple, Government engineer at Toronto, stating that as a result of the tremendous storm of last week the cribwork at the eastern gap has sunk about one foot. Several of the cribs are in 24 feet of water, and although heavily weighted, owing to the shifting nature of the bottom they have sunk as stated, and this despite the fact that they were left for one whole winter before the superstructure was put on. Chief Engineer Coste says that the recent lowering will not be any disadvantage to the work; on the contrary, it would make it more secure. At the present time it is surmounted by a wooden superstructure, but in a few years, when all danger of future sinking is past, a stone coping will be placed upon it.

DEATH IN A FLOUR MILL.

James W. Campbell, of Toronto Junction, the Victim of an Accident.

Toronto, Dec. 3.—James W. Campbell, foreman of the Queen City Flour Mills, Toronto Junction, met with a terrible death under most peculiar circumstances shortly before 6 o'clock last night. Deceased and an employe named Harper were in the shorts bin on the third floor of the mill, and had taken out a carload, when the shorts clogged about the sides of the hopper, leaving a hollow space underneath. In endeavoring to release the shorts Campbell dropped his small scoop shovel into the hopper, and while trying to redeem the spoon he slipped down the side of the hopper. The weight of his body started the shorts moving again, and he was carried through to the chute, being suffocated and buried in the shorts. Harper secured assistance, and in a few minutes the body of the unfortunate man was taken out. Drs. Clendenan and Perfect were called in, but Campbell had passed beyond human aid.

Scott's Emulsion

is Cod-liver Oil emulsified, or made easy of digestion and assimilation. To this is added the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which aid in the digestion of the Oil and increase materially the potency of both. It is a remarkable flesh-producer. Emaciated, anæmic and consumptive persons gain flesh upon it very rapidly. The combination is a most happy one.

Physicians recognize its superior merit in all conditions of wasting. It has had the endorsement of the medical profession for 20 years.

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. 50c. and $1.

Deceased was about 40 years of age, and was a brother of Archibald Campbell, M.P., proprietor of the mills. He came here from Ridgetown when the Queen City mills started running, and resided with his wife and three children at 82 Annette-street.

Coroner Clendenan has issued a warrant for an inquest.

LOWE TROUBLE REVIEWED.

The Farmers Have Decided to Take Legal Advice Before Shouldering the Military Expedition Costs.

Lowe, Que., Dec. 2.—Overawed by the presence of the militia, the recalcitant ratepayers of the township about two weeks ago elected a provisional Council, who, on their behalf, practically assumed responsibility for the outlay incurred in enforcing the payment of certain arrears in county rates. The meeting at which this action was taken took place on Tuesday evening, the 19th November.

County Solicitor Major had matters pretty much his own way then, and dictated as terms of peace what was tantamount to an unconditional surrender. Next morning the militia men left, and, freed from the restraint of their presence, the taxpayers began to give thought to the situation. Many of them at the accounting had produced receipts for taxes, only to be told that they signified nothing, inasmuch as the money had been paid to unauthorized persons. This, for one thing, had the effect of stiffening the backs of delinquents; but, besides this, the Lowe people have been treated to a plentitude of advice since their provisional representatives pledged them to foot Mr. Major's big bill of costs. Father Foley, who had stood their friend throughout, and, indeed, furnished funds for not a few of the needy ones to pay their indebtedness, renewed his counsel to them to seek legal advice before assuming further liabilities as a municipality. The county member, Mr. Devlin, has urged the same course, and, it is whispered, donated $50 towards securing the same. As a result, at a lengthy meeting of the township Council to-day it was decided not to assume liability for the cost of the military expedition before taking legal advice on the whole matter.

LITTLE ONES BURNED TO DEATH.

A Mother in Manitoba Left Her Children While She Went to Milk the Cows—A Sad Tale.

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—News has reached the city that the residence of a farmer named Gangel, 14 miles from Gladstone, was burned Saturday night. Three little children, aged 4 years, 2 years and 1 month respectively, were cremated. It appears Mrs. Gangel left the children in the house unattended while she went to the stables some distance away to milk the cows. The children are supposed to have been playing with burning splinters and set fire to some combustible material. At any rate, when the mother had finished milking the cows, she saw the house in flames, and the rescue of the children was impossible. The two smallest were burned to cinders, and the eldest was so seriously injured that she died a few hours after. Mrs. Gangel is frantic with grief, but is being cared for by neighbors.

The Customs collections for November are $52,725.93, on goods valued at $213,282. This is 40 per cent. higher than the same month last year.

The Governor-General attended the banquet of St. Andrew's Society tonight. He leaves for the east early in the morning, expecting to reach Ottawa on Friday.

FORGERY AND ARSON.

The Crimes for Which People Were Sentenced in Guelph.

Guelph, Dec. 2.—John Fraser of Erin was tried this morning before Judge Chadwick, on the charges of forgery, writing and sending through Her Majesty's mails obscene literature, and theft. He was sentenced to two years on the first charge.

James Edmonson of Guelph, who kept a grocery, was sentenced to five years in penitentiary for arson. Last month a fire took place in a store. It proved to have started in some rags which turned suspicion upon the proprietor. At the trial it was shown that the daily receipts for the last six months were only about 25 cents. The value of the stock taken after the fire was $180. The stock was insured for $1000. Before the fire prisoner tried to insure the stock for $1500.

The Guelph rolling mills started work to-day and made a few trial bars.

PATTERSON GOES TO KINGSTON.

He Acknowledged Having Stolen From Strathroy $1690 Belonging to the Traders Bank.

Strathroy, Ont., Dec. 2.—Jno. W. Patterson, the absconding teller of the Traders' Bank, who skipped out from here last March with $4600 of the bank's funds, arrived here this morning from Port Arthur in charge of Constable Wilson. He was arraigned before Police Magistrate Noble and elected summary trial. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to two and a half years at Kingston Penitentiary.

IN NORTH ONTARIO.

Mr. Gillespie Holds a Meeting at Severn Bridge—Much Enthusiasm.

Gravenhurst, Dec. 2.—An enthusiastic meeting in the interests of Mr. Gillespie, the Liberal candidate in North Ontario, was held at Severn Bridge to-night. The Orange Hall was packed to the doors. Mr. Young, reeve of Morriston, was in the chair. Mr. Gillespie's statement of his position on the Manitoba school question met with the approval of the audience. He was ably supported by Messrs. A. P. Cockburn, A. D. Weeks and Dr. Coulter.

The interest in the campaign is daily growing stronger, and orators and canvassers of the three candidates are swarming over every part of the riding. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen and the Liberal candidate, the audience rising and singing the National Anthem.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

None Better Known.

There is no better known traveller in the Maritime Provinces than Mr. Fred Anderson, the popular representative of Messrs. T. S. Simms & Co., St. John, N. B. Speaking of Norway Pine Syrup, Mr. Anderson says: "It is the best cough cure I have ever used and I prefer it to any other. I have given it to friends of mine and it cures every time. It would be a difficult matter now to induce me to use any other."

TORONTO MEN SENTENCED.

McConnell Let Louthwood Break in and Thump Him, Then Rob the Store.

New York, Dec. 2.—C. E. Louthwood and Herbert McConnell, the young men from Toronto, Canada, who robbed the drug store of J. Fred Windolph, State-street and Flatbush-ave., Brooklyn, were in the Court of Sessions, that city, this morning for sentence. McConnell got a job in the store as a clerk. He let Louthwood break in, knock him down, black his eyes, cut open his scalp, bind and gag him, and then rob the money drawer. They wanted money to pay poker debts with.

Lawyer Frank J. Doyle, argued eloquently to get Judge Moore to suspend sentence, since the money had been restored, but the court sent them to the Elmira Reformatory for an indefinite term.

Womans Day at St. John's.

Callers upon English church ladies tomorrow may expect disappointment. Tomorrow is woman's day at St. John's, and the ladies of St. John's, the Mission, and St. Luke's have been invited. Holy Communion at 10 o'clock, and special devotional services and social conference during the afternoon.

From North and far East.

Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons, received a telephone from the Daly House, Orillia, for 200 flags to be used in decorating the dining hall for St. Andrew's dinner on Monday next. A telegram was also received from Montreal for fifty horse and wagon covers—both evidence of the high public appreciation of the above firm's goods.

Miss Melville's Xmas Opening.

The ladies will be interested in knowing that Miss Melville will hold her annual holiday opening of fancy goods and novelties for the holiday trade, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 4th, from 7 till 10 o'clock. A lovely and attractive exhibition of goods will be displayed, well worth seeing. An inspection by the ladies is cordially invited. 4d129

St. Luke's Tea and Sale.

The committee in charge of the annual tea and sale in connection with St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, on Thursday evening next, have pleasure in announcing that Mr. Geo. H. Adams, who so agreeably entertained the company at the "At Home" of the Women's Auxiliary a short time ago, will give four or five of his humorous sketches on the banjo and mouth organ. Tea served from 5 to 8. Tickets, 25c. 2d

Tableaux Entertainment.

A series of tableaux will be given on Tuesday evening, December 3rd, in the hall adjoining Bradburn's opera house. The proceeds are in aid of St. John's Church poor fund. The young ladies and gentlemen who kindly volunteered their services have devoted a great deal of time and attention to the various subjects to be illustrated, and such laudable enterprise deserves the generous encouragement it will doubtless receive. Patcher's orchestra will assist the evening's entertainment. Tickets 15c. 4d127

This Morning's Fire.

At about eleven o'clock this morning, as the plumbers were putting some new gas fixtures into Mr. Macfarlane Wilson's store on George street, they had occasion to bore a hole through the flooring and used a red-hot rod for the purpose. The flooring was that of the coal oil room and was saturated with this combustible material, consequently it immediately broke into a blaze. The brigade turned out sharply, but the fire was extinguished without the necessity of coupling the hose. No damage of any account was done.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY'S GREAT ANNUAL EVENT.

GRAND DINNER AT THE HUFFMAN HOUSE.

A Magnificent Spread—An Enthusiastic Gathering—A Sparkling Toast List Songs, Speeches, Reminiscence, Hilarity and Harmony—A Grandly Successful Occasion.

The St. Andrew's Society of Peterborough, like wine, improves with age, and seems to grow in vitality as its counts its added years. Last night it gave its 37th annual dinner at the Huffman House, and to say that it was the most successful of the long series is drawing it rather mildly than otherwise. The banquetting hall of the Huffman House was magnificently "lichtened oot" by Mr. Alf. Kingscotte. The ceiling was barred with decussating lines of tartan bunting, relieved with cordons of flags of all nations, and the walls were festooned with streamers of tartan, clasped with the cross of St. Andrew, the cross of St. George, and the Saltire of Ireland, and at points here and there with bucks' heads. The Highland laddie that adorned Miss Rudkins' window was given a pedestal of honour. The tables were beautifully and even artistically laid. The decorations were strikingly effective. High over all the electric lights poured down their white light upon the glitter of silver and china, while on the table itself lesser lights mingled their parti-coloured radiance through screens that shaded wax candles and banquet lamps with shades of various colours were finely in evidence. Liberally interspersed were vases of cut flowers and potted plants, while the table was starred with scores of tiny jardinieres filled with the slender sprays of myosotis. A charming fancy was a sprig of heather tied with a bright length of tartan fastened in the napkin for each cover. The edibles provided were excellently prepared and served and were characteristic of the occasion, as will be seen by the following copy of the Menu.

"We are nae foo, but just hae plenty."

There were about fifty guests present, who were loud in their praises of the splendid appearance of the tables; and their inroads upon the viands testified their practical appreciation.

At the head of the table was Dr. Bell, president of the society, supported by Mr. James Stevenson, M. P., and Mr. James Stratton, M. P. P., Mayor Kendry and Mr. Councillor Cahill. Dr. Caldwell, vice-president, occupied the vice chair.

Of course the immortal and mysterious haggis was the piece de resistance of the menu and was borne through the banquetting hall escorted by the piper, Mr. Alexander Miller, to the chairman, to the air "The Haggis is Comin." who distributed the precious viand amongst the expectant guests.

SOCIETY GREETINGS.

Preliminary to the introduction of the toast list the secretary read the following greetings of other St. Andrews Societies, in reply to the greeting of Peterborough: "Peterborough Scots send their greetings tae ye this St. Andrew's nicht, and may the honest sonsie face o' a fat haggis gar ye eat till yer sarks rive.

THE TOAST LIST.

Dr. Bell, president, returned thanks for the honour that had been conferred upon him by electing him to the highly honourable position of president of such a noble society as St. Andrew's, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the distressed—and very few comparatively of Scotchmen, needed the assistance of the society. Another object was the annual re-union of brother Scots, and to revive recollections of the dear old land and to sing the praises of Scotland and her long roll of illustrious sons. Withal they were loyal citizens of the British Empire, and he felt sure that all present would heartily unite in drinking the toast of "the Queen," which was most enthusiastically honoured, the company singing "God Save the Queen."

Dr. Caldwell proposed the toast of "the Governor-General and Houses of Parliament," which received with all the honours.

Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., in replying to the toast, expressed the pleasure it gave him to be present. He passed a high eulogy upon the composition of the House of Commons, and the personal good feeling that existed among the members of both political parties, among which the Scotch element was largely represented. While admiring Scotland greatly, he felt that and Peterborough its best town, of which he was proud to be a citizen. He was sorry to see so many chairs vacant, once occupied by those who had passed away—particularly that of their late lamented bard, Mr. Telford. In conclusion Mr. Stevenson spoke of the splendid nature of the spread, which was equal to that of any he had attended in Ottawa, not excepting the Governor-General's banquets, which he had the honour of being present.

CANADA WAS THE BEST COUNTRY,

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., in response to the toast, said that this was the eighteenth St. Andrew's dinner he had had the honour of attending. After congratulations upon the happy character of the gathering, he referred to the prominence Canada enjoyed in many respects. Her form of government was a happy medium between the restrictive absolutism of the old world governments and the rather too great degree of liberty prevailing in the Republic to the south of us. The Governor-General had shown that he almost regarded Canada as his adopted country, for he had purchased a big estate in the west, and was showing the farmers how to farm, and teaching them by his experiments and—sometimes—failures. Reference was made to the prominent positions taken by Scotchmen in both the Dominion and Ontario cabinets, and Sir Oliver Mowat, who has held the position of Premier of Ontario for over twenty years, was quoted as a sample of the sturdy, persistence and "hang on" of the Scotch character. Scotchmen had done much to build up Canada, and while he for their mother land, he imagined that they thought that Canada was after all the best country in the world or they would not stay here.

Mr. Menzies, secretary, proposed the toast of "The Army, Navy and Volunteers," which was very heartily drunk.

Major Edwards, who responded, said that this toast was always warmly honoured at a Scotch dinner. He believed that the volunteers were a necessary element in building up a national sentiment, and were prepared to rally to the defence of our country if they should be called upon, as they had shown a willingness to do on occasions that had arisen. The volunteers of the town had been well appreciated by the citizens of Peterborough. Scotchmen had reason to be proud of their record in arms. At this point Major Edwards recited, with fine effect, the stirring poem, "The Relief of Lucknow," in which Jessie Brown is the central figure, and was very heartily applauded.

Mr. Piper Miller played with great taste and feeling the airs, "O' a' the airts that wind can blaw," and "Auld Robin Gray."

"The Day and a' wha honour it," was proposed by the president and most enthusiastically honoured.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, in responding to the toast remarked that Scotland had only one saint's day and only one patron saint, St. Andrew. Mr. Dennistoun referred in feeling terms to the great gap left at our annual gatherings by the absence of the late Wm. Telford. He also referred in eloquent terms to the universal celebration of St. Andrew's night by Scotchmen around the whole globe, and gloried in the inimitable haggis in most humorous terms.

THE VENERABLE BARD OF THE SOCIETY,

Dr. Jebb performed a beautiful banjo solo—"Annie Laurie."

Mr. Charles Cameron in a felicitous speech proposed the toast, "The Land we Left, and the Land we Live in," which was most heartily honoured.

"The Maple Leaf Forever" was sung with great enthusiasm.

In proposing this toast Mr. Cameron read a note from Mr. Thomas Telford explaining that he was too ill to be present, but he sent a contribution, including a poem in memory of his brother and one of his brother's poems, read by Mr. Cameron.

Mr. R. R. Hall replied to the toast in a very neat speech. He referred to the glorious history of Scotland, its triumphs in arms, in art and literature, and said that it was no wonder that Scotchmen left their native land with deep regret, but when they came to Canada they lost none of their native energy and sturdiness, and here they have done much in building up the great progress this country has enjoyed in its brief history. A warm eulogy was paid in the energy and growth of Canada which has in some ways outstripped far older nations.

Mr. Mackenzie sang with great spirit "The Scotch Thistle."

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun proposed the toast,

"THE MAYOR AND CORPORATION."

Mayor Kendry in reply was happy to be present and congratulated the society on the success of the present occasion, especially in view of its commendable charitable objects. He paid a warm tribute to the greatness and thrift of the town.

Mr. Cahill, in the course of a characteristically witty speech, referred to the growth, progress and enterprise of the town of Peterborough, and expressed his pleasure in joining with Scotchmen in giving enthusiastic utterance to their appreciation of the enduring memories of their native land. He referred in touching terms to the loss that had been sustained by the death of the society's bard, Mr. William Telford.

Mr. Alex. Gibson proposed the toast of "The Learned Professions." Mr. F. D. Kerr, in a brief but well-put speech, did justice to the toast and instanced the distinguished legal lights that had adorned the profession of the law.

Mr. Alf. Kingscote sang a sea song with a rousing chorus, which the company held up lustily.

Dr. Carmichael, past president, proposed the "Mercantile Manufacturing and Mercantile Interests."

Mr. John Moffat, manager of Oak Hall, in replying to the toast, said he had been told before he came here, that Peterborough was with a council watchful for the promotion of its interests, and his experience had fully justified the report.

A LIVE, PUSHING TOWN,

Mr. E. G. Rundle also paid a warm tribute to the town and the importance of its industries, and made an excellent and patriotic speech, one of the best of the evening.

Mr. Charles Cameron, in the course of a few remarks, said he was the only one present who had been at the first banquet of St. Andrew's Society.

Mr. W. Rudkins, in the course of a few pointed remarks in acknowledging the toast, spoke of his personal knowledge of the lead of Scotchmen in iron-working matters. He had got his first instructions from a Scotchman. He could as a Canadian hold his own with American iron-workers, and, perhaps, beat them, but the Scotch were the hardest to compete with, and this characteristic was one of the elements of Scotch success.

Dr. Jebb performed a banjo selection "Home, Sweet Home," with variations, in a most artistic manner.

Mr. G. J. Horkins, in a few happy remarks, proposed the toast of "The Ladies," which was responded to in felicitous terms by W. L. Innes and Mr. F. D. Kerr.

Mr. A. P. Melrose sang in grand style "My Native Land Forever." He was very heartily encored and responded with "Gae tae Me my Auld Auld Harp."

Mr. A. C. McCallum, in a happy little speech, proposed the toast of "the Press," which was responded to by the representatives of the local papers.

Mr. Wm. Breckenridge sang with great acceptibility the "Tinker's Wedding," and Mr. Melrose gave a Scotch recitation that brought down the house.

"Our Host and Hostess" was honoured with bumpers and "three times three." Mr. Huffman responding referred to the Shaksperian quotation that went with the toast, "However did he get so good a wife?" and said he did not know the gentlemen who had prepared the toast list had so exactly learned the truth. With the time honoured style, "Auld Lang Syne" was sung, followed by "God Save the Queen," and the happy company separated in "the wee sma' hoors ayont the twal."

NOTES.

A new feature of the anniversary of St. Andrew's supper was the placing of the signatures of all the guests in the hotel register, for future reference.

Both the proprietor of the Huffman House and his good wife, as well as the entire staff, from clerk to bell boy, were alert in promoting the comfort of their St. Andrews' guests.

Mr. Charles Cameron was the lone star of the evening—the only one of the guests that attended the first St. Andrew's dinner, thirty-six years ago.

The guests last night could not tire of speaking of the excellence of the spread provided.

The decoration of the tables was poetic and appropriate.

The bill of fare and the toast list were unique, as pat as possible, and a credit to the compiler as well as the printer.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring you perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them, forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

ALLEGED TO HAVE POISONED A COW.

Geo. Moncrief in Gaol on a Very Serious Charge.

Last night Constable Archie Moore arrested George Moncrief on the charge of poisoning a cow belonging to Mrs. Sarah Scollie, of Simcoe street, on July 21st last, when it was in a pasture field in North Monaghan.

Mrs. Scollie states that she can produce evidence to show that Moncrief was in the pasture field holding the cow by the horns on that date and that it died the same night. She can ascribe no reason for the action, but thinks that Moncrief was prompted to the deed by others. The absence of Moncrief from town, as well as one of the principal witnesses, has kept the case in abeyance for some time. A hearing will be given the prisoner this afternoon.

They do not despair.

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of Consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by use of Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palatable as cream.

IN CELEBRATION OF THE RESUSCITATION.

OTONABEE LODGE'S THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Oddfellows With Their Wives, Daughters or Sweethearts Gather in the Lodge Room and Enjoy a Pleasant Evening.

The Oddfellows' commodious lodge room was filled to the doors last night by an audience drawn together to assist the members of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, in celebrating the thirteenth anniversary of their resuscitation. Everyone present was, of course, in accord with Oddfellowship being in nearly every instance either the wife, sweetheart, daughter or intimate friend of some of the members of the Lodge.

Deputy Grand Master White, of Port Hope, was expected to be present, as were two other officers of the Grand Lodge, but they were prevented from attending at the last minute and Dr. Bell was called upon to deliver which he did in his usual manner, which has stamped him as one of Peterborough's easiest speakers. After apologizing for the absence of the visiting speakers, the Dr. stated that it was not the thirteenth anniversary of the foundation of the lodge, which they were gathered together to celebrate, but the thirteenth anniversary of its resuscitation. Otonabee Lodge was one of the oldest in Ontario, being founded in 1846, and given the number of thirteen in order of its precedence. It was composed of the leading citizens of the town who took great interest in it at the time, but instead of paying attention to the rules pertaining to the benevolent nature of the organization they went in more for conviviality and thus soon expended all their energy as well as their funds. They even went so far as to erect a hall, which is the large and beautiful building now known as the Jackson property, on Rubidge street. In 1850 the Lodge became dormant, but in 1882 some energetic spirits took it up again and succeeded and in getting a number of the old members to again join it after being out from the ranks for thirty or forty years.

THE OPENING ADDRESS,

Since 1882 Otonabee Lodge had flourished, and the members felt that they had the good will of the public and inspired as much respect, if not more, than any other benevolent society in the community. Since 1882 over 290 names had been on the membership rolls, but of these some had died and others left the vicinity.

The society, he stated, was a purely benevolent one, and not formed for any insurance purposes. Fraternity and Benevolence were the two great aims of the Order. Help was extended to brothers in distress, and when the head of a family died the comfort of his widow and children was looked after. Still the Order did not wish to admit any one who entertained the idea that charity would be extended to him, as all had to pay a fair due for what they expected to receive. Last year Oddfellowship had expended $80,000 for relief alone in Ontario. The jurisdiction of the Province was now in the world. Organization had been effected in Europe, the Sandwich Islands and Australia, as well as in America. The whole order last year expended three and a quarter million of dollars in relief and it was not possible that so much money could be paid out without accomplishing a great amount of good. Help was not only extended to members of the order, but often to others who were in need.

Dr. Bell concluded his interesting address by cordially thanking the audience, on behalf of the lodge, for their attendance.

The musical feature of the programme, which was in charge of the Van Amburg Family, was opened by a finely rendered overture from Schlepegrell by the orchestra, after which Mrs. Van Amburg sang "The Church Across the Way," in which the chorus was caught up by the rest of the members of their talented family. Then followed a programme of sixteen numbers, in which every member of the family took part. There were renderings of excellent choruses and glees, and the drill of the broom brigade was a novelty which was fully appreciated. The children range in age from five to about fourteen, and their musical talents are something wonderful. The family was here last year and was acknowledged to be a marvel, but the improvement this year is marked. The cornet solos by Earl and clarionet solos by Fred were astonishing and the singing of two little girls brought down the house. The excellence of the programme was such that of the sixteen numbers ten were encored.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Remarkable results have been obtained from the use of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophites in cases of emaciation associated with bronchial irritation and cough. The efficacy of cod liver oil in this class of affections has long been conceded, and combined as it is in this preparation with the hypopophosphites (which affords a valuable stimulus to the nervous system) and with maltine (itself a food and reconstructive of the greatest value), its usefulness is vastly increased. Furthermore, by the action of maltine starchy foods are more easily digested and in larger quantities, affording additional nourishment for the replacement of the waste of the body and for reconstructive purposes. If you are now using cod liver oil or any of the emulsions of this agent, weigh yourself, use Maltine for two weeks and observe the results. You will have gained both weight and strength, and relief from cough, bronchial irritation, and the distress these occasion.

THE TOWN COUNCIL'S REGULAR MEETING.

THE APPOINTMENT OF A TOWN JANITRESS.

A Large Number of Reports Received From the Committees—The C. P. R. Freight Shed Matters—The Dog Tax By-Law.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held last night. There were present his worship Mayor Kendry, Councillors Best, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Dawson, Cobb, Sawers, Stone, Mason and Brady.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications were received and referred as follows:—

From Mrs. Margaret Bird, asking for remission of her taxes.

Court of Revision

From G. M. Roger, re John Pollock, stating that he had refrained from action in the matter, of which he had written Council on 19th Sept., as he understood it was the intention of the municipalities interested to settle. As they had not done so it became his duty to put the claim in suit, which he proposed doing on Dec. 17th unless the matter was previously settled.

Referred to Joint Committee with power to act.

From E. Cleeves, asking for a remission of taxes.

Court of Revision.

From Wesley Howden, asking for a remission of dog tax.

Court of Revision.

From John Fanning stating that as he was assessed as a freeholder, and also for statute labour, he wished to be exempted from the latter.

Court of Revision.

From Miss L. G. Barker, secretary, Y.W.C.A., asking for remission of taxation on the Association.

Court of Revision.

From Jas. Skinner, stating that he is taxed as a householder, and for statute labour, and asking for a remission of the latter.

Court of Revision.

From town clerk, Smith's Falls, stating that the town had no such bylaw in force as one by which the town was proof against suits for damages through accidents on sidewalks by the publication of a notice in the papers.

Received.

From Edwin Curtis, asking for a rebate in his taxation for the year.

Court of Revision.

From Charlotte Scott, asking for remission of taxes.

Court of Revision.

From E. B. Edwards, enclosing draft bylaw respecting the application of the tax on dogs.

From James Bogue, applying for the position of inspector of the new bridge on George street.

Committee on Appointments.

From Esther Vass, asking for a remission of taxes.

Court of Revision.

From Ellen Duquette, asking that the basis of her taxation be reduced from $1,100 to $600, as formerly.

Court of Revision.

From Samuel Hall, asking for a reduction of his assessment, to the amount of $300, on land on Dalhousie street.

Court of Revision.

From C. Rea, applying for the position of town janitress.

—Received.

From H. C. Rogers, asking a remittance of dog tax, having paid the tax in Ashburnham.—Court of Revision.

From Mrs. McIntosh, asking for a remission of taxes on premises on Cedar street.—Court of Revision.

From W. Hutchinson, asking for a remission of dog tax, as he did not own a dog.—Court of Revision.

From the Lock Manufacturing Co., enclosing bond, satisfactory to town solicitor, in accordance with bylaw, asking for remission of this year's taxes.

Court of Revision.

From the Catholic Association, asking for remission of all taxes except school.

Court of Revision.

Mrs. Geo. Blackstock, asking for extension of time to pay taxes.

Court of Revision.

From the Town Solicitor, stating that the bonds have been executed by Grant & Winch, for construction of bridge at Bay, and that contractors will wait until two weeks after completion of work for money, instead of it being paid in installments as suggested. This will relieve them of sureities. The change was approved.

From Geo. Horkins in reference to town carrying general liability accident policy.

Received.

From Methodist Church Board for new sidewalk up to new church.

Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

From Mrs. Rebecca Hartley for remission of part of taxes.—Court of Revision.

From R. H. Green, asking that he be allowed to pay his market fees quarterly instead of in advance as contract calls for.

Referred to Finance Committee.

From Mrs. Ellen Rogers asking for remission of taxes.—Court of Revision.

From Barnardo Home for remission of taxes.—Court of Revision.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE.

A YOUNG ASPHODEL FARMER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

He Procures a Rope and Tying it to the Top of a Sapling Knotted it Around his Neck and Sprang from the Top of a Stump into Eternity.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Norwood, Dec. 3rd.—John Jones, a young farmer residing in Asphodel, about four miles from Norwood, committed suicide Sunday afternoon by hanging himself. Deceased, who was a son of Thos. Jones a respected farmer, had been in a melancholy state of mind on account of a disappointment in love. He took a rope from the barn and proceeded to the swamp near by where he fastened to a sapling and jumped from an adjoining stump, his foot almost touching the ground, where he was found a couple of hours afterward. He was about 27 years of age. The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, lot 20, con. 6, Asphodel township.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

Another Store Enlargement.

Mr. Charles Legros, the live George St. Tobacco dealer has completed arrangements for enlarging his store to twice its usual size, which will necessitate his moving out of his present premises. And having ordered a lot of imported cigars and pipes before he had the intention, and they having come in, his stock will therefore have to be slaughtered. It is therefore necessary for him to clear out his large stock, valued at over $10,000 before moving. His goods consists of 10,000 Diaz de Garcia, 12,000 Manual Garcia, 5,000 Pr Loranga, 3,000 Jose Morales, all different imported cigars from Havanna, 100,000 Domestic cigars, besides the finest lot of B. B. B. pipes there is in Canada. Smoker's sundries too numerous to mention. Don't all come at once. The prices were never equalled in Peterborough before, or never will be again. Don't forget the number, 329 George street.

It is Admitted.

MASON & RISCH, as most people are aware, are acknowledged authorities on all things pertaining to Musical Art Manufacture. They are, in fact, Experts and Pioneers in their business. Most Canadian Manufacturers of Musical Instruments are unknown outside of Canada. MASON & RISCH have for years operated Factories and Stores for Musical Instruments in the United States. Their name is as favourably known in the United States and Great Britain as it is in Canada. This can be said of no other Canadian firm in the same line. Their Pianos are famous the world over for Beauty of Tone and Originality and Durability of Construction. Would it not be well to consult them when thinking of purchasing a Piano?

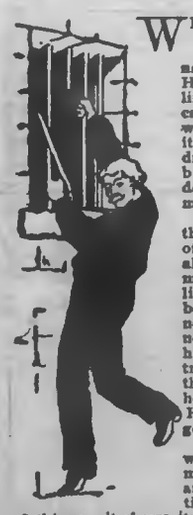
A. STEVENSON, Secretary



WHEN they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. His enjoyment of life is limited. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. He is alive to be sure, but life doesn't possess very many advantages.

Are not all these things equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor as much of it as he would like. If he transgresses any of the rules of his diet, he is punished for it. He suffers much, gets little sympathy.

Dyspepsia starts with indigestion, and may lead to almost anything. Indigestion means a variety of things—it shows itself in many ways. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn. Headaches begin to come pretty soon after that, and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and it is probably the most serious trouble that ever takes hold of a man. Its seeming simplicity is the thing that makes it most dangerous, because it leads to neglect. Constipation means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body is being filled with it. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. There is no telling what may come of it. Constipation is the start of it all. And yet people are careless about it. It is the most serious thing in the world, and the easiest to cure if you go about it right. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Cure it positively, certainly, infallibly. Cure it so it stays cured. Cure it so you can stop taking medicine.

And that is something that no other remedy in the world will do.

THE WRONG MAN.

A Police Procedure That Colonel Brine Didn't Understand.

A New York policeman was summoned to arrest a man considerably inebriated, who had offered a counterfeit dollar note in payment for beer in a Houston-street saloon. The officer conducted him to the station house, where, on searching him, a big roll of bills was found in his pocket, all genuine. It was evident that the man was not a "crook," and that the counterfeit bill was in his possession by accident.

"I'm a gen'l'man, sar," said the prisoner indignantly. "Kun'l Brine's my name. Brine, sar, from Georgia, I demand to know, sar, why you 'res' me, sar."

The officer experienced some embarrasement in explaining the situation to the Georgia man. He didn't like to tell him he had been suspected of being a "shover of the queer," so he said: "Don't be offended, Colonel; you are all right. I brought you in for your own protection."

"For my own prot'chion? I'd have you un'sthand, sar (drawing himself up with dignity), "Kun'l Brine's perfly cap'le (hic) 'tect himself."

"Colonel, you were in one of the worst dives in the city. You had a big wad of money, and the place was full of pickpockets."

"Did you' res' er pickpockets?"

"No, we did not."

"Why didn't you 'res' er pickpockets? Tha's queer (hic) way'f doing b'is. You 'res' perf'y hones' gen'l'men and leave the pickpockets alone."

The Colonel was allowed to depart, and as he strode down the street in search of his hotel he was heard to mutter: "Why'n (hic) el didn't they 'res' pickpockets?"—Texas Siftings.

Great Staying Powers.

"Henry!"

"Yes, your excellency!"

"Have you been following the news of the totter and fall of numerous cabinets in Europe and South America?"

"I have, your excellency."

"Henry, when I read such news I am filled with satisfaction of the wonderful staying powers of my cabinet officers, who seldom resign, the rare occasion of such a step being the acceptance of a more lucrative job."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged—South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion. Dyspepsia Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical commonsense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" That great discovery of the century. South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person affected with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who used the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

TRACKED.

"Ah, Petrocious von Avondale, I have you at last!"

The Count drew his tall figure to its fullest height and turned his steel-gray eyes upon the speaker, while a faint cynical smile barely showed itself in his features, and the thin lips parted just sufficiently to reveal a meagre gleam of the nobleman's snowy teeth.

"You are mistaken, sir," he muttered.

But Celluloid Buskin, the detective, was not to be so easily thwarted.

"Am I?" he said.

"You are."

"You think I am?"

"I know you are."

"How d'ye know?"

"Easy."

"Rocks."

Then, turning to his two faithful assistants, Celluloid Buskin commanded:

"Seize him, men! I'll prove his identity in one second!"

The nobleman was seized by the two burly deputy sleuths and pinioned.

"Now out with his teeth!" shouted Celluloid Buskin.

"What?"

"Out with them!"

In spite of his heroic resistance, the nobleman's pearly teeth were instantly extracted—plate and all.

"Ha! ha!" laughed Celluloid Buskin, holding the glittering masticators up to the light. "I knew it. Same teeth. Grinder & Biscuspid, dentists, Williamsburg. Tracked!"

And Celluloid Buskin expeditiously clapped the darbies upon the notorious counterfeiter's wrists.—Judge.

Sarcasm.

It was evidently his first visit to the continuous performance race track.

"Are these the best horses you have here?" he inquired of one of the habitues.

"Ain't dem good enough?" was the sarcastic rejoinder. "Ain't dey got four legs? Can't dey run?"

"Yes, of course. But are they what you would call good specimens of sporting stock?"

"Young feller"—and it was spoken in the patronizing manner which only the old sport can assume to perfection—"Ef ye're here lookin' fur a twenty-ter-one shot, wid mebbe a little trouble thrown in, ye've struck de right depot. But of yer jes' out fur fancy doin's, ye wanter take yer dress suit case an' yer chrysanthemum an' take de nex' New York train fur de hoss show."—Washington Star.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, and all throat and lung troubles. Prices 25 and 50c.

It Stood the Test.

A public writer had a portico wall fixed up in his study, and ordered the carpenters to make it in such a way that no sound could penetrate through it.

"The best thing will be to fill it with shavings," said the man, and set to work.

When he had finished his employer went and stood on one side of the partition and called out to the man who was on the other side:

"Do you hear me, Jantke?"

"No, sir," was the prompt reply.—Tid-Bits.

During the prevalence of la grippe, those who made use of Ayers'Cherry Pectoral found it prompt to act and sure to cure, No other medicine is so safe and efficacious in all diseases of the throat and lungs, and the only remedy successful in consumption.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

Lungs Closed Up.

GENTS,—In the early part of the winter I caught a bad cold followed by a severe cough. I could not sleep as my lungs seemed closed up. I could walk only a few yards without stopping to get breath. I sent for Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion and before I had finished the third bottle the cough was gone—I could breathe freely and felt like a new man. I advise all sufferers from coughs, colds or asthma, to give your Emulsion a trial.

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

EXTEMPORANEOUS PROPOSAL.

Breaking Away From Time-Honored Forms Saved Time Worth at Least $0.41.

Young Bellamus hitched forward in his chair, pulled up his trousers a little at the knees, glanced at his cuffs to see that they projected the proper distance beyond his coat sleevs, and nervously began.

"I have something to say to you, Kate. I—don't turn your face away from me, please. You have not been eating onions, have you?"

"Sir!"

"Neither have I. Listen to me. There is something resting on my mind——"

"Impos——"

"Resting on my mind, I say, and it has become a burden that I am going to shake off. Now, there isn't any use in your pretending you haven't any idea what I want to talk about."

"Assuming that I do, Mr. Bellamus—"

"Well?"

"Let it pass. Go on."

"That's right. You act like a good, sensible girl in deciding to hear me. You might as well, anyhow, because when I get started I'm hard to stop, and I am going to say what I came here to say this evening if it takes all—if it takes a quarter of an hour. That's the sort of desperate lover I am, Kate Naggus, though I didn't mean to give the whole business away in one breath like that. I intended to leaf up to it gradually. I don't suppose, however, the shock of surprise was very great. You had an idea something of the kind was coming, didn't you?"

"Rather."

"I knew you did. But it doesn't seem artistic to block out a regular form of doing something and then fly the track and jump across lots in order to get there sooner. What I intended to say was about like this: Ever since I have known you I have had a different feeling toward you from that which I entertain toward other—but before I go any further I'd like to have some kind of a hint as to whether I'm wasting my time or not. Somehow I don't feel quite as confident as I did when I began."

He stopped a moment, took a long breath, and inquired uneasily:

"Is it any use for me to go on, Kate?"

The rosy lips of the fair young girl parted and she softly answered:

"Nit!"

"That settles it." rejoined Mr. Bellamus, recovering himself and drawing on his gloves. "It hasn't turned out exactly as I hoped it might, but I've saved at least ten minutes of valuable time for each of us, and that makes twenty minutes. I don't know what your time is worth, but my time, computed from a business point of view, is worth $2.50 an hour. I will not detain you any longer, Miss Naggus. Good evening.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

AN OLD SONG.

Time—The night before Christmas.
"Backward, turn backward, O Time! in your flight;
Make me a child again, just for to-night."

Holiday Humor.

Wishing a poor man a merry Christmas is much cheaper than buying his turkey for him.

Now is the time for men to educate their wives regarding the proper price for a box of first-rate smokable cigars.

When a man carries a Christmas tree through the streets he looks as if he had found it awfully hard to be good without looking silly.

"My husband doesn't want me to make him a Christmas present." "And will you?" "I must. I need things I can't get any other way."

Love is blind, but if you offer your wife a seal plush sacque for a Christmas present she will be able to tell that it isn't the genuine article before she feels it.

What a beautiful sight the household and world at large would present if there were no other forms of fight save the give and take noticeable around Christmas!

"What do I want for a Christmas present?" said the pensive man to the enthusiastic woman. "Well, I think I should like a cheap fountain pen, one of the kind that won't work more than two weeks. Then a sofa pillow stuffed with hair that sticks out through an extra-thin covering. A pair of undersized gloves and a pair of over-sized slippers would please me, and I think, my dear, that if you would get me a pipe that won't draw it would make the day seem really like an old-fashioned Christmas."

Q.
Why sits the scribe in silence down,
With looks so glumly grim?
Why does he let his eyebrows lower—
Oh, what's a-eatin' him?

A.
His boss demands a Christmas sketch
Of vigor, life and vim,
Without one word (Oh, cruel wretch!)
Of Dicken's "Tiny Tim."

A Just Sentence.

Justice—You are charged with trespassing on this gentleman's grounds and with shooting frogs in his private pond.

Prisoner—Your honor, I was not accountable for what I was doing. I had drunk several bottles of beer; in fact, your honor (jocularly) I was in the same condition as the frogs.

Justice—How so?

Prisoner—I was full of hops.

Justice (sternly)—Thirty days in jail and $100 fine, with the costs of court.

The Science of Law Making.

"Now, look here," said one member of the Legislature to another, "you know very well that if this bill passes in its present form it will be declared unconstitutional the first time it comes before a court."

"That's all right," was the reply. "You and I are both lawyers, are we not?"

"That's the very reason we ought to make laws which will stand."

"Not much it isn't. We might have the defense of a client prosecuted under this law. Then see how handy it would be to plead the statute's unconstitutionality! We must give our profession a show!"—Pittsburg Chronicle.

A Matter of Patience.

"It seems to me, Joslah," said Mrs. Corntossel, "thet we ain't keeping up with the times."

"Never you mind, Mandy," was the reply; "never you mind. The styles keep a-changin' so often an' so fast thet ef we jes' stick right whur we air they're boun' ter come our way in the course of time, an' we'll be right in the swim wethout no effort whatsomever."—Washington Star.

No Doubt About Him.

"Do you believe there is such a thing as sincerity in lying?"

"Certainly I do. Have you ever heard a suburbanite describing how pleasant it is to live in the country in the winter?"

Too Much.

Briggs—Been a great year for earthquake liars, hasn't it?

Bragge—It has. But I think Watts is entitled to the cake. He says the shock actually waked his cook in time for breakfast.—Indianapolis Journal.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for.

They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps overeating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question: What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves, that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lovely Ribbons.

The study of the ribbons of to-day is an artistic one. Many of the plain corded silks with satin edges, about 2 1-2 inches wide, are to be had in as many as 70 shades. So consider what a color study that involves. Wider widths of chine ribbons are extensively used for hat bows with ambitious loops, and on some of dark tones of glace ribbons, the center is occupied with a handsome design in velvet chine flowers standing out from a dark ground. Stripes assert themselves in many new patterns, one side plain silk the other edge satin, with velvet down the middle. Many grounds are shot with two tones, or have triple chameleon blendings, so that they are seen as a different color in each light. Fine figures on Oriental colorings such as terra cotta and green, green-blue and vieux-rose, and other wonderful blendings.

RHEUMATISM

Its Cause and Cure.

A poisonous Acid in the Blood, which needs removal.

Only one means for a radical cure.

Rheumatism is a blood disease, due to the presence of uric acid—a poison—in the system, and it is only by the removal of this pain-producing poison, that a radical cure can be effected. Acute rheumatism is hereditary, and thus it is that young children are often victims to this torture. The use of liniments, embrocations and outward applications, may give temporary relief, but can never cure, for the poison is in the blood, and until it is expelled, rheumatism, sciatica and neuraligic pains will continue. Scotts' Sarsaparilla cures rheumatism by removing the cause—by neutralizing and expelling this poisonous acid. In chronic cases, this medicine reaches the source of the disease as no other medicine can. It gives renewed energy to the organs that sustain life, the forces that make the blood. For the nervous troubles of youth, for the debility that precedes old age, for ladies in their severe ordeals, it is without a compeer.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated compound of the finest medicines known to modern medical science—The dose is from one half to one teaspoonful and during its use the ordinary vocations are not interfered with.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from [illegible] prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Special Invitation for the Ground Floor Gallery.

Christmas is coming; inless than four short weeks it will be here and the time honoured custom of gift giving will necessarily include photographs of yourself or your family for your best friends. Nothing in the way of a present in good taste can better be given than a photograph—it represents a small cost if got at the Ground Floor Studio—and is of the highest value to a friend. Next to a visit from oneself a well taken photograph is the most acceptable gift. Business has been good with us since I assumed the management of the Ground Floor Gallery, Charlotte street, a few days ago, and with the great satisfaction expressed with our work we have reason to expect a genuine rush as Christmas approaches. Now you are advised to take the very first chance to give me a sitting, if you wish the best photograph that can be produced in this district. You know it takes some time to take, print and finish a photograph and that work done hurriedly in any branch cannot be done as well as when reasonable time is given. I am sure there will be a rush of orders as Christmas comes near and that many who apply late will perhaps be disappointed—only so much work can be done. So that if you do your part in spreading the rush over the weeks between now and Christmas by giving me a sitting at once, you will serve your interests and my own. Call early therefore and leave your order for your Christmas photographs at the Ground Floor Studio, Charlotte street (Sproule's former premises).

WHEAT IS LOWER.

There has been a decline in the prices of wheat this week, says last Saturdays Globe. The western market is lower than it was a week ago. On Thursday the price of December wheat in Chicago was below 60c. Yesterday the market was a trifle firmer. The export demand for wheat is still small. The receipts in the Northwestern States continue large, and there seems to be a growing impression that there will be no lasting advance in the market till the spring. In Manitoba wheat is rather easier. At country points the price being paid to farmers is 36c to 40c for No. 1 Yard, and No. 1 Northern is about three cents per bushel lower. Manitoba wheat is no lower in Ontario, but Ontario grades are lower this week, and there is talk of a further drop in prices.

The Truth in the Pinemalt Case.

Conductor Salem F. Smith of St. Thomas, Ont., is about as well known as the Grand Trunk. This is what he has to say: "Pine-Malt is all the talk along my run. For coughs and colds this is the favorite. It is so in my own family. The children like it. It sidetracks a cold with suprising quickness. No use talking, Pine-Malt tops them all." St. Thomas Feb. 1895." These words but re-echo those heard on every side. In chronic cases, and consumption, ask your druggist for Pine-Malt and Hypophosphites, in place of plain Pine-Malt. Pine-Malt is the Newest, most Palatable and Best.

Pictures, etc.,

At A. Clegg's. A line of pictures very cheap, not much more than half the regular price, and the balance of his stock of window shades in plain, fringed, lace and insertion will be cleared out at cost. Our stock of general furniture is now complete and is one of the largest in Canada; prices lower than ever.—A. CLEGG, 427 George street.

THE VILLAGE COUNCIL.

They Will Pay the Town $300 for Fire Protection in the Past.

At the regular meeting of the Ashburnham Village Council, last evening, there were present Reeve Burnham and Councillors Smith, Calcutt, Craig and Rutherford.

ACCOUNTS

were presented as follows, and on motion of Councillors Calcutt and Rutherford, ordered to be paid:

M H Meharry	$ 0 35
P Hogan	0 50
W B Kelly	16 00
G A Craig	7 25
Peterborough Hardware Co	4 60
J McWilliams	4 55
Mrs McAuliffe	2 37
W J Weir	4 00
Review	4 75
Water Co	18 08
Pay Sheet 33	23 00
" " 34	13 50
" " 35	4 00
W Collins	3 00
W Stocker	2 25
Micks & Cox	1 00

The following tenders were received for removing the snow from the sidewalks and walkways during the winter of 1895-96:

A B Craig	$ 61 50
Wm Frith, ploughing and shovelling	100 00
J Valois, North Ward	40 00
T Mitchell, South Ward	36 00

After some discussion, the tender of A. B. Craig was accepted, on motion of Councillors Smith and Calcutt. Craig's contract is to cover the whole of the village, including all necessary shovelling, the proportion of the price, less 25 per cent., to be paid each month, after being passed by the council, the percentage to be held back till after the completion of the contract.

On motion of Councillors Calcutt and Smith, Councillors Rutherford, Craig and Smith were authorized to examine the snow ploughs and to have all necessary repairs attended to and if requisite to purchase new ploughs.

NEW GRAVEL PIT.

On motion of Councillor Smith, the council was authorized to accept a good lot according to plan produced by Councillor Smith, from Mrs. Ludgate for the sum of $125.

Councillors Calcutt and Smith moved that the town of Peterborough be paid $300 in full of account for fire protection to Dec. 31, 1895, as it appears by the auditor's report submitted to this council by the town treasurer, that the annual rate charged was $150.—Carried.

The statutory meeting of this council will be held on December 16th.

THE BEST IS ALWAYS CHEAPEST.

This Truth Fits the Newcombe Piano, Exactly.

Nothing more appropriate and more enduring in the way of enjoyment, as a Christmas present, can be given than the best piano made and of course that means the Newcombe. Parents who contemplate giving their daughter or daughters a piano should add to the delight of the occasion by making arrangements with Mr. W. A. Shaw for the placing of a Newcombe piano in the house for Christmas. That this is the best piano built is shown by the fact that at Chicago, in competition with the best makers in the world, the highest award—medal and diploma—was made to the Newcombe. This was a severe test of the quality of an instrument. And every Canadian should be, as is, proud that a Canadian firm won such a grand success. Now every Canadian has a chance of scoring a similar success by placing one of these instruments in his house. He will have the best the world can produce. Address Mr. Shaw, Post Office box 527.

A Good Resolve

Among the good resolutions to start off the New Year with would be a determination to stop using tobacco. Let this year end the tobacco habit with the self-respecting men of Peterborough. They can carry out their resolutions very easily by starting on a box of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure at once. By using it until New Year's they won't want any more tobacco, and can start 1896 with a clean mouth. JAS. LYNCH, Druggist, keeps it.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Rutherford v. Rutherford.—Judgment on motion by Joseph Rutherford and W. A. Shields, parties added in the Master's office as subsequent encumbrancers, to set aside or vary the judgment in the action declaring the plaintiff entitled to a lien for $400 and interest upon the east half of the north half of lot nine in the fourteenth concession of the township of Cavan, and directing a reference to add encumbrancers and to take the usual accounts, and in default of payment to sell. The plaintiff's claim arose under the will of her father, Charles Rutherford, and the action was brought against Chas. J. Rutherford, the testator's son, to whom one-half of the testator's farm was devised subject to the payment of a legacy to the plaintiff. The applicants were assignees of a mortgage made by Chas. J. Rutherford on the east half of the north half. The motion was made on the grounds: (1) That the charge of the plaintiff's legacy was not confined by the will to the east half of the north half as declared by the judgment, but covered the whole of the north half; and (2) that the judgment should have left open the amount of the legacy, instead of fixing it at $400, the direction of the will being that one-fifth of the value of the farm should be paid to the plaintiff and her sister. Held, that the sum could not be fixed as against the applicants without notice binding upon them, and also that the question whether, upon the construction of the will, the plaintiff's lien was confined to the east half of the north half of lot nine should have been raised at the hearing, for plaintiff was not justified in treating her own construction as the correct one without giving the persons interested in contesting it an opportunity of doing so, and they should be allowed to do so at the hearing, and should not be obliged to do so in the Master's office. Order made setting aside the judgment, except as regards the original defendant, and his ultimate interest, if any, in the proceeds of the sale of the land, as to which the judgement is to stand. Costs of motion to applicants against plaintiff in any event. Plaintiff to have leave to amend her statement of claim. The persons interested in the west half of the north half to be added as original parties. All the defendants, except Charles J. Rutherford to be allowed to defend the action. Edmison & Dixon, Peterborough, for the motion. Moss, Q.C., for plaintiff.

At an adjourned meeting of the skips of the Granite Club, it was moved by A. St. A. Smith, seconded by Dr. Boucher, that there be a meeting of the skips on Monday evening, Dec. 9, to pick out the two tankard skips to be elected by ballott.

Angus McIntosh is flooding the rinks today and there is a possibility that the curlers, hockeyists and skaters will be disporting themselves on the ice before the end of the week.

Dr. Boucher has received a letter from Mr. J. S. Russell, of the Ontario County Association, urging that Peterborough hold a bonspiel for all clubs east of Toronto and offering as prizes four agate fobs worth $20. The suggestion is right in line with the action the Peterborough clubs have already taken in this matter, and the additional prizes will be gratefully received.

Have Nothing to Live for.

Sometimes men and women feel this way. A wave of despondency creeps up and up till it reaches the heart. They become languid and listless. Life appears grey and desolate, What some people want is not merely a tonic. They want to be built up. They want a stimulus, which will give them courage and put new hope in them. Such a stimulus is found in Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine. This is incomparably the best tonic at present offered to the public. A rich, generous wine, with a glow, a body, a fruitness which are calculated to build up the wasted system. A bottle of this bracing tonic makes a poor debilitated creature a new citizen. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street. Montreal.

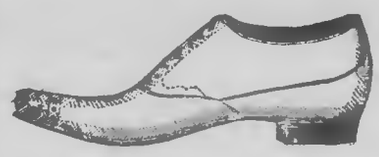
The Way We Sell Boots and Shoes

Is remarkable enough to be told about and repeatedly emphasized. There are lots of stores with handsomer appointments, and lots of them swinging more style, but when it comes to downright good shoes at downright low prices we lead the trade. You buy them for just what they are, without any falsehood or exaggeration. The newest styles the most complete range of sizes, and the finest qualities are here as you want them. No one can afford to do any fooling or show an indifference at this season of the year as to the quality and character of the footwear worn. Our shoes are solidified samples of success, both in the quality of every pair we offer and in the prices.



There's Nothing We Like Better Than to

SAVE YOU MONEY!

It's as good as a gold mine to us, this being able to mark prices below the average. People find it out and come and keep coming. There is absolutely no limit to the trade we can get, with values leaning your way as they are now.

Hon. Mr. Ives Suggested as the Colleague of Mr. Sandford Fleming on the Cable Commission—Slick Swindle Worked on a Farmer.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—It is expected that the Government will shortly reach a decision in the matter of appointing delegates to join the other colonies in conferring with Mr. Chamberlain on the Pacific cable scheme.

It is generally conceded that if Hon. Mr. Ives can get away he is rightly entitled, from his position, to be one of the Canadian delegates, and that Mr. Sandford Fleming should be the other.

Mr. Ives would be able on his visit to England to look closely into the fast Atlantic steamship matter, and ascertain the views of ship builders relative to the best class of vessels for the Canadian route.

In the event of Mr. Ives not being able to accept it is thought likely that Sir Charles Tupper, the High Commissioner, will be appointed. Sir Mackenzie Bowell has received a cable message from the High Commissioner stating that he shortly leaves for Canada.

Dr. Montague has received from Chief Alexander Hill of Grand River, an interesting old document, which the chief desire to dispose of. It is a certificate signed by Joseph Brant, testifying that Chief John Bare foot fought through the war of 1812, and was wounded at Queenston. Possibly some relic hunter might like to procure it for a consideration.

Messrs. W. R. Brock and J. J. Foy, Q.C., of Toronto, and George H. MacDonell, M.P., waited upon Hon. Messrs. Foster and Haggart to-day and urged the granting of subsidy to the Ontario and Rainy River Railway Company, which was chartered some years ago to build a railway from Port Arthur through the famous mining and lumbering regions contiguous to Rainy River. The Ontario Legislature has already subsidized 130 miles at the rate of $3000 per mile.

The Minister of Marine has ordered an inquiry to be held into the causes of the stranding of the steamer Henry Reith on Sable Island on the 27th November. The steamer has reached Halifax in a damaged condition and will have to undergo repairs there. While these are being executed an investigation will be held.

Veterinary officers of the Department of Agriculture last month inspected 9852 cattle and 42,486 sheep, which were destined for shipment to Europe; five cattle were rejected for lumpy jaw, and one lame or injured. Six sheep were also rejected for the latter cause.

An action has been taken by Rev. Father Whelan of St. Patrick's Church against the publishers of The Owl, the official organ of Ottawa University, claiming $10,000 for alleged libelous publications concerning him in connection with a controversy regarding the establishment of a Roman Catholic High School in St. Patrick's parish.

Ex-Mayor McLeod Stewart has received a letter from Mr. L. E. Cooley, Chicago's great engineer, and one of the commissioners appointed by President Cleveland recently on the joint Canadian and American water ways commission, asking for all information regarding the Ottawa River route. Mr Cooley says, in his letter, he has given great thought and consideration to the waterways and he wants to study this one thoroughly. Mr. Stewart forwarded seven pamphlets bearing upon the subject.

The annual report of the assessment commission places the total assessment of the city for 1896 at $21,132,945.

After the 1st of January, under the Act passed last session, no more third-class clerks can be appointed to the civil service. In their stead the bill obliges the Government to employ "writers," who will begin at $400 and go on to $600 a year.

A FARMER SWINDLED.

A Scoundrel Calling Himself Lord Salisbury Secured Fifty Dollars Twice.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—There is a farmer out in New Glasgow, Terrebonne County, named Strange, who had rather an unpleasnat as well as unprofitable experience a few days since. A man arrived in the place looking for a quiet boarding house, and when the farmer took him in at what seemed remunerative rates in rural districts, the stranger told him that he was the Marquis of Salisbury, and had come to Canada to get clear of the agitation at home over the Armenian outrages. Of course the family appeared delighted to have such a distinguished boarder, and the Prime Minister got along swimmingly with his Canadian friends. The clerks at the Foreign Office had, however, forgotten to forward the great statesman's monthly allowance, and the unsuspecting farmer readily loaned Lord Salisbury $50, "just to keep him going," he said, until the cheque arrived. The New Glasgow farmer has a son in Montreal, and it appears that he was not at all surprised when the Marquis, of whom his father had spoken in a dozen letters, arrived at his place of business and began to talk about the weather, the Montreal Centre election, and McLeod Stewart's Georgian Bay Canal, as if he had been all his life in the country. Young Strange found that Salisbury was a jolly sort of a fellow, and when he asked for the loan of $50, the son fell into the same trap as the father. It is needless to say that Lord Salisbury did not return to New Glasgow, and it will be an ill day for him if he ever again appears in these parts.

This morning at an early hour a young woman named Annie Yancey, doing a millinery business at 2521 St. Catherine-street, attempted to end her life by cutting her throat with a razor. She repented, however, and did not finish the job, although the loss of blood had rendered the poor woman so weak that she had to be taken to the General Hospital. No reason is given for the strange act, as her business was a flourishing one. Miss Yancey's mother resides at 1340 11th-street, Milwaukee, Wis., and she left a letter to the former, saying that she was about to commit a fatal act.

The funeral of the late Mr. Samuel Davis took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. A large number of prominent citizens attended at the deceased's residence, in Mackay-street, to take part in the preliminary service. The coffin, covered with beautiful flowers, the gifts of friends and the societies with which the deceased was identified in life was placed in the drawing-room with lights on each side. A temporary pulpit, draped in black, had been erected and the members of the family and friends were ranged on each side of the room. After the reading of Psalm xvi. and the selections from other Psalms, Rabbi Veld, spiritual adviser of the deceased, and Dominion and Provincial Jewish chaplain, gave an address, taking for his text, 'And Samuel died and all the Israelites were gathered together and lamented him." The address was followed by the prayer, "Rock of our Refuge." The procession was then formed and proceeded to the cemetery. At the open grave passages of Scripture were recited and the coffin was lowered; the service, which was most impressive, concluding with the words, "May He who is the Maker and Giver of peace grant peace to all troubled souls and comfort all the bereaved."

There was a sitting of the Exchequer Court in this city this morning, when the evidence in the case of the Queen v. Emmanuel St. Louis was continued. This is the famous $185,000 claim by the Government against the contractor for the canal bridges. Judge Burbidge presided. Messrs. B. B. Osler, Q.C., and W. Hogg, Q.C., represented the Crown and Messrs. J. U. Emard and C. A. Geoffrion, Q.C., appeared for the defendant.

NORTH ONTARIO CAMPAIGN.

Large Meeting at Bracebridge in the Interest of the Reform Candidate.

Bracebridge, Ont., Dec. 3.—A very large and enthusiastic meeting in the interests of Mr. Gillespie, the Reform candidate for North Ontario, was held in the Town Hall here to-night, and was addressed by Frank Pedley, and John Charlton, M.P., in the interest of Mr. Gillespie, and by W. H. Bennett, M.P., on behalf of John A. McGillivray. Mr. Gillespie closed the meeting in a short, pithy speech, and the meeting closed with three cheers for the Queen and Mr. Gillespie.

MANITOBA LEGISLATURE

Will Meet in January and School Legislation Will be Introduced.

Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—Premier Greenway stated to your correspondent to-night that the Local Legislature will meet in January. He also intimated that legislation touching the schools would be introduced.

Municipal nominations took place throughout the province to-day. Nominations take place in the city next Tuesday.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—Trade remains quiet, with the demand limited. Straight rollers are quoted at $3, Toronto freights.

Bran—Market is unchanged. Bran is quoted at $11 west, and at $11.50 to $12, Toronto freights. Shorts, $13 to $14.

Wheat—The market is quiet, and prices generally firmer. White sold at 68c on the Northern, and red at 67c. No. 1 Manitoba hard sold at 70c west. At Midland the market is firm at 65½c for No. 1 hard.

Peas—The market is unchanged, with sales to-day at 50c outside west.

Oats—The market is steady, with little demand. White sold to-day at 23½c to 24c, the latter middle freights. They are quoted at 25½c on Midland.

Barley—There is a moderate demand for malting barley, and prices are firm, choice No. 1 selling at 48c. No. 1 is quoted at 45c, No. 2 at 40c and feed at 30c.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet and prices steady. Sales were made to-day at 32c to 33c, according to freights.

Oatmeal—Business quiet, with prices unchanged at $3 on track, and small lots at $3.25.

Corn—Trade dull and prices nominal at 33c outside.

Rye—The market is quiet, with prices firm at 45½c to 46c east.

Commission prices: Butter, choice tub, 16c to 17½c; bakers', 10c to 13c; pound rolls, 18c to 20c; large rolls, 14c to 15½c; creamery tub at 20c to 20½c, and rolls at 21c to 22c. Eggs are firm at 17c to 17½c per doz. for ordinary, 14½c to 15c for limed, and 20c for new-laid. Cheese, Sept., 9½c to 10c.

The Bean Market.

Chatham, Ont., Dec. 3.—The Chatham Banner to-morrow will say in reference to the bean market: There is nothing new. All the dealers have the same report, utter stagnation. Glenn & Son shipped one car to Quebec last week and that is the only car that has gone out in ten days. Eastern Canada seems to be supplied in the meantime and in New York and other American markets there is no opening for our crops as yet. Enquiries among the dealers as to the prospect of opening a trade for our beans in England elicited the information that they have little hope of relief from the congestion in that quarter. Receipts are very limited and dealers are pleased that they are not asked to load up. The few straggling loads that come in being from 70c to 80c, 75c being probably the average.

FINANCIAL EVILS

From Which the United States People Suffer.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE

Touches Upon Foreign Affairs, But is Principally Devoted to an Effort to Point a Way Out of the Financial Tangle Which at Present Puzzles the Treasury Officials.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The message of President Cleveland to the 54th Congress was delivered to-day. In the message, the President, after calling attention to the reports of the heads of the several departments, presents the important phases of the American relations with the foreign powers and makes a statement of the financial problems confronting the nation.

On the relations between this country and Great Britain the message says:

Our relations with Great Britain, always intimate and important, have demanded during the past year even a greater share of consideration than is usual. Several vexatious questions were left undetermined by the decision of the Behring Sea arbitration tribunal. The application of the principles laid down by that august body has not been followed by the results they were intended to accomplish.

The understanding by which the United States was to pay Great Britain a lump sum of $425,000 in full settlement of all British claims for damages arising from our seizure of British sealing vessels as authorized under the award of the Paris tribunal of arbitration was not confirmed by the last Congress, which declined to make the necessary appropriation. I am still of the opinion that the arrangement was a judicious and advantageous one for the Government, and I earnestly recommend that it be again considered and sanctioned. A treaty of arbitration has been agreed upon, and will be immediately laid before the Senate, so that in one of the modes suggested a final settlement may be reached.

The President points at the condition of affairs arising from the Alaskan boundary question and from the unsatisfactory delimitation of the respective jurisdictions of the United States and Canada and urges that these questions be settled by Congress so far as possible.

The President says: "It being apparent that the boundary dispute between Great Britain and the Republic of Venezuela, concerning the limits of British Guiana, was approaching an acute stage, a definite statement of the interests and policy of the United States as regards the controversy seemed to be required both on its own account and in view of its relations with the friendly powers directly concerned. In July last, therefore, a despatch was addressed to our ambassador at London, for communication to the British Government, in which the attitude of the United States was fully and distinctly set forth. The general conclusions therein reached and formulated are in substance that the traditional and established policy of this Government is firmly opposed to a forcible increase by any European power of its territorial possessions on this continent; that this policy is as well founded in principle as it is strongly supported by numerous precedents; that as a consequence the United States is bound to protest against the enlargement of the area of British Guiana in derogation of the rights and against the will of Venezuela; that, considering the disparity in strength of Great Britain and Venezuela, the territorial dispute between them can be reasonably settled only by friendly and impartial arbitration, and that the resort to such arbitration should include the whole controversy, and is not satisfied if one of the powers concerned is permitted to draw an arbitrary line through the territory in debate and to declare that it will submit to arbitration only the portion lying on one side of it.

"In view of these conclusions, the despatch in question called upon the British Government for a definite answer to the question whether it would or would not submit the territorial controversy between itself and Venezuela in its entirety to impartial arbitration. The answer of the British Government has not yet been received, but is expected shortly, when further communication on the subject will probably be made to Congress."

After dealing with American foreign relations, the message says: "As we turn from a review of our foreign relations to the contemplation of our national financial situation we are immediately aware that we approach a subject of domestic concern more important than any other that can engage our attention, and one at present in such a perplexing and delicate predicament as to require prompt and wise treatment.

The President reviews the different financial laws that have been passed and exhaustively treats of the present monetary conditions. He says: "The foregoing statement of events and conditions develops the fact that after increasing our interest-bearing bonded indebtedness more than $162,000,000 to save our gold reserve, we are nearly where we started, having now in such reserve $79,323,966, as against $65,438,377 in February, 1894, when the first bonds were issued."

Continuing, he says: "I am convinced the only thorough and practicable remedy for our troubles is found in the retirement and cancellation of our United States notes, commonly called greenbacks, and the outstanding Treasury notes issued by the Government, in payment of silver purchases under the act of 1890.

"I believe this can be quite readily accomplished by the exchange of these notes for United States bonds of small as well as large denominations, bearing a low rate of interest. They should be long term bonds, thus increasing their desirability as investments, and because their payment could be well postponed to a period far removed from present financial burdens, and perplexities, when with increased prosperity and resources they would be more easily met.

"The currency withdrawn by the retirement of United States notes and treasury notes, amounting to probably less than $496,000,000, must be supplied by such gold as would be used on their retirement or by an increase in the circulation of our national banks."

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1895.

Two French deputies have been fighting a duel, and one of them was wounded in the mouth. A wound in the mouth of our modern pugilists is equivalent to a knock out—it's what he fights with.

A SURPLUS of about six millions in the British finances is quite a contrast to a four and a half million deficit in Canada. Either free trade brings more prosperity than protection, or the money is more honestly spent in England, and all the British taxes go into the treasury, not into the pockets of protected monopolist manufacturers.

THE farmer always stands to get it where the fowl received the axe. A protection party is showing its head in England, which proposes to tax all imported wheat 15 cents a bushel. According to the orthodox protectionist doctrine, the seller, and not the consumer, pays the taxes. With wheat at 60 cents per bushel when freightage—about 15 cents per bushel—is deducted, and the farmer pays 15 cents a bushel in duty, he will get the magnificent price of 30 cents a bushel at Liverpool. But the consumer will pay the duty in England, as the Canadian consumer pays the tax on imported goods. The object of the tax is to raise prices and the object of the wheat tax is to raise the price of wheat for the British farmer, while the great mass of people, the mechanic and the labourer, will have to pay the added price. So in Canada the protected manufacturer is enabled by the duty to raise his price as nearly as is safe, to the amount of duty on the article, and the general consumer has to stand the increase. Talk about jug-handled Free Trade—protection is not only jug-handled but jug-gernaut.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour EAST CHANDOS.

From our own Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Baskin have returned home.

We were very sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. M. Hawley. Hope to hear of her recovery soon.

Mr. Baskin has a number of men engaged in cutting and skidding logs that he has bought from H. S. Prouty. The men are stopping with Mr. Prouty.

Miss Graham took a holiday last week and took a trip to Trout lake. She enjoyed the trip very much.

The Cameron copper mine has suspended operations for this week. They will commence work again on Monday.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. T. Lowry, but trust he will soon be all right again.

Have Nothing to Live for.

Sometimes men and women feel this way. A wave of despondency creeps up and up till it reaches the heart. They become languid and listless. Life appears grey and desolate, What some people want is not merely a tonic. They want to be built up. They want a stimulus, which will give them courage and put new hope in them. Such a stimulus is found in Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine. This is incomparably the best tonic at present offered to the public. A rich, generous wine, with a glow, a body, a fruitiness which are calculated to build up the wasted system. A bottle of this bracing tonic makes a poor debilitated creature a new citizen. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Sick Headache and Constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills, easy to take, sure to cure.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

WORLD'S C. E. PRAYER CHAIN.

Subject of prayer for December:—"For young people's societies of every name and in every denomination, that their members may exemplify the life of Christ, and that they may be especially prepared for the coming Week of Prayer."

This topic is one in which all Christians can unite, and we earnestly ask the prayers of all who read this. Let us all, during this month, unite in prayer for our young people's societies.

THE LOCAL UNION.

The monthly business meeting of the Local Union was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Tuesday evening. The business considered was as follows:—On New Year's morning a prayer service will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, between nine and ten o'clock. Mark street society has charge of the prayer service and Park street Baptist the musical portion. The next local rally will be held on the second Monday in January in St. Andrew's Sunday School. This meeting will be conducted by the Executive of the Local Union and George street society will have charge of the music. It was thought advisable for the different societies to assist the Y. M. C. A. by giving a series of receptions to young men in the rooms. The societies to give these receptions in rotation, and a call was given to George street society to take charge of the first. The meeting was adjourned, subject to the call of the president.

The census returns are now in, the books containing the names of all families in town and Ashburnham, according to the denominations they belong to. The total list is as follows:—

	Town.	Ashburnham.
Methodist	819	117
Roman Catholic	600	78
Episcopalian	541	103
Presbyterian	492	62
Baptist	152	10
Salvation Army	41	4
Other Denominations	29	2
Total	2674	376

GEORGE STREET SOCIETY.

We were unable to hold our regular meeting last week, owing to the Albert H. Perry recital on Monday evening. Instead however, a union prayer meeting was held on Wednesday which proved both interesting and profitable.

Last Monday in our consecration service Mr. K. Mark gave a very helpful address upon "Influence and our Responsibilities," in which he urged upon us our duty as Christians to avail ourselves of every opportunity of doing good, and of letting our light shine.

PARK STREET.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 27th, the Park street Baptist Y.P.U. of C.E., elected the following officers for the ensuing six months:

President—Alfred Plummer, Jr.
Vice President—Sarah Pilling.
Rec.-Sec.—Ina Mowry.
Cor.-Sec.—Mattie E. Mann.
Treas—Addie Scott.
Organist—Mrs. Geo. Benton.

The following committees were also appointed:

Prayer Meeting—T. G. Gillespie, convenor; Minnie McNaughton, Albert Rome, Addie Scott.

Missionary—Bertha Hunt, convenor; A. L. Grover, Gertie Martin, J. Mowry.

Instruction and Social—A. L. Grover, convenor; Mrs. T. G. Gillespie, Minnie Mann, Geo. Benton, Jr.

Lookout—Maggie Mann, convenor; Miss Harmer, Miss Gillespie, Ethel Outhwaite, Albert Rome, Jas. Booth.

Sick and Visiting—Mrs. W. Wright, convenor; Mrs. Jas. Doten, Mrs. Geo. Benton, Wm. Wright.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY

held their monthly consecration service last Monday evening, which was one of the most profitable meetings the League has experienced since its organization.

The topic of the evening was taken up by eight members of the society in the form of answering questions in connection with the topic.

The roll call was well responded to and the attendance was quite large.

It was a pleasure to us to welcome so many visitors on Monday.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY

held their monthly business meeting on Monday night. All committees with the exception of one reported work done during the month. The Prayer Committe reported the conducting of Sunday morning prayer meeting, and prayer before each meeting; one meeting conducted entirely without Bible, hymn books or papers (a memory meeting) and reported answer to prayer in the conversion of one young man whom they had agreed to pray for. The Flower and Calling Committee placed a contribution box on the table at each meeting and money raised in this way was used in procuring flowers to distribute among the sick. The Sunday School Committee reported the supply of volunteers to take the place of absent teachers at the Sunday school each Sunday. The Good Literature Committee reported distributing papers at the stations and papers sent to the Home. The music Committee conducted a short song service before each meeting. The Lookout Committee reported three applications for membership. The secretary reported an increase in attendance and in interest of meetings, also more faithful response to roll call. The Junior Superintendent reported the department flourishing. The topic was discussed during the last half hour and was interesting. The missionary committee will conduct the next meeting,

LASSWADE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Some days ago as Mr. Ira Daniels was on his way home from Apsley he left his horse tied at Mr. Jas. Gould's gate. The horse was frightened by a piece of rolling paper and ran at full speed over the hill. Several men tried to catch him but failed. While crossing the bridge the wheel struck the railing throwing both horse and cart into the creek. Mr. A. Palmater caught the horse, which was unhurt, but the cart was found in pieces.

A number of young folks from here and a load from the Ridge were the guests of Mr. J. A. McColl on Friday night as a farewell party to Mr. Geo. Gould, of Wooler. Mr. C. N. Dingman furnished music for dancing.

Mr. Rogers, of Stirling, school teacher at Foster's for the past three months, left for home on Friday. He leaves many friends behind him, who will be glad to see him if he ever returns.

Mr. H. Prouty and wife and Miss H. Graham were visiting at Mr. E. Hoards, Methuen, last week. We learn that Miss Graham intends returning to Bethany after Christmas. Miss Graham has taught at Hauff's for nearly three years and her place will be hard to fill.

During the past season many of the hunters lost one or more of their dogs, some of which have found their way to the settlers' houses.

The Rathbun Lumber Company have had a man here for the past few days letting out small contracts among the settlers.

We understand that Mr. W. J. Dobson of Peterborough, who has taught school in Methuen during the last two years, intends going to school in Stratford after Christmas. We believe that the trustees intend hiring a lady teacher to succeed him next year. Applications will be received by Mr. E. Youmans, Lasswade P.O.

THE ISAAC LAKE CASE.

Had Given Himself Up to Die of Kidney Disease.

This Was a Complete Cure Effected by Using Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Special to the Examiner:

Kingston, Dec. 4.—Mr. Isaac Lake, a widely known merchant of Battersea, had given himself up to die, but instead of succumbing he got well, and your correspondent interviewed him. He said:

"I had been suffering for several years with pains in the loins, and though quite aware that my kidneys were the cause, I could get no help from either the doctors or medicines.

"Burning and scalding of the urine, with frequent desire to avoid it, was the dread of my life both day and night.

"Too ill to attend to business, I felt that I had not long to live, when a customer advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. After using eight boxes, I am happy and very thankful to say I have been perfectly cured of kidney trouble.

"But along with it has disappeared a dyspepsia trouble and sour stomach, of which I had also been a frequent sufferer.

"I am selling more Dodd's Kidney Pills than all others combined as the result of my confidence in them, and they are giving universal satisfaction in this vicinity."

FINANCIAL EVILS.

Further on, after suggesting the means which he believed will put the financial system of the country on a sound basis, the President says: "Whatever is attempted should be entered upon fully appreciating the fact that by careless, easy descent we have reached a dangerous depth, and that our ascent will not be accomplished without laborious toil and struggle. We shall be wise if we realize that we are financially ill, and that our restoration to health may require heroic treatment and unpleasant remedies.

"I cannot but think there has been some confusion of ideas regarding this issue of bonds and the results of the withdrawal of gold. It was the latter process and not the former that, by substituting in the treasury United States notes and treasury notes for gold, increased by their amount the money which was in the first instance subject to ordinary Government expenditure.

"While I have endeavored to make a plain statement of the disordered condition of our currency and the present dangers menacing our prosperity, and suggest a way which leads to a safer financial system, I have constantly had in mind that fact that many of my countrymen, whose sincerity I do not doubt, insist that the cure for the ills now threatening us may be found in the single and simple remedy of the free coinage of silver. They contend that our mints shall be at once thrown open for the free, unlimited and independent coinage of both gold and silver dollars of full legal tender quality, regardless of the action of any other Government, and in full view of the fact that the ratio between the metals that they suggest calls for one hundred cents worth of gold in the gold dollar at the present standard and only 50 cents in intrinsic worth of silver in the silver dollar.

"No Government, no human contrivance or act of legislation, has ever been able to hold the two metals together in free coinage at a ratio appreciably different from that which is established in the markets of the world.

"Those who believe that our independent free coinage of silver at an artificial ratio with gold of 16 to 1 would restore the parity between the metals and consequently between the coins oppose an unsupported and improbable theory to general belief and practice of other nations and to the teaching of the wisest statesman and economists of the world, both in the past and present, and, what is far more conclusive, they run counter to our own actual experiences.

"All history warns us against rash experiments which threaten violent changes in our monetary standard and the degradation of our currency. The past is full of lessons teaching not only the economic dangers but the national immorality that follows in the train of such experiments.

"In conclusion I especially entreat the people's representatives in the Congress to promptly and effectively consider the ills of our critical financial plight. I desire to assure the Congress that I am prepared to co-operate with them in perfecting any measure promising thorough and practical relief, and that I will gladly labor with them in every patriotic endeavor to further the interests and guard the welfare of our countrymen whom in our respective places of duty we have undertaken to serve."

The reading of the message occupied one hour and forty minutes. There was very little pretence on the part of the Senate at large that it was paying any close attention to the message, or was much interested in it.

In the House there was respectful and earnest attention given to the President's message.

The House at 1.52 adjourned until Friday next.

The President to-day sent the Senate the following nominations: Rufus W. Peckham of New York to be associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; Richard Olney of Massachusetts to be Secretary of State; Judson Harmon of Ohio to be Attorney-General.

Rufus W. Peckham of New York, nominated to be associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, is a brother of Wheeler H. Peckham, nominated and rejected for the same place during the last Congress. The nomination appears to be satisfactory to the Senate.

POINTED COMMENTS.

The London Papers Make Some Rather Significant References on the Venezuelan Passage.

London, Dec. 4.—The Daily News, commenting on President Cleveland's message to Congress, says:

"A worse financial muddle than Mr. Cleveland stated it would be difficult to conceive. Such is the result of tampering with the currency for the supposed relief of powerful interests. It is worth the attention of our own currency doctors."

The Daily News refers to the Venezuela dispute as a matter in which the United States is not directly concerned. "The principle of arbitration is invaluable, but its friends should beware of straining it unduly. The comparative weakness of Venezuela does not give that country exceptional rights. Arbitration has nothing to do with relative strength of the parties. The President's message is silent regarding the outrage on the British Guiana police. It is neither dignified nor politic for Washington to take up the quarrels of South American communities which do not observe the usages of civilized nations. The United States will find out some day that this sort of patronage involves coresponding responsibility, and will not like it at all."

The Standard will say: "The maintenance of friendly relations between Great Britain and the United States is of such supreme importance that we cannot but regret the tone in which President Cleveland alluded to the dispute with Venezuela. If we may judge the tone and substance of the despatch addressed to Ambassador Bayard in July from the paraphrase communicated to Congress, we are not in the least surprised that no answer has yet been received. We undertake to predict that when the answer reaches the White House it will furnish the President with much matter for serious reflection. eW have far too much confidence in the strength and generosity of American character to believe for a moment that the President will be sustained in his position by the better order of trans-Atlantic sentiment."

The Standard disavows any wish to treat the message with disrespect, but says that the whole passage relative to Venezuela is a tissue of unreal assumptions and unsupported deductions. It adds that it is obviously for the people of the United States to decide whether at any time they will forcibly prevent a European power from increasing its possessions on the American continent. If they wish to carry out this view they will do so after due calculation of the cost, but this has nothing to do with Great Britain's right to vindicate her title to territory which she holds to be her own without interference from the outside.

Regarding the mode of enforcing the British claims the paper asks: "Does Mr. Cleveland seriously suggest that because a state is insignificant it is to be exempt from the ordinary consequences of aggression on a powerful neighbor? Has he ever adopted this singular principle where wrong has been done to the United States?

"Of course not," it says, "and he must not teach a virtue that he declines to practice. He insists that there must be a reason; that Venezuela is to define the issues and Great Britain is to submit meekly to the award."

Referring to the Behring Sea paragraph of the message, The Standard will say: "Mr. Cleveland has still to urge upon a refractory Congress decency and justice in complying with this plain condition of an honest award. That is unencouraging; still less seductive becomes the prospect when we find that Mr. Cleveland has already prejudiced the merits of the dispute, taking it for granted that Great Britain is wrong. It is not easy to argue calmly with a controversialist who betrays inability to suspend judgment and listen to reason. It is a pity that the calm, judicial temper in which Mr. Cleveland approached the topic of Cuba did not inspire him when he referred to the situation on the mainland of South America. He makes a chivalrous exhibit of self-restraint towards Spain; but even strong states have rights, and though Great Britain is in a position to maintain her dignity and interests, she ought not to be a mark for public affront in a Presidential message.

"Upon the matter of currency reform the President writes lucidly and emphatically as usual, but we are not much impressed by the remedy he proposes. It is tolerably certain that less ultimate harm will be done by the rejection of his proposals than by their adoption."

The Times says: "The failure of Congress to embody Mr. Cleveland's proposed financial measure in legislation would undoubtedly give a severe shock to business confidence. We shall be greatly surprised if the plan is not warmly welcomed in the great commercial centres of the United States. If Mr. Cleveland is right, as he is regarded as being by dispassionate observers here, the risks entailed by a further postponement of the currency question are very serious.

"The remainder of the message, especially its reference to foreign affairs, gives the impression that Mr. Cleveland is marking time. Nothing that he says commits him to a new or aggressive policy in dealing with other nations, while it will tast the ingenuity of his opponents to show that he has compromised the dignity or been careless of the interests of his country.

WHO WAS THIS WOMAN?

She Suicided in Buffalo and is Supposed to Have Been From Canada

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 3.—A young lady, presumed to be a Canadian, committed suicide by morphine poisoning at the boarding house of Mrs. O'Neil, 908 Main-street, yesterday morning. The woman was apparently 23 or 24 years old.

She was not over five feet tall, and was of slender build. She had light hair, gray eyes and pretty features. Her hair was heavy and was done up high on top of her head. Her clothes were of cheap texture, though neat and well made. She wore a dark waist studded with beads around the neck and a dark serge skirt. Her shoes were cheap and were about No. 1 size. In her pocket book was a breastpin, on which, by close scrutiny, could be discerned the word "Nell." A small pin, a gold band ring set with three stones, and 18 cents were also found in her possession. A silk handkerchief, an embroidered linen handkerchief, a pair of glasses and a muff completed her outfit. She brought scarcely anything with her, except what she wore. An umbrella which she carried bore the name of "Griffin and Wright, St. Thomas, Ont." No initials could be found on any of her belongings. Her underclothing was of heavy grey flannel.

The woman was beyond doubt respectable and refined, and her face bore no traces of dissipation.

Coroner Tucker is anxious to learn the woman's identity.

Indigestion in Cattle.

Malvern, Dec. 3.—Three bad cases of indigestion in cattle were successfully treated by J. M. Ramsay, V.S., of this place within the past few weeks.

One cow belonged to Charles Hastings, Brown's Corners, another to White Bros., Agincourt, and the third to John Prince, Agincourt. After all other remedies had failed to give relief the veterinarian was compelled to perform an operation, called ruminotomy, that is, cutting into the stomach in the side and removing the contents with the hand. All three cases have fully recovered, though the wounds are not altogether healed, but are making good progress in that direction.

Rheumatism Runs Riot

When there is lactic acid in the blood. Liniments and lotions will be of no permanent benefit. A cure can be accomplished only by neutralizing this acid and for this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently in the public eye.

WANTS TO FIGHT BRITAIN

Rather Than Arbitrate the Matter of the Alaska Boundary.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Prof. Marcus Baker, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, who went to Alaska for the United States in connection with the boundary dispute, in a lecture on Alaska before the National Geographic Society, in the rooms of the Cosmos Club, scouted the idea of arbitrating the question of England's claim to the 5000 square miles of territory between Portland Canal and the Beam Canal on the southeast border of Alaska, and said the only arbitration admissible was the arbitration of battle if the British claim should be insisted upon.

Sheep Washed Overboard.

London, Nov. 29.—Steamer Memnon (Br.), at Bristol, from Montreal and Quebec, reports having encountered a gale on Nov. 25 off Lundy Island during which she shipped a number of heavy seas, which carried overboard a number of sheep.

Judgment Against Crispi.

Rome, Nov. 29.—The firm of Gagatl has obtained a judgment against Premier Crispi compelling him to pay the sum of 12,000 lire for furniture and carpets ordered by him.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators, and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. A SAD STORY.

A Young Girl Turned Out in the Cold to Shift for Herself.

A young girl of about seventeen years of age came to the police station last night with a most pitiable tale.

She was from Ashburnham and stated that she had been turned out of her home by her stepmother to shift for herself. She did not wish to spend the night in the cells, thinking that she would thereby be disgraced beyond redemption, so she went out into the bleak night to seek a shelter where she might.

The girl has been in the hospital for some time and was discharged as being cured last Saturday morning. She went to her home, but her step mother would not permit her to enter and the girl says she actually slept in the open air during that bitter cold night. She went to a boarding house next day and has been there during the week, but had to leave yesterday not being able to pay for her keep. She again, it seems, went home last night and was again turned adrift. Just how she passed the night is a conundrum and she could be turned away from her home on a night when one would not refuse shelter to a dog is incomprehensible. It is a case for the ladies of the town to look into and the police can supply all information.

Assuming the girl's story to be true, the circumstances are not creditable to somebody. That a person in suffering and need, no matter what he or she may be, cannot in a Christian community find where to lay her head augurs a very sad state of charitable sentiment. Surely there is a responsibility somewhere, and it should be discovered and put into action for the circumstances as related are no credit to any Christian community.

TO CELEBRATE THE GLORIOUS TWELFTH.

Will the Twelfth of July Demonstration be Held in Peterborough?

Tuesday night the meeting of Diamond L.O.L., No. 80, was held in Unity Hall. The chair was occupied by Mr. Joseph Jones, W.M. The meeting was well attended. Among other important business transacted, the question of holding a grand demonstration in Peterborough on July 12th, 1896, was discussed, and the unanimous decision was arrived at that unless the merchants, business men and others interested would come to the help of the committee in the matter of financial assistance, the demonstration, and all the financial benefits to be derived therefrom, would have to go elsewhere.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as below:

Jos Jones.....W M
Wm Maxwell.....D M
C W Sawers.....Chap
Capt W J Green.....R S
Jas Fowler.....F S
John A McWilliams.....Treas
John McLennan.....D of C
S J Campbell.....Lecturer

Committee—Messrs John Henry, John Watt, Capt J W Miller, W H Smith, Jas McComb.
Auditors—J W Miller and J Sharpe.

The newly elected officers were installed by Bro. Robt. Weir, Past Grand Master of the Royal Black Knights of Ireland.

MONTHLY MEETING OF Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS.

An Increased Attendance at the Rooms—Classes and Meetings—The Spiritual Work Most Encouraging.

The monthly meeting of the Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association was held last night. After the usual routine business had been disposed of, reports were presented showing and increase in the attendance at the rooms, classes and meetings. Regarding the spiritual work, actual figures showed the results of the month's work to be exceedingly encouraging.

Twenty-five applications for membership, active and associate, were duly considered and passed. Bills amounting to $25 were passed. After some planning in connection with the finances of the Association, it was agreed that a determined effort be made at once to secure funds to close the year square. To this end several sub-committees were appointed and each asked to report at a special meeting called for that purpose at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 17th. The meeting then adjourned.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Good curling in Lindsay.

—No Police Court this morning.

—Every good paper has a "women's page"—where the bargain day advertisements appear.

—A Cape Vincent prophet is out with the pleasant prediction that we will have 96 snow storms this winter.

—For a nice assortment of pipes and cigars try Morgan. He is the only dealer in town that handles the real Sir Robert Peel Cigar. 436 George street.

—The Salvation Army is holding very enthusiastic meetings in connection with its week of self-denial. The week is being observed by the Army throughout the Dominion.

—There's a great difference between theoretical and practical virtue—between dreaming and doing. Toronto, the good, is only now talking about adopting the curfew bell—Peterborough has been ringing it for a long time.

—Trains from North Bay on the C. P. R. have been late for some days. The delay was caused by the heavy traffic and the large number of farm labourers returning from the North West, who went there in the spring for the harvest season. Heavy snow in the Rockies had much to do with it.

—A dastardly trick was played by some scamps Sunday evening at a Lindsay church. Two nuts were removed from the buggy of a young man named Burke, and when he had driven a short distance on his way home a wheel dropped off, throwing himself and a young lady companion out on the road. The latter received painful injuries.

—Dr. Oronhyatekha, the Supreme Chief Ranger, is busily engaged in preparing the I. O. F. bill, to be introduced into the next Dominion Parliament, which gives the Order the power to issue insurance policies as high as $5,000, also provides that the Order may make a Government deposit and the books come under Government inspection.

—A Kingston clergyman deplores the action taken by a Kingston Christian Endeavorer in asking through the press the prayers of Christians for the conversion of Robert G. Ingersoll, the infidel lecturer and lawyer. Mr. Black says that the circumstance will furnish Ingersoll with the subject for another lecture and will give him another occasion to fling a sneer at the Christian religion while it can have no good affect.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE.

A Concert Given Under the Auspices of St. John's for the Benefit of the Poor Fund.

The concert under the auspices of the Young People of St. John's church, took place in the Bradburn Hall last evening. The attendance was very large, and all were well pleased with the evening's entertainment. A pleasing and varied programme was provided, consisting of tableaus, interspersed with music by Butcher's orchestra. The following are the tableaux and personnel:

The Three Graces.....Misses E Rackham, L Pearce, E Burnham
Nydia.....Miss Boucher
Scene from Trilby.....Miss M Rackham, Messrs Lefevre, Montgomery and Poussette
Joan of Arc.....Miss E Rackham
Queen Eleanor and Fair Rosmond.....Miss Archer, Miss Naomi Lewis
Scene from Miles Standi-h.....Miss M Barlee, Mr C Poussette
Haying scene.....Miss E Barlee, Mr Hudson and group
Looking for Santa Claus.....Misses C Clementi, S Clementi, G Hibbard, L Dean, E Seward
Lady Jane Grey.....Miss H Boucher and maids of honour, Mr Lefevre, Mr Macgachen
A duel scene.....Miss Boucher, Messrs Lefevre and Montgomery and seconds
Fortune teller.....composed of group
Way down in Dixie.....Misses C Poussette, W Poussette, Walter Cluxton, Gerald Rackham and Warren Deane

The chair was occupied during the evening by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.

All the tableaux were staged in a most creditable manner, evidencing the pains which the young people had taken to give a creditable entertainment. So successful were they that in all probability the programme will have to be repeated on another occasion.

The posing of Miss Barlee as Nydia was perfect and instantly recognizable as one of Bulwer Lytton's heroines.

The scene from Trilby was exceptionally well put on by Miss M. Rackham and Messrs. Lefevre, Montgomery and Poussette.

Misses E. Rackham, Lillie Pearce and E. Burnham made three charming Graces, indeed.

The haying scene, in which Miss E. Barlee, Mr. Hudson and others participated, was one of the prettiest tableaux.

Miss Eleanor Rackham was a most graceful Joan of Arc, her posing being much admired.

The second act of the duel scene was greatly admired.

The tableau in which Queen Eleanor was depicted as offering Fair Rosamond her choice between the dagger and the poisoned draught was exceptionally well portrayed by Miss Archer and Miss Naomi Lewis.

Miss M. Barlee and Mr. C. Poussette took the two principal characters in a scene from Miles Standish, in a most praiseworthy manner.

Miss H. Boucher made a most picturesque Lady Jane Grey.

At the conclusion of the programme Mr. Dennistoun made a few remarks of a nature highly complimentary to the efforts the young ladies and gentlemen had put forth in presenting so interesting a programme. A vote of thanks to the participants was unanimously passed on a motion by Messrs. J. E. Belcher and A. P. Poussette.

The cordial thanks of the committee in charge is extended to the following gentlemen for aid extended in lending numerous articles necessary to the successful production of the tableaux, viz:—Mr. Robert Fair, Messrs. Kingan & Allen, Mr. Thos. Bradburn, Mr. Alf. Kingscote and Mr. E. Mason. Thanks are also extended to the Williams Piano Company for the loan of an instrument, and to Butcher's Orchestra for being present during the evening.

LADY TRUE BLUES.

They Have a Pleasant Time With Their Friends—An Excellent and Varied Programme.

A most pleasant evening was spent last night with the Lady True Blues, on the occasion of their holding a concert in the Simcoe street hall. The chair was occupied by Mr. Wm. Tremain, and the following excellent programme was rendered:—

Vocal solo.....John Drummond
Club swinging.....S Burley
Instrumental.....W Roadhouse
Address.....W H G Armstrong
Laughable sketch.....R Sutherland
Instrumental duet.....Messrs Drummond and Roadhouse.
Instrumental duet.....Mrs J Sutherland and Mrs R Sutherland.
Vocal solo.....Mrs Sutherland
Stump speech.....R Sutherland
Reading.....Jas Craig
Guitar solo.....Mr Savin
Vocal solo.....Thos Fitzgerald
Vocal solo.....Miss Louie Waffle
Vocal duet.....Miss Jackson and Miss Sutherland

In his address, Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong took occasion to explain to the audience the circumstances concerning Mr. C. W. Sawers' speech at the recent fifth of November celebration at Downer's Corners. He stated that Mr. Sawers had not been asked to be present, but that he put in an appearance and asked the chairman for just three minutes to make historical references. All the time he was on his feet he was hissed to such an extent that little or nothing could be gathered of what he said. The following week, however, a full report of what purported to have been the address appeared in the Orange Sentinel. The officers, surmising that Mr. Sawers wished to create the impression that his views on the Manitoba School Question were endorsed by the Lodge, despatched a letter to the Orange Sentinel, which appeared in last week's issue, and in which the true circumstances of the conditions under which the address was permitted, were set forth.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY CONCERT.

The George Street Church Branch Holds an Enjoyable Entertainment

There was a social given last evening, under the auspices of the George Street Church Women's Missionary Society in the lecture room of that edifice. There was a good attendance and a very enjoyable evening was spent. After the programme was concluded refreshments were served and highly enjoyed by all. After the opening prayer the following programme was presented:—

Vocal solo.....Mrs Seward
Recitation.....Mrs Dr Goldsmith

Mr. Young said he noticed that the chairman's address was marked, "very short address by the chairman." Of this he was very glad, for whenever he said he was going to preach a short sermon it always turned out to be a lengthy one. He regretted the illness of Mrs. Kendry and hoped she would soon be able to take her place again in the work.

Mrs. Dr. Goldsmith's recitations were well given and heartily enjoyed by all.

The pieces recited by Mrs. Wesley, of New York, were very cleverly executed. Mrs. Wesley is the bride of Mr. Walter Wesley, an old Peterborough boy. Both are here on their wedding tour.

DAILY MOTTO.

Wednesday, Dec 4.

All the past is shut up within us, and is a sort of perpetual present. All the future is before us and though duty is a present thing it is constructed out of the past and runs endlessly into the future. We thus have the past with its memories, the present with its duties, and the future with its anticipations—one for wisdom, one for action and one for hope.

Help me to look behind, before,
To make my past and future form
A bow of promise, meeting o'er
The darkness of my day of storm.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Reg. v. Taylor.—D. Armour, for defendant, moved for certiorari to remove conviction of defendant for sending deteriorated milk to cheese manufactory, on the ground that there was no evidence to justify same. Masten for Magistrate and informant, contra, refused with costs.

NOTE: This case will be remembered as the one in which County Magistrate Edminson imposed a fine of $20.00 on John Taylor, of Otonabee, for alleged adulteration of the milk which he sent to the Cheese Factory. The higher court sustained Mr. Edminson's decision.

PERSONAL.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Peterborough, and Rev. C. J. Duffus, of Perth, were the guests of Mr. Jas. Duffus, Elm Grove, Otonabee, on Tuesday, of last week.

Mr. J. D. Baptie and Mr. J. A. Campion, of Belleville, are in town in the interests of the Provincial Provident Life Assurance Institution. They will be here for the remainder of the week.

A most enjoyable and profitable evening was spent last night by the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's church mission, with Miss Symonds, at the residence of Mrs. Douglas J. Lundy, who kindly and hospitably entertained them.

They do not despair.

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of Consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by use of Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palatable as cream.

In Need of Aid.

As there is a school in one of the back townships, in this county, in great need of clothing, boots, shoes, stockings and anything that children can wear, the W. C. T. U. ask the aid of the ladies and mothers in this town to come to their assistance and help them in providing for the same. Any goods can be left at Mr. James Carey's, George street, or at Mrs. George Paton's, 292 Brock street.

Peterborough Protestant Home.

The Committee of Management of the P. P. Home gratefully acknowledge the following donations for the month of November: Mrs. Belleghem, spring bed, $4; Mr. Chas. Reynolds, Ennismore, bag potatoes, 2 bags turnips; Mrs. A. Cox, barrel of apples and 2 bags potatoes; a Friend, goose; Mr. Chas. Atkens, quarter beef; St. Paul's Y.P.S.C.E., papers; Mrs. Chas. McGill, Toronto daily papers; Mr. L. Sherlock, Chicago papers; Mrs. Haslitt, goose; Mrs. Walsh, goose; Mr. A. Dawson, vegetables.

Anti-Tobacco Crusade.

It is stated that the young ladies of Peterborough have taken the tobacco sin in hand, and are doing a good work in supplying the young men with Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Certainly they have an interest in the matter, for no lady can have a very great respect for a mouth with a tobacco odor. Let the good work go on, ladies, and Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, will keep up the supply of the medicine.

DEATH OF REV. DR. SHAW.

The Injuries Received in the Trolley Accident Prove Fatal—Interesting Career—Associations With Early Methodism.

The accident which befell Rev. Dr. Shaw on November 15th, last, proved fatal about half-past ten last evening. He died at the residence of his son in-law, Mr. Alex. Mills, 481 Ontario street, Toronto, where he had been ever since the unfortunate occurrence which caused his death.

As will be remembered, Dr. Shaw was riding his bicycle on Yonge street about six o'clock on the evening of the date given. When at the corner of Richmond street he attempted to cross in front of a southbound trolley, but as he was very deaf he did not notice the danger he was in. The result was that the trolley struck him and carried him some distance. He received severe injuries to the back of his head, but for some days there was in fact until a week ago, when he began getting worse. He was conscious most of the time, but not rational, and merely recognized his friends around him.

Rev. Dr. John Shaw was born in Three Rivers, Que., on April 20, 1830, and was thus in his 66th year at his death. His parents had only moved out from Enniskillen, Ireland, a short time when he was born. After living a few years in Three Rivers the family moved to Goderich, Ont., where they lived about twenty years. At Goderich the Shaw family lived on a farm, and the subject of this sketch divided his time between working as a farmer and going to the Public School. About the year 1850 he commenced to attend Victoria College at Cobourg, and shortly after entered the ministry of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. In 1857 he married Miss Isabella Boulton, of Strathroy, while he was stationed at Cayuga.

The early years of his ministry were full of pioneer experiences in the backwoods circuits. He used to prepare his sermons while riding about from one appointment to another on horseback. Among his early circuits were Smithville, Beamsville and Grimsby. In 1857 he had the honour of felling the first tree in the Grimsby camp ground. In 1864 he went to Whitby, and then in turn to Aurora, Weston, Brampton, Toronto (Berkeley street), Port Hope, Whitby, Peterborough and Orillia. He had only been in the latter place six months, when in the fall of 1884 he was appointed of the Methodist church in Canada, associated with Rev. Dr. Sutherland. In 1876 he was president of the Toronto Conference. He moved to Toronto in May, 1885, and lived there until his death. As Assistant Missionary Secretary Dr. Shaw's duties called him to preach all over the Province, and he did a good deal of travelling, having three appointments to fulfil at the time of the accident. The fight in the interest of the Dunkin Act found Rev. Dr. Shaw an ardent worker, and in which he made many bitter enemies among the liquor people. He was always an enthusiastic temperance as well as missionary worker.

ASSISTANT MISSIONARY SECRETARY

The work necessary to bring about the union of the Methodist church in 1882 was participated in to a great extent by Dr. Shaw. He was associated with Dr. Rice, Dr. Williams, Rev. Egerton Ryerson, Dr. Wood, Dr. Green and other prominent clergymen of the Wesleyan Methodist church of twenty years ago.

Six children survive Dr. Shaw. They are: Dr. J. M. Shaw, Keene, Ont.; Mrs. Edward Parlow, Toronto; Mrs. Alex. Mills, Toronto; Mrs. Dr. W. H. Clarke, Lindsay; Miss Lulu Shaw, Toronto, and R. A. Shaw, New York. Another daughter, Mrs. Capt. Sherwood, was drowned at Charlotte, N.Y., in August, 1880. Mrs. (Rev.) Dr. Shaw died June 17th last.

Rev. Dr. Shaw's many friends unite in saying he was of a very mild but determined disposition. He took no interest in politics, evidently having no regard for such matters.

Dr. Shaw labored most acceptably in the George street church in Peterborough from 1881 until 1884, and in that time won the entire esteem and love of his congregation. His opinions when advanced always commanded attention, and his staunchness in the advocacy of temperance principles caused his name to be one which was well known.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Remarkable results have been obtained from the use of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophites in cases of emaciation associated with bronchial irritation and cough. The efficacy of cod liver oil in this class of affections has long been conceded, and combined as it is in this preparation with the hypophosphites (which affords a valuable stimulus to the nervous system) and with maltine (itself a food and reconstructive of the greatest value), its usefulness is vastly increased. Furthermore, by the action of maltine starchy foods are more easily digested and in larger quantities, affording additional nourishment for the replacement of the waste of the body and for reconstructive purposes. If you are now using cod liver oil or any of the emulsions of this agent, weigh yourself, use Maltine for two weeks and observe the results. You will have gained both weight and strength, and relief from cough, bronchial irritation, and the distress these occasion.

Adopted on motion of Messrs. Ferguson and McBain.

THE COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS

through its chairman, Mr. W. H. Hill, submitted the following report:—

1. That the vacancies in the public school staff be filled on the 1st of January by reinstating Miss Dorothy J. Hall and Miss Emma J. Aldridge, who have been absent on leave, at salaries of $372.50 and $312.50 per annum, respectively, with the understanding that they shall be entitled next September to the usual increase as per salary schedule, if reingaged, and that Miss Adeline V. Ames be engaged at the minimum salary as per schedule applicable to public school teachers, that is, $275 per annum.

2. That no action be taken touching Mr. D. A. Shaw's application for appointment on the staff as drawing master.

3. After giving full consideration to the inspector's recent report, your committee would recommend:—

(a) That the inspector be empowered to make a slight readjustment of the boundaries of the various wards as in his last report in order to equalize the attendance of the pupils on the completion of the new school in the South Ward.

(b) That he re-arrange the pupils in the different schools with a view to reducing the number in each first class book, thus permitting the teachers to give more attention to beginners.

(c) That he remove the senior third class from the West ward school distributing the pupils between the Central school and the South ward school—thus relieving the congestion and permitting of more efficient work in the primary classes.

(d) That he promote Mr. Denny to the position of first assistant in the South ward school, placing him in charge of a class composed of the junior fourth class pupils living within the ward and permitting him to interchange with the Headmaster of the South Central school in a manner similiar to that in operation between the two highest teachers in the Central school.

(e) That he remove the junior fourth class from the Collegiate Institute, and place the junior fourth class pupils living in the Central school district in charge of Miss Nicholls in the room in the Central School at present in charge of Mr. Denny.

(f) That he assign the work of the teachers just appointed and place them in charge of the divisions in which they are most likely to give the best satisfaction and that he make such rearrangement of the teachers on the staff as he shall deem in the best interest of the school.

(g) That he adopt as far as possible the plan of allowing the teachers to exchange classes, each taking charge of those branches in which he or she is most proficient.

(h) That he allow the teachers in charge of the infant classes to dismiss their pupils at 3 o'clock p.m., and that the teachers under such circumstances take charge of part of one of the divisions of a higher class during the last hour of the day.

In regard to the first clause Dr. Caldwell pointed out that the two teachers had taught for one year already, and in fixing their salaries at the sums stated no account was taken of this fact. He moved that they be granted the advance in accordance with the schedule.

Mr. J. J. Hartley seconded the amendment to the report.

Mr. W. H. Hill pointed out that these two teachers would get an increase on the 1st of September next, and he thought that two increases coming inside of six months would be contrary to the intent of the schedule.

The amendment was lost and the report adopted.

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE,

through its chairman, Mr. Peter Hamilton, reported that they awarded a contract to W. J. Martin for building a fence around the South Ward school grounds, facing on Sherbrooke and Rubidge streets, at 40 cents per foot, to be a good substantial picket fence, with strong, heavy pickets and gates at all entrances, all to be finished in a first-class manner and to be painted two good coats of paint.

Adopted on motion of Messrs. Hamilton and McBain.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Inspector Wherry submitted the following report: In compliance with the wishes of the Committee on supervision, I am submitting but a brief summary of the work of the schools during the month of November. The present condition of the classes and the progress made by the pupils are eminently satisfactory. The attendance has been good, being slightly better than the high average of ninety per cent. attained in October. Truancy has been practically absent. The teachers, without exception are working hard and earnestly and, I believe, successfully. The attendance given in detail will be found appended.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALEX. WHERRY,
Inspector.

The usual motion in regard to the elections was passed as follows on motion of Messrs. W. H. Hill and Dr. Caldwell:—"That the elections for school trustees be held at the time, place and manner as required by statute, and that the secretary be instructed to publish the necessary notice."

The board then adjourned.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

Another Store Enlargement.

Mr. Charles Legros, the live George St. Tobacco dealer has completed arrangements for enlarging his store to twice its usual size, which will necessitate his moving out of his present premises. And having ordered a lot of imported cigars and pipes before he had the intention, and they having come in, his stock will therefore have to be slaughtered. It is therefore necessary for him to clear out his large stock, valued at over $10,000 before moving. His goods consists of 10,000 Diaz de Garcia, 12,000 Manual Garcia, 5,000 Pr Loranga, 3,000 Jose Morales, all different imported cigars from Havanna, 100,000 Domestic cigars, besides the finest lot of B. B. B. pipes there is in Canada. Smoker's sundries too numerous to mention. Don't all come at once. The prices were never equalled in Peterborough before, or never will be again. Don't forget the number, 329 George street.

The old story of Prometheus is a parable, an allegory. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of Mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined? Yes, and realized.

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then come the vultures. The sufferings from an outside, visible hurt, are a mere pin-scratch to the torments of a diseased liver.

But, moderns are ahead of the ancients. There is a sequel to the old story. Dr. Pierce is the author. His "Golden Medical Discovery" is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. Every atom of the "Discovery" is an active agent against disease. It flies like a ferret, wherever it is sent. It is as sure as the needle of the compass. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self.

Mr. W. Rogers, of 507 Grayson St., Louisville, Ky. has this to say for himself and the "Golden Medical Discovery": "I was a dyspeptic. I had not had a comfortable night in six years. I have taken three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I am now fifty years old. I feel thirty years younger." Yours truly.

Willie Rogers

HUNGARY'S MILLENNIUM.

A Celebration to Last Throughout an Entire Year.

Hungary is preparing to celebrate its millennium as a State, the celebration to last from January 1, 1896, to December 31 of the same year. This millennial year will be filled with commemorations of events of interest in the long history of the Magyar realm, which, for many hundreds of years, was the bulwark of Western Europe against the barbarism of the East. The year's celebration will be divided into three parts, each commemorating an epoch in the history of Hungary. The celebration proper will open with a combined session of both houses of parliament in the new hall, now nearly completed, at a cost of 16,000,000 florins, and this grand occasion will be marked by unusual pomp and ceremonies. Next will come the opening of the Pantheon at the end of Andrássy street, Buda-Pesth, when hundreds of busts and statues of Hungary's heroes and eminent men and women of the last thousand years will be placed in Hungary's Valhalla. This will be followed by the inauguration of the new Museum of Art and History, built at a cost of 3,600,000 florins, the laying of the corner stones of two new bridges to span the Danube at Buda-Pesth, and the dedication of three other great public buildings, the Palace of Justice, the Exhibition Hall and the Museum of Artistic Hand Work.

Still further to indicate the beginning of a new era in the spring two sections of the older part of the city will be remodeled on hygienic principles, and 500 new public schools throughout the country will be opened. The exhibition buildings in themselves will constitute an attraction of no ordinary kind, as in the different buildings to house the historical collections will be illustrated all the different styles of architecture that have characterized the 1,000 years of Hungary's existence as a State. In addition, in the ethnographic village will be presented all the dwellings, types, characteristics, etc., of Hungary's conglomerate of nationalities, together with schools, police courts, churches, fairs and kirmesses, the whole forming a celebration of unusual interest to the scholar, the historian and ethnographist. Such an exhibition will also be of great significance, not only to Hungary, but to Europe. It will indicate, among other things, the growing sense of nationality in this great Magyar State, and the entrance upon a new era in which education and civilization, humanity and progress will represent the goals and a new order of events.—Interior Chicago.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged—South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion. Dyspepsia Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical commonsense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" That great discovery of the century. South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person affected with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who used the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

THE CANADIAN DUTY

On Goods Imported from the United Kingdom.

THE HOME OFFICE MEMORIALIZED.

London Chamber of Commerce Find Fault—Pacific Cable Commission—The Sultan Decides to Break Off Diplomatic Relations if the Powers Force the Dardanelles.

London, Dec. 3.—The London Chamber of Commerce has presented a memorial to the Home Office in regard to the valuation for duty in Canada placed upon goods shipped in bond from the United Kingdom, urging that the valuation should be identical with the price of the goods in bond, whereas the Canadian customs officials insist that they should add the English duty where any such is chargeable, even though the case of goods so dutied should only be passing through England. The Chamber of Commerce maintains that if this rule is persisted in it will interfere with the transit trade of the United Kingdom.

The Pacific Cable Scheme.

London, Dec. 3.—The terms adopted for the reference and guidance of the commission appointed to perfect plans for the proposed Pacific sub-marine cable have been wired by the Colonial Office to all the Colonial Governments concerned, and practically cover all the points raised by Mr. Sandford Fleming, Canadian delegate on the Pacific commission. Mr. Chamberlain will also send a cable despatch to each of the Colonial Governments urging the importance of their securing the largest share possible of the mutual trade between the United Kingdom and the colonies.

The newspapers here will in their issues to-morrow give prominence to Mr. Chamberlain's despatch to the Colonial Governors and will generally approve of it. Some of them, however, make no comment.

AT PEACE WITH EVERYBODY.

That is the Expression of the German Emperor's Speech from the Throne.

Berlin, Dec. 3.—The winter session of the Reichstag opened to-day. The Emperor was not present, and the speech from the throne was read by the Chancellor, Prince Von Hohenlohe. The speech was a long one, covering four pages, closely printed. In reading the speech the Chancellor said:

"I am charged by the Emperor of the united governments to welcome you to your work. The session falls upon a year which recalls events of a quarter of a century ago. You should earnestly strive to build up what was won under the leadership of the great Kaiser by the firm cohesion of the German Princes and people."

Outlining the program for the session, he said: "You will discuss a new civil code for the Empire, and an amendment to the criminal code. There will also be submitted to you bills designed to assist the prosperity of the various handicrafts; to regulate transactions on the Bourses so as to prevent illegal competition, and bills relating to the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine and sugar. The financial position of the country is satisfactory, but reform is necessary, nevertheless."

The speech concluded with an assurance of Germany's good relations with all foreign powers. In perfect harmony with Russia and France, Germany, the Chancellor said, was anxious to prevent outbreaks resulting from the war between the great powers of Eastern Asia.

THE SULTAN RESOLVES.

He Will Break Off Diplomatic Relations if the Dardanelles are Forced.

London, Dec. 3.—The Daily News publishes a despatch from Vienna saying that the Turkish Embassy there has received a telegram saying that the Sultan has resolved to break off all diplomatic relations in Constantinople if the powers force a passage of the Dardanelles with their second guardships.

London, Dec. 3.—The British steamer Nessmore, from Montreal, previously reported ashore on the Island of Coll, Hebrides, has gone to pieces.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

Williams, the Colored Man, Who Killed William Lyman at Windsor.

Windsor, Dec. 3.—A despatch from Chicago states that William Dorsey, alias Henry Williams, a colored man, wanted at Windsor for murder, was arrested there last night.

William Lyman, a white man, was employed at McKee's lumber yard as a cutter. Williams had been at work there but a few days as a lumber piler when he began a quarrel with Lyman on the afternoon of June 17, 1894. While piling up boards one of them struck Williams in the face, and he at once began cursing Lyman, who had handed him the board, and threatened to get even with him.

Later he secreted himself in the barn armed with a neckyoke, and when Lyman came along struck him on the back of the head, crushing in his skull. The act was witnessed by several men, but Williams ran away and made his escape across the river. Lyman died the following day.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Lungs Closed Up.

Gents,—In the early part of the winter I caught a bad cold followed by a severe cough. I could not sleep as my lungs seemed closed up. I could walk only a few yards without stopping to get breath. I sent for Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion and before I had finished the third bottle the cough was gone—I could breathe freely and felt like a new man. I advise all sufferers from coughs, colds or asthma, to give your Emulsion a trial.

The Sheriff After "Sam'l of Posen."

New York, Dec. 3.—Deputy Sheriff Geratty to-day went to the residence of Maurice B. Strelinger or Curtis, the well-known actor, better known as "Samuel of Posen," at No. 720 St. Nicholas-avenue, armed with a writ of replevin against Mr. Curtis and his wife for $2000 in favor of Mrs. Mina Dalker, to recover all the furniture, bric-a-brac, carpets, pictures, etc., and the sheriff's men seized the articles. The case is the sequel to a real estate trade by which Mrs. Dalker thinks that she got the worst of the bargain.

Emmett Wants a Divorce.

Denver, Dec. 3.—The suit of J. K. Emmett for a divorce from his wife, Emily Lytton, now playing here with Rose Coghlan, Stockwell company, was filed in the County Court at noon today. The application is based on misconduct, cruelty and desertion. Miss Lytton denies the allegations, but says she will not contest.

DEAR SIR:—I have suffered from Eczema for two years; tried different kinds of medicine. I was at the hospital for some time, and was told there that all had been done for me that could be done. I ceased treatment at Christmas. After leaving the hospital I was under the care of a Hamilton physician, but got no relief. I have taken four bottles of Kootenay Cure, and I am now well and free from Eczema. Yours very truly,

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from the nine prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEPLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

RUDINI CRITICIZES CRISPI.

The Colonial Policy of the Italian Government Particularly Attacked.

Rome Dec. 2.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day ex-Premier Di Rudini, speaking on a motion for a vote of confidence in the Crispi Ministry, bitterly criticized the colonial policy of the Government. He said the Government was expending money and was wasting the resources of the army without adding strength to the strength of the country. The ex-Premier declared himself in favor of sending a fleet to the east to guard the interests of Italy in the Mediterranean. He thought the best policy to be pursued was to maintain the statu quo and oppose attacks upon the independence of Turkey. He hoped, he said, that the Government would adopt a conciliatory course in regard to its relations with the Vatican.

The ex-Premier's speech was vigorously applauded by the members of the Right.

Canadian Cheese in London.

London, Dec. 2.—In the market today the best Canadian cheese was figured at 48 shillings per hundredweight. Last week the market was decidedly slow, and prices dropped much below what was expected.

At a meeting of the shareholders of the Quebec Central Railway, held here to-day, a resolution to authorize the Board of Directors to prepare a further issue of prior lien bonds was passed unanimously.

Dynamiter Daly Elected High Sheriff.

Limerick, Dec. 2.—John Daly, who is now serving a sentence of penal servitude for connection with the dynamite conspiracy of 1884, and whose recent election to the House of Parliament was cancelled for that reason, was to-day elected High Sheriff of the city of Limerick by the corporation. It is not considered probable, however, that the Viceroy of Ireland will sanction the corporation's choice.

Condition of the Nessmore.

London, Dec. 2.—The British steamer Nessmore, Capt. Richardson, from Montreal Nov. 5, via Quebec, for Liverpool, which went ashore on Nov. 21, on the Island of Coll, Hebrides, and listed to port, is still stranded. During a southwest gale and a high tide on the night of Nov. 30, she seemed to float and work and is now much listed the opposite way.

Anxiety for Missionaries.

London, Dec. 2.—Great anxiety is felt for the safety of the Baptist missionaries in the Province of Shensi, China. No news of them has been received since August. The latest report from them stated that the Mohammedan rebels had captured the city of See-Ngan, the capital of the province, and murdered large numbers of men, women and children.

Vicar-General Gleason Dead.

Buffalo, Dec. 2.—Rev. William Gleason, vicar-general of the Buffalo diocese, died here this morning. He was born in Tiperary County, Ireland, 72 years ago, and has two brothers in that country, one a wealthy merchant in Dublin, and the other a physician in Athlone.

Higher Prices for Apples.

Liverpool, Dec. 2.—A sale of American and Canadian apples was held here to-day. Canadian Baldwins fetched 14s 3d to 17s 3d, and Greenings 11s to 13s 9d per barrel. Boston Baldwins sold for 12s to 13s 6d per barrel, and New York Baldwins for 14s to 17s.

A Frenchman Buys Anticosti.

London, Dec. 2.—A despatch from Paris to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that Menier, the chocolate manufacturer, has purchased the Canadian island of Anticosti, situated in the estuary of the St. Lawrence River, paying therefor the sum of £40,000.

Four British Tars Drowned.

London, Nov. 2.—A boat belonging to H.M.S. Bouncer was capsized off Shearness to-day, and four of its occupants were drowned.

THE FIFTY-FOURTH CONGRESS OPENED.

Mr. Reed of Maine Again Elected Speaker by a Very Large Majority—A Short Session.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The fifty-fourth Congress began its public sessions at noon to-day with crowded galleries and many other manifestations of acute interest in its proceedings, including of course the inevitable floral decorations.

There were fifteen new faces among the Senators, not counting Mr. Chilton of Texas, who re-occupies a seat he once held before by appointment, and there were in addition thirteen re-elected Senators to be sworn in by Vice-President Stevenson, as their own successors. Of the holding over Senators whose terms will expire two years from now, some of the most prominent, including Blackburn, Brice, Vest and Peffer, took their seats to-day, with the shadow hanging over them of a probability that their seats will be filled by others before the session closes.

Mr. Reed (Rep., Maine) has been elected Speaker by a vote of 234, as against 95 for Mr. Crisp (Dem., Ga.); 6 for Mr. Bell (Pop., Col.), and 1 for Mr. Culberson (Dem., Texas).

The Senate at 1.35 p.m. adjourned until to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

After the election of Speaker Reed and the principal officers of the House, members' seats were selected by lot and a committee appointed to join the Senate committee to wait upon the President to notify him that Congress was ready for business. The House will meet daily at noon. The rules of the 51st Congress were temporarily adopted and the House adjourned till to-morrow.

No Work and Had to Steal.

London, Ont., Dec. 2.—Alfred Curtis, the Toronto printer, came before the Police Magistrate to-day for sentence on charges of stealing a valise and other articles. He admitted that he had just served a six months' sentence in the Central, and was unable to get work, which forced him to steal. He was remanded for eight days.

Poisoned by Bologna.

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 2.—The family of Albert Coubillon, Sandwich West, seven miles from Windsor, were poisoned yesterday by eating bologna sausage, supposed to have been infected by hog cholera. A 13-months-old child name Louisa is dead and three others are very ill.

Disappointment in Love

Norwood, Ont., Dec. 2.—John Jones, a young farmer residing in Asphodel township, about four miles from Norwood, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by hanging himself. Disappointment in love is said to have been the cause. He was about 27 years of age.

Regret Magistrate Hill's Death.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Dec. 2.—At the regular meeting of the council held tonight, a resolution was carried unanimously expressing regret at the death of Police Magistrate A. G. Hill, and sympathy with the family.

Calgary Municipal Nominations.

Calgary, Dec. 2.—The civic nominations took place to-day. A. McBride and W. F. Orr are the mayoralty candidates.

Corbett Positively Refuses.

New York, Dec. 2.—Parson Davies arrived here this afternoon from St. Louis, where he was making arrangements for a benefit to be given for ex-Champion John L. Sullivan at the First Regiment Armory. The "Parson" will take his entire troupe of actors and fighters to take part in the benefit. In the party will be John L. Sullivan, Paddy Ryan, Joe Choynski, Tommy Ryan and Barry. The "Parson" came all the way to witness the Lavigne-Walcott bout, and then goes to Toronto, where John L. will be given a testimonial Saturday night. Then he returns to St. Louis.

Dan Stuart has arrived from Chicago, the purpose of his visit being to arrange a fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons for the championship of the world. Corbett also arrived from Boston yesterday. When informed of Stuart's offer, he said he would not accept the offer under any consideration. Stuart said:

"Fitzsimmons is anxious to fight, and I have his signature with me. I took him out on a tug into the Gulf of Mexico, and signed him there, so that the State of Texas would have no hold on him. I intend to bring off the fight about two miles from El Paso, and it will not be on Texas soil, either. The articles of agreement that Fitzsimmons has signed call for a fight with five-ounce gloves and $2500 forfeit money. I will put up a purse of $20,000, and if I fail to pull off the fight without interference Corbett and Fitzsimmons can divide the money between them. I will put up $10,000 when the papers are signed and $10,000 when the date of the fight is agreed upon. I hope the fight will come off about Jan. 10. I am in a position to guarantee to the men absolute protection from interference, and if Corbett is willing to fight the thing will come off without a hitch of any kind."

International Pool Tourney.

Syracuse, Dec. 2.—The international pool tournament for the championship of the world and the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Trophy began at the Grand Billiard Parlors to-night. It will continue three weeks, and the following men will play:

Alfred De Oro, Cuba; Grant Eby, Springfield; William Clearwater, Ravenna, Ohio; George Sutton, Toronto; Jerome Keough, Scranton; Frank Sheregan, Trenton; P. H. Walsh, New York; H. P. Scott, Cleveland; John Horgan, New York.

A preliminary tournament has been held during the last week, at which Stofft and Horgan have qualified out of a field of five contestants to take part in the big matches. The first and second series, between Alfred De Oro, champion of the world, and Walsh, and Horgan and Eby, were played to-night, with this result: De Oro 150, Walsh 45; scratches, De Oro 4, Walsh 4, Eby 7, Horgan 8.

Business Must Be Better

Washington, Dec. 2.—Custom receipts for the five months of the fiscal year are 812,000,000 greater than for the corresponding months of 1894.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for.

They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps overeating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question: What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves, that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ex-Governor Flower Empties the Stocking

New York, Nov 25.—In pursuance of the call of Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle for gold ex-Gov. R. P. Flower to-day deposited $250 in coin which he had gathered up in his house. He thinks there is $400,000,000 in gold hoarded throughout the country.

Died in His Chair.

Paris, Nov. 25.—M. Barthelemy St. Hilaire is dead. He died in his chair in his study, where he was found by members of his family last evening.

The Pope's Illness.

Rome, Nov. 24.—The representative of the United Press in this city learns that the Pope is suffering from an attack of rheumatism. His condition excites no alarm. Dr. Lapponi, his body physician, is in attendance upon him. His secretaries were engaged at the Vatican this morning as usual.

Reassuring.

Old lady (who has just bought a pint of chestnuts)—There are no worms in these chestnuts, are there?

Boy—Yes'm; but if you take off yer glasses while you're eatin' 'em you can't tell th' difference; th' worms taste th' same as th' chestnuts, ma'am.

IT PUT NEW LIFE IN ME.

"ALL I DID WAS JUST TO MOPE AROUND"
"SCOTT'S SARSAPARILLA CURED ME."

The chilly weather of late fall and early winter finds them unprepared to stand the change and hence they suffer. This fact is plainly proved by the following opinions of some who speak from practical experience:

"I felt like a man that could commit suicide. I caught a cold while camping on damp ground, had twinges of awful muscular pains, couldn't eat and couldn't sleep. All I did was to mope around and make all in the house as miserable as myself. Scott's Sarsaparilla put new life in me, braced me up thoroughly, and since its use pain is a stranger to me." Alex Grant, Toronto.

J. T. McGraw, a mining prospector, writing from Minden: Express me three bottles Scott's Sarsaparilla here before Saturday. Have been a martyr to rheumatism and indigestion brought on by exposure. Scott's Sarsaparilla is rapidly curing me."

Nothing has ever equalled Scott's Sarsaparilla for building up the system, putting the blood in healthful circulation and invigorating the body. Thousands testify to its splendid effects in extreme weakness and all debilitating diseases. On this account no imitation of Scott's should be accepted. Of your local druggists at $1 per bottle, 6 bottles $5,

The monthly reports for November have been placed in the hands of the pupils. It is hoped that each parent or guardian will insist on seeing these reports, which are issued as soon as possible after the close of each month, and will sign and return them promptly to the teacher in charge of the class to which the pupil belongs. The teachers are pleased to notice an improvement in this respect, and hope that all parents and guardians will co-operate with them in making the best possible use of these monthly reports.

The usual September promotion examinations are fast approaching. Due notice of the days on which they will be held will be given to the pupils, all of whom are expected to be present, as any who are absent will thereby lose all chance of promotion which they might have had.

School closes on Friday, Dec. 20th, and reopens on Monday, Jan. 6, 1896.

If any person, knowing of any children of school age who are not attending school when there is nothing to prevent their doing so, will kindly give the names of such children to some of the teachers, or to some member of the School Board, he will confer a favour on all concerned.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring you perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them, forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

"AS AT THEIR LOOM TWO WEAVERS SAT."

A few days ago THE EXAMINER requested some of its readers to furnish for a Keene subscriber the words of the poem beginning "As at their loom two weavers sat." Mr. M. Stainton, a Deseronto subscriber, has forwarded a copy of the poem, which is given to oblige our Keene correspondent and because of the impressive lesson of the poem and its sturdy quaintness of style:

As at their work two weavers sat,
Beguiling time with friendly chat,
They touched upon the price of meat,
So high, a weaver scarce could eat.

"What with my brats and sickly wife,"
Quoth Dick "I'm almost tired of life;"
So hard my work, so poor my fare,
'Tis more than mortal man can bear.

Home glories is the rich man's state,
His house so fine, his wealth so great;
Heaven is unjust, you will agree,
Why all for him? Why none for me?

In spite of all the Scripture teaches,
In spite of all the parson preaches;
This world indeed (I've thought so long)
Is ruled, methinks, extremely wrong.

Where'er I look, howe'er I range,
'Tis all confused, and hard, and strange;
The good are troubled and oppress'd,
And all the wicked are the bless'd."

Quoth John: "Our ignorance is the cause,
Why thus we blame our Maker's laws!
Parts of his ways alone we know,
'Tis all that man can see below.

Seest thou that carpet, not half done,
Which thou dear Dick hast well begun;
Behold the wild confusion there,
So rude a mass it makes one stare.

"A stranger, ignorant of the trade,
Would say, no meaning's there conveyed;
For where's the middle, where's the border?
Thy carpet now is all disorder."

Quoth Dick: My work is yet in bits,
But still in every part it fits;
Besides, you reason like a lout;
Why, man, that carpet's inside out!"

Says John: "Thou say'st the thing I mean,
And now I hope to cure thy spleen;
This world, which clouds the soul with doubt,
Is but a carpet inside out.

As when we view these shreds and ends,
We know not what the whole intends;
So when on earth things look but odd,
They're working still some scheme of God.

No plan, no pattern can we trace,
All wants proportions, truth and grace;
The motley mixture we deride,
Nor see the beauteous upper side.

But when we reach that world of light,
And view those works of God aright,
Then shall we see the whole design
And own the workman is divine.

What now seems random strokes, will there,
All order and design appear;
Then shall we praise where here we spurned,
For then the carpet shall be turned."

"Thou'rt right," quoth Dick, no more I'll grumble
That this sad world's so strange a jumble;
My impious doubts are put to flight,
For my own carpet sets me right."

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen—Aquatic and Field Sports.

HOCKEY.

There will be more than two teams in this district of the Ontario Hockey Association this year. Hitherto the Peterborough's and the Volts have had it to themselves, but this season there is more than a probability that teams will be entered from both Lindsay and Norwood, and although their sevens may not be sufficiently strong to win the trophy this year, yet it will lend quite an interest to the game in these towns to have league matches take place, and interest does much to build up a game in any place. If these teams enter before Saturday there will be a very strong representation go up to Toronto from this district to the annual meeting on that date.

THE WHEEL.

At a meeting of the Bicycle Club last night a committee, composed of Messrs. R. D. Hamilton, Geo. J. Horkins, Robert Neill, Andrew Mercer, R. H. Kells, J. E. Bradburn, Robert Fair, A. L. Davis, F. H. Dobbin and S. B. Ewing, was appointed to gather information respecting the annual meet of the C. W. A. and to devise plans for the purpose of securing it for Peterborough this year. A report will be made to the club as soon as possible.

THE TURF.

Winter horse racing got a hard blow in Ottawa last year on account of the exceptionally large amount of crookedness which went on. In fact, it was thought the death knell of ice trotting had been sounded. But the punishment meted out to some of the principal offenders somewhat made amends, and there is a fair prospect of a big revival in the sport.

"No Good Without the Other."

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. Only a few minutes inspection of Oak Hall's men's suits, overcoats and ulsters—almost the first you look at—will convince you that our clothing and our prices are right.—OAK HALL.

Dublin Porter

Those wishing to avoid malaria and typhoid fever, which is prevailing in town on account of the low water in the river, can do so by drinking "Calcutt's Dublin Porter." Recommended by the medical fraternity to build up the system. Best tonic made; will fatten the leanest of people; only $1 per doz. Telephone No. 98. tf

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Special Invitation for the Ground Floor Gallery.

Christmas is coming; in less than four short weeks it will be here and the time honoured custom of gift giving will necessarily include photographs of yourself or your family for your best friends. Nothing in the way of a present in good taste can better be given than a photograph—it represents a small cost if got at the Ground Floor Studio—and is of the highest value to a friend. Next to a visit from oneself a well taken photograph is the most acceptable gift. Business has been good with us since I assumed the management of the Ground Floor Gallery, Charlotte street, a few days ago, and with the great satisfaction expressed with our work we have reason to expect a genuine rush as Christmas approaches. Now you are advised to take the very first chance to give me a sitting, if you wish the best photograph that can be produced in this district. You know it takes some time to take, print and finish a photograph and that work done hurriedly in any branch cannot be done as well as when reasonable time is given. I am sure there will be a rush of orders as Christmas comes near and that many who apply late will perhaps be disappointed—only so much work can be done. So that if you do your part in spreading the rush over the weeks between now and Christmas by giving me a sitting at once, you will serve your interests and my own. Call early therefore and leave your order for your Christmas photographs at the Ground Floor Studio, Charlotte street (Sproule's former premises).

ELDRIDGE STANTON.

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Winter is again with us in earnest and the merry jingle of the sleigh bells are once more heard in our streets.

Mr. John Lang, of Meaford, is visiting friends here.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will meet in the Presbyterian church on Monday night next at 6.45.

The party at the Lang cheese factory on Friday night last was a great success. About two hundred were present, comprising many of the elite of Peterborough and other places. It is needless to say that all enjoyed themselves to their satisfaction. Excellent music was furnished for dancing, which was kept up till the small hours. Others not partaking in the social hop were entertained with various games, and everyone returned home well satisfied with the night's fun.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—Trade is very quiet, with practically nothing doing. There is a wide range between buyers and sellers. Straight rollers are $2.90 bid, Toronto freights, but sellers ask more.

Bran—Market is unchanged. Bran is quoted at $11 west, and at $11.50 to $12, Toronto freights. Shorts, $13 to $14.

The Way We Sell Boots and Shoes

Is remarkable enough to be told about and repeatedly emphasized. There are lots of stores with handsomer appointments, and lots of them swinging more style, but when it comes to downright good shoes at downright low prices we lead the trade. You buy them for just what they are, without any falsehood or exaggeration. The newest styles the most complete range of sizes, and the finest qualities are here as you want them. No one can afford to do any fooling or show an indifference at this season of the year as to the quality and character of the footwear worn. Our shoes are solidified samples of success, both in the quality of every pair we offer and in the prices.

There's Nothing We Like Better Than to

SAVE YOU MONEY!

It's as good as a gold mine to us, this being able to mark prices below the average. People find it out and come and keep coming. There is absolutely no limit to the trade we can get, with values leaning your way as they are now.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Which Failed to Cure a Child of Diphtheria.

MRS. BEERS ON TRIAL IN TORONTO

Doctors Who Think the Life of Percy Beck Might Have Been Saved—Witnesses Who Thoroughly Believe in the Efficacy of Christian Science.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The trial of Mrs. Beers, the Christian Scientist, for manslaughter, in connection with the death of little Percy Beck, began yesterday at Mr. Justice Falconbridge's Criminal Assize Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck, parents of the child, were the first witnesses. They told of the calling in of Mrs. Beers and described her treatment. It was mental treatment, that is she did not handle the patient at all. Mrs. Beck still retains faith in the Christian Science method of treatment.

Two brothers of the deceased lad were called as witnesses. Both had been treated by Mrs. Beers, one of them for a poisoned hand, which was cured.

Mrs. Beck swore that the prisoner made no charge for her treatment, and that there was no understanding as to any payment to be made. Mr. Beck also admitted that if he had known how serious the child's case was he would have called in a doctor

Dr. J. A. Creasor, who made the post mortem examination, testified that the child had died of diphtheria, of a non-malignant type. He believed that with proper medical treatment the child's life would have been prolonged, perhaps saved.

Dr. Joseph Orr swore that the child had died of diphtheria. He had, by the aid of a microscopic examination, discovered diphtheritic germs, leaving no doubt as to the cause of death. It was a non-malignant case of diphtheria of the simplest kind. He thought that with proper medical attendance the child would have recovered; in fact, he had no doubt that life would have been preserved had the throat been properly cleansed and treated.

In his cross-examination witness said that he did not think a layman would be able to tell from what disease the child was suffering. He swore that "diphtheria was recognized above all as a disease amenable to treatment."

"Can you say that the child, had he got proper medical treatment, would have recovered?" he was asked.

"My opinion is that he would have recovered."

So far as he knew there was nothing in the prisoner's treatment which harmed the child.

To Mr. Barron witness said that in his experience the cases of simple, non-malignant diphtheria recovered.

Dr. R. B. Orr swore that he believed that the child died of diphtheria.

In his cross-examination witness said that he did not believe in Christian Science.

This closed the Crown's case.

Mr. Cassels, counsel for the prisoner, urged that the Crown had not made out a case. The prisoner didn't undertake to treat the deceased medically. That which she did undertake she did to the satisfaction of those who employed her. There was no duty upon her in connection with the child. It was not her child. The duty belonged to the parents.

His Lordship said that if the duty was cast on the prisoner she would probably be liable as an accessory.

Mr. Cassels argued that the duty was not cast upon and was not assumed by the prisoner.

His Lordship said that had it been the case of an adult, of his own free will selecting any kind of treatment, medical or non-medical, he would not have the slightest hesitation; but in the case of an infant child, it would, perhaps, be different.

Mrs. Isabella Williams was the first witness for the defence. She swore that she had been very ill, suffering from what the doctor said was Bright's disease and inflammation of the bowels. She got no better under the doctor's treatment, and so called in the help of Christian Science. She got better, and has had no recurrence of the trouble since. Witness had also been under the treatment of the prisoner, and was cured of the trouble from which she was then suffering.

Mrs. Matilda Williams was next called. She swore that for about fourteen or fifteen years she had doctored for paralysis of the bowels, indigestion and other diseases, and had taken any quantity of drugs without any good results. Then she embraced Christian Science, got thoroughly cured and had taken no medicine since.

To Mr. Barron witness said that the Christian Scientist who treated her didn't do anything, but just sat beside her and talked to her. She had no more faith in drugs, but she wouldn't admit that she got better because she stopped taking the drugs.

Mrs. Brimston swore that two of her daughters were treated by Mrs. Beers for sore throat, and after two treatments were quite well. One child, whose eyes had been impaired as the after result of an attack of typhoid, after treatment by Mrs. Beers had her sight fully restored. The child had been wearing glasses, and within an hour after treatment was able to lay them aside.

In her cross-examination witness said that Mrs. Beers didn't handle the patients at all, but simply treated them mentally. She now believed thoroughly in Christian Science.

Mrs. Burridge had been treated for bronchitis and catarrh by the doctors and had received no benefit. Two years ago she was treated mentally by Mrs. Beers and was cured after two weeks' treatment. This treatment was partly present and partly absent. "God, you know," she explained, "is every where." Her boy was also cured of bronchitis after treatment by the prisoner. She believed in Christian Science; she believed it could cure all disease, for with God all things are possible. She explained that Christian Scientists believed that they healed by the same divine art by which Christ healed. She declared that if she knew she had taken poison she would apply to a Christian Scientist in preference to a doctor.

"What about setting a broken leg?" asked His Lordship.

The witness replied that the Scientists could relieve the pain, but they left the setting of the limb to the surgeons.

Miss Fannie Pooley had been treated for bad head and fits for years by various medical men, but grew worse instead of better. About a year ago she was treated by the Christian Scientists, and has never had a headache or a fit since. Her father and her mother had also been cured by Christian Science of dropsy.

To Mr. Barron witness said that it was one of the beliefs of Christian Science that the eating of salt fish would not produce thirst.

John O'Connor had suffered from childhood from rush of blood to the brain, and had doctored with some of the best medical men in Toronto without experiencing any good results. Four years ago he took the Christian Science treatment and has not suffered from it since.

Mr. O'Connor is a student of Christian Science, and in his cross-examination he explained at considerable length and with nice exactness the leading tenets of the system.

The end of his cross-examination brought the case for the defence to a close, and the court adjourned till this morning.

A BUSINESS SENSATION.

One of the Best Known Wholesale Houses in Toronto Said to be in Trouble.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The announcement at a late hour yesterday afternoon that the wholesale dry goods firm of Samson, Kennedy & Co., situated at the corner of Colborne and Scott-streets, and composed of His Worship Mayor Kennedy and his son, Mr. Frederick Kennedy, the former senior partner of the firm, Mr. A. Gibb Samson, having died on Sep. 13, 1891, was financially embarrassed caused a decided sensation in business circles, where the firm was generally regarded as financially solid, and it was not until it was known beyond all question that the firm's bankers, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, had refused to honor the demands of the firm upon them that the reported difficulty was accepted seriously.

The firm was formed about 25 years ago, and was for many years known as Samson, Kennedy & Gemmell. Its three component members had all been heads of departments in the big business of John Macdonald & Co. All three were members of the same church, and the formation of the firm was the result of a misunderstanding with the late Senator Macdonald.

A few years ago Mr. Gemmell left the firm and his place was taken by Mr. Fred Kennedy. The former gentleman went to Winnipeg and not long after died.

For a number of years past the firm has been prominent in wholesale circles, and at one time, not many years go, claimed, and reasonably so, to be the leading wholesale fancy goods house of the city. Of late years the firm has made a desperate effort to take the lead in staples, and to this end has employed a large number of travelling men and inside employes, a departure which has proven to be a source of great expenditure to the ambitious firm. Rival establishments are inclined to the belief that the anxiety of Samson, Kennedy & Co. to occupy a position at the head of the wholesale dry goods trade has led them into the error of selling goods at a figure that could represent naught but a loss, and that the embarrassment which overtook the firm yesterday was but a natural consequence.

At a late hour last night it was not believed that the firm had made an assignment, though such action, it is believed, will be necessary to-day or to-morrow, when the Canadian creditors will meet to consider the situation. Neither Mr. Warring Kennedy nor his son was to be seen last evening, and a statement of the firm's financial condition could not be secured. It is stated, however, that the amount involved will not exceed $500,000, of which sum probably a trifle more than half is represented by the claims held against the firm by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Samson, Kennedy & were rated by Bradstreet's and Dun, Wiman & Co.'s commercial agencies at $100,000, though lately the reports have reduced this rating to $75,000. The firm's annual business has been about $1,250,000.

Throughout the city last night only expressions of the deepest regret at the misfortune which has overtaken the firm were to be heard. Samson, Kennedy & Co. have been untiring in their efforts to keep up with the great business struggle constantly going on, and their pluck and determination have won for them the admiration of the business community.

A MULTI-MURDERER

Makes Confession to the Sheriff of Fort Wayne.

KILLED PEOPLE IN MANY PLACES.

A Number of His Crimes Fully Verified—Once a Member of Bill Dalton's Gang of Bank and Train Robbers, and Now Under a Ten Years' Sentence.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 4.—John C. Stone, alias "Vinson," has made a confession to Sheriff Clausmeier, detailing a life of horrible crime. He was arrested with John Duffy and William Walrath for attempting to kill Deputy Sheriff Harrod on May 28 last. Walrath was shot and died in Hope Hospital.

Stone is under a 10 years' sentence, and Duffy's case went to the jury last night. Stone states that he and Walrath were members of Bill Dalton's gang of bank and stage robbers. He says he, Duffy and Walrath killed a man at Kansas City in 1883 and robbed him, but later gave the money to Henry Donnelly, a policeman, for protection. He also tells of a murder committed by himself of a Mrs. Stewart and her son Clarence in Cleveland, Ohio.

In Buffalo Stone, Walrath and one Burns, a saloonkeeper, killed a wealthy western farmer who was looking for a good time. The money was divided, and Stone and Walrath returned to Chicago, and with their shares started a restaurant. Here Walrath married Stone's sister.

Mrs. Walrath, Dix and Stone and Walrath left Chicago. Later Stone returned and was implicated in the murder of a father and son named Prunty. Three men are now serving life sentences at Joliet for the crime, but Stone was not arrested.

He then tells of a murder at Dunkirk, N.Y., where Duffy stabbed a pal, "Buffalo Jack," four times, and buried him in the woods. Another murder was committed at Union City, Pa., the victim being an old man named Horton, or Norton. Another murder was committed by the trio near Youngstown, Ohio, the victim being a resident of [illegible].

The last murder committed by Stone, Duffy and Walrath was on April 29, 1895, in a Pennsylvania freight train. At this time Stone was shot and did not get medical aid until South Bend was reached. The next desperate act of the trio was the robbery of a Grand Trunk train in Michigan, where five watches and money were secured. Two of these watches have been identified since their arrest here.

This Story is Verified

Youngstown, Ohio, Dec. 4.—The crime to which John C. Stone confessed as having committed near this city was committed on the night of Dec. 22, 1894, at Doughton, two miles north of here. Charles Rocco, an Italian, on his way home from Ashtabula to Pittsburg, while riding in a box car on the Lake Shore Road, in company with three tramps, was assaulted, shot and after being robbed of $13, was thrown from the train. He lived for several hours after being shot, and gave a description of the men to the officers. These men were seen in this city shortly before the news of the murder reached here, but made their escape.

And So is This.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 4.—The confession of John C. Stone, alias "Vinson," at Fort Wayne, that he, with two other men, killed a man in Kansas City, Kas., in 1883, but gave the money to Policeman Henry Donnelly, who let them escape, is confirmed here. The man murdered was named Shubert, and he was a musician who lived at Leavenworth. He was shot through the head, and robbed of $85 and a gold watch. Jerome Marshal, a saloonkeeper, who died four days ago, testified at the coroner's inquest that the watch resembled one that Donnelly was seen to carry. In 1884 Donnelly shot a brother policeman, and left the city, he last being heard of at Pueblo, Col.

Did Not Kill These Men.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—John C. Stone, who has confessed to more murders than Jack the Ripper is credited with, and who is now a prisoner at Fort Wayne, was not one of the slayers of John and Peter Prunty, father and son, who were killed by three burglars, Thomas, Francis McNally, alias Burke, Eddie Warren and Charles Kurtz, several years ago. McNally and Kurtz are now serving life terms at Joliet, Warren one of 20 years. The police never suspected a fourth man.

True in Every Particular

Erie, Pa., Dec. 4.—County Detective Sullivan, who went to Fort Wayne last September to investigate the story told by convict John C. Stone, says that so far as Stone's story relates to the Horton outrage at Union City, it is true in every particular. Dermott, one of the gang, is a Union City man. An attempt will be made to get Stone here to testify against McDermott as soon as he is released from the Allegheny workhouse, where he was sent for carrying concealed weapons.

A Woman on the Message.

London, Dec. 4.—Mrs. John Biddulph Martin (Victoria Woodhull), commenting on President Cleveland's message, says: "The retirement of greenbacks will not increase the amount of gold nor will it turn foreign exchanges in favor of the United States. Their best course is one of masterly inactivity."

Mr. Lecky is Ahead.

Dublin, Dec. 4.—The contest between Mr. William E. H. Lecky, the historian (Liberal-Unionist), and Mr. Wright (Conservative), for the Parliamentary seat for Dublin University, made vacant by the elevation of Right Hon. David R. Plunkett (Conservative) to the peerage, has virtually been decided in favor of Mr. Lecky. He has thus far polled nearly one-half of the total electorate, and is 650 votes ahead of Mr. Wright. Voting is possible, however, until Friday.

China Hall Bargains.

This week China Hall will have some special snaps in Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets for close buyers. A lovely line of Dinner Sets, regular price $16.00, to be sold for $10.00. Also, 23 Chamber Sets, regular $5.00 and $6.00 goods, for $4.00 all round. Do not delay seeing these goods.

Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1895.

WHAT the immense debt which the Dominion Government has largely saddled on Canada is, is illustrated by a passage in Mr. Charlton's address at Bracebridge on Tuesday. Mr. Charlton said there were 28,500,000 acres of improved land in 1891 in Ontario; the net debt amounted to $9 upon every acre, or the interest upon it, calculated at 4 per cent. was 35 cents per acre per year, or at 6 per cent. 50 cents. The annual expenditures of Canada had increased from $23,503,000 in 1878 to $37,585,000 in 1894, an increase of 61 per cent., compared with the increase of population of 27 per cent. With reference to the causes of this increase he spoke of the granting of railway subsidies with the object of taking toll from them, and the granting of public contracts in ways which brought back into party political funds a percentage of the money voted by Parliament for public works.

ABOUT TESTIMONY.

About three years ago a treatment for all diseases of the kidneys was placed on the market by us and advertised for sale by all druggists and dealers.

To indicate its origin and specific purpose this medicine was named Dodd's Kidney Pills.

We made but a single pretention—we claimed that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure any Kidney Disease.

Merit alone could bring any user again and again to ask for the same preparation.

But this only can account for another fact, which is, that over one million boxes have been sold in Canada alone.

And we have never had a complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills did not perform all we promise for them.

We have even advertised for anyone knowing of any case, his own or that of anyone else, to make it known to us. And though thousands must have seen it every day we never got a reply.

Now as to testimonials:

We have been publishing very many relating to great cures.

We never print those which are past common belief without ascertaining their exact truth and reliability.

As to others which come to us every day, though not asked for at all, we invariably respectfully acknowledge them. They are doubtless truthful statements of suffering and triumph over it, such as any reader, were the case his own, might make if he desired other sufferers to profit by his experience.

If doubt prevents any reader from availing himself of needed treatment let him write to the address given with each testimonial.

At last accounts the person testifying was alive and well, and that is all we care to know—

Except that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure.

Good sleighing!

Meldrum & McMaster, of Peterborough, are now controlling the grain warehouses here and at Rsaboro and are meeting with a good share of patronage.

The Division Court sittings were held held Tuesday. The docket was a small one. Lawyer Stone of Peterborough, was present in his usual good form.

The number of farmers are still increasing who go from here to Peterborough on Wednesdays and Saturdays and do not regret their long and tedious trips.

Nearly all the old horses have been disposed of in this section for whatever they would bring, prices being from $1 to $3. Some of them were taken to the glue factories in Toronto.

Thos. McQuae, Dep. Reeve of Emily, Dr. Cornwall, reeve, Omemee, and W. Switzer, reeve, Emily, attended county council last week at Lindsay.

George Lamb, oldest son of J. J. Lamb: died after a lingering illness on Saturday last. He was a promising young man taken away at the age of 21.

Dr. J. N. Thompson has successfully treated all cases of diphtheria without any fatal results, and the disease has disappeared.

J. D. Thornton has a number of good farms to rent or sell for Peterborough Land Companies and private individuals, also funds to invest at very reasonable rates on good security.

The holiday entertainments for Xmas and New Year's promise to be attractive. Jas. Fax will be here Xmas and a company is to play on New Year's at Bradburn's opera house.

Look out for colds at this season. Keep yourself well and strong by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great tonic and blood purifier.

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Rev. J. A. McCamus conducted evangelistic services in Thistlethwaite's School House, Asphodel, last week.

The morning services of the Methodist church were conducted by Mrs. Campbell, of Hastings, in the interests of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, last Sunday.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in the Presbyterian church last Sabbath morning. In the evening the subject of the address was "After the Communion, what next?" Next Sunday morning, being parents' day, the ordinance of baptism will be administered. The subject of the sermon will be "A Model Home."

Rev. J. R. Peake conducted the evening services in the Methodist church last Sunday. He also led the Epworth League meeting immediately after the public service.

The members of the Norwood Auxiliary in connection with the Methodist church entertained the South Dummer Auxiliary to tea on Monday evening, Dec. 2. After tea a public meeting was held in the school room.

C. Gallagher, of Warkworth, was in town this week.

Mr. Jordan, of Campbellford, was in town this week.

The citizens of our quiet town were startled Monday morning on hearing that John Jones, a resident of Dummer, had committed suicide the previous afternoon. Jones had been very melancholy and quiet for about a year, and it is generally supposed that he was insane when he killed himself. He left the house about twelve o'clock and went towards the barn. When he didn't turn up by five o'clock they started to hunt for him but could not find him. But when tying the cattle in they missed one of the rope halters and immediately suspected that something was wrong. They were able to follow Jones tracks from the stable back into the bush, and there they found his lifeless body suspended in the air. The funeral left his home on the 8th concession on Tuesday afternoon. The remains were interred in the Norwood cemetery.

W. Cope is going to open a tailor shop in the Metcalf block.

The students of the High School intend re-organizing their hockey team as soon as they are sure of having a rink.

Last Monday being the first of the sleighing and a grand night a couple of loads of our young people went out for a drive. They drove as far as Havelock, had supper at the Graham House, and returned home.

J. A. O. Carmichael, of the Bank of Commerce in Ayr, is spending a week here renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Carmichael has just received his three weeks' holidays. He spent a week with his mother in Markham.

Alfred Becket has returned home for the winter.

P. G. Cromar, operator at the C. P. R. station, Havelock, and formerly night operator here, returned from his wedding trip last week.

C. O'Reilly has been engaged as principal of the Wallaceburg Separate School.

Thos. E. Finlay is away for two or three weeks on a business trip in Eastern Ontario in the interests of the firm of Finlay & Son.

Last Wednesday the ladies of the Methodist church held a parlour social.

Mr. Moore, attending the Model School here, has succeeded in getting a school three or four miles out of Carleton, not far from his home.

J. B. MacWilliams, of Peterborough, was in town last week.

J. Brown, ex-reeve of Belmont, was in town last week.

The arbitrators on the Havelock law suit met Monday morning and made their awards.

Mrs. C. Crowe, of Stony Lake, was in town visiting last week and part of this.

GALWAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. John McGee has just completed a magnificent dwelling and they have already moved into it. He chose a beautiful site, nicely elevated and overlooking a large part of the settlement.

Mr. Thos. Henderson has also erected an addition to his house, making it very comfortable for the winter.

Mr. M. Deneen, foreman for Mr. A. McDonald, has moved into Gilmour & Co.'s camp, on the bank of Nogie's creek, where they are busily engaged in taking out some of the products of the forest.

A drove of cattle belonging to Mr. M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, was seen going north on Saturday to be slaughtered at his camp.

Another large drove of cattle are leaving this settlement on Tuesday for Dorset. It will take them two days to reach their destination. They were purchased by Mr. R. Howden to supply the Howry's camps. Messrs. Howden and Morris also slaughtered a large number of cattle last week on the Buckhorn road and at Wilberforce for the above firm.

Mrs. J. Reid, who has been very ill during the summer, is still continuing to keep very poorly. It is to be hoped she will soon recover.

There is some talk of a large factory being erected in the village of Kinmount for manufacturing chemicals, if the firm can succeed in securing bonuses from the surrounding municipalities of Somerville, Galway, Snowden and Lutterworth.

Writs Out To-Day for Montreal Centre and Jacques Cartier.

POLLING IN THE HOLIDAY SEASON

President Cleveland Was All Wrong in Regard to Behring Sea Patrol.—A North York Railway Project.—Hours of Customs Officials Defined.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—Two more writs for bye-elections will be issued to-morrow. In Montreal Centre the nomination will be held on Dec. 20, and polling will take place on the 27th. Joseph T. Clark is the returning officer.

In Jacques Cartier nomination takes place on the 23rd inst., and polling on the 30th. G. L. Beaulieu is the returning officer. Mr. Descarries, the representative of the county in the Local Legislature, will be the Conservative candidate.

Hon. Messrs. Foster and Montague left for Cardwell to-night, and Hon. Messrs. Costigan and Daly for North Ontario. The two former speak at Bolton to-morrow and Orangeville on Friday. Messrs. Costigan and Daly will address a meeeting at Sunderland to-morrow night, and at Beaverton on Friday.

President Cleveland's observations on Behring Sea control show clearly that he has been loaded up the wrong way. He complains about British vessels not co-operating in making the patrol effective. If English men-of-war did not do their duty the Yankee cruisers overdid theirs. Twenty-eight Canadian vessels operated in Behring Sea during the past season, every one of which was visited by American cruisers from one to six times. Of the United States sealing vessels,15 in number, it turns out that only two were properly equipped wiht licenses, and flags, showing that the Yankee cruisers failed to watch their own vessels. Three seizures of Canadian vessels were made, none of which were justified oy the courts.

Dr. F. W. Strange, Conservative candidate in North York; J. C. Stokes, L. E. Hambly and A. B. Armstrong, had an interview with Sir M. Bowell and Hon. John Haggart to-day in regard to the granting of a charter for an electric railway from Schomberg to Aurora.

Hon. Mr. Ives has received the terms of reference to the Intercolonial Committee which is to consider the Pacific cable matter. The committee will consider the question of route, cost, revenue and other matters, and will give special attention to the question whether the cable should be laid by the several governments interested or by a private company, and the distribution of the cost or the subsidies among the governments concerned.

The Premier says that there is no political significance in the High Commissioner's approaching visit to Canada. As stated last night, his visit to Canada is in connection with the fast Atlantic service and Pacific cable project. The High Commissioner has been the medium through whom all the negotiations regarding the establishment of a fast line between Canada and Great Britain have passed during the past 18 months, or since the sitting of the Colonial Conference here, and he will consult the Government regarding future negotiations. The High Commissioner sails by the Campania on Saturday for New York.

Three weeks ago the Government steamer Quadra ran upon a rock near Victoria, B.C. An investigation was ordered, and the report reached the Department of Marine in due course. The Minister has now acted upon the report, and has decided that, although the captain was to blame for running his vessel too quick when the accident happened, yet, on account of his past good services, he is to be allowed to retain his certificate and position, with a reprimand and a fine.

A project is on foot for the establishment of a gin distillery in Canada. Some of the promoters were in town to-day and had an interview with Hon. Mr. Wallace to urge that gin produced in Canada should be exempt from theregulation respecting the sale of whiskey, namely, that it must be kept in bond for two years before being placed on the market. Only by a concession of this kind could Canadian-made gin expect to compete with the product of Holland and other countries, where no such requirement of law exists.

Archbishop Duhamel has written to friends here stating that he enjoyed the privilege of an audience with the Pope on November 19. He states that the Supreme Pontiff is looking as well as could be expected of a man of his advanced years, and has not changed much in the three years that have elapsed since the occasion of His Grace's last visit. The reports sent out by press representatives regarding the Pope's health are nearly all of an alarmist type, and have very little foundation in fact.

The Controller of Customs has authorized the issue of a circular to collectors defining the hours of attendance of customs officers and rate of pay for overtime when in attendance at railway stations or trains, ferries, wharves or on board steamers and other vessels, or at suffrance or other warehouses. The hours of duty are fixed at 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., or later if the necessities of the service require. Overtime pay will be chargeable to railway, steamship and express companies when officers are in attendance after the ordinary business hours, at the rate of 25 cents per hour, and $2.50 per day for customs holidays. The object in framing these regulations is to secure uniformity of practice at all ports, complaints having been made by some companies that exorbitant charges have been made.

The Council of D.R.A. will meet here in the 16th of December, when the annual report will be adopted and arrangements made for the annual meeting, which will take place on January 22nd. The question of inviting the Australian team to visit Canada on their way home from Bisley will likely be considered.

The Dairy School at Kingston is about to be reopened. It will be continued under direction of the Dominion Dairy Commissioner, and Mr. J. A. Ruddick will be superintendent in charge. The first course begins next Tuesday. A special course has been provided for 1895-96, which embraces the supervision of the work of cheesemakers in the factories for one year before they are entitled to a diploma.

Hon. Messrs. Tuper and Dickey left Mr. John Lowe formally severed his official connection with the Department of Agriculture to-day. The members of the departmental staff presented him with a warmly worded address of regret and good wishes, to which Mr. Lowe feelingly replied.

The large collection of trees and shrubs which has been brought together during the past eight years at the Central Experimental Farm has recently been much enriched through the generosity of Prof. C. S. Sargent, director of the Arnold Arboretum at Jamaica Plain, near Boston, Mass. Prof. Sargent visited the Experimental Farm at Ottawa during the past summer, and was much gratified with the progress which had been made in this important branch of the work here. During the long period which has elapsed since the endowment and establishment of the Arnold Arboretum, there has been brought together there by the visits of the learned director to foreign countries, exchanges with other institutions and the assistance of botanists, a very large collection. This collection is especially rich in rare species and varieties from Northern Japan and China, countries which Prof. Sargent has twice visited. By request of Prof. Sargent, the foreman of forestry at the Central Farm, Mr. W. T. Macoun, who has charge of the collection here, visited the Arnold Arboretum, and assisted in making a selection for Ottawa. These were duly forwarded and have been safely received. This collection includes 179 species and varieties of trees and shrubs, and cuttings of 24 species of willows, nearly all of which are new to the colection here. A package has also been received recently from Siberia from Prof. Max Sivers, of Roemershof, containing six species of trees and shrubs from that country, also some tree seeds. Among the trees sent are specimens of the Siberian larch and the Siberian spruce, both new to the farm collection. When these additions are planted in the spring the arboretum will contain more than 1000 species and varieties of trees and shrubs under test. Thus far a large proportion of those tried have been found hardy in this climate. The information gained in this branch of the work is proving of great value to the country generally, by showing the capabilities of the Canadian climate and by supplying valued information to lovers of trees and shrubs in all parts of the Dominion.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

Still the Sultan is Stubborn and Matters are at a Standstill.

London, Dec. 4.—A despatch to The Standard from Constantinople says that the question of the admission of additional guard ships into the Bosphorus is in suspense, and all diplomatic action in the matter is at a standstill for the moment. Some of the Ambassadors are still awaiting fresh instructions from their Governments. All of the diplomats are of the belief that the exercise of strong pressure will be necessary to induce the Sultan to yield, and it is understood that such action will be taken immediately upon the receipt of replies by the Ambassadors of the powers, which are insisting upon the issuance of firmans to the representations they have made to their respective Governments. Russia has made a personal appeal to the Austrian, German and French Governments for an agreement that Russia, Austria, Germany and France shall not press their demands, but without success.

WILL FIX A DATE.

If the Sulsan Does Not Come to Time Before December 7 the Powers will Send Vessels Forward.

London, Dec. 5.—The Daily Telegraph has the following from Constantinople: If the reply of Turkey in regard to the admission of guardships into the Bosphorous is not shortly received, the powers will fix a date,after which they will bring vessels to Constantinople. A despatch from Paris to a news agency here says that similar advices have been received there from Constantinople,and that the date fixed is Dec. 7.

This Points the Same Way.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The Cologne Gazette, as the result of enquiries in official circles, reaffirms that Cabinets and diplomats alike are unanimous in insisting on the admission of aditional guardships into the Bosphorous. It adds that nothing is known of the rumored British ultimatum.

The Cable Commission.

London, Dec. 4.—The Birmingham Post announces that the so-called commission to perfect plans for the proposed Pacific submarine cable, will be a colonial department committee and not a royal commission as has been presumed. The route of the cable, The Post says, will probably be via Fanning Island, where a cable station will be established.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour

Unable to Work.

GENTS.—I was troubled with Liver Complaint so much that I was unable to work because of the pain and sickness it caused. The pain under my shoulder and in my sides was very severe. I am glad to say that one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters completely cured me and I am now in perfect health.

The Sage of Chelsea's Centennial.

Edinburgh, Dec. 4.—The centenary of the birth of Thomas Carlyle, the famous historian and philosopher, was celebrated at his birthplace, Ecclefechan, near Dumfries, to-day. A large number of wreaths were sent from all parts of Great Britain and the Continent, one of them being presented by Emperor William of Germany, with the inscription, "In Memory of the Writer of the Life of Frederick the Great."

Louis Stern Sentenced.

Munich, Dec. 4.—The sum of 80,000 marks, being the amount of bail given by Mr. Louis Stern of New York for his appearance to undergo the penalty imposed upon him for insulting Baron von Thuengen, Deputy Commissioner of the Spa at Kissingen, last summer, was to-day declared forfeited, Mr. Stern's respite having elapsed and he having in the meantime failed to surrender himself. Mr. Stern was sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 600 marks.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators, and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. Creditors Meet.

A meeting of the creditors of the Peterborough Carbon and Porcelain Company was held at the office of Messrs. Stratton & Hall, on Wednesday afternoon, a goodly number of the creditors being present, representing probably nine-tenths of the liabilities. The appointment of R. R. Hall as assignee was ratified and Mr. Adam Hall and Mr. R.D. Hamilton were appointed inspectors. A statement of the assets and liabilities was presented and it was estimated that a dividend of from 15 to 20 cents on the dollar would be paid. The assignee and inspectors are authorized to dispose of the assets to the best advantage for the creditors, and wind up the estate as speedily as possible.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Remarkable results have been obtained from the use of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophites in cases of emaciation associated with bronchial irritation and cough. The efficacy of cod liver oil in this class of affections has long been conceded, and combined as it is in this preparation with the hypopophosphites (which affords a valuable stimulus to the nervous system) and with maltine (itself a food and reconstructive of the greatest value), its usefulness is vastly increased. Furthermore, by the action of maltine starchy foods are more easily digested and in larger quantities, affording additional nourishment for the replacement of the waste of the body and for reconstructive purposes. If you are now using cod liver oil or any of the emulsions of this agent, weigh yourself, use Maltine for two weeks and observe the results. You will have gained both weight and strength, and relief from cough, bronchial irritation, and the distress these occasion.

HYMENEAL.

Nuptials of Mr. J. E. Trennum and Miss Laura Northey.

Last night the residence of Mr. Solomon Northey, Benson street, was the scene of one of those perennially interesting social incidents—a wedding—when Miss Laura, daughter of Mr. Northey, was united in marriage to Mr. J. E. Trennum, of Smith. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about one hundred guests by Rev. W. R. Young, assisted by Rev. A. R. McDonald, Lakefield. The bride was assisted by Miss Mary Northey, and Mr. J. Nichol supported the groom. The bride received a large number of costly and beautiful presents, and the guests were entertained at a sumptuous wedding banquet. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Trennum, and of the respective families, extend hearty congratulations and cordial wishes for a wedded life of prosperous happiness. They will reside in Smith.

A SOUTH MONAGHAN WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. Wm. Steinkrauss and Miss Martha Donaldson.

An enjoyable time was spent on Tuesday evening last in South Monaghan, at the residence of Mr. John Donaldson, when in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives the marriage of his eldest daughter, Martha, and Mr. Wm. Steinkrauss, of Minden, took place.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Catanach of Centreville.

The bride was handsomely gowned in cream cashmere, with pearl ornaments, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Minnie Donaldson, also attired in cream.

The groom was supported by Mr. J. Savigry of town.

The happy couple will take up their residence in Minden with the best wishes of a host of friends. On their arrival at their future home they will be tendered a reception by Mrs. Davis, sister of the groom.

A NOONDAY BLAZE.

It Originates in a Pile of Dressmakers' Clippings—Small Damage.

At noon to-day the fire brigade was summoned to the corner of Hunter and Sheridan streets, where smoke was seen to be issuing from the apartments occupied by Mrs. Weese as a dressmaking establishment. The flames were confined to a heap of clippings and were probably caused by a combination of mice and matches. No damage other than that caused by the flooding of the premises with water resulted, although several windows had to be broken out to let a draught of air through the place in order that the smoke might be cleared out and the last spark extinguished. Other tenants in the building moved out all their furniture in the expectation of seeing a general conflagration ensue.

THE DIXON PARK.

It Will be Deeded Back to the Donor on Receipt of One Hundred and Seventy Dollars.

The Property Committee met last evening with its chairman, Mr. Adam Dawson, presiding, and discussed the Dixon Park matter. Already $170 has been expended in beautifying the park and the committee did not feel, considering the state of the town's exchequer, that it would be justified at present in spending $330 more on it as Mr. Dixon wished. The committee offered to deed the two acres back to Mr. Dixon if he would refund the $170 already spent in beautifying the grounds. The matter stands for consideration until Wednesday evening next.

A COUPLE OF ACCIDENTS.

A Broken Collar-bone and a Finger Taken Off.

James Curran, formerly of Peterborough, has been brought to St. Joseph's hospital suffering from the results of a broken collar-bone. The injury was received in the Sudbury lumber regions.

Mr. Richard Drew, of the Canadian General Electric Works, lost a finger yesterday afternoon while at work on a braiding machine.

They do not despair.

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of Consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by use of Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palatable as cream.

The Stone Arriving.

Three carloads of stone arrived to-day from the Langford quarries for Messrs. Grant and Winch, to be used in the construction of the masonry in connection with the new George street bridge at the mouth of Spalding's bay.

The Skating Rink Roof.

The roof on the rink is being renewed, and that part of it directly over the portions used for curling is composed of tin in order that the trouble heretofore caused by the mortar in which the shingles were laid may be avoided. Small portions of this mortar dropping on the ice at intervals seriously interfered with the curlers during the past several seasons. If the cold snap only holds, the curlers skaters and hockey players will be using the rink by the beginning of the week.

Grace Church.

The work on Grace Church, Barnardo avenue, the North Ward annex of the George street Methodist church, is being forwarded rapidly. It was begun four weeks ago last Monday, and it is intended that that it will be dedicated to divine worship on Jan. 1st, 1896, which will literally be the year of Grace. The details of the dedication ceremonies have not yet been definitely arranged, but it is expected that a former Peterborough pastor will assist on the occasion. A lady has set a good example by presenting to Grace church a pulpit Bible and hymn book. The EXAMINER suggests in connection with the gift that the interior plan of the church provides a place for an organ. If the zeal that has marked the construction of this edifice is carried out in the administration of its religious functions, a very prosperous future awaits Grace church.

Collegiate Institute Fees.

At a recent meeting of the Kingston Collegiate Institute Board the following schedule of fees was adopted to be applied to the pupils:—Those resident in the city will be charged $5 a year or fifty cents per month, for primary or commercial courses, with the exception of those who will pass from these classes in July, 1896, for teachers. When the subjects above these classes are taken, such as classics, modern languages and science, the charge will be $5 extra. To the pupils from the county, except those who in the meaning of the act are county pupils, paid for by the county council, there will be a charge for the primary and commercial courses of $15; for the higher course $35 per year. Pupils from other counties, residents of the city during the school term, shall be resident pupils. The term from Sept. 1st to Dec. 31st will be counted as two-fifths of the year; Jan. 1st to June 30th as three-fifths.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

Mr. F. J. Doris Appointed Chairman pro tem in Dr. Brennan's Place—Accounts Received and Resolutions Passed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Separate School Board was held last evening, there being present—Messrs. Lynch, Goselin, Hickey, Doris, Quinlan and LeHane. The Rev. Local Superintendent was also present.

The chairman, Dr. Brennan, not being present, Mr. F. J. Doris was appointed chairman pro tem on motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. LeHane.

The minutes of the last evening were read and confirmed.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE REPORTS

for the month of November were submitted as appended:

	No. on Roll.	Ave. Att.
Central school	211	196
Convent school	219	196
Lake street school	151	136
Total	581	535

Received on motion of Messrs. Lynch and Hickey.

The school tax for the Catholic Association amounting to $5.25 and John Kelly's amounting to $2.48 were remitted and cheques for the amounts were ordered to be issued.

Mr. Quinlan, chairman of the Property Committee, reported work done since last meeting, the accounts for which have been presented at the present meeting. The report was received.

A representative from the Funk & Wagnall Co. was heard with reference to introducing one of their Standard Dictionaries for the use of the schools. The matter was left over for the future consideration of the Board.

ACCOUNTS

Accounts were presented from:

R Gordon, repairs and alterations	$ 21 55
J Murty, repairs generally	20 67
N Burk, cartage	80
E Archambault, cartage	2 50

The accounts were received and referred to the Finance Committee with power to order payment when certified.

A communication from the principal of the Central School, complaining of the dangerous condition of the floor of the play room and asking the attention of the Board before any accidents may happen. Received and referred to Property Committee with power to act.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

Mr. Lynch moved that the Property Committe be authorized to procure a new blackboard for the third form in the convent, the old one not being in a good condition for use.

Mr. Hickey seconded the motion and it was declared carried.

Moved by Messrs. Lynch and Quinlan, that Form II. in Lake street school be removed to a room in the upper flat, so that more room may be left for pupils of the first form, and that the Property Committee be instructed to make the arrangements to that effect.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Quinlan, that the Property Committee be authorized to arrange for the insurance on the Lake street school.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Quinlan, seconded by Mr. LeHane, that the secretary make the necessary arrangements for holding the election of school trustees according to law.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Quinlan, that Mr. Doris be acting chairman pending the absence from home of Dr. Brennan.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned,

Non-subscribers Must Pay.

The management of the Bell Telephone Company are very strict in enforcing the rule that non-subscribers must not use the instruments. The other day a man went to a friend's house to use the 'phone. Central gave him the desired number, and after he had spoken through the 'phone and said, "This is Mr. ——— speaking," central cut him off. Of course he was angry, and rang up central, and asked the operator why he was cut off. Central told him to come down to headquarters and read the rule that "Subscribers must not let their telephones be used by the general public."—Brockville Times.

The Army.

We have been requested to again call the attention of the readers of this paper to the fact that the Salvation Army throughout the Dominion is now in the midst of its Self-Denial Week. Every member is actively engaged in bringing about decisive victory as far as financial results are concerned. To this end special collections are being taken up in their open air and indoor meetings; collectors are calling from door to door, leaving daintily printed pamphlets and appeals; friends and soldiers are armed with collecting cards; hundreds of neat little sacks have been distributed throughout the country, especially in Ontario. By all these methods the Army expects to raise the sinews of war. The public should understand that the Army has opened up two more Food and Shelter depots for poor men during the last twelve months, and other like institutions will be opened. Donations can be given to the local officers or collectors, or sent to Commandant Booth, Salvation Temple, Toronto.

IS IT A TRUE REPORT?

A Gang of Arab Tramps Said to Have Fed Their Dead Offspring to the Bears.

The motley, dirty Arab tramps with the bears and monkey that visited Cambellford three weeks ago, were no doubt a low type of humanity, and from what has been learned of them lately, would stamp them as being inhuman and disgusting in the extreme. A report comes from the township of Asphodel that recently two babies belonging to the women of the gang became ill and died and their bodies were fed to the bears! At Havelock the tramps gave an exhibition of a bear and dog fight on Sunday, as they did in Cambellford, and on Monday the constable ordered them to leave the village.—Cambellford Herald.

As an emergency medicine, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all other medicines. For the relief and cure of croup, whooping cough, sore throat, and the dangerous pulmonary troubles to which the young are so liable, it is invulnerable, being prompt to act, sure to cure.

Another Store Enlargement.

Mr. Charles Legros, the live George St. Tobacco dealer has completed arrangements for enlarging his store to twice its usual size, which will necessitate his moving out of his present premises. And having ordered a lot of imported cigars and pipes before he had the intention, and they having come in, his stock will therefore have to be slaughtered. It is therefore necessary for him to clear out his large stock, valued at over $10.000 before moving. His goods consists of 10,000 Diaz y Garcia, 12,000 Manual Garcia, 5,000 Or Loranga, 3,000 Jose Morales, all direct imported cigars from Havanna, 100.000 Domestic cigars, besides the finest lot of B. B. B. pipes there is in Canada. Smoker's sundries too numerous to mention. Don't all come at once. The prices were never equalled in Peterborough before, or never will be again. Don't forget the number, 329 George street.

To-night—St. Luke's Annual Tea and Sale of Work.

Miss Vair has kindly promised to sing at St. Luke's annual tea and sale of work to-night. Mr. George H. Adams will give several musical sketches. Tickets 25c.

Obituary.

The death of Mrs. John T. Grange occurred at Napanee on Sunday last. Mr. Grange for a time lived in Peterborough as a member of the firm of Daly, Grange & Co., tea merchants. During her life Mrs. Grange made many warm friends through her kindly disposition and her death will be regretted by all.

The Barbers Will Act.

Woodstock barbers have agreed that after the first day of December, 1895, having received the name of any person owing for work in any other shop in town, they will refuse to do any work whatever for the said person until the same is paid to the barber to whom it is due. The Kingston artists have had this matter under consideration for some time.

"No Good Without the Other."

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. Only a few minutes inspection of Oak Hall's men's suits, overcoats and ulsters—almost the first you look at—will convince you that our clothing and our prices are right.—OAK HALL.

Gat Out Your Sleighs. Boys!

And if you haven't gotone, would like one of the newest flyers just out come to the Peterborough Bookstore and buy one. Parents are invited to see our dandy line of children's hand sleighs, baby cutters coasters etc. Get a pair of our adjustable steel runners, for putting on the baby carriage instead of the wheels—can be changed from wheels to runners in a few minutes. A. H. STRATTON & CO.

Here's a Chance for You!

One week from to-day Mr. T. K. Takahashi, the famous Japanese lecturer, will appear in the Opera House here, and no one should miss hearing him. He will eloquently describe and illustrate Japan. Parents should not fail to let their children go, as it will be beneficial to them. Here is what the New York Sunday Sun says about him:—"A man of deep learning, great grasp of his subject, and an ability to express himself both in speaking and writing that very few men possess." The plan is now open at Sailsbury's Bookstore. Reserved seats, 50c. General admission 35c.

Ottawa a Hopeless Case.

The rumor that the Salvation Army barracks at Ottawa is to be turned into a theatre comes as something of a shock. Can it be that the power of the sounding brass and the tinkling cymbal has waned before the advent of the song and dance artist and the gazelle like ballet dancer? No one has ever accused the capital of being offensively virtuous, but who would have expected the army to abandon it as a hopeless field of labour?—Montreal Herald. The army has simply moved its barracks to another street.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE of Eva Wilma Johnson, Who Died May 28th, 1895, Aged 9 Months and 20 Days.

One more mound in the cemetery yonder,
Where little Eva's body lies,
Waiting the day when the last great trumpet
Boldly shall bid the sleeper "Rise."

One more rose in the heavenly garden,
Watched by the Saviour's loving eyes;
Planted on earth to bud in beauty,
Then taken by God to bloom in the skies.

Sweet was the fragrance it gave as we watched it
Through its short summer of life here below,
Till the gardener whispered, "Let me transplant it
Ere its bright petals be covered with snow."

One more lamb for the loving Shepherd
To tenderly shelter from the cold,
One more head on His bosom resting
Safe forever within the blest fold.

One more angel to swell the loud chorus
Of Him who redeemed us and washed us from sin,
Who, when on earth, with arms wide extended
Lovingly said "Let the children come in."

Then dear sister, mourn not for sweet Eva,
Though early the Master called her home;
See her in glory with little hands buckaing.
Waiting till papa and mamma shall come.

Next time you greet her 'twill be without sadness,
No anxious fears, no cares to annoy;
No thought of parting with loved ones so precious,
Nothing but pleasure and peace and joy.

E. L. BEAVIS.

Send in Your Accounts.

A meeting of the Finance Committee of the Town Council is called for to-morrow evening, in order that as many accounts as possible, owing by the corporation, may be recommended for payment to the Council, which meets on Monday. This action is taken by Chairman Cahill, to enable the merchants and others to more easily meet their tax bills on the 10th. All accounts against the Town should be sent in to-morrow.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

A Merchant

Has no right to say to a customer that his goods are the best without being willing to have it proved. The large consuming public are our judges and we are willing that they remain so. If our Teas are not as we represent them to be we would be exposed as frauds. The large sale our teas have in Canada is the best proof we can offer that our goods are what we say they are. We are selling our Os-K-ash forty cent tea for a short time for twenty-five cents. STROUD BROS., 370 George street, Peterborough, also at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto. th

THE NEWCOMBE STANDS THE TEST.

The Cheapest because the Best.

Without a special education, few persons can at once perceive the important difference between an ARTISTIC piano, such as the Newcombe, constructed on the most modern and scientific principles, of the best material, by skilful and experienced workmen, and the common APPRENTICE-MADE instrument. To the inexperienced buyer all pianos look and sound very much the same, but IN TIME the difference is most apparent. To be assured of the durability of the Newcombe, one has only to visit those in and around Peterborough who have had the Newcombe for years, and they will learn (as we have from a personal inquiry) that the Newcombe stands preeminently ahead as a piano in lasting qualities. We do not intend to invite comparison with new piano manufacturers, who have only made a piano for eight or ten years—any apology will last that long—but we CHALLENGE COMPARISON with pianos of twenty-five years standing. Learn how long a piano has been made, and for how many of those twenty or twenty-five years that piano has remained good. We will be pleased to furnish you with a long list of so called pianos that exhausted their usefulness in ten years. In selecting be sure that you are purchasing an old reliable make and one that can show the onward advances. The Newcombe has made a few marks in its onward course; in the medal and diploma at the Colonial exhibition, London, Eng., 1886, New Orleans, U. S. A., 1884-5, Chicago, 1893. Our Mr. W. A. Shaw, 300 Rubidge street, will be pleased to call upon you and give you any information regarding terms, etc.

SEVEN DOLLARS OR HUSBAND.

Mrs. Berk Says a Clairvoyant Failed to Produce the Missing Man.

Three months ago the husband of Mrs. Rosa Berk, of 900 Park avenue, Williamsburgh, disappeared, and in her distress Mrs. Berk sought the aid of Mrs. Anna Buchholtz, a clairvoyant, at 540 Bushwick avenue. Mrs. Berk paid the clairvoyant $5 and received, so she declares, a promise that the missing man would be found. Later she paid $2 more, but the husband did not turn up nor did the wife get any clue to his whereabouts. She sued the clairvoyant in the Third District Civil Court to recover the $7.

Mrs. Buchholtz denied that she promised to restore Mrs. Berk's spouse to her.

"How could I?" said the clairvoyant to the court. "What I did tell Mrs. Berk was that I would try and get her husband to return. I am possessed, I think, of peculiar powers, and I expended more than $5 in the purchase of herbs and weeds all of which I burned in the neighbourhood of Mrs. Berk's house in an effort to fetch back her husband. His failure to return is not my fault. I simply exercised my powers, but it seems they did no good in this case.—New York Sun.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring you perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them, forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

PERMANENCE AND SECURITY.

The Provincial Provident Institution, St. Thomas, Ont.

On several previous occasions during the current year have we found it desirable to call attention to the work being done by the above named company. Reference to this institution is always a pleasure, for never since it attracted our notice have we been called upon to chronicle anything but continued growth and prosperity. Following along the paths leading to permanence and security, this company's management has kept well abreast of the times and through the energy and intelligence of its efforts, has outstripped all competitors, becoming the largest Canadian assessment life insurance company and for that matter, one of the largest life insurance companies of any kind in the Dominion.—The Boston Insurance Guardian, 31st Oct. 1895.

"That's what I cauliflower."

—Mr. George F. Tuckett, of the T. and B. tobacco manufacturing firm, has presented an organ to a church in Hamilton. Of course it is a pipe organ.

—For a nice assortment of pipes and cigars try Morgan. He is the only dealer in town that handles the real Sir Robert Peel Cigar. 436 George street.

—Every housewife and every householder should study the EXAMINER'S advertising columns now. They make profitable reading at this season of the year.

—Mr. Dan Whetung, of Chemong Indian village, Mud Lake, states that he crossed the lake Saturday last (Nov. 30th) with horse, cutter and himself. "Dan" is the first and last to cross the lake, so he states, the last being in March past.

—Brockville cuts down beautifully growing shade trees because this act of vandalism permits of a better view of a pile of buildings! God makes the trees, and it takes him years to do it, yet vain man, "dressed in a little brief authority," sacrifices these things of beauty to "show off" a measly pile of bricks and mortar that can be reared in a few months. The æsthetic wave hasn't struck Brockville very hard.

DR. RYERSON,
EYE, EAR AND THROAT
70 College Street, Toronto,
May be consulted at Grand Central Hotel Peterborough, December 28th.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? But there is a cause. It is to be found by the intelligent physician in some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs of generation. The woman who half understands herself, feels that she cannot always be complaining; she cannot always have the doctor in the house. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. The trouble usually comes so gradually it is attributed to some outside cause. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. All these symptoms are simply protests of the silent, long-suffering nerves. The trouble shows in dark circles below the eyes, a downward curve of the mouth, a sallow, brownish-yellow neck.

Unregarded, the trouble grows. A few years of tortured invalidism, probably insanity, before merciful death comes. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the fruit of years of study. It is the product of an investigating mind united with a generous nature. When an intelligent person gives years of study to a subject there must be some good result. The "Favorite Prescription" is a compound of extracts of herbs that makes a strengthening, soothing medicine. It acts directly upon the distinctly feminine organs. It stops drains from lining membranes by healing diseased parts, thereby curing also the inflammation that is always present.

"I was in a critical condition. Often I was in despair. I experienced a great improvement by taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken six bottles, and I am sure that it will not only cure ulceration but all diseases of females." Yours truly,

(Mrs.) R. T. Rudd

TORONTO ASSIZE COURT CASES.

Trial of William Currie for Arson—$950 for a Child's Hand.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—At the Criminal Assize Court yesterday William Currie was tried for burning a barn belonging to Hugh Ferguson, third concession of the Township of King, on the night of Aug. 29 last. Ferguson and Currie are related by marriage, and the motive, according to the Crown, was revenge. Currie, who is a man of very violent temper, abused his wife and family to such a degree that Ferguson interfered and took them away out of Currie's reach. Currie then left the country, but returned and was seen in Toronto, according to the evidence of the Crown, the day before the fire. The evidence went to show that Currie had threatened to "make it hot" for Ferguson, and to make him go up in smoke. Two men, one of whom was identified as Currie, were traced through a number of witnesses to Ferguson's place on the night of the fire. They were driving in a buggy, and the buggy was also seen at some distance from the barn with only one man in it. Then it was, according to the Crown, that Currie was applying the match. The Crown has been unable to find either the rig or the man who is alleged to have accompanied the prisoner. Currie returned alone to Maple and remained there over night.

According to the evidence of one witness, two men, one of whom was Currie, drove up to Curtis' Hotel and were about to leave the buggy, when one of them, noticing Mr. and Mrs. Curtis on the verandah, said something about them knowing him, and declined to alight. The case went over until to-day.

At the Civil Assizes yesterday the case of Sangster v. Eaton occupied the attention of the court the greater portion of the day. The plaintiff is Mr. Andrew Sangster of Fenning-street and the defendants the T. Eaton Co. In March, 1892, Mrs. Sangster, accompanied by her little boy, then two years and a half old, visited the defendant's place of business for the purpose of making a purchase. The little boy was then suffering from a birth-mark, which caused a swelling and discoloration of the fingers of the right hand. While in the store a mirror weighing about 40 pounds, which was standing unattached against a wall, fell on the child, inflicting a bruise on the hand already affected by the birth-mark.

On behalf of the plaintiff it was claimed that the birth-mark might have disappeared in the course of time, or that, at all events, the disease would have remained inactive; but after the injury from the fall of the mirror the disease became aggravated and is now said to be incurable. Damages were set at $2000, and were claimed by both father and son—the former for the loss of his child's help, the latter for the loss of the hand.

Considerable medical testimony was taken, and as is often the case, the doctors disagreed. Some held that the disease with which the child was born was aggravated by the bruise; others held that it was not; that the disease was liable to become active in the natural course of things. The case was given to the jury shortly after 7 o'clock.

This case has already been through every court in Canada. It was tried originally before Mr. Justice Street, who held that there was no evidence of neglect to go to the jury and dismissed the case.

An appeal was taken and the higher court held that there was evidence to go to the jury, and directed a new trial. This judgment was appealed from in turn and the case was finally brought before the Supreme Court, which directed a new trial.

The jury yesterday gave a verdict for the plaintiff for $950.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was cheated and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00. Sold by John Nugent, 369 George Street.

THE LANDLORD'S ADVICE.

He Instructed the Drummer in the Art of Making a Sale.

He had arrived in a Southwestern town with his patent washing-machine—warranted to do the work of ten women and save three-fifths of the soap—but before doing any business he thought it might be a good thing to advise with the landlord of his hotel. advise with the landlord of his hotel.

"Jest a washing machine, is it?" queried the landlord as he looked the thing over

"Yes, a washing-machine, but the best on earth"

"Orter be a wheel of fortune or sunthin' of that kind to be a go, but mebbe you kin hit some of 'em. That's a dog fight and a horse-race to-morrer, and it'll be a good day fur you."

"Are there any peculiarities to look out for?" inquired the agent.

"Wall, yes, a few. You'd better begin bizness by callin' up all hands to take a drink."

"I see."

"If you hev to talk any more tell 'em that's another drink ahead."

"I understand."

"If the old man Jones comes in with his boys that'll be a row on the street. They ar' bad folks and shoot on sight. Keep your eye peeled, and if you see any signs of a row ask the hull crowd to drink."

"Yes, but——"

"Look out for dog-fights. If one takes place on the street you can't hold the boys a minit. Keep your eye on the canines. If you see a yaller purp begin to bristle up to a bob-tailed trindle yell to the crowd to step over and moisten."

"Yes, but by that time the whole crowd will be half drunk," protested the agent.

"Sartin it will, and that's what you want, of course. That will give you a chance to skip out and take your life with you, and if you make a stop anywhere within a hundred miles I'll send on the masheen—purvided that's anything left to send. Nuthin' like knowin' how to handle one of these crowds, my friend. Did you ask me to take sunthin' in advance of to-morrer?"—Detroit Free Press.

Accidental.

Miss Lead—Did you hear that last report?

Miss Fitt—From where?

Miss Lead—Poor young Drinker didn't know he was loaded, and went off and killed himself.

Not to be Acquired.

A well-known Bishop, who takes a prominent interest in everything affecting the working classes, wishing to judge for himself what a journey in a workman's carriage was like, took a ticket and joined the miscellaneous crowd which fills these trains on the Great Eastern Railway.

After a most undignified struggle for a seat he found himself jammed in between a navvy, smoking a strong black pipe, on his right, and an artist in house painting, smelling strongly of his craft, and carefully balancing a can of green paint on his left hand.

In addition to apprehensions for the safe balance of this can and the very unpleasant odors arising, the good bishop was very much shocked by the bad language which garnished the conversation of his neighbors. After a particularly strong expression from the navvy, the Bishop, touching him gently, inquired:

"My good man, please tell me where you learn the language you have just made use of?"

The navvy replied, with a suspicion of pride in his tone:

"Learn it, guv'nor! You can't learn it. It's a gift. That's wot it is!"—San Francisco Post.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for.

They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps overeating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question: What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves, that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, and all throat and lung troubles. Prices 25 and 50c.

Yellow Oil used internally cures or relieves croup, asthma sore throat, bronchitis and similar complaints. Used externally on man or beast, it cures rheumatism, sprains, galls, chilblains, frost bites, lumbago, lame back, cuts, wounds, insect bites.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

None Better Known.

There is no better known traveller in the Maritime Provinces than Mr. Fred Anderson, the popular representative of Messrs. T. S. Simms & Co., St. John, N. B. Speaking of Norway Pine Syrup, Mr. Anderson says: "It is the best cough cure I have ever used and I prefer it to any other. I have given it to friends of mine and it cures every time. It would be a difficult matter now to induce me to use any other."

Not Suitably Equipped.

Commander—Captain, you will attack the enemy as soon as it is dark.

Captain of Militia—Preposterous!

"What do you mean, sir?"

"Why, I don't suppose there is a man in my command who has a dress-coat with him."—Puck.

Those Bloomers Again.

"They quarreled about a woman, did they?" asked the police magistrate.

"I don't know, Your Honor," replied the policeman.

"Don't know!"

"No, Your Honor. It had the face of a woman an' the togs of a man. It's hard guessin' these days."—Chicago Post.

On His Feet.

"Say, you see the baron over there? Well, I put him on his feet."

"What, a skinflint like you put a man on his feet! Impossible."

"But I tell you I did. Last year he rode in a carriage and now he uses his feet."—Fliegende Blaetter.

During the prevalence of la grippe, those who made use of Ayers' Cherry Pectoral found it prompt to act and sure to cure. No other medicine is so safe and efficacious in all diseases of the throat and lungs, and the only remedy successful in consumption.

Lungs Closed Up.

GENTS,—In the early part of the winter I caught a bad cold followed by a severe cough. I could not sleep as my lungs seemed closed up. I could walk only a few yards without stopping to get breath. I sent for Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion and before I had finished the third bottle the cough was gone—I could breathe freely and felt like a new man. I advise all sufferers from coughs, colds or asthma, to give your Emulsion a trial.

A "WOMAN WHO DID."

GRANT ALLEN'S HEROINE DUPLICATED BY MISS EDITH LANCHESTER.

She Denounces Marriage—Sent to an Asylum Because She Wills to Live With Her Lover Without a Legal Tie—Released in Five Days.

"The Woman Who Did," will be remembered as a novel which Grant Allen published early this year. "The Woman" was a person of the most exalted morality, of the most advanced ideas, and the most inflexible courage, who held, among other things, that the marriage bond was an antiquated superstition, which no free man or free woman should enter into, and what the woman did was to put her theory into practice. When a good young man asked her to marry him she said she would make no such debasing concession to conventionality, but would live with him as his wife without any binding contract.

He reluctantly consents. The result is misery all around. The young lady's family repudiate her, the young man dies and leaves her to face the world with an infant daughter to care for. Another young man who falls in love with her rejects her when she makes him the same proposal of unwedded wedlock. Her daughter grows up to curse her, and "The Woman Who Did" finally commits suicide, so that she may form no obstacle to that daughter's union with a commonplace youth who does not think an unmarried mother-in-law would be an ornamental addition to his family circle.

From this bare synopsis it might be thought that Grant Allen condemned his heroine's course. Quite the contrary. He applauded it. He instanced her as a martyr to principle. He compared her to the great heroes and heroines of the past, who were immersed in boiling oil or slain by wild beasts in the circus, and whose blood became the seed of the new doctrine which they died to proclaim, and now, eight months after the publication of the novel, a heroine in real life comes forward to act on exactly the lines which Mr. Grant Allen had laid down in his fiction. The name of Miss Edith Lanchester is to-day ringing through the length and breadth of England. She is Grant Allen's heroine in the flesh. Yet, strange to say, she never read Grant Allen's novel. She has acted solely out of her own sense of right, and here is her story:

Let us begin as if this were in fact, a novel. Let us first describe our heroine. She is really an attractive personality. She is only 21, and is more than usually good looking. She has winning manners, a frank and engaging smile and an excellent education.

EDITH LANCHESTER.

The daughter of Henry Jones Lanchester, a man of means and of high social position, she has enjoyed unusual advantages, which have not been lost upon her. After an excellent education in private schools she graduates from a girls' college.

The education has not dwarfed her individuality, nor does her social circle—an essentially conservative and conventional one—repress the aggressive boldness with which she has wrought out for herself the problem of life. Even at school her desultory reading has led her to take a great interest in communistic and socialistic literature.

After her graduation she becomes a pronounced advocate of advanced views. She wants emancipation for women and larger views of life for men. She wants property to be redistributed on a fairer and more equal basis. Naturally, her family does not agree with her. But at first they seem to have treated her with good natured leniency. Now that is the temper of mind which is most aggravating to the prophetess of a new dispensation. She is willing, perhaps anxious, to be a martyr. She cannot stand being laughed at. Miss Lanchester accordingly leaves her family in spite of their urgent remonstrances.

We next find her living in respectable but humble quarters in Battersea, that region on the south side of the Thames which John Burns represents in Parliament. She attends socialistic and labor meetings. She is greatly interested in the propaganda of all new ideas. But she is no seeker after notoriety. She does not speak or write, she only studies and thinks. To the public, even to the socialistic public her name is unknown. Her family breath freer.

Suddenly all is changed. The change is brought about by a very common, indeed commonplace, incident. Like all other girls she bestows her affection upon an inferior in social position. He is a mechanic, and the secretary of the Social Democratic Federation of London. Though self-educated, he is evidently a man of some parts. He is an advocate of the advanced ideas. Like Miss Lanchester, he looks upon marriage as a remnant of the barbarous past.

Nevertheless, he proposes marriage to her. When she confesses a return of his affection, but repudiates his offer of marriage, he turns to reason with her. He explains that he wants her to go through the forms of that reprehensible ceremony merely for her own protection. He believes in it no more than she does, but for her own sake, for the sake of her family, and of possible children, it would be best for her to bow to the tyrannous laws of her country. Miss Lanchester will listen to no such cowardly truckling to convention, no such degrading sacrifice of principle.

She would live with him. She would not marry him. Mr. Sullivan at last yielded. The date when they should begin their socialistic union was fixed for Saturday, Oct. 25. In the meantime they made all the necessary preparations for housekeeping.

It is needless to say that the news of this little arrangement fell like a bombshell into the Lanchester family circle. Her father stormed, her sisters wept, her brothers pleaded. Anger, tears and pleading were alike powerless to shake the resolve of this stern little heroine. Marriage, she persisted, was immoral. She would not be guilty of immorality.

Mr. Lanchester and his sons now determined upon more heroic measures. At all hazards they would stop this terrible scandal; they would prevent the blot upon the family honor. Only one course seemed to be open to them. There was no law which could prevent a person of full age from doing as she chose in a matter of this sort. But the law might be invoked to declare her a lunatic and rob her of her liberty.

In England the process is an easy one where an influential family is involved. So it proved in this case. Friday, Oct. 24, Mr. Lanchester and two of his sons presented themselves at the young lady's lodgings. They were accompanied by a physician, Dr. Blandford. Miss Lanchester herself shall tell the story:

The medical man asked me if I would consent to marry Mr. Sullivan. I replied that I certainly would not, for I objected on principle to becoming the chattel of any man. But the doctor urged: "You are advocating promiscuity and community in everything." "I am doing nothing of the kind," was my answer. "I am altogether opposed to promiscuity, but in certain matters I do certainly, as a socialist, advocate community." "But suppose I took away some of these apples?"—pointing to a dish of the fruit which lay on the table. "In your case, doctor, I should hold it to be theft. But I should not so regard the act if committed by a starving man." "Dear, dear, I can do nothing with her," was the doctor's remark, as he left me and joined my father in an adjoining room. I do not remember the gentleman's name, but my impression is that he must have brought the certificate of lunacy in his pocket, already signed.

Then describing her forcible removal Miss Lanchester said:

At a signal from the doctor I was carried out, and in my struggles I did manage to smash one of the windows of the carriage. There was a good deal of whispering between by relatives as we journeyed along, and when we got in sight of the asylum one of my brothers assured me it was a private "house" to which they had brought me, and that I should be very comfortable there. I told him I knew perfectly well the kind of place it was. After alighting, I was introduced to the assistant matron and was given a cup of coffee. While my hands, which had been tied together with a piece of rope, were being untied, I demanded to be informed of the reason of my detention, but Dr. Chambers assured me he could do nothing, and, the certificate being in due form, he was obliged to receive me as a patient. For the first two days, I was very greatly amused at the tone adopted toward me in conversation by the attendants, but later on they dropped the assumption that they were dealing with a woman who was of unsound mind. I do not charge them with any unkindness, however. On Sunday I was given a private sitting-room.

Young Mr. Sullivan, as soon as he learned what had happened, appealed to the nearest police court. His story got out. It created a whirlwind of excitement. First John Burns took it up and called in the assistance of the Lunacy Commissioners. Two experts sent to examine the girl declared that she was undoubtedly sane. On Tuesday, Oct. 28, the fifth day of her detention, a deputation consisting of John Burns, James Sullivan and a half a dozen well known socialists escorted her triumphantly from the asylum to her former quarters.

And meanwhile the public excitement had reached fever heat. The papers were full of the case. Letters of protest showered in from all sides. A few protested against the release of Miss Lanchester. The majority denounced the action of her family, though without approving her own conduct. That, indeed, is the general feeling in England—she is a foolish little woman, but she must be left to the consequences of her folly. A howl of indignation has gone up at the idea that any English woman could be locked up in an insane asylum in so summary and high handed a fashion. So great was the outcry that Dr. Blandford and the Lanchesters were obliged to come forward in their own defence.

Both Dr. Blandford and Mr. Lanchester have their sympathizers, as already noted. The London Standard openly informs Miss Lanchester and her socialistic friends that "her 'abduction' has been regarded by everybody who has not lost his grip of morality and common sense not only with equanimity but with considerable sympathy." The provincial press, which is edited with special deference to the scruples of the British matron, furnishes a larger contingent of supporters of Mr. Lanchester than does the metropolitan. And, indeed, even among the denouncers of that gentleman many an argument has been silenced by the query, "What would you have done if the woman had been your daughter or your sister?"

But what is the use of trying to shake the determination of martyrs? On Nov. 2 Mr. Sullivan and Miss Lanchester announced that they had assumed toward each other those relations which they had already determined upon.

The Woman Who Did was familiar both to literature and to life long before Grant Allen put her into the one and Miss Lanchester realized her in the other.

Will Miss Lanchester follow the maturer determination of predecessors? Will she bow to the difficulties of her position? Or will she hold her head erect and defiant to the end? The question is one fraught with the utmost interest to all. For she is bound to have imitators, and then—what?—N. Y. Herald.

The Villain Checked.

"I will follow you to the utmost ends of the earth!" hissed the villain.

"No, you won't,' said the heroine, calmly.

"Why won't I?" queried the villain, aghast at her coolness.

"Because I'm not going there," she replied.—Puck.

CHRONIC HEADACHE.

The change in my Mother's condition marvellous.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a Boon.

MONTREAL, August 29th, 1895.

GENTLEMEN:—There is such a change in my mother's health that I cannot restrain myself from writing you. She suffered for years past with a chronic headache, accompanied with a disordered stomach. She was weak and irritable, and we thought she was going into a decline. For three weeks she has been taking a course of Scott's Sarsaparilla, which was recommended to her by Mr. McGale, Druggist, Montreal. Her headache is now but a memory, her appetite is good, and she has gained five pounds in weight in twelve days. She is a different woman, and I feel that you, in God's hands, have been the means of restoring her to health. I shall always recommend Scott's Sarsaparilla to sufferers from head or digestive troubles. Thanking you again, I close,

Yours sincerely,
Florense Gavliere.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated extract, pleasant to the taste, and is taken in small doses. It is the finest remedy for disorders of the stomach and liver, palpitation, scrofulous sores, eczema and skin diseases arising from impurities of the blood. It builds up the weak, the strong it maintains in health. $1 of all druggists.

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

BELMONT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. John Young, of Napanee, is visiting at Mr. Wm. Young's, of Rockdale,

Mr. P. McIninch, of Victoria, has nearly completed his new residence, which is a great improvement to the locality. Mr. McIninch has had a great deal of affliction and adversity of different kinds during his past life, one adversity which the people of Belmont mourn being the burning of his residence last summer, when he was away from home. There was very little saved of the contents of the house and there was but a small insurance, but although this was a great loss to Mr. McIninch, still he with the energy of a Canadian went to work again and has built a much larger house.

Mr. Samuel Huellit, of Victoria, is selling off his farm stock and feed and intends to engage in lumbering this winter with Mr. Wesley Tucker. We hope their undertaking will be successful. But as the times are so hard they will do exceptionally well if they make fair wages —so much for the N. P.

A number of the promising young men of the Vansickle Settlement, in Methuen, have gone to the American Company's limits to work in the woods. We hope that they will be successful and come back in the spring with sufficient remuneration to compensate them for the hard winter's work that they will have.

Mr. William Ryollt, of Victoria, intends to erect a handsome brick residence on his farm, in the near future. Mr. Ryllot is a good sample of the energetic Canadian. He has not been a resident of Belmont over five years, but during that time he has shown that he is one of the most enterprising farmers in this community by the improvement and management of his farm.

Mr. Joseph Doup, of Victoria, has removed to the Township of Seymour. The community has lost one of its most active members by Mr. Doupe's removal and he will be missed very much. We hope that he will be successful in farming in Seymour. Mr. Parker, of Norwood, has rented the farm which Mr. Doupe occupied.

Mr. John Fraser, of Victoria, is seriously ill, suffering from a complication of diseases. He is much missed by the members of Victoria Methodist church, of which he was an active member. We trust that he will speedily recover.

The Victoria cemetery is being considerably improved in appearance by the building of a fence between the church and the cemetery. Also Messrs. Wilson, Covert, King and Simpson have placed handsome tombstones on their respective lots.

Mr. Harry Gurnsey, of Victoria, intends taking up his residence in Detroit, and he will probably reside there for some time. He will be much missed by the young people of Victoria.

Mr. Wm. Youmans, of Blairton, is seriously ill with inflammation of the lungs. This is the second time during the past year that Mr. Youmans has suffered with this disease. The sympathy of the community is extended toward him, and we trust that he will speedily recover.

John Brown, Esq., of Rockdale, is at Norwood attending the closing of the Havelock arbitration.

Mr. Taylor, of Rush Point, again has his saw mill in operation, and is now busy at work. Mr. Taylor shows great pluck in re building his mill so often, as it has been burned several times.

Mr. Geo. Sanders, of Victoria, has his new house nearly completed. It is a great improvement to the neighbourhood.

Mrs. James Covert, of Victoria, was presented with a handsome tea set by the members of Victoria Methodist church, as a mark of esteem, and as an appreciation of her services in connection with the church. Mrs. Covert is a very active worker and deserves the respect shown her.

The people of Belmont will hear with deep regret of the death of Mr. David Vansickle of Stanwood, Mich. Mr. Vansickle was a brother of our esteemed ex-councillor, Mr. John Vansickle of Methuen. The deceased had been suffering with a cancer for the past three months, and endured great pain until death finally came to his relief. It is a great consolation to his friends to know that it was well with his soul, for his end was peace. Mr. Vansickle formerly lived in the township of Methuen, and also resided in Belmont and the township of Marmora. He had been living in Stanwood, Mich., for the last three years. His many friends and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement, as Mr. Vansickle was well known in Belmont.

Mr. Wm. Cornell, of Rockdale, has just returned from a trip north to the American Co's limits. He says that there are about 200 men back their idle because of the closing of the sawmills, and they will probably be idle till spring, as the lumber camps are now overrun with men.

Have Nothing to Live for.

Sometimes men and women feel this way. A wave of despondency creeps up and up till it reaches the heart. They become languid and listless. Life appears grey and desolate, What some people want is not merely a tonic. They want to be built up. They want a stimulus, which will give them courage and put new hope in them. Such a stimulus is found in Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine. This is incomparably the best tonic at present offered to the public. A rich, generous wine, with a glow, a body, a fruitiness which are calculated to build up the wasted system. A bottle of this bracing tonic makes a poor debilitated creature a new citizen. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

CHICAGO FILLED CHEESE.

Accounts for the Bad Odor of American Cheese in England."

The consumers of the United Kingdom have been taking less and less cheese from the United States the last few years. This has been something of a puzzle as well as cause of anxiety to our neighbours, but they now begin to understand it as a broad hint that there is something wrong with their cheese. In his last annual report, the Secretary of Agriculture makes special mention of the unsatisfactory returns from this branch of dairy production, and by way of accounting for it ventures the opinion that the cheese cannot all be first-class. The gradual vanishing of so large an item of trade has set several of the newspapers also speculating as to the cause, and they have hit upon the same theory. To inferior quality, it is agreed, is to be put down the steady decay of the British demand. It is recognized that one large element in the depreciation of the quality is Chicago filled cheese, and it is admitted that that is enough to

SICKEN THE STOUTEST DEMAND.

In the States of the East, particularly, the opinion of this Chicago filled article is very outspoken. They say it is ruining the trade in honest cheese. It is this Chicago filled cheese, it will be remembered, that was made the pretext of the onslaught on Canadian cheese some months ago by the North British Agriculturist. It is a very bad class of cheese to have to be responsible for, and our representative in London hastened to clear Canada of all connection with it. The North British Agriculturist, convinced of its mistake, and moreover having a full sense of the great wrong it did us in falsely accusing us of anything quite so bad as this Chicago cheese, made a handsome apology. The United States had to father the cheese and the consequences. These to it in the form of shrinking exports; they may take the graver form threatened by the agitation of the British farmer some months ago, that of complete exclusion from the British market. At all events, the cheese exports are now the subject of some discussion in the press. A letter to the New York Sun, dealing with an article in which that paper had recommended that the manufacture of filled cheese be prohibited, makes the charge that Canada also turns out filled cheese and sells it in England as "prime American." The writer, whose name is often found at the foot of letters to the New York press, is a Mr. G. Wilfrid Pierce. His statement in relation to Canadian cheese is false. But it has importance for us, as has the great falling off in United States cheese exports Both impress us with the necessity of having leaving this country, branded with marks indicating where and when the cheese was made. If all our cheese is marked, then we shall stand in no danger of being held accountable for unmarked stuff. It is in this way that we can readily disprove such charges as those of the North British Agriculturist and Mr. G. Wilfrid Pearce, and in this way we can protect our cheese trade from such consequences as are now falling upon that of the United States. In the present situation of the cheese trade of that country is to be found a fresh argument for the adoption of Major McLennan's bill.—Mail and Empire.

CONSEQUENCES ARE COMING HOME

EVERY CHEESE AND EVERY CHEESE PACKAGE,

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The officers and members of the local Rugby Football club have received an invitation to the annual "At Home" of the Lornes, in Toronto, to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 10th. Those of the boys who attended this annual function last year had a most enjoyable time, and it is probable that quite a few will take advantage of the Lorne's invitation.

HOCKEY.

It is reported that Toronto hockeyists are trying to arrange that only three forwards be played this winter instead of four, as formerly.

The Kingston Whig says: A "kick" is being made to the Union about the Peterborough rink. It is altogether too small for hockey, and teams visiting there do not care to play in it. The Peterborough team should be made to secure a larger building, so that visiting teams will get a fair chance.

THE TRIGGER.

Capt. Jamieson's party sojourned to Cavanville this morning in full force to take in the turkey shooting match at that place. The captain sent the following team, which comprises most of the sharpshooters,—Major Lund, in command, Lieut. Costello, Privates Johnston, Martyn, Titterson, Craig, Sager, Robinson and Fulton. It will be remembered that Capt. Jamieson's band of sports did very effective shooting at the Frazerville and Centreville shoots, and will undoubtedly give a good account of themselves, as the captain has appointed (he not being able to get away) Major Lund, whom he considers almost his equal as a sharpshooter. Many others have left for the battle field.

The End of Man

Women and Children

The Way We Sell Boots and Shoes

Is remarkable enough to be told about and repeatedly emphasized. There are lots of stores with handsomer appointments, and lots of them swinging more style, but when it comes to downright good shoes at downright low prices we lead the trade. You buy them for just what they are, without any falsehood or exaggeration. The newest styles the most complete range of sizes, and the finest qualities are here as you want them. No one can afford to do any fooling or show an indifference at this season of the year as to the quality and character of the footwear worn. Our shoes are solidified samples of success, both in the quality of every pair we offer and in the prices.

There's Nothing We Like Better Than to

SAVE YOU MONEY!

It's as good as a gold mine to us, this being able to mark prices below the average. People find it out and come and keep coming. There is absolutely no limit to the trade we can get, with values leaning your way as they are now.

HON. MR. WALLACE RATIFIES THEM

List of the Articles Affected—Proposed Halfbreed Colony in the Northwest—Rev. Father Whelan and The Owl—The Victoria Sealing Fleet Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Controller Wallace has approved the findings of the Board of Customs which were reached during the session held here last month. The rulings are as follows: Inaglypta wall decoration, 1 1-2c a roll and 25 p.c.; oakum, felt, 17 1-2; car jacks, 30; peptogenic milk powder, 25c; beta naphthal, 20; single spun silk, colored, 20; dental furnaces, generators and gasometers, 27 1-2 p.c.; Bunsen burners, 27 1-2 p.c.; blowpipes, 35; vulcanizers of copper, 30; vulcanizers of iron, 27 1-2; metal boxes, plated, when lined, 5 cents each and 30 p.c.; ditto, not lined, 30 p.c.; jute cloth, woven in part with colored jute yarn, 20; solderine, free; baskets and skips containing cotton yarn, dutiable at same as if empty; lap or coach screws, 30; hasps and staples and screw hooks and ewes, 32 1-2; leather leggings, cotton lined, 25; cotton canvas gun covers or cases, 32 1-2; leather gun cases, 25 p.c.; chandelier or lamp hooks of iron or steel, 27 1-2; ditto, of brass, 30; turmeric, ground, free; quilt frames and carpenters' clamps, 35; paper boxes, plain, printed on, ornamented or labelled (not including boxes covered by item 352), 35; colodion, 20; soapstone packing, 22 1-2; electric belts, 25; potato planters, 20; carbonate of potash, 20.

Mr. James Adams, chief instructor of Kingston Penitentiary, was in the city to-day, and reported to Mr. Stewart, Inspector of Penitentiaries, the result of his recent visit of investigation to penal institutes in the United States. The prisons visited by Mr. Adams were, among others, those of the New England States, New York and Pennsylvania. The information thus obtained Mr. Adams will probably utilize in designing the Glengarry Reformatory building, upon plans of which he is now engaged.

Petitions have been received at the Fisheries Department asking that the privilege of alowing spearing for fish through the ice on Burlington Bay be continued during the present winter. The concession was granted last year on representations that it would be a great boon to poor people, but so far as the officers of the department can ascertain the privilege was not utilized to any great extent by those for whom it was intended. Mr. Costigan will reach a decision on the matter in a few days.

Rev. Father Lacombe is here to secure from the Government a strip of land in the Northwest to be transformed into a settlement for the half-breeds. The reservation which it is his intention to establish will be about 150 miles east of Edmonton, on the north shore of the Saskatchewan River. The land will be leased from the Government at a nominal yearly rental. It is the Father's intention also to arrange during his present visit for the publication of certain books in the Indian tongue, and he will leave to-night for Toronto in that connection.

None of the British Columbia fleet will engage in the sealing business along the British Columbia coast next spring, but instead will be in port all winter and proceed direct to Behring Sea when the season opens on the 1st of August. Heretofore these vessels have set out early in the winter, and proceeding as far south as the California coast, followed the seal herds northward. This voyage has for the past year or two proved absolutely unremunerative, hence its discontinuance. This had been construed in press despatches to mean that the operations of the entire fleet would be confined to Behring Sea next year, which is incorrect. The fleet for Japan will fit out as usual this winter to prosecute sealing on the Asiatic coast, where more than half the entire season's catch was secured last season.

It is understood that the trouble between Father Whelan and the conductors of The Owl, the organ of the Ottawa University, will be ventilated before a committee to be appointed by Archbishop Duhamel. Yesterday the following letter was sent to Rev. Father McGuicken and Rev. Father Fallon, upon instructions of Rev. Father Whelan:

"We are instructed by the Rev. Father Whelan to notify you that in view of the fact that other arrangements have ben made for the vindication of his character, it is not his intention to proceed with the action of which notice was given to you yesterday."

Archbishop Duhamel, now in Rome, has been made acquainted with the recent unpleasantness and has decided to open an investigation into the whole matter upon his return to Ottawa, asking that in the meantime the legal suit be withdrawn.

Amos De Cosmos, ex-Premier of British Columbia, and formerly an M.P., has been adjudged insane and has been sent to an asylum. Mr. De Cosmos, in his early days on the Pacific coast, was known as plain William Smith, but secured an act of the Legislature of California changing his name to "De Cosmos."

One hundred thousand salmon trout eggs are in process of being hatched at the Government establishment here.

The Department of Railways and Canals was notified yesterday that the Beauharnois Canal has been closed for the season.

The Rockland branch of the Canada Atlantic Railway will be open for traffic next Monday.

Judge Barker, W. H. Thorne and J. T. Parks, a deputation from St. John, N.B., saw the Postmaster-General today and urged the Government to pay a subsidy of $500 per annum for the carriage of mails across the cantilever bridge at St. John. Sir Adolphe informed them that as the Canadian Pacific railway was operating the bridge, the payment could only take the form on an annual mail subsidy. He could hold out no encouragement that their views would be met.

The Government cruisers, Petrel and Dolphin, have been laid up at Owen Sound this week for the winter.

W. A. Chesley of St. John, N.B., has been appointed temporary inspector of cattle pens and fixtures on the steamers leaving St. John this winter.

By the death of Senator Murphy in Montreal to-day there are now ten vacant seats in the Senate.

A meeting was held to-night to take steps to entertain the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which meets here next June. The Ottawa engineers believe in getting a good cinch on Father Time's forelock.

HAMILTON INFESTED BY ROBBERS

Stores Burglarized and Depredations Committed Almost Every Night—Rough on Sausage Makers.

Hamilton, Dec. 5.—During the past week several attempts have been made at burglarizing stores, while almost every night some depredation is committed. Last night Peter Bertram's hardware store was burglarized, and about $35 was stolen, entrance having been effected by the cellar window. Ald. Morris' flour and feed store was also entered, but few valuables were taken, as the burglars were scared away. The unusual number of burglaries is attributed by some to the fact that there are many strange men in the city working on the railway.

Owing to the fact that F. Rowlin is engaged in the business of killing old horses and preparing the meat for the consumption of Europeans and the jocular statements of members of the Board of Health that sausages are made of horseflesh, there has been a noticeable falling off in the consumption of sausages in the city during the past few days, and sausage manufacturers are complaining of the erroneous impression that has gone abroad. Mr. Rowlin, while an advocate of horse meat for food, says no horse meat finds its way into Canadian homes, at least so far as his factory is concerned.

MRS. BEERS ACQUITTED.

How the Crown Has the Right to Proceed for a Test Case re Christian Science.

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Judge Falconbridge yesterday morning ordered the acquittal of Mrs. Beers, the Christian Scientist, charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of the child Percy Beck. His Lordship directed the discharge of the prisoner without asking the counsel to address the jury. His Lordship held that the prisoner had not undertaken to do an unlawful act, and had done nothing to hasten the death of the child. In fact, she had done nothing, and it was difficult for him to see how one could abet the crime of another when that crime consisted merely in doing nothing.

The judge's decision in the Beers case gives the Crown the right to proceed against the acquitted woman with a view to getting a test case on the subject of Christian Science. It is quite possible that detective Wasson, officer of the Ontario Society of Physicians and Surgeons, will proceed against Mrs. Beers under the old laws of the English Code, which were formulated for the purpose of putting down the alleged black art and witchcraft practised by the gypsies. If such action is taken, Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., will be retained to prosecute.

It is claimed that the old gypsy laws are sufficiently stringent to entirely end all the charlatanry of Christian Science, and if the Canadian courts should admit them into the recognized laws of the country, the whole "Christian" Science system of plunder could be put a stop to.

FEELING OF DISTRUST

Said to be Creeping Into the Ranks of Mr Greenway's Supporters as to the School Question.

Winnipeg, Dec. 5.—In spite of all the protestations by members of the Greenway Government that there will be no backdown or compromise on the school question, there is nevertheless a strong and growing feeling of distrust among friends and followers of the Government. It is felt, however, that if the Roman Catholic minority would be satisfied with anything short of the old order of things, it would be better to compromise and be done with the agitation. But as yet there have been no efforts made by the Roman Catholic hierarchy and the Provincial Ministers to arrive at a solution, for the reason, perhaps, that each regards the other with suspicion, and both are reluctant to make advances.

Leading politicians here express the opinion that the easiest, if not the only, way to effect a settlement is for the Federal Parliament to pass a remedial measure such as reasonable men of all classes and creeds can accept.

QUERIES FROM ALL QUARTERS.

Hundreds Look Upon the Body in the Buffalo Morgue, Shake Their Heads and Turn Away—Can the Body be That of Minnie Rollins of Toronto?

Hamilton, Dec. 5.—It now transpires that the Canadian girl who committed suicide in the Buffalo boarding house is not Nellie Burrows of this city, as was thought yesterday, it having been learned that on Monday she was in Oakland, Cal., undergoing a preliminary examination, on the charge of shooting her supposed husband, but as there was not sufficient evidence to convict her, combined with the fact that William Massie stated on his deathbed that the shooting was accidental, she was discharged yesterday. The unidentified corpse at Buffalo has black hair, while Nellie Burrows' hair is red, besides she is known to have had two children, while the deceased was never a mother, according to the post-mortem examination. It is thought deceased was a Canadian country girl.

Mystery as Deep as Ever

Buffalo, Dec. 5.—The identity of the young Canadian woman who suicided at a Main-street boarding house is still unsolved. This morning more messages found their way to Coroner Tucker's desk. Since yesterday nearly 200 persons have called at the morgue, viewed the body, shaken their heads and gone away without recognizing the dead face.

William Thompson of Stratford, Ont., telegraphed this morning to hold the body until his arrival.

He reached the city this afternoon. He said that he was looking for his cousin, Miss Annie Mattox, who had been missing from home for about a year.

Miss Mattox, it seems, said before she went away: "You will never hear of me again." She was heard of some months later as being in Buffalo, but her relatives were not able to get in communication with her.

A letter from James McPherson of Cleveland, describes a young woman who formerly lived at St. Thomas, Ont., and who, the writer fears, was the Buffalo suicide. The description is not sufficiently lucid to assist in the identification.

Another letter was received from "The Home," 130 Dunn-avenue, Toronto, and signed Alexander Stern. It is as follows:

"Sir, regarding the unknown body. Observing the item from Buffalo as to a young woman, supposed to be a Canadian, found dead at Mrs. O'Neil's, 908 Main-street, I fear from the description it might be one who has lately been stopping at Niagara Falls, N.Y. If so, there are two nurses in Buffalo, Miss McCausland, at 673 Michigan-street, and Miss Shaw, at the General Hospital, both of whom could identify the body if it is that of Miss Minnie Rollins. Kindly inquire and oblige."

TWO FINANCIAL BILLS.

Uncle Sam's Legislators are Endeavoring to Remedy Currency Troubles.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Mr. Walker (Mass.) has prepared a general banking and currency bill, which provides for the retirement of all greenbacks and treasury notes so far as the Government is concerned without cost and without contracting the currency. This object will be accomplished under the bill by having national banks turn into the treasury all greenbacks and treasury notes. For the notes turned in, double of their amount in currency promissory notes are to be issued to the banks for circulation. The Government is to guarantee the final payment of the one-half of these notes which the bank originally paid in, and which are to be known as "Greenbacks."

Mr. Mills (D., Tex.) introduced a bill in the Senate to-day providing for the coinage of the silver bullion now in the Treasury. This coinage is to be in the shape of half dollars, quarter dollars and dimes and in such proportion as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct and to pay out such coins in the current expenditures of the Government.

Whenever the revenues of the Government are insufficient to meet the current expenditures the Secretary is directed and required to issue non-interest bearing legal tender Treasury notes in amounts sufficient to cover the deficiency and pay out the same in the current expenditures of the Government; when these notes so issued shall be restored to the Treasury in payment of Government dues they are to be cancelled and destroyed.

Whenever the gold reserve shall be in excess of $100,000,000 and legal tender notes are presented for redemption in coin the Secretary of the Treasury shall redeem them in either gold or standard silver coins at his discretion. When the reserve is less than $100,000,000 the Secretary is directed and required to redeem the same in standard silver coins of the Government, it being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals at a parity with each other upon the present ratio or such ratio as may be provided by law. All laws which authorize the sale of interest-bearing bonds of the Government for any purpose are repealed by the last section of this act.

Have Nothing to Live for.

Sometimes men and women feel this way. A wave of despondency creeps up and up till it reaches the heart. They become languid and listless. Life appears grey and desolate. What some people want is not merely a tonic. They want to be built up. They want a stimulus, which will give them courage and put new hope in them. Such a stimulus is found in Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine. This is incomparably the best tonic at present offered to the public. A rich, generous wine, with a glow, a body, a fruitiness which are calculated to build up the wasted system. A bottle of this bracing tonic makes a poor debilitated creature a new citizen. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

PROMISE AND FULFILLMENT.

THE Conservative Government took office with a promise of economy in the administration of public affairs. The yearly expenditure has been increased from $23,000,000 to $37,000,000.

With the promise of economy there was an assurance that the national debt would be reduced. The debt has been increased from $140,000,000 in 1878 to $250,000,000 in 1894.

The Government promised a policy which would bring tall chimneys and the hum of industry. The manufacturing industries have been forced out of many of Ontario's country towns.

They promised a home market for our farmers. The price of their produce is still ruled by the British market.

They promised to force a reciprocal trade arrangement from the United States. They secured the McKinley bill.

They promised the extension of foreign markets. Our cattle are scheduled, our sheep excluded and our grain threatened with a tax of a quarter of its value in our best market.

They promised to encourage manufacturing. The tax on raw material is often greater than the encouragement.

Instead of reserving the land of the Northwest for actual settlers they have tied it up in such a way as to impose the greatest possible obstacles in the way of settlement. About 44,240,000 acres have been granted to railway corporations.

They promised a policy that would people the great wheat producing area. From 1881 to 1891 886,000 immigrants came to Canada; the natural increase of population was not less than 900,000 additional, yet the actual increase was only about 500,000.

They promised to increase the wages and improve the condition of artisans. By increasing prices they have lessened the demand for manufactured goods. The proportionate decrease in the demand for labour has depressed wages, while the tariff on goods has lessened their purchasing powers.

They promised to provide assistance for the Canadian Pacific Railway from the sale of lands. Their policy has reduced the sale of lands to a minimum, while the road has cost the people from $90,000,000 to $100,000,000.

The promise to assist the agricultural interests has been fulfilled with a tax on implements, on binder twine, on clothing, hardware and everything the farmer buys, and with no compensating advantage.

Instead of a National Policy they have given a system of rebates to the farmers of foreign countries while retaining heavy taxation on the farmers at home.

The promise to develop all the industries of the country has been fulfilled by a census return remarkable for exaggeration and genuine stuffing.

The promise of honesty in the administration of public affairs has brought a train of disappointments. The waste on the Lachine bridge construction was $200,000, on the Connolly-McGreevy operations $700,000, on Langevin block $250,000, revealed through the Printing Bureau scandal $50,000, on the St. Charles branch railway, Tay Canal, Little Rapids lock, Galops Rapids channel, Sheik's Island dam, Fredericton and St. Mary's bridge and Cataraquet Railway, proportionate or rather disproportionate amounts.

In later times the Government promised to punish the offenders. They released Connolly and McGreevy, elected the latter to Parliament and continued business at the old stand.

They promised a vigorous immigration policy. From 1881 to 1891 the 886,000 immigrants who came to Canada cost the people about $3,000,000, and the exodus during the same period was over 1,200,000 persons.

The numerous promises of assistance to Canadian farmers have been fulfilled with rebates on implements sold in Australia, and subsidies on the importation of Australian farm produce.

The Government promised a judicious husbanding of the nation's resources. Up to February, 1885, 550 orders in Council were passed, granting 16,192,000 acres of timber limits at less than one cent an acre. Of these grants 25 were made to members on their own application, and 79 to friends on the application of members. One limit obtained by a member for $250 was sold soon after for $150,000.

Instead of the promised colonizing policy the Government adopted a land policy under which 2,295 townships were secured on credit by speculators in a little over a year.

The Government promised to turn the "balance of trade" in favour of Canada. They are no more able to control it than to understand its principles.

They promised a system of taxation which would establish great steel works in Canada. We have the taxation.

They promised to keep our young men in Canada. Of the native Canadians (male) between the ages of 20 and 50 one in three is found in the United States.

They promised that Toronto's great furniture factory should be enlarged and a greater number of hands given steady employment. They protected the factory out of existence.

They promised that the taxation would be levied only while industries were in their infancy. After fifteen years the taxation and the Government have become inseperable.

They assured Canadians that the foreigners would pay their taxation. The exodus shows that the burden fell within the boundary line.

They promised that a great increase in population would lessen the individual public burdens. The net debt per head of population has increased from $34 in 1878 to $49 now.

They promised to bring public expenditures within the revenue. A rapid increase of debt has culminated in a deficit of $4,000,000.

They promised to cement the colonies more closely together. They have adopted a policy calculated to force the leading western province into antagonism to the Dominion, and have taxed the Maritime provinces to the endurance point.

They promised to realize $58,000,000 on the sale and rent of western farming and mineral land in ten years. The estimate was just $58,000,000 too high.

They promised that the home market would give young Canadians employment on the farms. The farmers' sons have been taxed off the farms and into the cities.

They are still promising.—[Globe

THE RAKESTRAW CURE.

Relieved by Four Days Kidney Treatment.

Suffered for Fourteen Years and was Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Bracebridge, Dec. 6.—At Germania, nine miles from this place, your correspondent drove to see a Mr. Edwin Rakestraw, who case is much talked of in this locality. Finding him at his home he said:

"Yes, I have been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have suffered from a stoppage of water for over fourteen years and for the past two years could only be relieved by instruments.

"I was treated by doctors with medicine, but the only good done was to relieve me as just stated.

"My suffering has been great, and for a long time, but the relief has been prompt and lasting.

"I dared not leave home to remain over night because of this trouble, for years past.

In four days after commencing to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I was relieved, and I have never suffered since.

"I have only taken two boxes to effect my cure. These two boxes have been of untold value to me, as I could not have lived without them."

NO TRUTH IN IT.

The Report That Mr. George Haacke Was Kicked to Death Proved to be Without Foundation.

Markham, Ont., Dec. 5.—The death of Mr. George Haacke, farmer, which occurred at the Wellington Hotel here, on Tuesday, from peritonitis, was investigated here to-day by Coroner Doherty and a jury, the result of greatly exaggerated reports concerning a dispute the deceased engaged in a week previously—the day his sickness commenced—in which it was alleged that he had been kicked several times in the body, sustaining injuries which caused his death. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses who were present when the dispute occurred, and of Dr. Fierheller, the attending physician, the jury decided there was no evidence pointing to the fact that death was in any way attributable to violence, and rendered a verdict in accordance therewith.

Preacher Fined for Sabbath Desecration.

Ridgetown, Dec. 5.—Rev. A. C. Burrel, William Simpson and Thomas Griffith, Seventh Day Adventists, were before G. A. Watson, J.P., here today, charged with desecrating the Sabbath Day. The rev. gentleman was convicted and fined $20 or 60 days in the common jail. Five days' grace was allowed him for payment. The other cases were unfinished.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring you perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them, forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

Nomination for North Ontario at Beaverton

AND BIG MEETING AT SUNDERLAND

Hon. Messrs. Foster and Montague Address a Conservative Gathering at Bolton —Mr. Willoughby Will Follow the Government, But Talks Round School Question.

Beaverton, Ont., Dec. 5.—The nomination for the riding of North Ontario occurred here to-day at noon. The candidates nominated:

F. J. Gillespie of Uptergrove, Liberal, nominated by Joseph Fox, farmer, of Mara Township.

Major John A. McGillivray of Uxbridge, Conservative, nominated by N. F. Patterson, Q.C.

Robert C. Brandon, in the Patron interest.

The after meeting was exciting and a very large audience gave earnest attention to the addresses by the candidates, who are assisted by J. L. Haycock, M.L.A., Mr. J. Lockie Wilson of Glengarry; A. F. Campbell, Brampton, and Dr. R. M. Coulter of Aurora.

The meeting was thoroughly representative, being largely attended by prominent men from all parts of the riding.

MEETING AT SUNDERLAND.

Hon. Messrs. Costigan, Daly and Others Address a Large Meeting.

Sunderland, Ont., Dec. 5.—The campaign in North Ontario is going on with a rush. To-night a large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Town Hall, which was packed to the doors, many ladies being present, who took a great interest in the speaking.

The meeting was held in the interests of Mr. John A. McGillivray, the Liberal-Conservative candidate. The principal speakers were Hon. John Costigan, Hon. T. M. Daly, and Major Sam Hughes, M.P. for North Victoria.

At 8 o'clock Mr. John Brabason took the chair and invited Mr. Gillespie or his friends to come and take seats on the platform. Mr. Gilelspie did not respond, but Dr. Coulter of Aurora, a Reformer, took advantage of the invitation.

Hon. Mr. Costigan, the first speaker, referred to the late Sir John A. Macdonald and the many hard fought battles he had won. Sir John Macdonald, the speaker said, was the man who had done so much to build up this great country. The record of the Conservative party shows that it has been identified with the progress of Canada. The record of the Conservative party of to-day required no defence. The Reform party had for 17 years been finding fault with the Government and crying down the country. This proved that the Liberal party was unable to deal with the affairs of the country. The only principles by which this country can be governed is by having two great parties. A third party is not necessary. At the present time the country was moved by an agitation on the Manitoba school question, which should have had no place in the fight. The Government was only holding up the constitution in protecting the minority and the minority is only getting its rights, not privileges.

At this point Major McGillivray and Lockie Wilson entered the hall and were received with prolonged cheers.

Mr. Costigan, continuing, said it was his conviction that the school question should be dealt with in a spirit of leniency by the majority, and the minority of Manitoba only asked that they be given as good a system of education as the Protestant. Before ten years, the speaker thought, the question might be discussed on more liberal grounds. No matter which party was in power, the Government would have to deal with the question in order to maintain the constitution.

Dr. Coulter, Aurora, was allowed twenty minutes on behalf of Mr. Gillespie, the Reform candidate. The speaker dealt principally with the Separate school question.

J. Lockie Wilson, the Patron, spoke in favor of Mr. Brandon. He pitched into the Ministers and both party candidates. His main argument was that there were too many lawyers in Parliament.

Hon Mr. Daly paid some attention to the Patrons. He pointed out that the Patrons who had seats in Parliament were allied to either one or other of the old parties. The farmers, the speaker claimed, were in the best condition of any people on the face of the earth.

The speaker hoped the school question would be settled by Manitoba herself. There will be time enough for the candidates on this question when the Manitoba Government has declared itself.

Referring to the school question Mr. McGillivray refused to commit himself. He would wait until he saw the measure that would be brought in by the Government. If elected, he would resign his position as secretary of the Foresters.

The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen.

MEETING IN CARDWELL.

Hon. Messrs Foster and Montague Address the Electors Mr. Willoughby Defines His Position.

Bolton, Ont., Dec. 5.—Hon. George E. Foster and Hon. Dr. Montague addressed a meeting of the electors of Cardwell in the Town Hall, Bolton, this evening. It was a splendid meeting, the Town Hall being filled to the doors. There was quite a sprinkling of ladies in the audience.

Mr. R. Johnson, President of the Cardwell Conservative Association, occupied the chair. With a few preliminary remarks, he introduced Mr. W. B. [illegible], the Conservative candidate.

Mr. Willoughby, in opening, said that the present campaign differed from preceding ones in that a new element had been introduced in the form of a third party, namely, the McCarthyites. He declared himself an uncompromising follower of the present Government, so far as he understood their policy at the present time.

He defined his position with reference to the Manitoba school question as follows—he first public declaration of his position which he has yet made:

The national schools are the schools which we, as Protestants, at least, would prefer to have, chiefly because of their proficiency. On the other hand, we know from experience that the Catholics will have Separate schools whether they are state supported or not. If the Catholics would consent he would gladly abolish all Separate schools in Manitoba and elsewhere, but Catholics loked at it differently. If the Catholics of Manitoba could establish any right to redress he would support any Government that undertook to remove the grievance, but if it be the policy of the Government to restore the system of Separate schools, as it existed prior to 1890, he could not see his way clear to support such a policy. He was prepared to stand by the constitution, and if the Catholics of Manitoba had a grievance—and it was apparent from the judgment of the Privy Council that they had—he would stand up for the removal of that grievance, reserving to himself the right to accept or reject any measure which any Government might propose for the removal of such grievance.

With reference to the Manitoba school question he said that he and his Government were willing to be held responsible for its policy with reference to that question, and he did not want to win one election by shirking that responsibility. But the Manitoba school question was only an incidental question. It was only a small affair compared with the great matters connected with the history and policy of the Conservative party, and should be properly subordinated. The position is this: The Privy Council has decided that the Catholics of Manitoba have a grievance and the Government simply desires to give effect to that decision. The Government has left nothing untried to have the people of Manitoba apply the remedy themselves; but if nothing is done there the Government believes it to be its duty to see that the constitution is maintained in all its integrity; but it is not the intention of the Government to put one single inefficient school in operation in Manitoba or anywhere else. The Government does not hold that a reasonable solution makes it necessary that the schools should be put back to where they were in 1890, and as long as I am a member of the Government—and all the members of the Government are at one with me in that—no system of Separate schools will be put in operation in Manitoba which are not equal to the Public schools in every respect.

Dr. Montague began by recalling the June morning in 1891 when the Conservatives at Ottawa, after the removal from earth of the leader they loved, met and resolved to honor that leader's memory by standing shoulder to shoulder, joining hearts and joining hands, to carry to its proper and legitimate complection the great work of Canadianism which Sir John A. Macdonald had begun.

Dr. Montague defended the butter-buying scheme of the Government, declaring that not only had the business paid its way, but a market had been established in Great Britain for Canadian butter. Canada, he pointed out, had better go into the dead meat business, in view of the treatment of Canadian cattle and sheep by Great Britain, and it was the intention of the Government to do what could be done to advance this trade by providing cold storage. He declared that there was a grand market in Great Britain for horses of the proper kind, and the Government hoped to take active measures to promote trade in that line.

MR HIGGINSON IS GENEROUS.

The Banker Cables $100,000 to His Eloping Wife and Her Paramour, Fearing "the Poor Things Will Starve."

New York, Dec. 5.—A morning paper prints the following from Boston, Mass.:

Francis L. Higginson, the banker, sent to his wife at Genoa, Italy, a cable money order for $100,000. He accompanied this extraordinary gift with the words "Poor Things, they'll starve if I don't send them some money."

The "Poor Things" to whom he referred are his eloping wife and her lover, James Wheatland Smith, a wealthy young Boston society man.

It transpired that Mrs. Higginson and Mr. Smith had sailed from New York to Italy. Finally it was decided that further concealment was impossible and Mr. Higginson, without any manifestation of feeling, announced the fact, and cabled $100,000 to his wife's order as a final settlement of all claims. Brief, but authentic reports are given out that there will be no further communication between them, and Mr. Smith is perfectly safe if he chooses to return to Boston.

Mrs. Higginson took with her $50,000 worth of jewels and about $40,000 in cash. Since her departure, the will of Miss Simpson of Beacon Hill, has been probated, which gives $20,000 to Mrs. Higginson.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour Runaway Accident in London.

London, Ont., Dec. 5.—Last evening as Mrs. Simpson Smith of Belvidere, Wortley-road, was returning from a drive in her sleigh, her horses, a spirited team, took fright at an electric car and bolted. Turning a corner suddenly Mrs. Smith was thrown out, receiving a severe fracture of the left arm, and a badly wrenched hip, besides numerous bruises. The coachman was thrown out, but was not badly hurt.

Mrs. Simpson Smith is the mother-in-law of Mrs. E. B. Smith, daughter of Postmaster Adam Brown of Hamilton.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Remarkable results have been obtained from the use of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophites in cases of emaciation associated with bronchial irritation and cough. The efficacy of cod liver oil in this class of affections has long been conceded, and combined as it is in this preparation with the hypopophosphites (which affords a valuable stimulus to the nervous system) and with maltine (itself a food and reconstructive of the greatest value), its usefulness is vastly increased. Furthermore, by the action of maltine starchy foods are more easily digested and in larger quantities, affording additional nourishment for the replacement of the waste of the body and for reconstructive purposes. If you are now using cod liver oil or any of the emulsions of this agent, weigh yourself, use Maltine for two weeks and observe the results. You will have gained both weight and strength, and relief from cough, bronchial irritation, and the distress these occasion.

Racing for Turkeys.

The load of sharpshooters who went from town to the Cavanville "turkey shoot" had a funny experience coming home when their sleigh upset and all the turkeys captured at the shoot were let loose. The chase after the birds over a 200-acre farm was a lively one, as turkeys are not so slow when it comes to a foot race.

The Lotus Goes North.

The house boat Lotus, belonging to Mr. R. B. Rogers, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, is being conveyed to-day to Chemong Lake on toboggans, constructed for the purpose. The latter are two'ye feet in length and run eight feet apart. The bunks are twenty-four feet. It requires eight span of horses to pull the Lotus to her destination. The job is under the supervision of Mr. Elias Thompson, town.

ST. LUKE'S ANNUAL TEA AND SALE OF WORK.

It Proved very Successful Last Night—A Splendid Tea was Served.

The annual tea and sale of work given by the Ladies' Aid of St. Luke's church was a very successful event. From 5.30 to 8 the tables were continually filled with hungry visitors. The Young Women's Chapter, which now numbers fifty members, assisted at the tables, and there was no lack of provisions, turkeys, geese, fowls, salads, pies and cakes of every description.

Just below the platform the Ladies' Aid and the Y. W. C. had their tables of work, consisting of a large assortment of useful articles of clothing, especially children's clothing, together with a variety of ornamental goods. Judging by appearances a brisk sale was made. These tables were flanked on the right by Miss Gwendoline Meade's candy table, and on the left by Miss Calcutt's surprise box, where the central attraction was Santa Claus, who dispensed with a liberal hand a great number of presents.

At about 8.30 the entertainment opened with an instrumental solo by Mrs. Peck. Miss Vair followed with a song, "The Gift," which was loudly encored, as it well deserved. Miss Vair also sang "She Stoops to Conquer." The crowded condition of the hall and the extreme sociability of the audience somewhat interfered with the full enjoyment of Miss Vair's singing, and it is hoped she will favour St. Luke's on some future occasion.

Mr. G. H. Adams as usual provoked great amusement with his funny songs and clever banjo accompaniments.

The singing of "God Save the Queen" brought this very successful evening to a close.

The Ladies' Aid and Y.W.C. wish to state that they still have a large assortment of goods over, which will be sold at moderate prices. Applications may be made to Mrs. Burnham and Miss Maggie Calcutt.

PATRONS OF INDUSTRY AROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy Takes the Chair and a Pleasant Evening is Spent.

Thursday evening, December the 5th, will be remembered as a pleasant evening spent by the members of the Cold Springs Society of Patrons of Industry and their friends, at a first-class fowl supper and an equally good entertainment.

After most of the toothsome edibles had disappeared, the chair was taken by Mr. Dawson Kennedy, who spoke briefly on the importance of farmers' organizations, the work they had done, were doing, and expected still to accomplish. Farming has become a profession, and he would succeed in it must devote to it both brains and muscle. Without these he must expect to fail. Farmers should organize and meet for mutual counsel, as do the members of other professions.

THE LAST SAD RITES.

Impressive Services Over the Remains of the Late Rev. Dr. Shaw Yesterday Afternoon.

The remains of the late Rev. Dr. Shaw were laid away in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto, yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from the residence of deceased's son-in-law, Mr. Alex. Mills, Ontario street, and services were held at Sherbourne street Methodist church and at the cemetery. The church service was held at 2 p.m., and was largely attended. Rev. Dr. Sutherland officiated, and he was assisted by General Superintendent Carman, Rev. Dr. Briggs, Rev. J. C. Speer and Rev. G. J. Bishop. The pall-bearers Rev. Messrs. Young, Blackstock, Briggs, Barrass, Hunt and Addison. Owing to the wishes of the relatives of the deceased, the church was undraped and no mourning decorations were in evidence. The service at the church was attended by nearly all the resident Methodist clergy and by many clergymen of other denominations.

DRUGGISTS ORGANIZE.

Peterborough Representatives at the Meeting in Toronto on Wednesday Last.

The retail druggists of Ontario met Wednesday night in Toronto and organized themselves into a trade protective association under the name of "The Ontario Society of Retail Druggists." Opera House Attraction.

To-morrow afternoon and night Mr. Samuel Edwards and an excellent company will produce Max O'Rell's laughing three act comedy, "A Cat's Paw." This is the same company that appeared in the Opera House three weeks ago when they met with such an enthusiastic reception both from the public and press. Clean, crisp, refined fun, the height of high class comedy. The matinee prices have been reduced to 25, 35 and 50 cts, so that no lady need miss having a good laugh. Prices at night, 25c, 50c, 75c and box seats $1. Plan now open at Schofield's Drug Store.

A New Device for Electric Roads.

The manager of an electric street railway may now determine at any instant, without leaving his office, whether the cars of his system are running regularly, whether there is a stoppage at any point, how long the stoppage lasts, how many cars are blocked, and when running is resumed. This is made possible by a special chronograph, the use of which was first suggested about two years ago by Supt. Geo. Baumhoff, of the Lindell Railway Company of St. Louis. The apparatus consists primarily of a sheet of paper moving at a uniform rate under a series of pens or points operated by electro-magnets, each magnet point representing a point on the road. Each time a car passes this point on the road it makes contact, and the magnet point of the chronograph pricks the paper. It is found convenient to use a roller driven by accurate clock work at the rate of one revolution per hour, each revolution moving the paper four inches. A line running on a one-minute schedule will show fifteen cars or pricks to the inch, under each magnet point, a five-minute schedule three to the inch, and so on. A break of three inches would show a stoppage of 45 minutes, and even, regular dots would indicate correct running at that point of the road. When filed away, the daily chronograph sheets become a permanent record of operations.

THE NEW BRIDGE.

The Foundations are Being Laid at the Bottom of a Coffer Dam.

Since the first of the week a coffer dam has been under course of construction at the entry of the creek into the lake, across George street.

Contractors Grant & Winch have had their men busy at this work, in order that the foundations for the new bridge might be laid on the bottom. At this point the water is about ten feet deep and, in consequence, when the dam was pumped dry a gaping chasm was revealed.

The first stones were laid in the foundation, yesterday, and by to-morrow night the entire pier at the north end will be above the water level. A steam pump is running all the time, drawing the water from the interior of the coffer dam as fast as it leaks in and the ponderous stones are adjusted in their proper positions through the aid of a huge crane manipulated by horse-power. The pier looks to be a most substantial structure indeed.

ST. JOSEPH'S BAZAAR.

The Beautiful Array of Christmas Gifts Which Have Been Prepared for It.

Yesterday afternoon THE EXAMINER was privileged in obtaining a private view of a portion of the articles which will be sold at the bazaar held in connection with St. Joseph's Hospital, in the Opera House, on December 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st.

The articles are composed of the work of the Sisters or are the gifts of those interested in the advancement of the work in connection with the hospital. This being the case the bazaar will, in reality, be a "cheap sale" and ladies intending making up Christmas presents in fancy work can not do better than abandon such an idea and patronize the bazaar, since, in consequence of so many of the handsome articles being presented to the sisters they can be far cheaper than they could be made up.

One of the features of the bazaar will be that no one will be canvassed for "chances" at it. Those attending will be perfectly at liberty to purchase what they please, without being bothered by a host of eager little workers anxious to sell a ticket for "a chance."

Everything in the way of Christmas presents will be shown at the bazaar, and the exquisite needlework shown in the fancy articles is such as to excite a feeling covetousness, indeed, even when looking over them.

There are the prettiest of doylies and centrepieces, made up in so many ways and styles that no one can leave this department unsuited. Patterns of every description abound in profusion, from the dainty holly leaf worked in silk to the finest and most delicate of drawn work and Honiton lace. Tea-cosies, too, have been made up in every conceivable shade of silk, as are also exquisite little toilet boxes, pin cushions and placques and in fact everything that could possibly be thought of in this line in the way of

for the table and dresser. A firescreen worked by the hands of the Mother Superior of Mount St. Joseph is probably the most delicate and at the same time one of the richest pieces of fancy work which can well be conceived. It would certainly in itself lend a charm to any drawing room.

There are many other things besides fancy work to be placed on sale, and amongst them will be found warm socks, mitts, scarfs and cuffs for both old and young, as well as dresses and suits for children, and a vast quantity of plain and fancy aprons. There are dolls and toys of every description, which have been sent in as gifts by friends of the hospital, so that these too will be sold far cheaper than they can be purchased elsewhere. A beautifully worked line of gentlemen's slippers has been made up expressly for the sale, and these should certainly go off rapidly to the young ladies, as a gentlemen could appreciate nothing more than a dainty pair of these as a Christmas gift.

With such a vast array of suitable presents to pick from at low prices, it is not probable that the ladies of Peterborough will go to the trouble of making up the gifts which they intend to give at Christmas. Having had everything given to them, the committee, as before stated, is enabled to sell the articles at prices cheaper than those for which the material could be bought, and still make a handsome profit.

THE FIRST ONE IN TOWN.

The Skocycle Attracts a lot of Attention on the Streets This Morning.

Mr. Charles L. Trotter is the first of Peterborough's enthusiastic bicyclists to sport a skocycle or ice-cycle and this morning the wheelmen of the town were greatly interested in watching him experimenting with it on the road. The snow was evidently too soft for it, but Jockey Horkins had the honour of being the first to take a spin an it, trying it on the sidewalk where it ran to perfection.

The new attachment is worth sixteen dollars and converts the bicycle into a skocycle by means of a spiked rim of brass which encircles the rear wheel of the bicycle and of a skate or runner which takes the place of the front wheel. It is a little difficult to ride the affair at first, but a little practice enables the rider to spin along over the roads quite merrily.

Mr. E.E. Lord came up from the Electric Works to-day at noon on his bicycle with spiked rims encircling both the front and rear wheels of his machine. It travelled well.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Henderson v. Henderson.—Judgment on appeal by defendant from judgment of Street, J., in favour of plaintiffs without costs in action of ejectment tried at Peterborough, and dismissing without costs defendant's counterclaim for specific performance of a certain agreement. The land in question is the west half of lot 13 in the 9th concession of the township of Otonabee. The plaintiffs are the executors of the will of David Henderson the elder, and defendant is the widow of Robert Henderson, a son of David. David Henderson had the paper title to the farm, but defendant claimed title by possession of her husband from 1881 to 1882, when he died, or, alternatively, by an agreement between the father and son. Appeal allowed and action dismissed. Judgment dismissing defendant's counterclaim for specific performance affirmed unanimously. Costs reserved. Held, Meredith, J., dissenting, that Robert had before his death acquired a title by virtue of the Real Property Limitation Act, and that contributions made by him towards the payment off a mortage upon the farm were not in the nature of rent, or otherwise to be regard as an acknowledgement of the er's title. E. B. Edwards, Peterboro for defendant. Watson, Q. C. , Peterborough, for plaintiffs.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

Worth Looking At.

In another column E. B. Clegg quotes some prices for imported cigars. If you are a smoker his ad. is worth looking up; then look at his place of business, one door south of Stratton's bookstore.

A Merchant

Has no right to say to a customer that his goods are the best without being willing to have it proved. The large consuming public are our judges and we are willing that they remain so. If our Teas are not as we represent them to be we would be exposed as frauds. The large sale our teas have in Canada is the best proof we can offer that our goods are what we say they are. We are selling our Os-K-osh forty cent tea for a short time for twenty-five cents. STROUD BROS., 370 George street, Peterborough, also at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto. th

Another Store Enlargement.

Mr. Charles Legros, the live George St. Tobacco dealer has completed arrangements for enlarging his store to twice its usual size, which will necessitate his moving out of his present premises. And having ordered a lot of imported cigars and pipes before he had the intention, and they having come in, his stock will therefore have to be slaughtered. It is therefore necessary for him to clear out his large stock, valued at over $10.000 before moving. His goods consists of 10,000 Diaz y Garcia, 12,000 Manual Garcia, 5,000 Or Lorango, 3,000 Jose Morales, all direct imported cigars from Havanna, 100.000 Domestic cigars, besides the finest lot of B. B. B. pipes there is in Canada. Smoker's sundries too numerous to mention. Don't all come at once. The prices were never equalled in Peterborough before, or never will be again. DAILY MOTTO.

Friday, Dec 6.

Begin with a generous heart. Think how you can serve others. Then you shall find resources grow. Your own portion shall not be left desolate. Strength shall be shed through you. Do the utmost with what you have, and it shall go far enough.

The heart grows rich in giving, all its wealth is living grain,
Seeds which milder in the garner—scattered fill with gold the plain:
Is thy burden hard and heavy? Do thy steps drag wearily?
Help to bear thy brother's burden, God will bear both it and thee.

A Sweet Find.

A hive of bees were discovered in a large elm tree on the farm of Mr. W. Robinson, South Emily. The tree was chopped down and ninety pounds of delicious comb honey removed. It was a sweet find.—Lindsay Watchman.

Pictures, etc.,

At A. Clegg's. A line of pictures very cheap, not much more than half the regular price, and the balance of his stock of window shades in plain, fringed, lace and insertion will be cleared out at cost. Our stock of general furniture is now complete and is one of the largest in Canada; prices lower than ever.—A. CLEGG 427 George street.

The Pity o'it.

Isn't it a pity that just as we are laying out to enjoy the good sleighing and coasting and all the other pleasures incident to the holiday season, the tax-collector has to put in an appearance. It's too cold to crawl under the woodshed and too black in the coal bin, and what's a fellow to do. Always some bitter with the sweet, isn't there?

"No Good Without the Other,"

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. Only a few minutes inspection of Oak Hall's men's suits, overcoats and ulsters—almost the first you look at—will convince you that our clothing and our prices are right.—OAK HALL.

Austrian Fans

Just received at the Peterborough Book Store direct from Austria, a beautiful selection of real ostrich feather fans, silk fans and artistic hand-painted fans. Marvels of cheapness:—Feather fans worth $3 for $2; feather fans worth $2 for $1.50; feather fans worth $1.50 for $1. Fans are ranked among the most pleasing of Christmas gifts.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Christmas Goods at China Hall.

Nearly 2 car loads of the newest goods in the market have been received at China Hall during the past week, and never in the history of the store has there been such a beautiful display contained within its walls. Next week—all week—this store will be at the disposal of the public to inspect and admire the new goods. No one asked to buy. Take the elevator and see the dinner and toilet sets. There is no greater assortment in one store in Canada. All other dealers in its lines will be undersold at China Hall.

A Smashup at Belleville Station.

As the mixed was pulling out for the east last evening at six o'clock and when nearly over the Midland crossing, a light engine which had been shunting cars on the Midland siding, dashed into the rear end of the train. The engine was not moving very fast, consequently not so much damage was done. The engine struck the train just about the baggage car, and threw it, the coach and a box car from the track. The baggage car was quite badly broken up. The engine and her crew are from Toronto. The auxiliary men were at once called out and were several hours clearing the line. No person was injured.—Intelligencer.

A LITERARY CURIOSITY.

Rev. Father Kelly, parish priest of Douro, hands us for publication the following quaint and curious bit of "Olde Englyshe" rhyme. It was written in the year of grace, 1570:—

MASSE opens heaven's gates, and doth deliver men from hell,
MASSE healeth all the diseases, and doth sickness expell.
MASSE doth relieve the burd'ned mindo, and almes defaceth quight,
MASSE pleaseth him that guides the skies, and gives the heavens bright.
MASSE pluckes the sinful soules from out the Purgatorie fire.
MASSE comforteth th'afflicted sort, and makes them to aspire.
MASSE washeth cleane the minde, and makes the guiltie conscience cleere,
MASSE doth obtaine the grace of God, and keepes His favour heere.
MASSE driveth wicked devils hence, and overthrowes the feendes.
MASSE bringeth Angels good from hie, and makes them faythful freendes.
MASSE doth defende the travayler, from daungers and disease,
MASSE doth preserve the sayling ship amid the raging seas,
MASSE giveth store of corne and graine, and helpeth husbandre.
MASSE blesseth every such as seekes in welthie state to bee.
MASSE gets a man a pleasant wife, and gettes the Mayd him maite,
MASSE helps the Captain in the fielde, and furthereth debate.
MASSE also doth assuage the hate that in the heart doth raigne,
MASSE doth defende the pleasant grapes, and vineyards doth maintaine.
MASSE helpes the hunter with his horne, and makes the dog to runne,
MASSE sendeth store of sport and game into their nettes to come.
MASSE mollifieth the angry windes, and driveth rage away,
MASSE bring the woful Lovers to their long desired day.
MASSE doth destroy the witches' workes and makes their charmings vaine.
MASSE causeth good deliverance, and helps the woman's paine.
MASSE makes thy prayers to be heard, and giveth thy requests,
MASSE drives away the greedie wolfe, that doth the sheepe molest.
MASSE makes the murrain for to cease, and stocke to thrive apace,
MASSE makes thy journey prosper well, wheresoever thou turnest thy face.
MASSE overthrows thine enemies force, and doth resist his might,
MASSE drives out Robin good fellow, and those that walk by night,
MASSE plague and hunger doth expell, and civill mutenie,
MASSE makes a man with quiet minde, and conscience cleere to die.

CURLERS AND THE GAME.

IT ORIGINATED IN SCOTIA'S RUGGED LAND.

Employed in Winter Only and Old and Thoroughly Well-Tried—Some of the Famous Matches—How the Rinks are Arranged—The Game Played in This Country—The First Curling Club on This Continent.

When snaw lies white on lika knowe,
The ice stane and the gude broom kowe,
Can warm us like a bleazin' lowe,
Fair fa' the ice and curling.

So sang Sir Alexander Boswell, of Auchinleck, a noted Ayrshire curler, son of the biographer of Dr. Johnson, the famous lexicographer, of his favourite pastime in the early part of this century, and it can be sung just as truthfully to-day by any devotee of the game, but the roughly fashioned "channel stanes" of our forefathers have given place to the beautifully finished Ailsa Craig curling stones of to-day, and the broom-kowers to the more modern and more useful brooms or besoms. But the real hearty enjoyment of "Scotia's ain game of curlin" remains in all its vigor despite the modern improvements surrounding it. The boom of the curling stones, as they glide along the ice on a clear, frosty day, is heard as far as ever among the hichts and howes, the hills and dales of Scotland and America. The shouts of the players are just as cheery as they were wont to be; the nomenclature of the game is very little altered from the terms used 150 years ago, and the customary supper of beef and greens discussed after a well contested bonspiel, is just as toothsome and as much relished as in the days when the Ettrick Shepherd and Christopher North skipped rinks against one another in keen but friendly rivalry on the frozen surface of St. Mary's Loch, or Gala Water, with the "Shirra," Sir Walter Scott, as umpire.

HOW TO LEARN CURLING.

In those days a journey to a neighbouring parish or county to play a curling spiel was about as far a venture as the curlers would think of taking, but now with the facilities for travelling distance is annihilated, and a curling trip of 1,000 miles requires no more consideration than a journey from Glasgow to Edinburgh on "shank's nagie" or on the Forth and Clyde canal would in olden times. Much has been written about the technique of the game, but there is only one way to gain a practical knowledge of it. When scholarly James IV, of Scotland, was a student he wanted to know from his tutor, the learned George Buchanan, if there was no easier method for a king to learn Greek than for common folks, but was promptly told there was no royal road to knowledge. So with curling, the hard beaten road to practice must be travelled to become a proficient player. A game can be enjoyed with zest from fifteen to seventy-five years of age.

BIOGRAPHY OF CURLING.

The origin of the game, or its native habitat, is now lost in the mists of the frosts of antiquity, and, although it has long been recognized as the national game of Scotland, the etymology of many of the terms still used shows that it must have been practiced on the continent of Europe before crossing the North sea to become nationalized among the Scots, who have ever been ready to practice many athletic outdoor sports and carry their love for them with them wherever they go. The use of such words in the game as bonspiel, tozee, skip, etc., indicate a Teutonic or Belgic origin, the name of curling itself—evidently derived from the German kurzweilen, to play for amusement. But there is no doubt about the nationality of such terms as bauch ice, broom-kowe, fore han, channelstane, pouther, souterin, hin-haun, etc., and the curlers can enjoy their game on a frosty day, even when Gaelic is used to cheer on the players. The earliest notice of curling which has been discovered is mention made in Cambden's Britannia, published in 1607, where Copinshaw, one of the Orkney islands, is spoken of as famous for "excellent stones for the game of curling." This goes to show that the game was then in considerable repute, when stones were brought from such a long distance to where the game used to be played. Last century the game used to be played with eight men a side, playing one stone each, and curlers to-day think that must have been a somewhat "cauld-rife" game unless there was plenty of sweeping to do. Now when four men a side, with a pair of curling stones each, compose a rink, there is plenty of exercise for the keenest players.

HOW TO PLAY THE GAME.

The tees are placed thirty-eight yards apart, and as the player must stand four yards behind the tee, the whole distance played is forty-two yards. This prevents the rink or brough from being broken up by the delivery of the stone as its strikes the ice on its passage to the further tee. The hog score or colly is marked on the ice seven yards in front of each tee, or a sixth of the whole distance played, should a change of weather necessitate a shortening of the rink; and any stone not passing the score is out of the game and put off the ice. The brough or rink is fourteen feet in diameter, divided up by concentric circles drawn round the tee, and all shots to count must be inside the seven-foot radius. When curling becomes a matter of mere strength, then the science of the game takes a rest; and the umpire now has power to stop the game, when great physical force has to be used to propel the stone the whole length of the rink. The true science of the game is seen to advantage when the eight players on a keen frosty day and on smooth ice have some difficulty in keeping their stones from going too far. Then such shots as inwicking, outwicking, drawing, guarding, wick and curl in, drawing through a port, outwicking, chap and lie, etc., represent the true inwardness of the game and the skill of the curler. Astonishing stories of the strength and skill of the curlers of bygone ages are handed down to curling posterity, for "distance lends enchantment to the view;" but the men of the present generation are apt to take some of those stories "cum grano salis," and consider that if they can draw a shot to an inch from a distance of forty-two yards, they can play as well as their great grandfathers ever did, keen curlers though they no doubt were.

CURLING A DEMOCRATIC GAME.

Curling, in addition to being the most exhilarating of all outdoor winter sports is for the time being a great leveler of social distinctions, the best player being the best man on the ice, whether he be peer or peasant, and this is well portrayed by an extract from an old curling song written by Rev. Dr. Duncan, nearly 100 years ago, one of the finest ever composed on this subject:—

The music of the year is hushed
In bonnie glen and shaw, man,
And winter spreads o'er nature dead
A winding sheet o' snaw, man,
O'er burn and loch the warlock frost
A crystal brig has laid, man,
The wild geese screaming wi' surprise
The ice-bound wave have fled, man.

* * * * *

For on the water's face are met,
Wi' mony a merry joke, man,
The peasant and his jolly laird,
The pastor and his flock, man.

A match which has been the the theme of song and story among some of the old chroniclers of the game, was played in Lockwinnoch, Renfrewshire, in 1783, betwixt the Duke of Hamilton and J. McDowall, of Castle Semple, afterward Lord Provost, of Glasgow. The prize was a valuable one, the duke coming out ahead, as dukes sometimes will, both in ancient and modern times, when handsome prizes are at stake.

THE GAME CONSOLIDATED.

The formation of the Royal C.C.C. made a new era in curling. A code of by-laws was properly formulated and published in the club's annual. new clubs were organized all over the country, branches were formed in the colonies wherever the climate was favourable, and a general move was made all along the line of progressive curling. The late duke of Athole and the late Earle of Eglinton were both keen curlers, and met at one of the early north vs. south of Scotland matches on Linlithgow Loch, in 1847, each leading his clansmen, (the Athole men in kilts), on the ice in true chief style. Eglinton was too much of an adept at the game for Athole, and the north suffered a disastrous defeat in that foray, but the match is kept up every year yet, weather permitting. Sometimes nearly 2 000 men a side playing at Blackford or Lockwinnoch. The oldest curling club on this continent is that of Montreal, organized in 1807, and still a thrifty and thriving institution, as any club will find out that will pay a visit there, and see the Montrealers handling their handsome iron blocks. These are used in the Province of Quebec instead of granite blocks, but wonderfully fine play is made with them by those accustomed to their use.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators, and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. Lungs Closed Up.

GENTS,—In the early part of the winter I caught a bad cold followed by a severe cough. I could not sleep as my lungs seemed closed up. I could walk only a few yards without stopping to get breath. I sent for Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion and before I had finished the third bottle the cough was gone—I could breathe freely and felt like a new man. I advise all sufferers from coughs, colds or asthma, to give your Emulsion a trial.

SEEMS sometimes as if the world were all wrong. Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten something that disagrees with you. They are not violent in their effect, do not derange the system at all, and may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favor. You can get the "Pellets" at any drug store. If you are careless enough to let an unscrupulous druggist sell you something on which he makes more money, it is your own fault if you do not get well.

A GREAT BOOK —ABSOLUTELY— GIVEN AWAY!

Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book of 1008 large pages and contains over 300 illustrations—some of them in colors. It is a complete family doctor book. It is written simply and concisely, and is indexed so that reference to it is made easily and quickly. Over 680,000 copies have been sold at the regular price of $1.50. The profits on this enormous sale enable the publishers to distribute 500,000 copies absolutely FREE. A copy bound in strong paper covers, will, therefore be sent FREE to any one who will send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. NEAR TO DEATH'S DOOR.

This was the Condition of the Young Son of Mr. John English of Lakefield, Ont.

Extremely Nervous Debilitated, Seemingly Without Vitality or Vigor, the Highest Medical Skill was unable to Battle With His Disease.

What ever may be the cause, it is unfortunately too true that large numbers of children are afflicted with nervous troubles. These in many cases assume aggravated conditions and develop often into what is really a feature of paralysis.

A result of severe sickness some years ago, Robert B. English, the young son of Mr. John English, who conducts a large cooperage business in Lakefield, Ont., became the the victim of what seemed like chronic nervousness. The child was taken with severe twitchings accompanied by fits that were doomed to speedily wreck the whole system. Naturally the best medical skill was brought into requisition but no relief was secured. South American Nervine was used, and with the result that after six bottles had been taken the boy was restored to perfect health and is to-day one of the most robust and healthy children in his section of country. The case of Minnie Stevens, of London, Ont., daughter of Mr. F. A. Stevens, of the Stevens Manufacturing Co,, is a somewhat similar case. Twelve bottles of medicine cured a severe case of paralysis there.

The great secret of Nervine is that it cures at the nerve centres, and for this reason is a panacea sure, certain and lasting, in all cases, of nervous troubles, general debility, indigestion, sick headache, and like difficulties in old and young. It removes these troubles, for it is one of the greatest flesh-producers that the age has seen.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

KITTY IN BLOOMERS.

HOW MISS MOULTON DREW CROWDS IN A NEW YORK RESTAURANT.

Made Such a Hit That Some of the Other Waitresses Are Dying to Get the Costume.

A surging turbulent mob blocked Nassau street yesterday, in front of the "Mashery" restaurant, near Spruce street. Each individual in the mob strained muscle and eyeball in the endeavor to catch a glimpse of the locomotor anatomy of Miss Kitty Moulton, waitress No. 17, whom the colonel had induced to don the becoming, stylish bloomer costume. Hundreds who had never dined at the Mashery before pressed inside in order to get a closer view of the twinkling underpinning of Miss Moulton. It was a great day for the colonel and his cash box and for Miss Moulton.

Many patrons had great difficulty in securing attendance, for the restaurant was four waitresses "shy," and, in addition, the crowd of customers was unprecedentedly large. The four who struck because the colonel said they, too, must don the bloomers, were the Misses Nora Courtney, Lizzie Sullivan, Lida Carney and Kitty Hutton.

NO. 17 IS THE PIONEER.

"I can't understand why these four girls struck," said the colonel yesterday, "because they are four of the prettiest girls in the place, and there can't be anything unsymmetrical about their nether limbs. Now, if it had been some of the other girls—for instance, that somewhat angular young lady there, or that one over there—I would'nt have been surprised. Of course, I don't want the girls to do anything to hurt their feelings, but I know it is all false modesty that they are showing now, because those I want to wear bloomers would look very well in them."

There seems to be little doubt that the colonel will have his way; inside of two weeks it is probable that all the girls in the restaurant will wear the bloomers. It seems to be merely a question of anatomy. Here is what one of the girls said:

"Kitty Moulton has a fine figure and knows it, and that's why she was so willing to wear bloomers. But there are others—oh, yes, others of us have just as nice looking limbs as she has, and we would look just as well, and, perhaps, some of us, better, than she does.

"I confess that the suit is very becoming; girls with any style at all are bound to look well in that navy-blue costume. It was made by a good tailor, too. Don't give my name, or the other girls would think I'd gone back on them, but, to tell the truth, I am dying to put on one of those bloomer costumes. I tried on my sister's bicycle bloomers once, and really, I know I looked well in them. I think, really, that most of the genuine opposition to the colonel's order comes from the girls whose—well, who haven't as pleasing anatomical features as some of the rest of us. Then of course, the pretty girls struck because they know they can get jobs any time, and because they wanted to seem smart."

"Yes," said the colonel, "I guess it's merely a question of anatomy, see?"—New York Recorder.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for.

They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps overeating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question: What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves, that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

None Better Known.

There is no better known traveller in the Maritime Provinces than Mr. Fred Anderson, the popular representative of Messers. T. S. Simms & Co., St. John, N. B. Speaking of Norway Pine Syrup, Mr. Anderson says: "It is the best cough cure I have ever used and I prefer it to any other. I have given it to friends of mine and it cures every time. It would be a difficult matter now to induce me to use any other."

The best cough cure is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures coughs and colds.

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEFLER, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

FATHER AND SON DROWNED.

Caught in the Storm on Monday Night While Trying to Row From Allandale to Barrie.

Barrie, Dec. 4.—On Monday evening Alfred Warnica, and his son Dalton, left their homes in Allandale, to bring a trunk across the bay to Barrie. Before leaving home Mr. Warnica told his wife if it became stormy they would remain in Barrie until Tuesday. About an hour after they left a heavy wind and snowstorm came up and continued until dark. It is supposed the boat became unmanageable with the weight of the trunk and capsized. When they did not return home Tuesday, friends drove to Barrie and learned they had not reached here. A searching party started down the bay this morning and found the boat and trunk about two miles from where the unfortunate men had commenced their fatal journey. The bodies were found late this afternoon, opposite Glenallen. They were close together, and had evidently been helping each other when they perished.

MR LAURIER AT BUCKINGHAM.

Escorted Through the Town by His Friends—Addresses Presented and Speeches Made.

Buckingham, Que., Dec. 4.—Last night Hon. W. Laurier arrived here and was met at the station by the Liberals of Buckingham, who escorted him through the town. The meeting, which took place at 2.30 p.m. in Crystal Hall, was fairly well attended, about half the number being Conservatives.

Addresses were read in French and English by R. Fontaine and A. H. Kennedy. Mr. A. D. Cameron presided, and Messrs. R. L. Gagnon and J. E. Cameron acted as ushers.

The visiting gentlemen were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. MacLaren at their residence, Neralcam.

Mr. Bourassa, the Liberal candidate, opened the meeting with an address in English and was followed by Mr. Ryder, M.P. Mr. Laurier, in his usual eloquent and pleasing style, entertained his hearers over an hour, and touched on Manitoba schools and the tariff.

Mr. Devlin, M.P. for Ottawa county, concluded with a fiery speech against protection and paid tributes to his leader, also to Mr. Bourassa.

The Late Dr. Shaw

Toronto, Dec. 5.—At 2 p.m. today the remains of the Rev. John Shaw, one of the pioneers of Methodism in this country, will be borne to their grave in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery by six of his associates, who, like him, have grown white-haired in the service of Christianity. The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Sutherland, the Foreign Mission Secretary for the Methodist Church in Canada, and the pallbearers will be six well-known clergymen—Rev. Peter Addison, Rev. Rr. Harrass, Rev. Dr. Young, Rev. Dr. Briggs, Rev. Dr. Blackstock and Rev. John Hunt. The ceremony will take place at Sherbourne-street Methodist Church.

A Poor Likeness.

A good story, illustrative of the prosaic nature on which art makes no impression, is told by the New York Evangelist: In the "monument room" at Trinity Church is the large marble tablet in memory of the late Bishop Hobart. It is a bas-relief representing the Bishop—a portrait—in the agony of death, sinking into the arms of an allegorical female figure presumably intended for the Angel of Death. It is said that an aged couple from the rural districts were being shown about the church, and, pausing long before the tablet, the old lady remarked to her husband: "That's a good likeness of the Bishop, but"—— regarding the angelic personage attentively—"it's a very poor one of Mrs. Hobart. I knew her well, and she didn't look like that."—Springfield Union.

THE BUFFALO MYSTERY.

Mrs. Nellie Massie, of Hamilton, Said to be the Suicide Victim.

Hamilton, Dec. 4.—The young Canadian girl whose suicide in a Buffalo boarding house was described in yesterday's despatches has been identified as Mrs. Massie, wife of William Massie, who was buried here on Sunday afternoon last. Her maiden name was Nellie Burrows, and years ago she and her dead husband were inseparable, her husband, to whom she was not married then, keeping the Globe Hotel, on King-street east. Massie's funeral here on Sunday was a private one, and the cause of death, which occurred in Oakland, Cal., was given out as accidental shooting. It has since turned out that a week ago Friday, Massie went home drunk, had words with his wife, and in a fit of jealousy the young woman shot him. Massie lived long enough to tell the police that the shooting was accidental. Mrs. Massie followed the body as far east as Buffalo, and as soon as she learned of the funeral here committed suicide by taking morphine. Massie's family here are highly respectable, and his aged mother is very ill, and so near death's door that she has not been informed of her son's sad end. The parents of the young woman who took her life in Buffalo also reside here, at No. 72 Ferguson-avenue south.

The unfortunate couple leave a young son, who is being cared for by Mr. Massie's brother in Oakland.

This Does Not Tally.

Buffalo, Dec. 4.—This morning Coroner Tucker received the following telegram from Hamilton, Ont.: "Nellie Massie committed suicide in Buffalo. Supposed maiden name is Nellie Burrows of Hamilton, Ont. Find out particulars and advise me. (Signed) A. Smith, chief of police."

Coroner Tucker telegraphed a full description of the dead woman to Hamilton's chief of police, and also told him of the finding of the umbrella, and asked him to let him know the particulars as soon as possible.

An hour afterwards Coroner Tucker received the following despatch: "Nellie Massie's sister leaves for Buffalo this morning. (Signed) A. Smith, chief of police."

The sister called at the Morgue this afternoon. She declared that the dead woman was not her sister, and the identity of the woman is again in the calendar of mysteries.

Evidently there are a good many missing women in this part of the country. Fully 100 men and women have called at the Morgue and asked to see the body of the dead woman. They all said they were looking for people reported missing, but they failed to identify the corpse of the mysterious stranger on the marble slab.

CANADIAN DRESSED MEATS

To be Shipped to England and disposed of Under Government Supervision.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—The annual meeting of the Eastern Townships Dairymen's Association commenced at Waterloo to-day. Prof. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner, and Mr. F. C. Shutt, chemist at the Experimental Farm, were present. In the course of his address Mr. Robertson made a most important announcement. He says that the Dominion Government have under consideration a plan for opening up an export trade to Great Britain in dressed meats. The successful cold storage service for butter during the summer leads the Government to entertain favorably the scheme of introducing to England beef, mutton and poultry chilled only. The plan is for the Government to purchase cattle and sheep at Montreal. The animals will be killed, dressed, chilled, covered and shipped under the supervision of the Commissioner. Cold chambers will be secured on ocean steamships, and a central cold storage distributing depot will be established in England, with retail shops in London, Birmingham, Manchester, Bristol, Liverpool and Glasgow. The business will be under Government management throughout, thus guaranteeing quality and protecting the brand of Canadian meats. The prestige of the powerful administration of the Government and low prices at retail are expected to gain the best class of customers.

Careless Man Shot

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 4.—John Miller of Flinton was shot through the right hand and seriously wounded by the accidental discharge of his rifle. He was carrying it on his shoulder with his hand on the muzzle of the gun.

Farm Laborer Killed.

Kingston, Dec. 4.—William Prowdey, aged 40, farm laborer, was thrown from a rig near Kingston Mills last night, his skull fractured and he died in the General Hospital this morning.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 4.—Two world's bicycle records were broken here yesterday. John Green rode a mile in 1 minute 25 seconds flat on a straightaway road course, with flying start, and unpaced, beating the world's record, held by McLeod, of 1.33 2-5.

Charles Boswell rode a mile in 1 minute 40 seconds flat, standing start, unpaced, straightaway road course, breaking the best time recorded—2.04 2-5.

Several hundred persons witnessed the trial, which was with a wind blowing 28 miles an hour directly upon the backs of the riders. L.A.W. timekeepers and judges officiated.

De Oro Beaten, Sutton Also.

Syracuse, Dec. 4.—New interest was added to the international pool tournament tonight by the victory of Horgan of New York over De Oro, the present champion, in an exciting series, in which the Cuban was defeated by the score of 125 to 116. With 12 balls needed to run out, the champion was compelled to attempt a difficult combination, on which he failed. Horgan is one of the two men who qualified in the preliminaries held last week for the big tournament, and his victory was a surprise, although he put up a remarkable game. He never played before, excepting as an amateur. The result of this series may throw the championship into the hands of Clearwater, or, possibly, Eby, the boy wonder, who is playing great pool. Still, De Oro has a fighting chance. The other series to-night resulted:

Stofft 125, Sutton 110. Stofft is another new man, and qualified with Horgan in the preliminaries.

Eby, won 2, lost 0; Clearwater, won 1, lost 0; Keough, won 1, lost 0; De Oro, won 1, lost 1; Sutton, won 1, lost 1; Stofft, won 1, lost 1; Horgan, won 1, lost 2; Sherran, won 0, lost 1; Walsh, won 0, lost 2.

Racked with Rheumatism

Unable to Walk, owing to excruciating pain.

After ten years' terrible torture, Cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

A. H. Christiansen, writing from the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, says: "I owe you more than I can ever pay. For ten years I suffered the tortures of the damned with rheumatism, Father had it before me, and I believe it is an hereditary disease. My knee joints would get inflamed and if I was out in any "weather" I was sure to be laid up, which to a travelling man is a calamity. In a score of Canadian towns local doctors treated me, some giving relief, others none. I read that Sarsaparilla was a rheumatic cure, and I asked a druggist for "a bottle of the best Sarsaparilla on the market." He gave me Scott's, remarking that it was an improvement on all others, and that he could honestly recommend it. I have taken four bottles, and am as free from pain as a man can hope to be. I was out in a rainstorm two days ago and never felt a twinge. As I said before, to Scott's Sarsaparilla I owe more than I can ever repay."

The best remedy for rheumatism, sciatica, and neuralgic pains—all arising from the presence of poison in the blood—is Scott's Sarsaparilla, a modern concentrated medicine, prompt in its curative effects. Doses from one half to one teaspoonful. At $1 per bottle of your druggist.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Nellie Young has returned home after visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss B. Phelan, Lakefield, is visiting friends here.

Capt. Scollard, who has been confined to his room with a severe cold, is able to be around again.

Miss Ida Kearney has returned home, after an extended visit with friends in Chemong.

Major Bellasis leaves for Buffalo tomorrow, where he intends spending the winter months.

Misses M. Kearney and E. Scollard paid a short visit with friends in Toronto and Peterborough.

The skating on the lake is excellent at present, and all lovers of such are indulging almost to excess.

Mr. S. Nolan, Trenton, is a guest at the Lakeview House.

Mr. Patrick Sullivan lost a very valuable horse last week. He was employed by Mr. C. Young drawing lumber, and on returning home from his evening's work, the horses became frightened at some object, and ran against a tree close to the locks, killing one instantly.

It is surprising to see the vast quantity of wood and lumber that is hauled daily from this vicinity to Peterborough. What a great benefit it would be if that much talked of train came here from Lakefield! Then this wood could be shipped direct to Peterborough. Wood is not the only article we have here for shipment; there is timber and a quarry here where the stone can be taken out very easily. It would be very convenient to the people of the Point, also to campers and tourists going through here in summer to come by rail.

At the close of the Cheese Factory a very successful social and concert was held in Herd's Hall, Friday evening, at which a large attendance from Peterborough, Lakefield, Selwin, Warsaw and Smith were present. After all had been served to a sumptuous repast by Mr. Wilson, Mr. P. P. Young was called upon to take the chair, which was filled very happily. A few excellent speeches were delivered by the patrons, and Mr. Young very credibly introduced the programme, which consisted of:—

Instrumental solo	Miss M Kearney
Song	F Fanning
Song	Miss B Phelan
Club swinging	W Wilson
With violin and organ accompaniment by Miss M Kearney and D Oliver.
Recitation	Miss Lottie Kearney
Song	Miss J Phelan
Mouth organ solo	F J Young
Reading	G Hamlin
Song	Miss B Phelan
Recitation	Miss Nellie Young
Song	Miss M Gleason
Mouth organ solo	D Oliver
Song	Miss B Phelan
Trio	The Misses Young and Frank Young

Mr. Young then returned thanks, in behalf of Mr. Wilson, for such a large gathering and a pleasing entertainment and he also thanked Mr. Wilson for the pains he had taken to make the evening as pleasant as possible, and the entertainment closed with "God Save the Queen." After the concert a number of the young ladies and gentlemen remained to "trip the light fantastic." Mr. W. Brooks very ably performed the duties of master of ceremonies, and the party broke up at an early hour, much pleased with their evening's enjoyment.

Mr. F. McAvoy was in our village looking after the Rathbun Company's interests last week.

The "Mary Ellen" is wintered in the Locks here. Mr. Young intends giving her a thorough overhauling and making her a quite a bit larger before next season.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Thanksgiving night the Y. P. S. C. E. and the Epworth League Societies had a union meeting in the Presbyterian church here. The church was well filled with an attentive and appreciative audience. Rev. Mr. McWilliams, of St. Andrews' church, Peterborough, county president, gave an excellent address on "A Successful Congregation," which was listened to with marked attention and much benefit. Rev. Mr. Peake, pastor of the Methodist church here, gave a short address. Mr. Thos. Blezard, M.L.A., made a short and pleasing address, full of good advice. Mr. G. A. L. Humphries, president of the Epworth League, Mr. J. A. Metcalf and Mr. Mulligan also gave short address. Mr. Andrew Cameron, president of the Y. P. S. C. E., occupied the chair in a capable and pleasing manner. Mrs. (Rev.) McWilliams sang several songs in a beautiful soprano voice. Mr. Mulligan, conductor of the St. Andrews' churce choir, Peterborough, sang several songs also, and a couple of duets with Mrs. McWilliams. Miss Gladman, of Peterborough, presided at the organ. This was the most successful meeting ever held in Westwood, and those who missed it, owing to the inclement weather, missed a treat, and a great treat, too, as every part of the entertainment was first-class. More union meetings is what we want, as all the churches are striving to gather their adherents itno a common celestial fold, and why not be more united and sociable here?

Mr. Mulligan, conductor of the St. Andrew's choir Peterboro has organized a class in vocal music here. He will give his first lesson on Friday night, December 6th. He will have a very large class.

The football team of Westwood, purpose giving a Concert in the hall here on Friday night December 20th. Don't miss it as the boys are sparing no pains to make it first class.

The Epworth League held a very successfu and entertaining social at the residence of Mr' Thomas Blezard, M. P. P. last Friday night. The amusements were games, speeches, songs, recitations, music and pleasant conversation Our esteemed M. P. P. and his daughter, Miss Lettie, made everyone feel at home, and a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent. We hope there is more to follow.

The boys here talk of organizing a hockey team for the winter.

MORE GREAT GALES.

In Fact It Was a Genuine Hurricane That Prevailed in Britain Yesterday.

London, Dec. 5.—Aterrific gale prevailed throughout England and off the coast this mirning. Outward bound vessels were driven back to the ports from which they had sailed, and other sailings were postponed until the weather should become more favorable. Outdoor work in the shopyards at Bristol was suspended owing to the violence of the gale.

The steamer Majestic, which sailed from Liverpool for New York yesterday, was detained at Queenstown until 3 o'clock this afternon in consequence of the delay to the channel packet with the mails. Many accidents occurred in London through falling chimneys, masonry, signs, shutters, etc. The telegraph wires in the north of England are all prostrated.

Lloyds' agent at Brow Head reports that the wind is blowing a hurricane from the northwest, accompanied by a thick misty rain, and the sea is very rough.

Catarrh in the Head

Is due to impure blood and cannot be cured with local applications. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured hundreds of catarrh because it purifies the blood and in this way removes the cause of the disease. It also builds up the system and prevents attacks of pneumonia, diphtheria and typhoid fever.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them. 25c.

INTEREST IN GOOD ROADS.

FARMERS WAKING UP TO THEIR IMPORTANCE.

East Riding Institute Takes Action—Arranging for Their Annual Meetings—Programmes Mapped Out—Special Address on Good Roads vs. Statute Labour—The County Council's Trip Bearing Fruit.

NORWOOD, Nov. 30.—The Directors of the East Peterborough Farmers' Institute met to-day at 2 o'clock. Present—E. Hawthorne, 1st vice-president; George English, 2nd vice-president; and Messrs. Robert Burgess, W. G. Patterson, Robert Wigmore, James Robb, James Andrews, Charles Nicoll, A. R. Kidd, John Lancaster and John Knox, directors.

THE "GOOD ROADS" MOVEMENT.

J. B. Pearce, Warden of the county of Peterborough, was also present and took part in a formal discussion on road making in the county of Hastings. He with the other members of the county council was sent to inspect the method of road making there and report to the council at their next session.

Moved by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Patterson, that Messrs. Pearce, Hawthorne, Kidd and Lancaster be a committee to report to the directors what in their opinion would be the best course for this Institute to adopt, when the following report was read by Mr. Hawthorne and adopted.

Moved by Mr. A. R. Kidd, seconded by John Lancaster, that whereas the county council of the county of Peterborough has taken action in respect to the system of good roads, and did at its last session in June, 1895, appoint a committee to investigate into the system as pursued by the adjoining county of Hastings, have reported stating that they are convinced that the system as adopted by the county of Hastings is good, and would recommend a similar system for this county, and also in view of the foregoing the directors of this institute would ask you to send us a live practical man who is able to educate the people on this subject, showing the actual loss sustained by the people by the present system of maintaining the roads by statute labour as compared with—say the system adopted by the county of Hastings. We would also recommend that Mr. A. F. Wood, of Madoc, be sent as a delegate to address us on the subject.

Moved by John Lancaster, seconded by E. Hawthorne, that J. B. Pearce be requested to attend the Norwood meeting on Jan. 21st, 1896, and that Messrs. Moloney and Anderson, members of the delegation to the county of Hastings, be requested to attend Keene meeting on Jan. 24th, and report on the method of road making in Hastings county.—Carried.

SELECTING INSTITUTE MEETING SUBJECTS.

The directors then went into a committee of the whole on Mr. Hodson's circular re winter meetings, when it was resolved that the subjects selected for Mr. McCrea at Norwood be "Cattle feeding, breeding and feeding sheep," for the afternoon, and that Mr. Beadle's afternoon subject be "Injuries to fruit trees caused by insects, etc.," and "Benefits of spraying for the destruction of insects," and that J. J. Ferguson's be "Fodder corn, its value and method of handling it." Evening subject by Mr. McCrea be "Our farm life;" Mr. Beadle's be "Insect foes and insect friends," and that Mr. Ferguson's be "The farmer's position, present and prospective."

At Keene, Mr. McCrea's subjects be afternoon, "Our best grasses;" Mr. Beadle's be "Varieties of apples for home use, and for foreign and home markets," "The prevention of diseases, and the securing of more and better fruit;" Mr. Ferguson's be "Fodder corn, its value and methods of handling it." Evening, Mr. McCrea's be "Country Homes;" Mr. Beadle's "Fungi injurious to the crop of the farmer and of the fruit grower;" Mr. Ferguson, "The necessity of agricultural education."

Messrs. Chas. O'Reilly, F. E. Perney and the Misses Roxburgh, Murphy, Gallagher and Pearce were made a committee to arrange the evening meeting at Norwood, and Messrs. Robt. English, Robt. McCamus, Dr. Shaw, with the Misses Londerville, Bryce, Read and Mrs. Dr. Harrison, a committee to arrange for Keene meetings.—Norwood Register.

OPPOSITE THE MARKET.

I was spending one day in a Drug Store, a short time back fitting glasses, examining eyes and writing prescriptions, when a prominent business man Brown telephoned me, asking me to call at his store to fit him with a pair of glasses. He said he was fitted with a pair at that drug store and he did not like to come to see me there as the druggist imagined the glasses I got of him were perfection. He had went so far as to tell his neighbors that he had fitted Mr. Brown with glasses. I answered that my outfit required a horse and carriage to move it and that he would have to see me in my private rooms in the rear of the drug store. My examination of the eye is always private in the rear rooms of the drug store, only one patient admitted at a time.

HURON HOUSE OF REFUGE.

A Capital Domicile for the Poor Opened at Clinton.

Clinton, Dec. 6.—Huron County House of Refuge was officially opened here yesterday afternoon by the County Council, which is holding its session here. Carriages containing the council, Parliamentary representatives and the press and several clergymen of the county drove to the new building, which is situated half a mile from this town, on a beautiful site, and in the usual way declared it opened. Its cost will be $11,000. It was built by Mr. S. S. Cooper of this place and is a modern building in every way, having room for 75 people, of which number 40 are now domiciled. Mr and Mrs. French of Exeter have been selected for the management; Mr. William Coats, inspector, and Dr. Campbell of Seaforth, the physician.

Last night the Town of Clinton entertained the visitors to a big concert in the Town Hall, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Jackson, jr., in which over 100 people took part, and at 10.30 a banquet was held at the Hotel Clarendon, at which the leading citizens were present. Among those present were: J. T. Garrow, M.L.A., Goderich; M. Y. McLean, Seaforth; M. C. Cameron, Goderich; T. Gibson, M.L.A., P. Holt, John Acheson, jr., Goderich; James Scott, James Watson, Seaforth; W. A. Kerr, Brussels; Dr. Holmes, W. Lane, M. Hutchinson, R. S. Williams, D. McGillicuddy, Goderich, and W. Jackson.

Mr. Hendrie on English Racing.

New York, Dec. 6.—Mr. William Hendrie of Hamilton, Ont., president of the Ontario Jockey Club, returned from England to-day after a five months' sojourn there. He attended quite a number of the English race meetings, and looked over a great many horses. What particularly impressed him was the size of the horses in England as compared with the American thoroughbred, the English horses being on the average bigger framed, with more bone and a great muscular development.

Old Banquet, Mr. Hendrie says, looked like a pony alongside some of those English horses. Florizell II. and Reminder, he thinks very fine horses, of different types. Mr. Hendrie, who had not bet a dollar on anything in 10 years, could not resist having a couple of sovereigns each day on the game old Banquet, after seeing him cantered to the post with only 95 pounds on his back, for the Caesarwitch. He says the old horse was in front for two minutes, but could not live the pace.

Mr. Hendrie was perfectly astounded at the inconsistency and in-and-out running of high-class horses. Of course, he allows that racing over so many different courses is responsible to some extent for the reversals of fortune, but not for one-half of the complete bouleversement of all previous form.

But at that there was one thing that astonished the close observing and keen Canadian gentleman still more, and that was that nothing at all was said about those lilliputian cracks of form, and that they were evidently looked upon as part of the game. He said to-day that in manipulating and betting in what is really gilt edged on the turf, weight could not bring the Britisher and his American cousin together.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS

Meetings in North Ontario and Cardwell.

HON. MR. LAURIER AT PRESCOTT

The Electors Turning Out in Large Numbers at the Different Points—The Liberal Leader Received with Great Enthusiasm—Gillespie at Sunderland.

Orangeville, Dec. 6.—Hon. Messrs. Foster and Montague addressed a large meeting here to-night.

John R. Allan, ex-reeve of Mono, occupied the chair. After some breezy opening remarks he called upon W. Willoughby, the candidate, who spoke briefly, but vigorously. He expressed himself as being in entire unison with the great planks of the Conservative platform. He reiterated his statement made at Bolton, that he would not be a party to the restoration in Manitoba of the system of separate schools that existed prior to 1890. He did not know what legislation might be introduced in Parliament dealing with the school question, but he asked his hearers to trust him as an Orangeman and as a Protestant to deal with the question when it came before Parliament on its merits. He would not pledge himself, but he would promise to support no legislation that does not conform to his idea of an efficient school system. He declared, in closing, that the contest was between himself and Mr. Henry; Mr. Stubbs wasn't in it.

Dr. Montague traversed the old ground in regard to the National Policy and agriculture and abused the Liberal leader and party with his usual bitterness.

He declared that his mission and the mission of his colleague was to ask the people of Cardwell to assist in carrying to its completion the great scheme of national development so successfully inaugurated by the great leader who was gone, but whose policy the Conservative party was following with all faithfulness. He warned his hearers against giving countenance to any third party. Mr. McCarthy had no chance of success and those who supported him were virtually helping the Liberals. This fight, he declared was the fight of the Conservative party, not the fight of the Cabinet, or of any member of the Cabinet.

Hon. Mr. Foster discussed financial and trade topics on the usual lines.

The speaker made a brief reference to leader Haycock of the Patrons and his complaints against the subsidizing of railways and steamship lines and the importation of Australian mutton. With reference to the importation of Australian mutton, Mr. Foster pointed out that to get into Canada it had to come over a tariff wall of 25 per cent., and he thought that ought to be high enough for anyone whether his name be Haycock or not.

MR LAURIER'S PRESCOTT MEETINGS.

A Large and Enthusiastic Gathering at Plantagenet—Revenue Tariff Now—Free Trade Later On.

Plantagenet, Ont., Dec. 6.—The meeting held here to-day in honor of the visit of the Hon. Mr. Laurier was the largest attended of any political gathering ever held in this township. The Town Hall, which is a large building, was judged by the committee to be too small, and the factory at the river was at considerable trouble fitted up, but when the people began to assemble it was seen that it would also be insufficient to contain the crowd, and in consequence the meeting had to be held in the open air and the platform in front of the Wilson Hotel was utilized for the accommodation of the speakers. The Liberal chief was accompanied by the following members of Parliament, namely: Messrs. Edwards, Tarte, and Rider and the local members Messrs. Proulx and Evanturel. The speeches were mostly in French, as the proceedings at Vankleek Hill yesterday were in English.

Mr. Laurier proclaimed the Liberal policy on the same lines as at Vankleek Hill the previous day.

He said that he was for free trade whenever the country was ready to accept it, and that till then a tariff for revenue only would be the policy followed by the party of which he had the honor to be leader.

The country was certainly not in the state of prosperity which they would like to see. Something must be done, and that something was the goal towards which the great Liberal party was striving. The policy of the Liberal party was to put Canada on an equal footing with her neighbors, or, in other words, "National Progress," was their motto.

Those who favored this policy were Liberal, while those who were against it were Tories, and he was confident in saying that under these circumstances we were all Liberals. There was a class of people who called themselves Liberal-Conservatives, but this was a nonentity, and for his own part he would rather be a Liberal at once or else, an out-and-out old-style, thoroughbred Conservative.

Regarding another question—a question which was causing a national agitation at the present time, namely, the Manitoba school—he would say that he believed in the provincial right to legislate. The Privy Council had also decided that the Federal Government should take the matter into consideration of the minority, it should therefore be the policy of the Liberal party to investigate carefully into the matter and legislate in such a manner as should be agreeable, not to the minority of the Province of Manitoba alone, but to legislate according to principles of right and justice as shall benefit the citizenship of Canada at large.

Mr. Laurier left for Montreal this evening.

MR. McGILLIVRAY'S MEETINGS.

A Large Gathering at Cannington Addressed by the Candidate, Hon. Messrs. Costigan and Daly and Dr. Coulter

Cannington, Dec. 6.—One of the largest and most enthusiastic political meetings ever held in this district took place in the Town Hall here to-night in the interest of Major John A. McGillivray. The hall, which was tastefully decorated, was crowded to the doors.

Mr. W. H. Hoyle, reeve of Cannington, presided, and on the platform with him were seated Hon. John Costigan, Hon. T. Mayne Daly, Minister of Interior; Mr. James Glendinning, ex-M.P.P., Mr. J. T. Robinson, president of the Cannington Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association; also Dr. Coulter, who represented Mr. F. J. Gillespie, the Reform candidate.

The first speaker was Major McGillivray, who was received with cheers. In a brief speech he defined his position on the Manitoba school question, the temperance question and the other issues entering into this campaign.

The next speaker was Dr. Coulter, of Aurora, who spoke forty minutes in the interest of the Reform candidate.

Hon. Mr. Daly and Hon. Mr. Costigan followed.

A LIBERAL MEETING.

The Candidate Assisted by Mr Dawson—Mr. George in Opposition

Sunderland, Dec. 6.—A political meeting in the interest of the Liberal candidate, Mr. F. J. Gillespie, was held in the Town Hall here to-night. The principal speakers were Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Dawson of Addington for the Liberals, and Mr. George for the Conservatives.

The chair was taken at 8 o'clock by Mr. Neil McPhaden.

Mr. Gillespie criticised the policy of the Government on the Manitoba school question, the tariff, etc.

Mr. George then took the other side of the question, and defended the Government.

Mr. Dawson then addressed the audience on behalf of Mr. Gillespie, eulogizing Mr. Laurier and the Liberal party. There was a large and attentive audience.

POLITICS DOWN EAST.

Mr Chisholm Nominated at Antigonish—Two Ministers Speak.

Antigonish, N.S., Dec. 6.—The Conservatives held a convention here today, and Jos. A. Chisholm, who was elected at the bye-election last spring, was nominated to oppose Mr. McIsaac. In a speech afterwards, Mr. Chisholm said the Dominion Government was pledged to remedial legislation, and could be relied upon to pass it.

Minister Dickey was the next speaker. He took the ground that while the school question was important to Manitoba, it was largely a question of sentiment elsewhere. He was a Protestant and opposed to Separate schools, but the constituion of the country called for justice and the Government's policy was simply carrying into effect the Privy Council's commands.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper attacked Mr. Laurier and charged him with cowardice and insincerity on the subject of Manitoba schools. He justified the release of Connelly and McGreevy on the ground that their health was being impaired.

MAGOWAN WILL MARRY HER

Just as Soon as a Divorce Can be Secured—Persecuted Unjustly.

New York, Dec. 6.—The Herald says: There were some developments yesterday in the troubles of Frank A. Magowan, formerly Mayor of Trenton, N.J. Early in August Mr. Magowan went to El Reno, O.T., to establish a residence there preparatory to beginning a divorce suit against his wife. Since then he was arrested on the complaint of J. A. Barnes for alienating Mrs. Barnes' affections, and Magowan had Barnes arrested on a charge of stealing several thousand dollars' worth of bonds of the Eastern Rubber Manufacturing Company and also for perjury.

Mr. Magowan was seen last night and stated that he had not lived with his family for several months. It was ascertained that since his return from Oklahoma, in August, Mr. Magowan had been at the Windsor Hotel, in Trenton. Mrs. Magowan has been living in Clinton-avenue, Trenton. Mrs. Barnes is at present staying at the Windsor Hotel, in this city, with her sister and brother-in-law. Her husband has begun divorce proceedings, in which Magowan is named as co-respondent.

Mr. Magowan was asked last evening whether he would marry Mrs. Barnes when he secured his divorce and she was divorced from her husband. He frankly admitted that he would marry her, and that he regarded her as one of the noblest and purest women living. He said that she had been persecuted unjustly. Mrs. Barnes is a daughter of the present Surgeon General of Canada.

DROWNED HER BABY.

A Montreal Woman Said to Have Confessed to the Crime.

Manchester, Vt., Dec. 6.—Mary T. Wetherbee was arrested this morning, charged with drowning her six weeks' old child two weeks ago, by throwing it into the river at Manchester Center.

It is stated that she has made a full confession. The woman came from Montreal, Que., by the midnight train that night, and it is alleged threw the child in on her way to the house of her father, who lives here. She was married five years ago, but was divorced from her husband.

DROWNED HER BABY.

That is the Belief Now in Reference to the Buffalo Suicide.

Buffalo, Dec. 6.—It is now believed beyond a doubt that the young woman who committed suicide at a boarding house in this city on Dec. 2 was Bertha Stewart of Lynedoch, Ont. Miss Stewart has been employed in St. Thomas, Ont., for three years, and left there on Sept. 21 last. Since then she has not been seen.

Previous to her departure she had been the subject of a sensational scandal, and it made her despondent. Upon her return home from her first visit to Buffalo she made the remark that she would go there again never to return. Her description answers that of the unidentified body lying on a slab at the Morgue.

Have Nothing to Live for.

Sometimes men and women feel this way. A wave of despondency creeps up and up till it reaches the heart. They become languid and listless. Life appears grey and desolate. What some people want is not merely a tonic. They want to be built up. They want a stimulus, which will give them courage and put new hope in them. Such a stimulus is found in Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine. This is incomparably the best tonic at present offered to the public. A rich, generous wine, with a glow, a body, a fruitiness which are calculated to build up the wasted system. A bottle of this bracing tonic makes a poor debilitated creature a new citizen. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent, 399 George Street.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realised more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

TAFFYING THE FARMERS.

HON. MR. DALY, speaking in Cardwell, referred to the enviously prosperous condition of our farmers. Hon. Mr. Daly may be Minister of the Interior, but he is evidently not in the inner circle of the farmer's feelings in reference to his condition. He answers the charge that manufacturing industries were coddled at the expense of the farmer by asking where the farmers' market would be if they had not the towns and business communities to sell to? a question that implies that the Government policy protection is to be credited with the existence of towns and business communities. A policy that has resulted in an increase of population of only 500,000 in ten years, with an exodus of 1,200,000 Canadians in the same period cannot be credited with doing very much to provide a home market. Speaking on the same occasion Hon. Dr. Montague claimed that the N.P. had preserved the home market for the farmers and went on in the next breath to show that the home market was worth so little to the Canadian farmer that the government had to take the farmer in hand and provide him a market three thousand miles away. Great stress is laid on the government's policy of showing the farmer how to transact his business by buying butter and shipping it to the Old Country. The farmers of Canada, if they were let alone, would have found the best market for their products—if the meddlesome interference of the government were withdrawn. They do not relish being treated like children, and having a government composed chiefly of lawyers, tell them how to sell their butter, etc. If the barriers of trade with our nearest neighbours were removed, if there was reciprocity with the United States in articles of farm produce, the farmer would risk finding a market for his stuff, without Government coddling. If the United States were open free to Canadian cheese the trade would doubtless be immensely boomed. If the Old Country market is glutted, Canadian cheese by force of its superior quality, would find a large sale on the American market. It is better than our neighbours can produce, and in the long run quality will command the price. Let the Government give the farmers a chance—let them be relieved of burdensome taxation. Let the Government give the farmers an innings of protection, (which might consist in being let alone), as long as they have given the manufacturers at the expense of the farmers, and the latter will ask no Government favours — not have to be treated like children, who cannot sell their own goods when they have produced them.

TUPPER TO THE RESCUE.

The government is evidently afraid to risk a general election without the help of Sir Charles Tupper who has been hastily summoned from England. Of course it is denied that he has any intention of entering into Canadian politics. We were told that in 1891 when he came to Canada and helped the government through its general election. If a strong man like Sir John Macdonald found Sir Charles' help so valuable, the present valetudinarian Cabinet has much more need of somebody who has some strength of character. But there is another reason to account for the visit of Sir Charles and his plunge into turmoil of practical politics. The Montreal Herald thus puts it:

In Sir Charles Tupper's case much depends on the result of the elections. In the first place he has what might be not unfitly called a soft thing; little to do and plenty to get, in the words of the undying Sam'l Weller. Report says that he has grown comfortably well-to-do in England; that his opportunities for investment, naturally very great in his present environment, have been accepted with appreciable profit to himself. This is a consideration which no one who knows the man will expect him to overlook. He has, moreover, set his heart upon a nich in the Abbey. To that end he has learned to breathe a little in the rarefied atmosphere of diplomacy, and has succeeded in setting his hand to a convention signed by no other than Dufferin and Ava. He has drunk deep of the social pleasures of the metropolis and has become quite a notable after-dinner speaker on such topics as "the twenty-knot age" and "incidental protection." He would not like to give up all these things. In the event of a Liberal victory in Canada he would have to give up a good many of them; and as he is notoriously free from every consideration of those laws of decency which would be operative with men of a less highly-strung temperament, he is not above coming out to Canada to fight for his position.

He did it before, and we incline to the opinion that he is about to do it again. The Conservative party in Parliament frankly admitted but fully condoned his offence in 1891, and the Government need not fear censure at the hands of its followers in the House if it came out and freely acknowledged that he is steaming this way with his armour on. It will be an entirely pitiable spectacle, that of a vain old gentleman wilfully setting the laws of decency at defiance, and cajoling a whole political party into a condonation of his offence. But there seems to be no way of preventing it. The Government is in sore need of all the aid it can get, and we may take comfort in the reflection that there is a good time coming. The next High Commissioner will be apt to do a little more for his country and a little less for himself.

THE death of Hon. Senator Murphy at Montreal marks the eleventh vacancy in the Senate. There is possibly one Senatorship that Hon. Sir Mackenzie Bowell has not promised, as the late Senator died very suddenly Thursday morning.

THE United States hugs the Monroe doctrine mania fondly still. It would be just as foolish for any European monarch to reverse the doctrine and to insist that no republics should be allowed in monarchical Europe.

ANOTHER promise—Hon. Mr. [illegible] says that the vacancy in the Montreal Customs' Collectorship, which has been vacant over three years, will be filled before the dawn of the New Year. We have had a pretty liberal supply of similar promises for some time.

"ME, too," says Mr. Willoughby, the government candidate in Cardwell. Like Mr. McGillivray in North Ontario, he can't tell what he thinks of remedial legislation till he sees the measure when parliament meets. Hon. Clarke Wallace, who is the high priest of Orangism, is in the same boat. He, too, will wait till he sees the bill before he forms an opinion. The party lash must have been laid on pretty sharply.

BY the way when does the Government propose to hold the bye-election to fill the vacant department of agriculture in the in the Cabinet? In Cardwell all the government speakers took the farmers to their hearts and assure them that the government existed solely for the benefit of the farmers. Yet the farmers interests in the cabinet are left for months to look out for themselves—there being no Minister of Agriculture. If the government would be content with a capable farmer for the position the place could be easily filled. The portfolio, it seems, has been offered to every other supporter of the Government in Quebec except a farmer.

SCARE IN THE FRENCH CHAMBER.

A Man Fired a Revolver But Nobody Was Hurt—He Was Arrested.

Paris, Dec. 6.—Just at the time of the closing of business in the Chamber of Deputies to-day a man in the public gallery fired two shots from a revolver. His shots were not directed toward anyone, but merely fired in the air. The offender was promptly arrested.

The shots created a sensation for a moment, but matters quieted down when it was discovered that they were harmless and evidently not fired with the intention of doing harm to anybody.

CHINA'S INTERNAL STRIFE.

Report That Russia Would be Willing to Help Her Out if Requested.

Paris, Dec. 6.—A despatch from St. Petersburg to The Eclair says it is reported there that China has asked Russia whether the Russian Government would be willing, if requested to do, to send an army corps to help suppress the rebellion in North China. It is represented that the rebellion is spreading daily. The rebels have already overrun the province of Kan Su and captured its capital, Lan Chu Fu, taking 2000 prisoners and seizing 30 guns, together with a large quantity of provisions, ammunition, etc.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and, stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring you perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them, forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

Scrofulous Symptoms

Are tumors, abscesses, sore eyes, eruptions and obstinate skin diseases. Burdock Blood Bitters cures all blood diseases, from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. In all cases of this nature where the skin is broken and sores or ulcers exist, the outward application of B. B. B., deluted with water if necessary, and applied on soft linen cloths is recommended to insure a perfect cure.

OAK HALL

PETERBOROUGH.

JOHN MOFFATT, Manager.

The Imperturbable Hotelkeeper.

I once witnessed in a hotel a perfect commotion started by an Englishman who had dared express his dissatisfaction at the way he was treated. He was in the hall. "This is the worst managed hotel I have ever been in," he exclaimed to the clerk. "Where is the proprietor? I should like to speak to him." The proprietor was in the hall, thoroughly enjoying the scene. He was pointed out to the guest by the clerk. The Englishman, excited and angry, went up to the proprietor.

"Is it you who are running this house?" he asked.

"Well," said the proprietor, with his cigar in his mouth and his hands in his pockets, "I thought I was—till you came."

The Englishman looked at him, turned back, paid his bill and departed.—Max O'Rell in North American Review.

Hood's is Wonderful.

No less than wonderful are the cures accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla, even after other preparations and physicians prescriptions have failed. The reason, however is simple. When the blood is enriched and purified, disease disappears and good health returns, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

HIS FACE WAS RAW.

THE TERRIBLE SUFFERING OF MR. JOHN VANAXAN.

Working as a Moulder Excessive Heat Caused Large Water Blisters to Break out on his Face—An Attack of Sciatica Also Added to the Agony he Endured.

From the Brockville Recorder.

Mr. John Vanaxan, now a resident of Merrickville, is well and favourably known to many people in Brockville, having been at one time a resident of the "Island City." To your correspondent Mr. Vanaxan recently told an interesting story of his release from a trouble which had made his life miserable for years. "I was born at Perth 43 years ago" said Mr. Vanaxan "and when 14 years of age removed with my parents to Merrickville where I learned the trade of an iron moulder. After working at my trade for several years I went to the States where I continued to live for a number of years. Returning to Canada, I, with my family, settled down in Brockville, where I lived about a year. Last March I once more moved to Merrickville and am now working at my trade every day. About five years after I commenced working at the moulding business, my face broke out with what is best described as a rash and this would break out into large water blisters every time we took off a cast, caused by the excessive heat, and when those broke they were terribly painful. This kept my face raw nearly all the time. I consulted a number of physicians both in the States and Canada, who prescribed for it, but they did me no good and for years my suffering in this way went on. Then to make matters worse I was taken with sciatica in my left hip. Year in and year out I was a constant sufferer from this disease. I consulted a number of physicians for this trouble who prescribed but the pain never left me. Last spring my hip became so bad that I had to quit work owing to my leg giving out, and this continued for several weeks. Shortly after I was laid up friends advised me strongly to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills but I had about lost faith in all medicine, I had tried so many different kinds with no effect, but to please my friends I got a half dozen boxes and commenced their use according to directions. After using four boxes I found the sciatic pains had almost ceased and although a slight rash was still discernable on my face it was unaccompanied with the usual water blisters. I used four more boxes, and still occasionly take a pill, and although working at my trade every day, I have not since had a single twinge in my hip and the rash has entirely disappeared from my face. When I first commenced to use the pills I weighed 131 pounds, I now weigh 152 pounds and am gaining in health and flesh all the time. need not say that I feel grateful. I feel deeply thankful to the friends who advised me to try this wonderful medicine and I freely give permission to publish this statement hoping it may induce some other sufferer to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2 50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

An Ottawa Lady Had No Hope, but Kootenay Came to the Rescue.

Ottawa, Aug. 7th, 1895.

S. S. Ryckman, M. P.:

Dear Sir,—I cannot find words to express to you my gratitude for the services your Kootenay Cure has done me. I had been treated by the best physicians in Ottawa for rheumatism, but they told me that my case was so complicated, my trouble having originated from la grippe, that any relief they could give would only be temporary. Just at this time I heard of your remedy, and you were kind enough to call on me. I had very little hope of relief at first, the rheumatism having settled in my muscles, and almost destroyed my nerves. However I determined to try once more, and began to take your medicine, and in my case, physically speaking, old things have passed away and all things have become new. I can now go anywhere unaided. My nerves are as strong as ever they were in my life, and no change in the atmosphere has any effect on me now. I cannot thank you enough, but write this so that some other sufferer may read it and seek relief. You can refer any person to me at my residence, 199 Albert street, Ottawa, and I shall be only too happy to give them any information in my power. Yours gratefully,

Port Perry Looking Up.

Pickering News.

Port Perry has what promises to be a lively libel suit between Messrs. R. Spence and A. Soper. It appears Mr. Soper, at a recent revival meeting in the Methodist Church there, asked for the prayers of the members for his next-door neighbor to the west of him, saying he had not gone home sober in eighteen months. Mr. Spence placed the matter in Lawyer Yarnold's hands and an apology is asked of Mr. Soper. What the outcome will be is eagerly looked for.

Canadian Novelist Married.

New York, Dec. 6.—Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist, was married last night to Miss Vantine, daughter of the late A. A. Vantine, whose business success as an importer of Chinese and Japanese goods made him famous. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, 153 West Fifty-seventh-street, and was witnessed by relatives only. A reception, however, followed the wedding. Recently Mr. Parker has been residing in England. A few weeks ago he came over to claim his bride, and after a short honeymoon in this country the couple will sail back to England.

Bribery Punished in England.

Southampton, Dec. 6.—After consideration of a petition lodged against the election of Mr. Tankerville Chamberlyne, Independent Conservative, to represent Southampton in the House of Commons, upon the ground that electors were bribed by agents acting in Mr. Chamberlayne's interest, who paid their railway fares to induce them to vote for him, the election judges have declared Mr. Camberlayne's seat vacant, and writs will be issued for a new election.

Judson Harmon's Maiden Report.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The maiden report of Judson Harmon, as Attorney-General, containing a review of the operations of the Department of Justice for the last fiscal year, was laid before Congress to-day. It treats at length of the business of the Supreme Court of the United States, and recommends that, except in capital cases, appeals in criminal matters should not be taken to the Supreme Court.

State of California Gone to Capetown

London, Dec. 6.—The British steamer State of California, which has been plying between Glasgow and New York, left London to-day for Capetown. It has been rumored that the State of California has been bought by Japan.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour

The Hog Cholera Scare.

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 6.—Farmer Powell of Colchester South, fed offal to his pigs and some of them died. Dr. Golden, Government Live Stock Inspector, was looking into the case the other day and this was what gave rise to the alarming reports regarding the prevalence of hog cholera.

Mr. Lecky Gets the Seat.

Dublin, Dec. 6.—The polling in the election to fill the Parliamentary seat for Dublin University, made vacant by the elevation of Right Hon. David R. Plunkett to the peerage, has closed with the result of returning Mr. W. E. H. Lecky, the historian (Liberal-Unionist), by a vote of 1758 to 1008 cast for Mr. Wright (Conservative).

Dumas Was Wealthy

Paris, Dec. 6.—It is reported that Alexander Dumas left a fortune of 3,000,000 francs.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Remarkable results have been obtained from the use of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophites in cases of emaciation associated with bronchial irritation and cough. The efficacy of cod liver oil in this class of affections has long been conceded, and combined as it is in this preparation with the hypopophosphites (which affords a valuable stimulus to the nervous system) and with maltine (itself a food and reconstructive of the greatest value), its usefulness is vastly increased. Furthermore, by the action of maltine starchy foods are more easily digested and in larger quantities, affording additional nourishment for the replacement of the waste of the body and for reconstructive purposes. If you are now using cod liver oil or any of the emulsions of this agent, weigh yourself, use Maltine for two weeks and observe the results. You will have gained both weight and strength, and relief from cough, bronchial irritation, and the distress these occasion.

The Way We Sell Boots and Shoes

Is remarkable enough to be told about and repeatedly emphasized. There are lots of stores with handsomer appointments, and lots of them swinging mor style, but when it comes to downright good shoes at downright low prices we lead the trade. You buy them for just what they are, without any falsehood or exaggeration. The newest styles the most complete range of sizes, and the finest qualities are here as you want them. No one can afford to do any fooling or show an indifference at this season of the year as to the quality and character of the footwear worn. Our shoes are solidified samples of success, both in the quality of every pair we offer and in the prices.

There's Nothing We Like Better Than to SAVE YOU MONEY!

It's as good as a gold mine to us, this being able to mark prices below the average. People find it out and come and keep coming. There is absolutely no limit to the trade we can get, with values leaning your way as they are now.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators, and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. HONOURABLY DISCHARGED.

Mr. George Moncrief Cleared on the Preliminary Hearing Yesterday.

The preliminary hearing of Mr. George Moncrief, on a charge of poisoning a cow belonging to Mrs. Scollie, was conducted before the County Magistrate, yesterday afternoon, with the result that the prisoner was discharged and freed from all suspicion.

Not the slightest tittle of evidence was adduced showing Mr. Moncrief to be connected with the death of the cow, in any manner, nor was it brought out what possible reason he would have in committing such an act.

Great stress had been laid by the prosecution on the evidence of the witness Jakeman, who was said to have seen Moncrief in the field with the cow, holding her by the horns. When in the box Mr. Jakeman stated that the prisoner had been visiting him one day, when he told him of the strange sickness of the cow, which had then been ailing for over three weeks. When Mr. Moncrief left for home, before going home he walked down to the field to have a look at the animal. This was the extent of Mr. Jakeman's evidence, and as the Veterinary Surgeon, who made the post mortem, was not in a position to say that poison had ever been administered, the charge was dismissed and Mr. Moncrief honourably discharged.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown and Mr. E. B. Stone for the defense.

FIRE IN THE SOUTH END.

Mr. James Loudon's Residence Destroyed Early This Morning.

The members of the Fire Brigade had to tumble up at an unseemly hour, this morning, for the first time in many months, as recently all the fires have occurred during business hours and the majority of them at noon.

The alarm, this morning, however, rang out at about five o'clock and the hose wagon and hook and ladder truck went dashing down Park street, where the rear portion of the residence of Mr. James Loudon, 101 Park street, was seen to be in flames.

The blaze quickly spread to the kitchen and from there effected a lodgement between the brickwork and the sheeting of the main building, the house being of veneered structure. Great difficulty was experienced in getting at the seat of the flames and the whole of the brickwork in the rear wall had to be pulled down, and also the sheeting from the inside before the last spark was extinguished. The house was badly wrecked by the flames and will have to be almost entirely rebuilt. Mr. Loudon is very unfortunate, having been burnt out about two years ago.

The property is owned by Mr. Loudon and the loss is fully covered by insurance —$800 on building in the Royal and $800 on furniture in the Guardian.

DAVID LEONARD'S RELATIVES.

Who are They and Where do They Live?—News of Them is Wanted in Sudbury.

The Mayor received a telegram this morning from Sudbury, asking him to notify David Leonard's relatives in Peterborough of his death and inquiring as to the disposal of the remains.

The name does not appear in the directory, the police know nothing whatever of such a family, and a telegram to this effect will be sent to Sudbury unless some further information develops during the afternoon.

School children admitted for 15c.; general admission, 35c.; reserved seats, 50c. Plan of hall at Sailsbury's Bookstore. 1d

Just a Year Ago To-day.

SATURDAY, Dec. 7, 1895.

We started in business in Peterborough just a year ago to-day, and when we remember the pleasant associations, the cordial support and the extreme patronage so freely bestowed upon us by the good citizens of this go-ahead town, we cannot help returning our heartfelt thanks.

The occasion calls forth our gratitude to all our numerous patrons for favours already bestowed; and as the happy season of "good-will to men" approaches, we hope to be able not only to cater to their present holiday wants, but to merit a continuance of their favours in the year to come.

In expectation of a rousing trade during the short period that intervenes between now and Christmas, we have just received a car load of new fruit. It consists of new Almerina grapes, Jamaica and Valentia oranges, Messina lemons, Hallowee dates, nectarines, apricots, new walnuts, almonds and filberts, and very fancy and choice pears and peaches. Lemons, 3 doz for 25c.

Another car load of new fruit ordered.

THE COMING CHILDREN'S AID CONCERT.

Some Notes of What the Programme will Offer and of the Performers.

The plan of the concert in aid of the Children's Aid Society's poor children fund opens for subscribers on Monday morning at Sailsbury's. On Thursday and Friday it will be open to the public. As the concert is of the highest class the expenses are necessarily heavy. M. LeSimple, formerly a member of the King's orchestra, occupies a chair in the Royal Academy of Music, London, England. In Toronto his playing has aroused the greatest enthusiasm. His 'cello was once in the possession of King Oscar of Sweden, from whom it went to Germany. Its tone is perfect. Mr. Harold Jarvis, gold medalist of the Royal Academy, has no superior as a concert tenor in the world. On the occasion of the recent St. Andrew's celebration at Montreal he was brought from Detroit to give his famous rendering of "Scots Wha Hae." Of Mr. Dunn, M. LeSimple says that he possesses an exceedingly fine voice. With such a list in solo and duet an evening of rare enjoyment is assured. Mrs. Dunn is the accompanists. The piano engaged is a Williams special. The concert will begin punctually at 8.15. By general request the doors will be closed during the rendition of each number. The sale of tickets has been large: The following numbers will comprise the programme:

M. LeSimple's numbers are:

I (a) "Romance de Concert".....Franchomme
(b) Spinning Wheel.....Popper
II Village Scenes.....LeSimple
(a) Evening Bells.
(b) Prayer.
(c) Dance.
(d) "Good Night."
III (a) Love Song.....Goltermann
(b) Gavotte humoristique.....Squire

Mr. Dunn's numbers are:

I "Judith" from "Beneath the Ramparts"....Concone
II The Toreador from "Carmen".....Bizet
III My Dreams.....Goatie

By some mischance Mr. Jarvis's songs have not arrived in time for this notice. He will sing, however, amongst other songs, a duet with Mr. Dunn, "After the Fray," "Sots Wha Hae," and a selection from sacred drama.

A NORWOOD BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

Mrs. O'Neil Sues Ex-Reeve Finlay for Breach of Promise of Marriage—Five Thousand Dollars Damages Claimed.

To-day Mr. G. J. Sherry, solicitor for Mrs. O'Neil, Norwood, issued a writ of summons out of the office of the Registrar of the High Court of Justice, against Mr. John Finlay, ex reeve of Norwood, and senior member of the firm of Finlay & Son, manufacturers, claiming $5,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. Mrs. O'Neil is the widow of Mr. O'Neil, the late customs collector at Campbellford, and has been a resident of Norwood for some time, where she is supporting her family by teaching music. She claims that shortly after Mr. Findlay became a widower, through the defendant's persuasions, she abandoned the teaching of music, and retired into private life, with the understanding that within a reasonable time she should become defendant's wife, and that specific promises of marriage were made. Mr. Finlay's marriage, to the widow of the late Dr. Scott, which took place in November, convinced Mrs. O'Neil that the defendant could not, of course keep, his promise of marriage to her, and she now seeks for damages for breach of promise and for loss of time involved in her relinquishing a lucrative profession under the inducements of marriage held out by the defendant. The plaintiff is said to be a widow of refined and comely appearance and is held in respect and esteem in the community where she is known. Mr. Finlay has long been a resident of Norwood, has been a successful manufacturer, and has held so high a place in the esteem of the citizens of Norwood that he was for several terms elected reeve of the village and its representative in the County Council. Mr. Finlay denies the allegations of the plaintiff and a jury will have to decide the question at the coming Spring Assizes.

HAVELOCK ARBITRATION CASE.

Interest in the Award—Cost of the Proceedings.

(The Havelock Standard.)

Now that the award in the Milne vs. Corporation case has been filed in the County Clerk's office, at Peterborough, many are anxious to know the result. On Tuesday the complainant and defendants were notified that the award had been placed in the County Clerk's hands and that the following costs were attached thereto:—Mr. Roxburgh, $74.75; Mr. Brown, $74.75; Mr. Sherry, $155.50; Mr. Alex. Downey, $54.53; stenographer, $54.53 and paper supply, $1.10; a total of $415.16.

Before the award can be made known it will be necessary for either the complainant or defendants to pay the above costs. At the expiration of thirty days, if the award has not been lifted, the costs will be equally divided and each party will be responsible for their share. Up to the time of going to press we have not learned which party will lift the award.

Dublin Porter

Those wishing to avoid malaria and typhoid fever, which is prevailing in town on account of the low water in the river, can do so by drinking "Calcutt's Dublin Porter." Recommended by the medical fraternity to build up the system. Best tonic made; will fatten the leanest of people; only $1 per doz. Telephone No. 98. tf

Wise Old Fellow.

A good tea at any price suited him. He always shut his eyes to the price. He was wiser than some people who imagine ot they do not pay a big figure they cannot get good goods. There are exceptions to all rules. The exception at the present time is a regular forty cent tea for the low price of twenty-five cents. Osh-k-osh is the name. Big sales and steady sales tell it is a good tea. Remember we are selling this 40c. tea for twenty-five cents. 370 George street, Peterborough. Stroud Bros., direct importers. DOWN ON THE SKACYCLE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I was much interested in reading in your paper last night an account of a "skacycle," or a bicycle converted into a vehicle for winter travel. What interested me most, however, was the fact that the machine was peculiarly adapted for travelling on the sidewalk.

After dodging sidewalk bicyclists all summer, the late snow came as a genuine boon to the long-suffering public. We were congratulating ourselves on a respite for a number of months from the nuisance of reckless cyclists, when, alas, along comes this spiked spectre of a skacycle. I, for one, protest against the introduction of such a nerve-distracting, shin-barking machine, and trust that the officers of the Bicycle Club will quietly—yet firmly—"sit on" any of their members who show a tendency to skacycling.

Yours,
X.

DAILY MOTTO.

Saturday, Dec. 7.

The highest relation of man to man is that of companion. God forbid that any of us should pass through suffering and come out of it not only unchastened, but with no tenderer feeling for the whole suffering humanity. It should be the first question with one who in any way suffers. To what service of administering pity am I called?

Pictures, etc.,

At A. Clegg's. A line of pictures very cheap, not much more than half the regular price, and the balance of his stock of window shades in plain, fringed, lace and insertion will be cleared out at cost. Our stock of general furniture is now complete and is one of the largest in Canada; prices lower than ever.—A. CLEGG 427 George street.

"No Good Without the Other."

With us, quality always come first—then price. The one is no good without the other. The dollar for fifty cents absurdity may catch the very credulous, but it is doubtful if they get the fifty cents worth. Only a few minutes inspection of Oak Hall's men's suits, overcoats and ulsters—almost the first you look at—will convince you that our clothing and our prices are right.—OAK HALL.

Austrian Fans

Just received at the Peterborough Book Store direct from Austria, a beautiful selection of real ostrich feather fans, silk fans and artistic hand-painted fans. Shipment of Turkeys to England.

In the carload of turkeys shipped by Messrs. Dundas & Flavelle Bros. of Lindsay, to England last week, there were 2,350 birds, averaging in weight eleven pounds, thus giving an average price of 66c. per turkey in cash, or when trade was taken, 71½c. One hundred and eight was the largest delivery made by any one, this by Mr. Thos. Hickson, of Reaboro; the birds averaging in weight a good 12½ pounds.

Christmas Goods at China Hall.

Nearly 2 car loads of the newest goods in the market have been received at China Hall during the past week, and never in the history of the store has there been such a beautiful display contained within its walls. PERSONAL.

Mr. George A. Cox is in town to-day.

Mr. J. Dillon was over in Lindsay yesterday.

Miss Mercer is visiting Miss Vance, of Millbrook.

Rev. J. J. Rae has quiet recovered from his recent illness.

The Havelock Standard says: Mr. E. J. Laing of Peterborough, was in town on Tuesday.

Miss Clara Kincaid has returned home after a pleasant visit of several months duration in New York.

Mr. W. G. McLean, General Agent of the Great Northern Railway, is in town for a day or two looking up business for his road.

The Napanee Express says: Mr. Fred Beck left for Peterborough on Friday evening last where he has secured a good situation at his trade, baking.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan commenced work in Westwood last night, with a class of forty members. He was surprised to find so many fine voices in a small place.

Mr. Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist, was married the other day in New York, and because at one time in his life he spent a couple of years in Belleville, that city claims him as her son.

The Saturday Globe contains a fine group half tone picture of the High Court Executive officers of the Canadian Order of Foresters. Among these are seen excellent likenesses of Mr. F. J. Jameson, town, a member of the Executive Committee, and Mr. W. M. Graham, of Lakefield, one of the High Court auditors.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

Another Store Enlargement.

Mr. Charles Legros, the live George St. Tobacco dealer has completed arrangements for enlarging his store to twice its usual size, which will necessitate his moving out of his present premises. And having ordered a lot of imported cigars and pipes before he had the intention, and they having come in, his stock will therefore have to be slaughtered. It is therefore necessary for him to clear out his large stock, valued at over $10.000 before moving. His goods consists of 10,000 Diaz y Garcia, 12,000 Manual Garcia, 5,000 Or Loranga, 3,000 Jose Morales, all direct imported cigars from Havanna, 100.000 Domestic cigars, besides the finest lot of B. B. B. pipes there is in Canada. Smoker's sundries too numerous to mention. Don't all come at once. The prices were never equalled in Peterborough before, or never will be again. Don't forget the number, 339 George street.

ANNUAL MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS NOW ON.

THE COUNCILLORS WHO WILL STAND FOR RE-ELECTION.

Short Talks With and About the Candidates for Seats at Next Year's Council Board—The Mayoralty to go to Councillor Cahill.

The electors are just waking up to the fact that the civic elections are almost upon us and, accordingly, the chances of the present board of councillors for re-election are being discussed on every street corner, as well as the probability of a lot of new blood being introduced again this year to assist in the deliberations on matters affecting the corporation.

It is evident that there will be some red-hot canvassing in the wards, and already a number of candidates are soliciting votes and influence.

In order that a fair idea may be gained of the vote which can be polled, a brief resume concerning the number of electors eligible to mark a ballot paper in the coming elections may not be mal apropos.

In No. 1 Ward there are 1,070 electors, but of these 154 can only vote in a parliamentary contest. Of the remainder 692 can vote in both municipal and parliamentary elections, and 224 on municipal questions only.

OF THESE LATTER

the great majority are ladies. There are, therefore, 916 votes which can be cast in this ward. In No. 2 Ward 432 can vote in both parliamentary and municipal elections, 313 in municipal only and 158 in parliamentary only. This makes 743 votes to be canvassed in the forthcoming election. In No. 3, 545 vote in both cases, 221 in municipal matters and 74 on parliamentary questions only, making 766 abiding marks for the canvassers' skill. In Ward No. 4 there are 360 electors who can exercise their franchise in both cases, 160 who can vote only on municipal questions and 77 on the lists as electors in parliamentary elections. Therefore 510 are subjects for a canvasser in the coming elections.

The total number of electors in the town is 3,393 and of these 2,937 will probably be seen and solicited for their vote between now and election day.

The Mayoralty will, the general opinion is, go to Councillor Cahill by acclamation, and a large number think his faithful services in the Council deserve such recognition at the hands of the citizens. Mayor Kendry has stated positively that he will not run again. The names of Dr. Burnham and Councillor Best have both been mentioned in connection with the Chief Magistrate's chair, but neither has any intention of running, although they may be placed in nomination. Either would fill the position admirably, but in view of Councillor Cahill's superior claims will retire. Mr. John Sawers states that a contestant for the seat from No. 3 Ward, and it is even said that the worthy councillor seeks the office himself, on the strength of the record which he has made during the last year as Chairman of the Charity Committee. Be that as it may he cannot be induced to impart his ideas on the subject to anyone as yet, and the probability is that Council lor Cahill will go in without opposition.

WILL BE FORTHCOMING

In No. 1 Ward the retirement of Councillors Cahill and Sproule, leaves only Councillor Best remaining, and he states that he does not intend mixing himself up in municipal affairs again. His friends, however, take an altogether different view of the matter, and next year anticipate that he will again be found directing the management of the town's sewerage matters as capably as he has done in the past. There will be a number of contestants for the other two seats, and amongst them are mentioned the names of Messrs. Harry Winch, Wm. White and Louis Leplante.

In No. two Councillors Phelan and Denne will both be in the field for re-election and as both have taken great interest in municipal matters during the past year and are well into the ways of the work, their friends hope to see their faces again gracing the board of 1896. Councillor Mills states that his business will not allow him to seek re-election next year, particularly as the sewerage schemes and those concerning permanent pavements will require of the members at all council and committee meetings. His place as a candidate will be filled by Councillor Stone, who now lives in that ward and who will again be in the field and who has made a good Chairman of the Court of Revision, and who now has an excellent grasp of municipal business.

Councillor Cobb has had enough of municipal business and says most decidedly that he will never embark in politics of this nature again. There will therefore be a vacancy in No 3 ward to fill. Councillors Dawson and Sawers both intend running again, they say, and great efforts are being made to bring out ex councillors G. M. Roger and W. H. Moore. The contest in this ward, therefore, will be a red hot one. It is said, though it is perhaps a matter of pure speculation, that Messrs. Dawson, Moore and Roger will run on the same ticket and, as there are a couple of dark horses in the field, the canvass would be close indeed.

In No. Four, Councillor Stone's seat will be vacant, as he intends running in No. 2 ward. Councillors Brady and Mason are the only two on the whole board who are undecided. Both, however, are willing to leave the matter to their friends. Mr. Bogue is mentioned as a probable candidate again, and the name of Mr. W. H. Meldrum is suggested as one whose clear head and business ability would be of good service to the town.

Next week will see the candidates marshalling their forces, and doubtless many more new names will be added to those already mentioned. If the Ratepayers' Association had reorganized in the fall it would doubtless have been a strong factor in solving the municipal election problem, but, unfortunately, although in a flourishing condition last winter, the interest in it died out during the summer months and was never revived. It is understood that a strong effort will be made to induce Messrs. R. S. Davidson, Wm. Langford and E. H. D. Hall to allow themselves to be placed in nomination for the council of 1896.

As an emergency medicine, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all other medicines. For the relief and cure of croup, whooping cough, sore throat, and the dangerous pulmonary troubles to which the young are so liable, it is invulnerable, being prompt to act, sure to cure.

ST. JOSEPH'S BAZAAR.

The Beautiful Array of Christmas Gifts Which Have Been Prepared for It.

Yesterday afternoon THE EXAMINER was privileged in obtaining a private view of a portion of the articles which will be sold at the bazaar held in connection with St. Joseph's Hospital, in the Opera House, on December 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st.

The articles are composed of the work of the Sisters or are the gifts of those interested in the advancement of the work in connection with the hospital. This being the case the bazaar will, in reality, be a "cheap sale" and ladies intending making up Christmas presents in fancy work can not do better than abandon such an idea and patronize the bazaar, since, in consequence of so many of the handsome articles being presented to the sisters they can be far cheaper than they could be made up.

One of the features of the bazaar will be that no one will be canvassed for "chances" at it. Those attending will be perfectly at liberty to purchase what they please, without being bothered by a host of eager little workers anxious to sell a ticket for "a chance."

Everything in the way of Christmas presents will be shown at the bazaar, and the exquisite needlework shown in the fancy articles is such as to excite a feeling covetousness, indeed, even when looking over them.

There are the prettiest of doylies and centrepieces, made up in so many ways and styles that no one can leave this department unsuited. Patterns of every description abound in profusion, from the dainty holly leaf worked in silk to the finest and most delicate of drawn work and Honiton lace. Tea-cosies, too, have been made up in every conceivable shade of silk, as are also exquisite little toilet boxes, pin cushions and placques and in fact everything that could possibly be thought of in this line in the way of

for the table and dresser. A firescreen worked by the hands of the Mother Superior of Mount St. Joseph is probably the most delicate and at the same time one of the richest pieces of fancy work which can well be conceived. It would certainly in itself lend a charm to any drawing room.

There are many other things besides fancy work to be placed on sale, and amongst them will be found warm socks, mitts, scarfs and cuffs for both old and young, as well as dresses and suits for children, and a vast quantity of plain and fancy aprons. There are dolls and toys of every description, which have been sent in as gifts by friends of the hospital, so that these too will be sold far cheaper than they can be purchased elsewhere. A beautifully worked line of gentlemen's slippers has been made up expressly for the sale, and these should certainly go off rapidly to the young ladies, as a gentlemen could appreciate nothing more than a dainty pair of these as a Christmas gift.

With such a vast array of suitable presents to pick from at low prices, it is not probable that the ladies of Peterborough will go to the trouble of making up the gifts which they intend to give at Christmas. Having had everything given to them, the committee, as before stated, is enabled to sell the articles at prices cheaper than those for which the material could be bought, and still make a handsome profit.

Christmas Cards and Booklets.

The biggest kind of enthusiasm has started up already in our Christmas Card Department. It's well we made larger preparations and stopped at no expense to get these attractive Cards. Our stock represents the latest results of the most refined artistic taste. No end to the variety—styles to suit all tastes and all purses. Better pick now in order to have the cream of the stock, and, also, to be in time if you are sending far away.

Dolls, Games and Toys.

Enormous stock to choose from, and nothing put there haphazard. We don't buy that way. Keen appreciation of your needs tells us what to get and what not to get. Goods are arranged for easy seeing and buying, but we could use another big store if we had it to spare.

Children's Sleighs.

Young Canada monopolizes a good deal of our store. A large livery of dashing Sleighs, Coasters, Baby Cutters, Rocking Horses, and adjustable runners for Baby Carriages—just the thing for a boy or girl, at all prices.

WOMEN are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. A man doesn't like to get old at all. But worse than getting old, is the appearance of age. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. It promotes the copious secretion of the digestive fluids, and assists in throwing off refuse matter. It makes the appetite good and the digestion strong. It isn't a violent medicine. It isn't strong medicine. It does nothing but good to every portion of the body. It doesn't do harm in one place while it is helping another place. It is meant to help the whole body and it does help it. Whenever a man feels himself failing in health, when he feels that he is getting old too fast, that his vitality is low, and that he is losing flesh, he should waste no time in getting the "Golden Medical Discovery." It will build up quicker than anything else in the world. It will give him rich blood and solid flesh. It will make him feel half as old and twice as strong. Druggists sell it.

Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," in Plain Language, tells all about the "Golden Medical Discovery," and is a complete family doctor book, profusely illustrated. It will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUDS AND FLOWERS OF HOME LIFE.

The Little Ones Should be Healthy, Hearty and Happy.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND "MAKES THE CHILDREN WELL."

A FATHER'S LETTER.

The children, God bless them, are the buds and flowers of home life. They should ever be carefully tended in childhood and youth, if we expect them to ripen into perfect men and women.

In the home and at school, the children have their times of ill-health and suffering. We often note the pallid and bloodless cheeks, heavy eyes, nervous movements and twitchings of limbs and muscles. They complain of headache, drowsiness, weariness, dyspepsia and indigestion. All such symptoms and ailments mean that the seeds of disease will have a fast and firm hold, unless proper measures are taken to restore a perfect condition of health. Headache and nervous affections are terribly prevalent in the ranks of the little ones to-day. Chorea or St. Vitus Dance, is now a very common trouble.

Thousands of wise and prudent parents have made their children happy, healthy and vigorous by giving them nature's medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. In many severe and critical cases, Paine's Celery Compound has given a new life when children were given up by physicians.

Mothers! fathers! read the following letter from Mr. D. R. Pridham, of Amherst, N.S., whose child was cured by the medicine now so strongly recommended for your dear children:

"It is with profound gratitude that I now give you my opinion of your valuable remedy, so well known as Paine's Celery Compound.

"About five years ago my daughter's health became so impaired, that we felt very anxious concerning her. She complained of severe pains in the left side, also on the top of her head and in spine. The pains gradually got worse until she lost control of her limbs; we even found that her speech was affected.

"We consulted several skilled physicians; they pronounced it Chorea or St. Vitus Dance. The doctors prescribed various remedies for three years without affording any relief. She was so badly affected that she could not eat or sleep, she could not put a cup to her mouth at her will.

"After all other resources were exhausted, I was advised by a friend to try Paine's Celery Compound. I resolved to give it a test, and immediately purchased five bottles, and began to give it to my daughter according to directions. As soon as the fourth bottle was finished, I was agreeably surprised to notice a marked change for the better; so I continued with the Compound and she rapidly improved. When the fifth bottle was done, she was in perfect health, and as far as I could see, completely cured. She has taken no medicine for four months, and goes to school regularly. Many thanks for your valuable remedy, Paine's Celery Compound."

—The Brockville Times says:—"It does not always pay to go to law with a corporation, even though a favourable verdict may be obtained. A litigant who secured judgment against a certain town for the sum of $300, is said to have received just $2.50 in cash after the lawyers were satisfied." The Times might have added that the citizen had to contribute his share of the costs by way of taxes, resulting from litigation designed to keep him out of what he concerns to be his rights.

THE SULTAN YIELDS

THE BRITISH EMBASSY GUARDED

Reasons Why Said Pasha Fled to the British Consulate—Feared He Would be Made a Prisoner—Revolver Scare in the French Chamber—General Cable News.

London, Dec. 6.—A despatch to The Central News says that the Sultan has decided to consent to each of the powers having a second guardship at Constantinople.

THE CONCERT BROKEN.

Russia and France Said to Have Cut Loose From the Other Powers.

London, Dec. 6.—A despatch from Rome to The Pall Mall Gazette says: It is freely stated in diplomatic circles here that Russia and France have withdrawn from the concert of the powers in the European policy toward Turkey and efforts are now being made to convene a conference of the European powers in Vienna.

It's Not True.

London, Dec. 7.—Official information has been received stating that the report that France and Russia had withdrawn from the European concert relative to Turkey is wholly unfounded.

The Sultan Demands Said.

Constantinople, Dec. 6.—The Porte has made a demand upon the British Embassy for the surrender of Said Pasha, President of the Council of State and formerly Grand Vizier, who has taken refuge in the embassy because he feared arrest, if nothing worse, if he complied with the Sultan's command that he reside in the palace. The demand has been refused by Sir Philip Currie, British Ambassador, and Said Pasha is still under the protection of the embassy.

The former Governor of Hadjin, who while occupying that post a few weeks ago threatened to burn the Christian convent at that place, has been promoted to the more important post of Governor of Tarsus.

British Embassy Surrounded.

London, Dec. 6.—The Standard will to-morrow publish a despatch from Constantinople saying that the British Embassy is surrounded by strong patrols. The despatch adds that it would require columns to explain the circumstances that led to Said Pasha's seeking refuge in the Embassy and the possible consequences of his step, but that it is sufficient to say that he was lately invited to resume the Grand Vizierate and that on his refusal he was imprisoned for a week in a tower within the precincts of the Yildiz Palace. It is obvious that the reasons inducing him to take the grave step must have been most imperative, since by seeking foreign protection he renders his life worthless should he quit the Embassy, except with an English escort, for the purpose of embarking on a foreign ship. The fact that the favorite of the whole Turkish nation as opposed to the palace clique has chosen the British Embassy for a refuge, gives Sir Philip Currie an advantage that he would be foolish to let slip without fully profiting thereby. The nearest parallel to the present incident was when Sir A. Layard, in Madrid, dressed Marshal Serrano as a lacquey and drove with him in his own carriage. If the present incident is adroitly turned it may end once for all the miserable palace regime.

Said Pasha's Flight

London, Dec. 6.—The representative of the United Press in Constantinople, telegraphing under yesterday's date, gives some details of the flight of Said Pasha from the Yildiz Palace and his seeking refuge at the British Embassy. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning Tewfik Pasha, who was formerly Turkish Ambassador to Germany, but who is now Minister of Foreign Affairs, a post held a short time ago by Said Pasha, called on Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, and sought to prevail upon him to refuse Said Pasha the hospitality of the Embassy. It was evident that the Sultan was anxious to have Said Pasha driven from his place of refuge, so that he might be compelled by force, if necessary, to take up his residence in the Yildiz Palace, which, it is generally believed, even by Said Pasha himself, would be simply a preliminary to his imprisonment or something worse. Tewfik Pasha was unable to convince Sir Philip Currie that it was the proper thing to place Said Pasha in a position where the Sultan, if he were so disposed, could wreak vengeance upon him, but he diplomatically refrained from giving a flat refusal to Tewfik's request. He told the Foreign Minister that Said Pasha was not willing to leave the Embassy at present, and as he was his guest it would be against every rule of hospitality and courtesy to ask him to leave. Tewfik Pasha then retired to convey to his royal master the answer of the British Ambassador.

The representative of the United Press says that the Ambassadors of the several powers, at a meeting held by them Thursday afternoon, lengthily discussed the position of affairs. What decision, if any, was arrived at, is not known, but after the meeting the opinion was freely expressed by officials of all the Embassies that the climax of the crisis was near, and that decisive action by the powers might soon be looked for. None of the officials would commit himself to a definite statement as to what form this action would take.

None Better Known.

There is no better known traveller in the Maritime Provinces than Mr. Fred Anderson, the popular representative of Messrs. T. S. Simms & Co., St. John, N. B. Speaking of Norway Pine Syrup, Mr. Anderson says: "It is the best cough cure I have ever used and I prefer it to any other. I have given it to friends of mine and it cures every time. It would be a difficult matter now to induce me to use any other."

The First Boy Born in Chicago.

Alexander Beaubien doesn't look much like the proverbial oldest inhabitant, but he has the honor of that position in Chicago's circle of early settlers. Beaubien is literally a part of Chicago. His father, John B. Beaubien, came to the lake town in 1809, accompanied by a brother, Mark. They had been reared in Detroit, and made the change of location that they might deal with the Indians here for the American Fur Trade Company, John Jacob Astor's concern. John B. Beaubien took up a tract of land extending from the lake west to what is now State street, respectively. His wife was Josette Le Fronbois, a half-Indian, and the couple had eleven children. Alexander Beaubien is the oldest of the five that still live, and he will be 74 years old January 23 next.

"There are five members of my family still alive," said Mr. Beaubien. "The youngest is my brother, William S. Beaubien, who has been here fifty-nine years without ever leaving the confines of this city. Mrs. Keenan claims to be the first white child born in Chicago, having first seen the light of day within the picket lines of Fort Dearborn February 14, 1832," continued Mr. Beaubien. "This would make her also the oldest woman settler living at the present time, but I claim both honors for my sister, Mrs. Ellen M. Robinson, who was born in 1825. Between her and Mrs. Keenan there is also another sister, Mrs. Maragret Robinson who was born in Chicago early in 1828."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Lungs Closed Up.

GENTS,—In the early part of the winter I caught a bad cold followed by a severe cough. I could not sleep as my lungs seemed closed up. I could walk only a few yards without stopping to get breath. I sent for Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion and before I had finished the third bottle the cough was gone—I could breathe freely and felt like a new man. I advise all sufferers from coughs, colds or asthma, to give your Emulsion a trial.

who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. DEATH OF SENATOR MURPHY.

Fell on the Street and Only Lived a Short Time—Montreal News.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—Hon Edward Murphy, senator of the Dominion, is dead and in his death Montreal has lost one of her first citizens. This morning shortly before 10 the Senator left his residence in Dorchester-street, to walk down to business. At the corner of Beaver Hall Hill he was overtaken by Mr. A. F. Gault, who asked his old friend to get in the sleigh, but the Senator said he was going to St. Patrick's Presbytery and proceeded on his way. Less than three minutes later he staggered and fell, and Col. Barr, who was passing, ran to Mr. Murphy's assistance and had him taken into the priest's house at St. Patrick's Church. Rev. Father Toupin at once administered the last rites of the Catholic church, and shortly after Mrs. Murphy had been summoned her husband passed away.

A French-Canadian writes a very encouraging letter to Le Monde of this city from Morinville. In speaking of the crops, he says: "Our threshing is over and the returns are quite satisfactory. For my part, I have 520 bushels of grain. Mr. Lavalle has 550 bushels, Mr. Hittenger 2500, Emanuel Rivest 800, Lomer Gouin 900 bushels, Tancrede Gibeau 550 bushels, Delphin Morin 500 bushels. These are the returns as far as my nearest neighbors are concerned, and the other settlers of Morinville have reaped in the same proportion, so you see we have every reason to be satisfied with the result. In the parish of St. Jean Baptiste some 4000 bushels of grain have been grown and about the same quantity of vegetables. Tell all the friends of the province of Quebec who deplore our condition, that we would on no account return to the worn out lands, work all the year for the benefit of the money-lenders, and in the end see our children leaving the country for the United States. The Pearce mill is in full operation and has a capacity of 75 bushels an hour, and you have no idea how glad we are to have a saw and flour mill in the parish."

The correspondent also adds that the loss in Morinville caused by the late fire was greatly exaggerated; that of St. Jean Baptiste being only $300.

An old lady named Cadieux, aged 89 living in St. Andre-street, was so badly burned to-day by the explosion of a lamp that she will probably die.

GERVAIS PRAISED AND BLAMED.

The Peculiar Way the French Have of Punishing Their Officials

London, Dec. 5.—A Paris despatch to The Globe says that the court of inquiry investigating the circumstances of the recent grounding of the French warships Formidable, Admiral Courbet and the Admiral Baudin, in the Mediterranean, has congratulated Admiral Gervais for his temerity in attempting the manoeuvre with his flagship, the Formidable, which was the principal cause of the vessels going ashore, believing that it would prove to be of great benefit in actual warfare. The court censured the admiral, however, for not having taken into consideration all the possibilities of the manoeuvres. The court also reprimands the navigators of Admiral Baudin and Admiral Courbet for not maintaining proper distances thereby contributing to the disaster.

STILL MORE BUTCHERY.

And Turkish Troops Were the Butchers—Russian Warships Gathering.

London, Dec. 5.—A correspondent at Constantinople telegraphs under yesterday's date, that in the massacre which occurred at Marash on Nov. 18, the killing, pillaging and burning was done by the Turkish troops alone. There was absolutely no uprising of the inhabitants and no violence whatever, except on the part of the military. The people massacred were powerless to defend themselves and fell like sheep before the swords and guns of the soldiers.

A massacre has also taken place at Filleh, near the city of Tokat.

It is now learned that in the massacre that took place at Kaisarea on Nov. 30, 200 persons were killed.

Russian Warships Gathering.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—A despatch from St. Petersburg to The Cologne Gazette says it is reported there that seven warships and nine torpedo boats, forming the armed reserve of the Black Sea fleet, are anchored at Sebastopol. It is asserted in naval circles in St. Petersburg that a month ago, when Russia assumed that Great Britain might enter the Hellespont alone, orders were sent to Sebastobol to arm the vessels, raise their crews to the full complement of men, and hold the fleet in readiness to sail upon 24 hours' notice.

BARBER, KENNEDY TROUBLE.

Toronto Business Circles a Good Deal Stirred Up Over It

Toronto, Dec. 6.—The failure of Messrs. Samson, Kennedy & Company, wholesale drygoods merchants of this city, was the sole topic of conversation among the large dealers of the city yesterday. At first it was believed that the embarrassment was not serious, and that but little time would suffice to place the firm on a footing where its business could continue, but as the day wore on and the facts connected with the suspension of payment by the firm became more generally known, it came to be regarded as a fact that the winding up of the business which has grown up with Toronto during the past decade would be deemed necessary, when the firm's creditors have had an opportunity to figure on the statements, and the codition of the remaining stock, now being prepared by the clerks at the warehouse, under the supervision of Mr. Fred Kennedy, junior member of the firm.

The extent of the liabilities of Samson, Kennedy & Co. is, naturally, difficult to determine. Even the heads of the firm are not in a position to make any positive statement on the matter, and, as Mr. Fred Kennedy remarked to a World representative last night, it would not be possible to discuss the situation with any degree of correctness until after a meeting of the creditors, which may occur to-day; in the meantime, the gentleman added, that all statements touching upon the firm's financial standing are fabrications and the tales of street newsmongers.

A Family Bereavement.

An industrious rustic went into his stable one spring morning and discovered his faithful mule in the agonies of death, he having overfed himself the night previous.

"Here's a state of things," exclaimed the disgusted peasant. "All winter long you do nothing but feed and feed at my expense, and when spring comes, and it is time to do a little plowing, you get out of it by giving up the ghost."

The dying mule raised his head and said, in a feeble voice:

"Since you are such an ass you should regard my death as a family bereavement," after which his spirit took its flight.—Texas Sifting.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for.

They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps overeating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question: What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves, that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

CUBAN REBELS WHIPPED.

The English Officers With the Spanish Troops Behaved Valorously.

Havana, Dec. 5.—On Dec. 2, the Spanish columns under the command of Gens. Suarez Valdez and Navarro, numbering 1250 men combined, had an engagement with the united insurgent forces of Maximo Gomes and Maceo, which have formed a juncture in Riforma, between Las Villas and Camaguey. The rebels, who were 4000 strong, lost a large number of killed and wounded.

The Spanish troops captured the rebel camp and pursued the insurgents to Trilladeros.

Special mention is made of the valorous conduct of the English officers, Lieut. Winston Churchill, son of the late Lord Randolph Churchill, and Lieut. Barnes, who recently joined the Spanish forces in Cuba.

Could not get Insured.

Rejected by Straight Line and Mutual Companies.

But now Insured in both.

"Should I die while I am in a position to pay my insurance premiums, my family will owe their support to Scott's Sarsaparilla. Two years ago I applied to two companies for insurance, $1000 in each. My face was a mass of pimply blotches and my urine did not stand the test. One doctor in examining me said I could not pass, but that my trouble was curable. He advised an alterative medicine, and I commenced taking Scott's Sarsaparilla. Both companies rejected me, but four months later, after I had taken five bottles of your remedy I am thankful to say both accepted me as a risk—one being a stock company, the other a mutual. The examiner who previously examined me, remarked "I never saw such a change in any man." This is indorsed by Mr. J. Todd, the popular druggist, corner Queen and Crawford Streets, Toronto.

Scott's Sarsaparilla builds up debilitated constitutions, imparts strength, vigor and vitality, clears and purifies the blood. It cures skin diseases, rheumatism, gout, indigestion and all complaints arising from poor or poisoned blood. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XLI.

Singers of the Dominion.

Our Canadian poets are intensely national. It is of Canada they sing, her woods and valleys green, her rugged mountains and her rolling prairies, her inland seas and her rushing rivers, her people and her story, of the old days when Canada was only a hunting ground for the scattered tribes of the red men, long ere Jacques Cartier reared on Mont Royal the Fleur de Lis and Cross of the old French Regime, when brave hearts left the pleasant land of France to enter into the unknown land and possess it, of the long death struggle between the French and English, which terminated on the Plains of Abraham, where the lion beneath his deadly paw trod the gay lilies down, of the troubled days when the English Colonies to the South renounced their allegiance to the mother country over the sea, when loyal hearts and true who could not breathe beneath an alien flag, left the land of their father and hewed out for themselves new homes in the forests of the north; of the days when England stood alone against the world and French and English Canadians forgetting seed time and harvest, beat their plough shares into swords, their reaping hooks into spears and marched to the border to repel the invader, of that great day when Canada awoke a band of scattered colonies no more.

"But a young nation with her life full beating in her breast,
A noble future in her eyes, the Britain of the West."

But it is not alone of the glories of the past her poets sing, while the future stands with smiling face bearing gifts in her hands. From down by the eastern sea Charles G. D. Roberts sings:

"Awake; my country, the hour of dreams is done.
Doubt not, nor dread the greatness of thy fate;
Tho faint souls fear the keen confronting sun,
And fain would bid the morn of splendor wait,
Tho' dreamers wrapt in starry visions cry,
Lo! yon thy future, yon thy faith, thy fame,
And stretch vain hands to stars, thy fame is nigh,
Here in Canadian hearth and home and name,
This name which yet shall grow
Till all the nations know
Us for a patriot people, heart and hand
Loyal to our native earth, our own Canadian land."

* * * *

Out of the far West:

"Voices are calling where silence hath been,
Look to thy future, thou mother of men."

Canada's poets are near to nature's heart. They have gone to the God of the wood to bring his word unto man. One of the great souls gone has given this message to the poet: "O, poet thou shalt leave the world and know the muse only. Thou shalt lie close hid with nature and cans't not be afforded to the capitol or the exchange. The world is full of renunciations and apprenticeships and this is thine; that thou must pass for a fool and a churl for a long season. This is the screen and sheath in which "Pan" has protected his well beloved flower. Thou shalt be known only to thine own and they shall console thee with tenderest love." It is from such a communion with nature that Carmen and Lampman gather their inspiration.

In "Low Tide on Grand-Pre" Carmen sings:

"And that we took into our hands
Spirit of life or subtler thing,
Breathed on us there and loosed the bands
Of death and taught us whispering
The secret of some wonder-thing."

Carmen is something of a mystic. He is the most subtle of our poets. He seeks in nature the secret meaning in her deeds; the unseen things. He passionately prays:

"Lord of my heart's elation,
Thou breath of things unseen,
Be thou my aspiration,
Consuming and serene."

His "Little Lyrics of Joy," which have appeared from time to time during the year in the "Chap Book," are marvels in delicacy of thought and expression. The haunting melody of the following is not easily forgotten:

"Wind and stars be with me now,
And ports of day, good bye,
When my captain, Love, puts out to sea,
His mariner am I."

Carmen does not take us with him into the temple of the God of the Wood. Priest-like he enters into the holy place alone, and the door is closed. Only the message is brought to us. But Lampman takes us by the hand, and we see what he sees and hear what he hears, and his thoughts are ours. Such a lover of nature is he, his sympathy with her is so true that he feels her forces in his blood, and her supreme indifference enters into his being.

"So to the year's first altar step I bring Gifts of meek song, and make my spirit free
With their blind workings of unanxious spring,
Careless with her whether the days which flee,
Pale drought or golden-fruited plenty see,
So that we toil, brothers, without distress
In calm-eyed peace and God-like blamelessness."
"April."

FOR OTHERS' SAKE.

The inspiration of the true missionary is generosity and gratitude.

The impulse of every generous mind is to share its benefits with others.

And this is the most worthy and acceptable thank-offering one can make for any benefit received.

There is a natural feeling of "save us from all such," whenever the least suspicion of ingratitude is manifest.

It is like burying a treasure to conceal a fact useful to others.

And this is the true measure by which to judge of a testimonial of a cure, be the same great or small.

It should be, as it undoubtedly is, a truthful statement of the facts of past suffering and of due credits to the medicine that cures.

And it is this generous desire "to do unto others" that best explains the frequent publication of evidence of the unfailing benefit of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

We are not always permitted to publish names, but the particulars of many cures are sent us.

An aged lady now under treatment in this city says:

"I have suffered for years with rheumatism.

"Each joint of my hand is a reminder of a hundred nights of agony.

They are enlarged and twisted as nothing except inflammatory pain could deform them.

"I have often been confined to my bed for months at a time."

"Yes, I am taking Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I had taken them four days when all pain left me."

"I had not had a good night's sleep for years until the fifth night after commencing their use."

"I never believed that I should be cured until now that I have been using Dodd's Kidney Pills for two weeks."

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Special Invitation for the Ground Floor Gallery.

Christmas is coming; in less than four short weeks it will be here and the time honoured custom of gift giving will necessarily include photographs of yourself or your family for your best friends. Nothing in the way of a present in good taste can better be given than a photograph—it represents a small cost if got at the Ground Floor Studio—and is of the highest value to a friend. Next to a visit from oneself a well taken photograph is the most acceptable gift. Business has been good with us since I assumed the management of the Ground Floor Gallery, Charlotte street, a few days ago, and with the great satisfaction expressed with our work we have reason to expect a genuine rush as Christmas approaches. Now you are advised to take the very first chance to give me a sitting, if you wish the best photograph that can be produced in this district. You know it takes some time to take, print and finish a photograph and that work done hurriedly in any branch cannot be done as well as when reasonable time is given. I am sure there will be a rush of orders as Christmas comes near and that many who apply late will perhaps be disappointed—only so much work can be done. So that if you do your part in spreading the rush over the weeks between now and Christmas by giving me a sitting at once, you will serve your interests and my own. Call early therefore and leave your order for your Christmas photographs at the Ground Floor Studio, Charlotte street (Sproule's former premises).

WORK ON THE T. V. C.

Going on at a Steady Gait—The Coffer Dam Completed and Work Commenced at Blasting.

Although the weather has not been of the best for working on the canal the work still proceeds steadily on, says the Lakefield News, and the vicinity where operations are being conducted will soon have a new and strange look to the residents of this section of the country.

The coffer dam, which workmen have been building for some weeks past, is now completed, and a steam engine and steam pump are on the ground in operation. The engine and pump will be used for keeping rock inside the dam clear of water, so that blasting can be proceeded with without interference from that element. A gang of men will be moved from the lower works to this place, and in a short time it will present a lively scene of activity.

A blacksmith shop has been built at this place, which is only a short distance from the village. A big lot of blasting will be done at this place as the bed of the river has to be lowered about four feet. The work at this place will have to be finished this winter, as in the spring the high water water will seriously interfere with the blasting.

The first of the locks will be built at the bend of the river just below Mr. S. Nelson's residence. The lock being built there will not affect the mills with back water, as the level of the river will not be raised to any extent. A quantity of material has already been placed on the grounds for operations on the cut through the village,

"77" FOR COLDS

Safety.

"Safety" the watchword of the hour; in bicycles the low wheel with pneumatic tire and search light; in railroading the block-signal and vestibule.

Why not "safety" in medicine? The old-fashioned cough and cold cures are poisonous, laden with Ipecac to nauseate, and Opium to deaden the senses.

Not so with "77" for Colds and Grip—Dr. Humphreys' latest and greatest discovery. It is entirely harmless, yet acts with such promptness that the cure begins before the pellets are entirely dissolved on the tongue—the cold is cured—the spirits revive, and life resumes a golden hue.

"77" for GRIP

Colds, Influenza, Catarrh, Pains in the Head and Chest, Cough, Sore Throat, General Prostration and Fever.

"77" will "break up" a stubborn cold that "hangs on."

Dr. Humphreys puts up a Specific for every disease. They are described in his Manual, which is sent free.

Small bottles of pleasant pellets—fit your vest pocket; sold by druggists, or sent on receipt of price, 25c.; or five for $1.00. Humphrey's Medicine Co., 111 and 113 William St., New York. Be sure to get

An Interesting Review of Some Affairs of State.

CONDITION OF THE FISHING GROUNDS

Superintendent Keeley Having Difficulty with the Government Cables at the Maritime Provinces—The Condition of the Indian Schools in the North.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—Mr. D. H. Keeley, superintendent of the Government telegraphic service, has just returned from the Maritime Provinces, where he was engaged in looking after the repairs to some of the Government cables. The cable between Grand Manan and Campobello was hooked in two different places by the anchors of vessels and broken. The repairs were expeditiously effected, but while engaged on them Mr. Keeley received word that the cable to the Magdalen Islands had given out an the 20th of September. Although this latter cable was lying in 87 fathoms of water it was snapped by the anchor of a vessel 5 1-2 miles from land. There was a considerable delay in accomplishing repairs owing to bad weather and the lateness of the season. Since he returned home Mr. Keeley has learned that the Pelee Island cable in Lake Erie has been broken, presumably from the same cause, but it is likely that the repairs will be completed by Monday night.

Speaking to your correspondent, Mr. Keeley said he thought he would issue a circular to the owners of vessels in the Maritime Provinces indicating the precise location of telegraphic cables, and asking them to endeavor to avoid fouling the cables with their anchors. Five times in six years has the Pelee Island cable been broken from this cause and a notice was published in 1893 pointing out that wilful injury to a telegraphic cable was punishable under the law. In case, however, of the accidental fouling of a cable, owners of vessels who to avoid breaking it sacrifice their ship's anchor are compensated therefor, and Mr. Keeley proposes that the same offer, which is strictly legal, should be brought to the attention of the vessel owners of the Maritime Provinces. He says that it will be far cheaper to pay for an anchor at the rate of two or three cents a pound, as against telegraphic cable worth $600 a mile. When a break occurs generally half a mile of new cable is required.

The Fishery Department has been advised that enormous catches of young herring have been made at Lepreaux and in the vicinity of Passamaquoddy Bay, indeed, so great has been the haul that some of the men engaged in the fishery have had to turn a portion of their product over to the fertilizer factory which is at work at Lepreaux. This enormous catch is all the more surprizing when it is known that tremendous quantities of young herring are being taken every year and sold to the sardine factories at Eastport, Maine.

Information has been received by the department that new saw mills have recently been erected in Bonaventure County, especially on the Metapedia and tributaries, and of the possible injury to the magnificent salmon and other fisheries if sawdust and other mill rubbish is illegally allowed to pollute these waters. The officers of the department in this area have special orders to supervise and report upon these matters which are of such importance to the community and the angling fraternity.

Smelt fishing has begun on the Buctouche and other New Brunswick rivers, and the catches of this delicious fish are phenomenal. The Buctouche men within a few days of the opening of the season obtained at least five hundred tons of smelt. The result of these enormous catches, it is feared, will be a glutted market and prices too low to pay.

The statement telegraphed from Montreal that the Government had reached a decision in the Shortis case is wholly incorrect. It is likely that the case may be considered in council during the week.

There is some talk of the Toronto Radiator Company applying to the Railway Committee for permission to build a switch across Dufferin-street, Toronto, in order to reach their premises. Mr. Alexander Dixon, owner of adjacent property, has written asking permission to be heard in opposition to the request in the event of its being preferred by the Radiator Company.

On enquiry at the Postoffice Department it was learned yesterday that one winter mail for the Upper Yukon has been arranged by the department here. The mail was made up at Victoria on the 1st of December, going thence to Juneau, Alaska, by steamer, and thence over the mountains to Fort Cudahy by dog train. It is expected that Fort Cudahy, which is to be officially known hereafter as "Fort MacKenzie," will be reached about the middle of January, and the same courier is expected to come out again with a return mail in March. The outgoing mail was limited to 65 pounds, Government letters having the preference, then letters for people at the Fort, and then newspapers. With reference to all the talk in the United States newspapers about the underhand proceedings of the Canadian authorities in establishing this service without consulting the United States parties, there seems to be no obligation on the part of the Postoffice Department to notify the authorities at Washington. The Department here is simply sending the mail to a point in our own territory with which the United States has nothing whatever to do.

Mr. Hayter Reed, deputy-superintendent-general of Indian affairs, received a visitor yesterday in the person of Bishop Grouard, the subject under discussion being the present condition and requirements of the schools in the northern district over which His Grace presides. It is suggested that the more immediate wants of these Indians should be looked after by the department, although in reality the Government is not legally bound to give them the same protection as is given to those tribes further south within the treaty limits. Th country in the region of the northern chain of lakes, including Athabasca and Great Slave lakes, does not come within any of the existing treaties and the Indian inhabitants, numbering in all some five thousand, are not under any control. The question of a new treaty to include this part of the Northwest has been mooted for some years, and definite steps may shortly be taken toward accomplishing this end, which would no doubt prove of great benefit to the inhabitants.

Chief Joseph Thompson of St. Regis waited upon officials of the department of Indian affairs yesterday for the purpose of securing a change in the disposal of interest money paid to the Indians on that reserve, which they wish to put to another purpose than it is at present employed in. The department promised consideration of the matter. Mr. Duncan Scott, chief clerk, will accordingly visit St. Regis next week and hold a pow-wow of the interested parties to ascertain more fully the wishes of the Indians.

The scheme to erect an opera house on the Slater property on Sparks-street has collapsed and the land goes into other hands. Yesterday the Government leased that portion of the Slater estate facing on Wellington-street with the intention of using the property as a store room for mounted police supplies. A local firm will erect a magnificent store on the Sparks-street front.

A FATAL EXPLOSION.

A Dynamite Packing House Blows Up With Fatal Results—Father Whelan Apologizes to the Faculty

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—With a deafening report that startled the neighborhood for miles around, the dynamite packing house of the Ottawa Powder Company blew up at half past four Saturday evening. One employe, John Reynolds, of Thoms Falls, N.J., was so seriously injured by flying splinters that he died last night, one of the fragments having pierced his right lung. The works are situated about a mile from Hull and three miles from this city. Twice before have the works of this company been blown up, the first time about five years ago, with fatal results to the son of the manager. By Saturday's explosion the other buildings of the company were badly shaken. The loss is about $1000.

The contretemps between the Rev. Father Whelan of St. Patrick's parish and the faculty of Ottawa University, in connection with which the priest instituted a libel suit and subsequently withdrew it, terminated in apologies from the pulpit of St. Patrick's. Father Whelan, addressing his astonished congregation on the subject, said: "It was mutually agreed two days ago by the editor of the University magazine and myself that our first duty was to express publicly our deep sorrow for the scandal occasioned by the miserable dispute between us and endeavor to repair it by every possible means in our power. The opportunity is mine this morning and here in your presence I humbly and regretfully acknowledge my participation in the offence and ask your forgiveness and of all whom I have offended." Proceeding, Father Whelan explained that he was moved to make the statements which he had in the parish paper, being stung by the accusation that he was instrumental in securing the removal of the Christian Brothers from Ottawa. In this retort he reflected upon a former member of the university faculty (Father Filiatre). Convinced since of its injustice he now declared the statement unfounded and offered to the reverend father the amplest apology for his statements. He concluded by "apologizing for all uncharitable or unruly things he might have written during the heat of the discussion." This outcome of the scandal has probably been brought about by the peremptory interposition by the hierarchical authority.

The oil warehouse of the C.P.R., situated near the railway passenger depot here, was burned on Saturday evening. Loss $500.

Fire in a Chicago Notion House.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Fire in the notion house of H. Wolf & Co. at 7 o'clock this morning caused a loss of between $200,0000 and $300,000 on the stock and about $80,000 on the building, which was owned by the Conrad Seipp estate. Both the stock and building were fully insured.

HIS END IS NEAR.

Murderer Harry Hayward to Die on Wednesday.

WARRANT SIGNED BY GOV. CLOUGH

The Condemned Man Jokes With His Guards and Talks of His Relatives in a Disgusting Manner—A Mother's Last Appeal to the Chief Executive.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 7.—At 20 minutes to three o'clock this afternoon Gov. Clough signed the warrant ordering the execution of Harry T. Hayward between the hours of midnight and daylight Wednesday, Dec. 11. The hanging will be the final scene in the greatest tragedy in Minnesota's history.

On the night of Dec. 3, 1894, Claus A. Blixt killed Catharine Ging, a pretty dressmaker of Minneapolis, on Excelsior Road, a few miles from the city. A day or two later it developed that Blixt had killed the girl for $2000 promised him by Hayward, who desired to secure $10,000 insurance on Miss Ging's life which had been assigned to him. Six days after the awful tragedy Blixt made a full confession, implicating Hayward. Adry Hayward, Harry's brother, also confessed that Harry had tried to hire him to kill the girl.

There was a heartrending scene at the Governor's office shortly before 10 o'clock this morning when the father and mother of the condemned man appeared and made a tearful appeal for the life of their son. Gov. Clough heard them patiently and shed tears with them but refused to interfere with the work of the court and jury.

Sheriff Holmberg of Hennepin County is fully prepared for the execution, having secured the rope and erected the scaffold last June.

At the request of the prisoner the gallows has been painted red. When told that he must hang on Wednesday, Hayward curled his lips as he said: "It is a long time since I have expected anything else. I have not had justice from the start and it is very late to expect it now. The newspapers prejudiced the public against me right at the start, and the public has wanted my blood ever since. I have sought for my freedom on the grounds that I am innocent. I take no stock in this plea that I am insane. I am just as sane as any of the people who are saying that I am insane."

When Harry Hayward heard the news of his doom from Sheriff Blomberg yesterday he did not lose his great nerve and at once entered into a violent denunciation of his brother Adry.

"That's a long time to wait," he said when the sheriff informed him that his death warrant had been fixed for execution Wednesday. "You have a good many things to consider before Wednesday; you have little time left to stay here," replied the sheriff.

"I know I have little time," said Harry. "There are a few things I'd like to straighten out and a few folks I would like to get even with. If I had my brother Adry here I would take his entrails out and stretch them like a clothes line back and forth through this cell. I'm not quite so mad at Blixt as folks think, but if my father, mother and brother were dead I'd be the happiest man in the world."

Hayward then dictated a statement from which the following is an extract:

"A short time is just as good as longer time and I am as ready now as I ever shall be. I had rather be hung than go to Stillwater for life. If the Governor would come over here and talk with me I would tell him some things. I have had a good time here and I will have a good time yet. I have no kick coming. They ought to go back to the old times. People are too soft-hearted now. If I had Adry here I'd put his eyes out and cut his heart out and I'd have Blixt look on. Then I'd cut them up and throw them to the dogs. I'm not made of milk and water."

Turning to the sheriff at this point, Hayward asked: "I have a right to invite three persons in to see the hanging, haven't I?"

On being told that he had, he said: "I'd like to have the Dalton Brothers, Bill Cook and Cole Younger and give them too good revolvers apiece."

BIG FIRE IN CHICAGO.

The Loss Over $150,000—Narrow Escape of the Watchman.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—The four-storey brick building at 178 and 180 Wabash-avenue, occupied by piano, furniture and shoe firms, with its valuable contents, was almost entirely gutted by fire at 11 o'clock to-night. The fire started in the boiler room in the basement and ate its way to the elevator shaft, through which it spread to every part of the building. The first floor of 178 was occupied by J. H. Bohmann with violins and other musical instruments and the remaining floors were used by Meyer & Weber, who are agents for pianos. On the first floor of 180 was Sauer, dealer in fine shoes; C. Devere & Co., furriers, and C. H. Frost occupied the floors above. When the firemen broke into 178 the watchman was lying in his nightclothes just inside the door. He had made an effort to escape but was overcome before he could get to the door. He is in a critical condition. Two men were sleeping on the top floor in the rooms of C. H. Frost. Mike Aschbrewer, one of the men, made his way to the second floor, but finding the flames had cut off the escape by the stairs he jumped from a second storey window, receiving serious injuries. Nothing in the building escaped damage and the loss will be over $100,000.

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1895.

THE Government has got a man at last for Minister of Agriculture. Mr. McGillivray, the Government candidate, though a lawyer, seems to be a farmer too. He says he once took a prize for shearing sheep. Such a man will fill the bill exactly. The government can make good use of his specialty in the application of a policy of taxation, whose chief factor is fleecing the people.

THE importation of steel rails from Britain into the United States is quoted by McKinley organs as an illustration of the paralyzing effect of the tariff reduction upon the domestic steel industry. The imports are really caused by the exactions of the domestic monopoly, exactions which were fostered under under protection and which the present tariff, although nearly fifty per cent. less, still enables the combination to make, up to a certain point.—Herald.

THE power of the press is not, like the naval armaments and armies of some countries, on paper only. It is an overt aggressive, living and potent entity. As a result of the excitement raised by British newspapers over the condition of the British Navy, the Diana, a new British war cruiser, 300 feet long and 5,600 tons, has been launched at Glasgow, and, thanks to the newspapers, there are more British fighting vessels being launched than all the other powers of Europe can show.

IT is announced that Sir Charles Tupper, Canada's High Commissioner, who is high in more senses than one to the tax-payers of Canada—about $15,000 a year—is billed to address a party gathering at Montreal in the interests of the government candidate. The fact of a high official, representing the whole Canadian people, irrespective of party, and paid by the whole Canadian people, irrespective of party, mounting the party stump, is only a degree of indency less than a judge descending from the bench to dabble in the dirty stream of party politics.

IF, as the Government spouters assert, the National Policy is and has been a great boon to the farming community, how is it that the condemnation of that policy is the thickest plank in the platform of the Patrons, who are farmers belonging to no particular party, but made up entirely of both parties? Mr. Haycock, leader of the patrons in the Ontario Legislature, asserted at Beaverton the other night that the N.P. had been a curse to the People of Canada and that it had benefitted the manufacturers only, and they subscribed liberally to keep the Conservative party in power.

A GIFT OF TREES.

Ottawa Experimental Farm Gets An Addition to its Arboretum and has now a Splendid Collection—Something About an Interesting Work at the Farm.

The collection of trees and shrubs which has been brought together during the past eight years at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, has recently been much enriched through the generosity of Prof. C. S. Sargent, director of the Arnold Arboretum at Jamaica Plain, near Boston, Mass. Professor Sargent visited the Experimental Farm at Ottawa during the past summer, and was much gratified with the progress which had been made in this important branch of the work here. During the long period which has elapsed since the endowment and establishment of the Arnold Arboretum there has been brought together there by the visits of the learned director to foreign countries, exchanges with other institutions and the assistance of botanists, a very large collection. This collection is especially rich in rare species and varieties from Northern Japan and China, countries which Professor Sargent has twice visited.

By request of Prof. Sargent, the foreman of forestry at the Central Fair, Mr. W. T. Macoun, who has charge of the collection here, visited the Arnold Arboretum and assisted in making a selection for Ottawa. These were duly forwarded and have been safely received. This collection includes 179 species and varieties of trees and shrubs, and cuttings of 24 species of willows, nearly all of which are new to the collection here.

A package has also been received recently from Siberia from Prof. Max. Sivers, of Roemershof, containing six species of trees and shrubs from that country, also some tree seeds. Among the trees sent are specimens of the Siberian larch and the Siberian spruce, both new to the farm collection.

When these additions are planted in the spring, the Aboretum will contain more than 1,000 species and varieties of trees and shrubs under test. Thus far a large proportion of those tried have been found hardy in this climate. The information gained in this branch of the work is proving of great value to the country generally, by showing the capabilities of the Canadian climate and by supplying valued information to lovers of trees and shrubs in all parts of the Dominion.

FAIRMOUNT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Wednesday night our Epworth League had the pleasure of entertaining their Millbrook and Frazerville brethren. The time passed very pleasantly and all was commotion when Mr. F. E. Johnston, our worthy president, took the chair and began the programme by making a short address. Those who know Mr. Johnston will agree with me in saying the Epworth League made a wise move in the line of advance when they placed such a competent young man in the presidential chair. In all the community there is not another such as he. He made a few brief remarks about the duty of Leagues to each other and of individual members toward one another, and toward the League. His remarks were so logically arranged and so well seasoned with gospel truth, that the attention of the entire audience was secured, and not only secured but held, throughout the address. After the chairman's address, a lengthy and entertaining programme, consisting of trios, quartettes, readings, recitations, etc., was rendered by the local League and the visiting brethren, after which refreshments were served by our young ladies. It is needless to say that they were greatly appreciated and received ample justice. After a long recess Mr. Johnston called the meeting to order, and all joined in singing that grand old inspiring hymn, "God be with you till we meet again," after which the pastor, Rev. J. H. Kilgour offered a short prayer and pronounced the benediction. The evening was very pleasantly and profitably spent, due in a large measure to the efforts of our new president. We hope the League will retain his services.

THE STORM IS KING.

The Damage to European Shipping and Property Interests by Last Week's Storm is Great

London, Dec. 8.—The storm that has prevailed here since Thursday has done much damage, not only at sea, but ashore. Many persons have been more or less seriously injured. A snow storm accompanied by severe thunder and lightning prevailed to-day in the north and middle of England.

A pilot boat vainly tried to put a pilot on board the steamer Cambroman off Lynas Point to-day. A heavy northwest gale was blowing and the pilot boat collided with the steamer. The 16 pilots on the boat took to a punt as their boat threatened to founder. They were adrift for a long time and were in a very dangerous position, as a bad sea was running. They were picked up by the Elva and landed at Liverpool.

The lightship at the mouth of the River Dee broke from her anchorage and went adrift.

Incoming vessels report terrific weather in the Bay of Biscay.

Copenhagen, Dec. 7.—A severe gale has caused very high tides in west and north Jutland. A number of towns have been flooded and great damage done.

Antwerp, Dec. 7.—The storm here has rendered traffic on the streets and river impossible. A number of vessels have been driven ashore.

A Bimetallic Society.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—A morning paper says a national secret political order, founded by W. H. Harvey, the author of "Coin's Financial School," will find articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State at Springfield, Ill., within the next few days. It is to be known as the "Patriots of America," and its sole object is the restoration of the bimetallic standard.

The Spaniards Retreated

Madrid, Dec. 8.—A despatch from Havana says that the bands of Gomez and Maceo have entered the province of Santa Clara. They surprised a Spanish column under Col. Segura, who were conveying mules, and killed nine soldiers. The column retreated. Other bands have entered Matanzas and are marching on the land owners' villas. A Spanish force is advancing to meet them and a serious fight is expected.

A Connecticut Town Threatened.

Ridgefield, Conn., Dec. 8.—A fire which broke out at 9.30 o'clock to-night threatens to destroy the entire centre of the town. The fire originated in the big wooden block owned by G. S. Gage on Main-street. The building was surrounded on all sides by other wooden structures and the flames found plenty of material upon which to feed. The fire spread with great rapidity. By 11 o'clock the flames had consumed the Gage block and 15 minutes later the fire had attacked the Town Hall on the opposite side of Bailey-avenue.

JOHN MOFFATT, Manager.

South Africa to Be Quidone.

Denver, Dec. 8.—Ex-Governor J. P. Grant, who returned from a trip through the Cripple Creek country yesterday, believes the future of that region will surpass all anticipations. He thinks the Cripple Creek mines will produce more gold in the next 20 years than any camp ever known. "When they have been mining 17 years at Cripple Creek," said Governor Grant, "it is safe to say the camp will have produced more than $560,000,000. The production from Leadville will also probably increase from now on, as the craze is widespread."

Mr. Grant is of the opinion that the Cripple Creek mines will soon excel the South Africa region, both in money value and actual tonnage, because the ore from the Kaffirs is low grade.

THE CUBAN REBELS

Capture a Fortress in the Cobredi District.

BUT ARE REPULSED AT HATILLO.

The Government Arranging to Materially Strengthen Its Forces, and to Put Down the Cuban Insurrection Through Force of Arms.

Havana, Dec. 7.—The rebel parties of Maximo Gomez and Antonio Maceo have crossed the limits between Camugey and Las Villas y Guara. They had an engagement with a small Government column under Col. Seguara, who was taking a convoy of 200 mules loaded with provisions. The Spaniards had nine soldiers and some mules killed. Col. Seguara fought bravely and prevented the rebels from carrying out their design to surround him and his forces and to invade the Remedios district while Leader Quintin Bandera invaded Trinidad.

Santiago de Cuba, Dec. 1, via Key West, Dec. 7.—On November 29 the vanguard of combined forces of the rebel leaders Cebreco and Vazues, 400 strong, engaged in a fight with six hundred Spanish soldiers in the Cobredi district. A severe engagement took place which lasted more than an hour. The Spaniards were compelled to retreat in great disorder. The rebels captured a fortress, taking 12 guns, some ammunition and then burned the fort. Forty Spanish soldiers with arms and ammunition joined the insurgents. The rebels had three killed and seven injured. The Spaniards had 18 killed and 68 wounded.

News has just been received that Commander Puneo with a force of guerillas had an engagement yesterday in Hatillo with a rebel party 300 in number. The rebels abandoned the place with a heavy loss.

Havana, Nov. 30, via Tampa, Dec. 7.—Madrid advices say that General Azcarraga, Minister of War, has decided on sending an additional force of 40,000 men to Cuba if necessary. If he carries out his intention General Campos will have 150,000 men under his command. Sixteen thousand of them will be embarked at once.

CHILD INSURANCE IN ENGLAND.

Jerome K. Jerome Makes Some Startling Charges—25 Per Cent. of the Insured Children Who Die are Murdered.

New York, Dec. 8.—London Special to The Sun: Mr. Jerome K. Jerome has been agitating for several weeks, with as much delicacy as may be, the difficult subject of over-population, or the burden of large families among the poor. He has been investigating the question of child insurance, which is very common among the English masses, and makes some horrible, almost incredible, charges. He endorses, for instance, the startling statement that 25 per cent. of the insured children who die are deliberately murdered or starved to death by their parents. This leads him to remark, even to the hide-bound, stone-blind Mrs. Grundy; "Would it not be better that this 25 per cent. of useless children were not brought into the world at all? It is no good talking sentiment and theories. We have to take life as we find it. Every one who mixes with the very poor knows quite well that what my correspondent states is true. These children are brought into the world as the result of an animal instinct that no theorizing on the part of easy-chair philosophers will ever eradicate. Of what use to God or man are their few sad weeks? Of what use is woman's pain and the begrudged expense to those who find it difficult enough to keep their own bodies and souls together?

"I would use knowledge to adapt the necessities of nature to the requirements of civilization. Their contest can only be harmful; their laws must be compromised until they fit into one another."

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

Shop Closed for Two Months—The Patient Takes Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Richmond, (Special) Dec. 9—A correspondent at Ottawa, of a Toronto paper investigating so-called cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills, found himself here among ardent friends of this great kidney treatment. Seeing Mr. McCarthy at work in his shop after being closed for two months in expectation of death from Bright's disease; that gentleman referred him to the man who advised him to use the Pills. This was Wm. McCord, a farmer who had been helpless and bed-ridden for twenty-seven months with what was said to be "Incurable Diabetes." On calling the correspondent found Mr. McCord ploughing in the field. A few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills had worked the cure. It was a matter of no surprise as they always cure.

VENEZUELA EXCITEMENT

Lord Salisbury is Upheld by the British Press

Washington, Dec. 7.—The reply of Lord Salisbury to Secretary Olney's note or instructions to Ambassador Bayard, relative to the Venezuela boundary dispute, was delivered to Secretary Olney at noon. Sir Julian presented the note in person to the secretary, the ambassador himself reading its contents to Mr. Olney, as is the custom when important documents are presented.

The report that Lord Salisbury has determined to justify his position has weakened the upholders of Mr. Cleveland's reference to the question in his message.

It is also given out here that the President and Secretary Olney are inclined to send the whole question to Congress.

Only Made Public in Parliament.

London, Dec. 7.—In accordance with unvarying precedent, the reply of Prime Minister Salisbury to the note of Mr. Richard Olney, American Secretary of State, on the Venezuelan dispute, will not be issued by the Foreign Office until it is presented to Parliament.

It will be a surprise to everyone if Lord Salisbury, in his reply, has not firmly declined to admit the right of the United States to interfere in the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela, especially to insist that the whole case shall be submitted to arbitration. The English public takes small interest in the dispute or the attitude of the United States on the matter.

Press Comments.

The Statist says: "Neither for its own sake nor ours is it expedient for the United States Government to put forward a claim as of right to dictate how we shall conduct a dispute with another country relative to territory that has long been held by the British. The United States Government is entitled to offer its good offices, but there is a wide distinction between those and intervention based on the ground that the United States has the right to forbid any Government in the world to enlarge the area under its jurisdiction in any part of the American continent. Still, there is no occasion for heroics. The bit of territory in dispute is of small value, while good relations with the United States are of the highest value to us and civilization."

The Spectator says: "President Cleveland addresses Great Britain in the tone of a master in laying principles so absolutely. His sentences read as if Great Britain had been ordered to choose arbitration or war. Negotiations will not be carried on in that tone unless the President and the American people are seeking war, a crime of which we would not even mentally accuse them."

The Economist, treating of the same subject, declares that Mr. Cleveland's words mean that Great Britain must not defend what she considers her own soil against any Spanish-American State under the penalty of the United States declaring war. It is impossible for Lord Salisbury to yield to such pretensions, yet it is more difficult for him to deal with them so as to avoid exasperating American feeling. His only sensible course is to repudiate seeking for any extension of territory and do nothing, leaving on Venezuela or the United States the responsibility for aggression.

The fact is known that Lord Salisbury's reply to Mr. Olney's despatch has been prepared by Mr. Chamberlain, whose aggressive action in ordering Maxim guns for the defence of the Guiana claims forecasts a refusal to arbitrate the case. The St. James' Gazette, which often has cues from the Colonial Office, jauntily assumes that all tall talk on the subject will be found to be entirely off the mark when the time for action against Venezuela arrives, just as happened when the English occupied Corrinto.

The Chronicle publishes a strong letter asserting that force is no remedy; that the disputed territory is not worth fighting for; that Venezuela claims the ground where the English agents were arrested and cannot with reason be asked to grant compensation, and protesting against rejection of the humane method of settling the dispute. This letter strikes the core of the whole matter. The payment of indemnity for the arrest of English subjects will vitiate Venezuela's claim to the territory in dispute.

HOW THE MESSAGE IS VIEWED.

The English Press Opposed to Cleveland's Venezuelan Policy.

London, Dec. 8.—President Cleveland's reference to Venezuela is most significant. Those extracts which have been cabled to America by the Associated Press are, in the main, moderate, but the weekly press of to-day, representing both political parties, as well as the daily journals of the past week, have been unanimous in expressing the opinion that Lord Salisbury cannot and must not yield to any demand by the United States for arbitration in the case of Venezuela or in any other dispute between England and American Governments. They thus deny absolutely our right to insist upon arbitration, or, indeed, to interfere in any way in even a territorial dispute between Great Britain and any South American Government.

The press generally takes note of Mr. Cleveland's reference to forcible intervention, but no writer, even in the thoughtful weekly press, seems to contemplate any serious consequence from possible future action by the United States, although Mr. Smalley has pointed out in almost daily despatches to the times how deep-seated and almost universal is the sentiment in the United States in favor of the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine, as expressed not only in the President's message but in the resolutions before both Houses of Congress.

The weekly financial journals, in commenting upon the President's financial recommendations, point out that the apparently impassable gulf between the President and Congress on the currency question must continue to prevent any considerable investment of English capital in American securities. The Statist to-day, in view of the improbability of any satisfactory settlement of our currency problem within the next few years, vigorously advises investment in the better class of South African securities rather than in American.

Mr John Charlton Bruised

Tonawanda, N.Y., Dec. 5.—Mr. John Charlton, M.P., had a narrow escape from death on the New York Central road yesterday. He had just alighted at the depot from a train when the porter of a sleeping car on another train ran into him in attempting to board his car. Mr. Charlton was thrown to the ground, close to the wheels of the second train, but escaped with an injury to his hip.

Took Too Much Chloral

Simcoe, Dec. 6.—At noon yesterday a young man named William Wark died from the effects of an overdose of chloral. He worked for Mr. Lawson, harnessmaker, and came down to work as usual, but did not appear to be well. He took a dose of medicine, and about one and a half hours afterwards took another. For an hour he sat in a drowsy condition on one of the horses in the shop, when he suddenly fell over, and when medical help arrived life was pronounced extinct.

A Woman's Alleged Crime and Death.

Milton, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Thomas Hilson, of Nassagaweya, died it is alleged from blood poisoning, caused by using instruments to produce abortion. She was about 46 years of age and left a family of eleven children, some of whom are grown up. Dr. Robertson, coroner, opened an inquest at Campbellville. After the body had been viewed by the jury the proceedings were adjourned until to-day.
